VICTIM: Dona W. Armstrong, 20, a nurse's assistant at St. Joseph Memorial, was found slain in family home at 1209 Lane drive, St. Joseph, Friday afternoon. She apparently was stabbed a number of times. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Armstrong were not at home, having left on a vacation trip the previous day. The body was found by a married sister from Kalamazoo who came to home.

St. Joe Sophomore Accused In Woman's Stabbing Death

BY JERRY KRIEGER
Farm & Features Editor

A 15-year-old high school sophomore was arrested late Friday night by St. Joseph police and charged with murder in the stabbing death earlier in the day of Dona W. Armstrong, 20, a pretty nurse's assistant at Memorial hospital.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Armstrong, 1209 Lane drive, was found dead of multiple stab wounds in her bedroom in the family home. The tragedy was discovered by a married sister, Paula Howard of Kalamazoo, who came to the home shortly after noon.

The victim's parents were not home, having left Thursday on a vacation trip to Las Vegas. The father is a well known St. Joseph insurance agent.

In a joint statement issued early today, St. Joseph Police Chief Tom Gillespie and Berrien County Prosecutor John Smietanka identified the suspect arrested last night as David Figlus, 912 Botham avenue, St. Joseph. St. Joseph Police Lt. William Mihalik said this morning Figlus had stayed at the Armstrong home Thursday night as a guest of Gregg Armstrong, 15-year-old brother of the victim. The brother also was a sophomore at St. Joseph high school.

Mihalik said there was a strong suspicion of a sexual attack upon the girl, and that tests were being conducted today to determine if that was the case.

He added that a ground search was to be started this morning for a knife believed used in the killing. He said a broken-bladed knife was taken from the youth's home during a search conducted with a court-ordered search warrant Friday, but that it did not appear to be the weapon involved.

Suspicion turned to the Figlus youth, Mihalik said, after it was learned he had been an overnight guest at the home and he was found to have apparently fresh skin breaks on his hands. The Figlus boy and the girl's brother reportedly left the home around 8 o'clock presumably to go to school.

The Gillespie-Smietanka statement on the case said Figlus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Figlus, 912 Botham avenue, would be petitioned into juvenile court today.

It added that a post-mortem examination indicated preliminary finding of the cause of death as multiple stab wounds.

A news photographer who had glimpsed the body through a window of the home said there were multiple stab wounds in the left breast and at least one similar wound in the back.

Police said it was not until late Friday afternoon that they were able to contact the girl's parents, shortly after their arrival at their hotel in Las Vegas. The parents indicated they would return immediately. The father operates the State Farm insurance agency at 1515 Niles avenue, St. Joseph.

Miss Armstrong, a 1974 graduate of Lake Michigan Catholic high school, had been employed as a nurse's assistant in pediatrics at St. Joseph Memorial hospital. Hospital officials said she had worked at the hospital since August of 1973, starting while she was a high school senior. She would have marked her 21st birthday on Dec. 28, less than three weeks hence.

After a detailed examination of the slaying scene by officers from the State Police crime laboratory at Holland, the body was taken to Memorial hospital for the autopsy.

The investigation was carried out by detectives and officers of the St. Joseph police department. Prosecutor John Smietanka and several members of his staff visited the death scene and consulted with the police. Newsmen were not permitted into the home.

The girl's death was the second murder in the City of St. Joseph since November of 1948, according to Patrolman James Lopresti of the St. Joseph police department.

Records indicate the last previous murder in the city was on Jan. 18, 1974. Mrs. Mildred Miles was killed and her husband, Cyril, was wounded by shotgun blasts in their home at 912 Market street. Robert E. Cunningham of St. Joseph, an ex-convict, was convicted of the woman's murder and sentenced to life in prison.

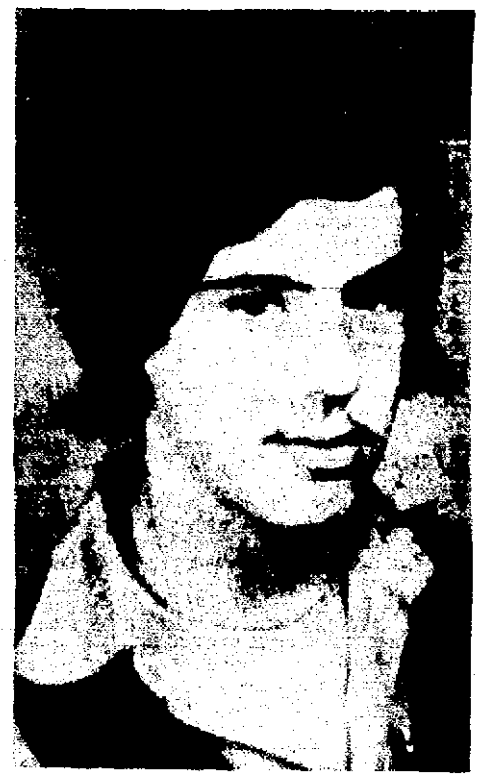

Funeral services for Miss Armstrong will be held Monday at 11 a.m. at St. Joseph Catholic church. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.

Born Dec. 28, 1955, in Marshall, Mich., she had lived here since 1960.

Survivors include her parents; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Aloys Mueller, Sandwich, Ill., and Mrs. Aileen Armstrong, Sandwich, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Richard (Karla) Hake, Benton Harbor, Mrs. Michael (Paula) Howard, Kalamazoo; and two brothers, Kurt, Valparaiso, Gregg, at home.

Friends may call at Kerley and Starks funeral home beginning at 2 p.m. Sunday. Memorials may be made to the Pediatrics unit of Memorial hospital.

PSC Has Choice Of Two Dual Phone Listing Plans

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Public Service Commission on Monday will be asked to choose between two different proposals that would let husbands and wives be listed together in Michigan Bell Telephone directories.

The telephone company has proposed to allow such listings — twice — at a cost to subscribers of 45 cents a month.

But commissioner William Ralls, the lone Democrat on the three-man panel, says he will ask his colleagues instead to endorse a plan that would let some couples list themselves together free of charge.

Consumer groups and women's rights organizations have called for the double listing, saying callers now must know the first name of a woman's husband before her phone number can be located.

Currently, only the tiny Chippewa Telephone Co. in the Upper Peninsula allows husbands and wives to be listed together in Michigan. No charge is made, but addresses are not listed in that directory.

Ralls' proposal, suggested by the Michigan Consumers Council, would let couples squeeze their names into the same space their single listing now takes up. If that could be done, through abbreviations or use of initials, it should be allowed free, the council says.

Under the council's plan, couples who need an extra line to fit both names in would have to pay the extra cost.

Bell is asking the PSC for permission to offer customers an option that would list husbands and wives together, but twice, at a charge of 45 cents per month. One listing would be "Smith, Alice-Zekiel" and the other "Smith, Zekiel-Alice," for example.

PSC telephone division chief Robert Olstot said his staff supports Bell's plan. He said it

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. – Thomas Jefferson.

A Decision That May Become Overly Pregnant

By a 6-3 vote, the U.S. Supreme Court set aside an Equal Employment Opportunity Commission regulation holding pregnancy to be a compensable benefit under employer insurance programs the same as breaking a leg on a hunting trip or catching a severe case of the swine flu.

The EEOC regulation writers actually couched their phrasing in more stringent language, saying that an insurance plan excluding pregnancy benefits for female workers violates the sex discrimination portion of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The majority rejected the EEOC contention by relying heavily upon a 1974 decision which upheld the right of California to exclude pregnancy compensation from a disability program for state employees.

Thomas Brennan, one of the dissenting justices, took issue with the majority's analysis, primarily on what he cited as a long record of General Electric Company, the plaintiff, in discriminating against its female employees.

Somewhat interestingly, GE's work force in its plants and offices is strongly feminine oriented.

John Paul Stevens, the newest member on the Court, felt a state acting under its limited powers of sovereignty is different than determining whether a private employer's action is within or outside the Civil Rights Act.

He found the GE disability program discriminatory by definition. "For it is the capacity to become pregnant which primarily differentiates the female from the male," he wrote.

The vast majority of employee insurance programs exclude pregnancy as a compensable benefit.

Most policies, as in the GE case, are specifically written to that effect.

The majority opinion called attention to this fact.

Implicit in the majority's reasoning is that many programs are employer-employee negotiated and if the parties contract to cover some situations and exclude others, then there cannot be discrimination as presently defined in the Civil Rights Act.

The majority did hint pretty broadly that if Congress amends the Civil Rights Act to include the treatment of pregnancy different than a broken collarbone as discriminatory, then an opposite result in judicial reasoning might follow.

The decision infuriates the feminists as much as the Dredd Scott opinion preceding the Civil War set the abolitionists on fire.

They view it as a backhanded way of telling a woman to make a choice between a career and a family.

While the majority reached a sound conclusion on the facts, the feminists will act quickly to circumvent the ruling.

One direction will be to push the last three or four reluctant state legislatures into ratifying the Equal Rights Amendment.

Possibly more certain action than relying upon an interpretation of the vaguely worded ERA should emerge from two other sources.

One is to pressure union negotiating teams to get on the stick when the time arrives to bargain a new labor contract to require employers to grant maternity benefits.

The other is to go after Congress and Jimmy Carter the minute after they take office on January 20th to broaden the Civil Rights Act.

Although premium costs for female disability benefits run higher than for a male and maternity payments could balloon the expense even more, one way or another this touchy question is going to be answered along the distaff side.

May Improve House Efficiency

One of the more important panels performing during the course of congressional action next year could be one which so far is deliberately maintaining a low profile. It is the Commission on Administrative Review, a temporary, 15-member panel now at work trying to reform both the behavior and the efficiency of the House of Representatives.

It is the answer House leaders have come up with to the series of embarrassments which struck the body in the last year. Seven of the 15 members are private individuals.

Under study are proposals which, if adopted, could streamline legislative operations considerably. Among them is a proposal to emphasize committee work rather than floor debates for the first three months of the year, thus eliminating many of the time-consuming interruptions caused by frequent roll calls and quorum calls on the floor.

That is one of the less controversial proposals to be considered, but a place to begin the streamlining process.

Californians Waiting Out Quake Forecasts

Californians tend to take the earthquake propensity of their state for granted. They know quakes will occur from time to time, they hope the tremors will not be too severe and they go about their business without worrying too much.

Nor have they paid much attention over the years to predictions of when earthquakes might occur. That attitude could be changing as earthquake prediction begins moving higher on the scale of accuracy. Two predictions in particular have caught the eye of many Southern California residents.

The first prediction was made last April by Dr. James Whitcomb, a senior research fellow at the California Institute of Technology. Whitcomb predicted an earthquake of between 5.5 and 6.5 magnitude on the Richter scale would occur in the San Fernando Valley within the next 12 months, of which only 5 months remain.

Receiving more concerned attention is the second prediction, this one by Henry Minturn, a geophysicist who claims to have predicted accurately 22 earthquakes so far this year. Minturn bases his predictions on studies of the moon's gravitational pull, which he says will cause an earthquake in "the Southern California region" on December 20.

Without committing themselves, respectable scientific groups are evaluating Minturn's predictions. The lunar gravitational pull theory is not new, but the attempt to use it to pinpoint specific earthquake targets and dates could be.

RIVER VALLEY CLAIMED FIRST

Editor,

After reading Ms. Doris Tarzwell's letter to you, I felt I just had to write too.

I can understand how happy she was with their successful Grandparent's Day. However, I must say that the River Valley school system, which includes the Three Oaks, New Troy and Chikaming elementary schools, has had very successful Grandparent's Days for the last five years, the last one being held on Nov. 5th, so unless Washington school has had it for more than five years, I feel the River Valley school system should have the distinction of being the first known school of Southwestern Michigan to have Grandparent's Day.

I would like to add that each year is more successful than the previous and we here all feel that both children and grandparents benefit from this very nice visit. I know the grandparents appreciate the opportunity to see the school and leave with a better understanding of its operation. Other schools would profit from this program too, I'm sure.

BENTON HARBOR POLICE PRAISED

Editor,

The Benton Harbor Police Department is to be commended for personnel they employ. The other night my car stalled and wouldn't start, due to the fact that the carburetor become flooded through my repeated attempts to start it again. One of your officers promptly came to my assistance to see if there was anything he could do. Upon hearing my explanation, he waited to see that I got started and then went on to his usual duty.

So many times the public does not take the time to publicly thank the policemen for the many ways in which they help members of the community. They do perform their required duties and also many things which are above and beyond the call of duty.

On behalf of the citizens who have been helped by our Police Department, many thanks.

FLU CLINIC WAS GREAT, BUT ...

Editor,

This is meant for the Watervliet Public Schools.

As a concerned citizen I wish to thank everyone involved for setting up a Swine Flu Vaccine program in the high school on Tuesday, Dec. 7. It seems so many people took advantage of the program and it was a huge success because of the many volunteers and medical aides who gave of themselves for others. We owe a great deal of thanks to these people.

There were, however, a few things that might have been better organized. In speaking with others that were there, they seem to share my feelings. For instance; the parking lot had not been cleared of snow and it was quite difficult to drive in as well as walk through, making it a real traffic hazard. This is not to mention the fact that little thought was given for the safety of our senior citizens. Another problem was the fact that the high school students were allowed to move in and out of the designated areas set aside

The prospectus of the Chicago Evening Journal will be found elsewhere in this paper. It is one of the oldest as it certainly is one of the verbest journals and family papers now published in the great west.

The Literary Social at Esq. Brown's on Monday evening was a decided success. A large number were present and thoroughly enjoyed the unfolding of the programme. The tableau, "Jeptha's Daughter," was unusually fine, being especially rich in costuming. Miss Pixley and Ben. "Tell Governor Carter we may run into more red tape with the Washington bureaucracy than we figured!"

Roy Cromley

Bureaucracy Hard To Control

WASHINGTON — Neither economy nor efficiency will be the major objective in President-elect Carter's upcoming moves to reform the federal bureaucracy.

Control is the name of the game.

At least three recent presidents — Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon — and a series of Cabinet officials have been angered or infuriated by their inability to have their orders obeyed by the rulers of small kingdoms scattered throughout the departments and agencies which run Washington and determine much of what goes on in the nation.

That is, a series of presidents and their aides have found that orders given are delayed interminably in execution or so modified as to be ineffective, or to produce a result diametrically opposite that intended.

Most of these powerful bureaucrats are extremely able. Though some have risen to high position on seniority alone, the majority have arrived there through expertise. They know the ins and outs of their domains so thoroughly that nothing moves up to senior officials or down to the action men without their approval, or indeed, without their imprint.

Many of these men and women have come to the conclusion that they, more than any president, cabinet official or other political appointee, know what should be done for the good of the country. Each has his own political philosophy, which may be radically different from that of an incumbent president.

In some cases, these key bureaucrats have built close alliances with influential senators or representatives or members of their staffs. They are thus able in many cases to assure that the laws passed will meet their needs and conform to their beliefs. Their budgets will pass readily with few changes.

They may also profit personally. Those who cooperate closely with Congress sometimes find that promotions come their way despite opposition from superiors in the department in which they work. Admiral Rickover is a well-publicized case in point.

This is not to say that these men and women are basically self-serving. Some are, of course. More, I believe, are not. They simply believe that, because of their experience, they are right.

Congressmen come to depend on these strategically placed kingpins. For one thing, the bureaucrats know what they are doing and congressmen usually do not. The insert of a paragraph here or there in proposed legislation can save a senator or representative headaches later.

Then too, there is frequently a personal payoff for cooperative congressmen. If a legislator wins the approval of a powerful bureaucrat, he can count on favors. For constituents, there will be job openings, special consideration in applying a federal law or access to hard-to-get information. The congressman and his staff can also profit by the ready opening of doors that otherwise would be closed, or in being spared checks and inspections that could otherwise be embarrassing.

Sen. Barry Goldwater once suggested that key bureaucrats be shifted from one department to another from time to time in order to break the power that each wields in his kingdom.

Under present law, about the only effective method for bringing about such transfers — thereby breaking cliques — is by reorganizations, even when such result in new departments and organizational structures no more efficient than the old.

Despite the favorable statements which followed Mr. Carter's recent visit with Congressmen, the new president is almost certain to find that when things get down to the nitty gritty his plans for reorganization will be so modified he will have far less power over the federal establishment than he desires.

Dovish Advisers Signal Danger

Knowledgeable people now deepening concern over the team put together by the Carter organization to preside over the transition in the field of defense and foreign policy.

To be sure, Carter, as always, has been emitting contradictory signals. On the one hand, he spends hours consulting with such relatively hard-liners as James Schlesinger and Dean Rusk, and he has named Cyrus Vance, a moderate, Secretary of State.

Nevertheless, the 10-member team now selecting personnel and drawing up position papers consists overwhelmingly of left-leaning neo-isolationists and cold-war revisionists who blame the U.S. for everything from the Berlin Wall to the Gulag Archipelago.

Carter's contradictory signals here are quite consistent with his performance elsewhere. Thus, while seeking to "reassure business" and proclaiming himself a fiscal conservative, he also promises to clear key appointments with Ralph Nader and fulfill all campaign promises about social spending.

So dovish is Carter's national security transition team, however, that even the liberal New York Times felt obliged to issue some stern warnings. The following sentences from a recent Times editorial will be recognized immediately by students of Times-ese as approaching the panic level, relatively speaking.

The appointment of 131 persons as transition aides, many of them in their late 20s and 30s. . . poses hazards. These individuals — and their friends, whom they will recruit for jobs — may well pre-empt the key positions at the second and third levels in each department. . . This risk exists potentially in every department. It is a special danger in the State Department. Many of the younger foreign policy experts who have made their reputations in the last ten to fifteen years had their political outlook and even their personal identities shaped by a single trauma — Vietnam. It is all the more important that the rage, guilt, frustration and confusion engendered by that event not distort American foreign policy in the next Administration. President Carter must not become the victim of a new generation of policymakers who transpose the Vietnam experience to other problems and regions of the world where it may be irrelevant.

In its muffled and judicious tones, the Times here was really saying: Look out! These people may have "worked within the system," but the ideology they reflect could damage U.S. interests in Western Europe, Israel, Japan and elsewhere.

The personnel on the 15-member foreign policy transition team amply justify the Times's anxiety.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. – Thomas Jefferson.

A Decision That May Become Overly Pregnant

By a 6-3 vote, the U.S. Supreme Court set aside an Equal Employment Opportunity Commission regulation holding pregnancy to be a compensable benefit under employer insurance programs the same as breaking a leg on a hunting trip or catching a severe case of the swine flu.

The EEOC regulation writers actually couched their phrasing in more stringent language, saying that an insurance plan excluding pregnancy benefits for female workers violates the sex discrimination portion of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The majority rejected the EEOC contention by relying heavily upon a 1974 decision which upheld the right of California to exclude pregnancy compensation from a disability program for state employees.

Thomas Brennan, one of the dissenting justices, took issue with the majority's analysis, primarily on what he cited as a long record of General Electric Company, the plaintiff, in discriminating against its female employees.

Somewhat interestingly, GE's work force in its plants and offices is strongly feminine oriented.

John Paul Stevens, the newest member on the Court, felt a state acting under its limited powers of sovereignty is different than determining whether a private employer's action is within or outside the Civil Rights Act.

He found the GE disability program discriminatory by definition. "For it is the capacity to become pregnant which primarily differentiates the female from the male," he wrote.

The vast majority of employee insurance programs exclude pregnancy as a compensable benefit.

Most policies, as in the GE case, are specifically written to that effect.

The majority opinion called attention to this fact.

Implicit in the majority's reasoning is that many programs are employer-employee negotiated and if the parties contract to cover some situations and exclude others, then there cannot be discrimination as presently defined in the Civil Rights Act.

The majority did hint pretty broadly that if Congress amends the Civil Rights Act to include the treatment of pregnancy different than a broken collarbone as discriminatory, then an opposite result in judicial reasoning might follow.

The decision infuriates the feminists as much as the Dredd Scott opinion preceding the Civil War set the abolitionists on fire.

They view it as a backhanded way of telling a woman to make a choice between a career and a family.

While the majority reached a sound conclusion on the facts, the feminists will act quickly to circumvent the ruling.

One direction will be to push the last three or four reluctant state legislatures into ratifying the Equal Rights Amendment.

Possibly more certain action than relying upon an interpretation of the vaguely worded ERA should emerge from two other sources.

One is to pressure union negotiating teams to get on the stick when the time arrives to bargain a new labor contract to require employers to grant maternity benefits.

The other is to go after Congress and Jimmy Carter the minute after they take office on January 20th to broaden the Civil Rights Act.

Although premium costs for female disability benefits run higher than for a male and maternity payments could balloon the expense even more, one way or another this touchy question is going to be answered along the distaff side.

May Improve House Efficiency

One of the more important panels performing during the course of congressional action next year could be one which so far is deliberately maintaining a low profile. It is the Commission on Administrative Review, a temporary, 15-member panel now at work trying to reform both the behavior and the efficiency of the House of Representatives.

It is the answer House leaders have come up with to the series of embarrassments which struck the body in the last year. Seven of the 15 members are private individuals.

Under study are proposals which, if adopted, could streamline legislative operations considerably. Among them is a proposal to emphasize committee work rather than floor debates for the first three months of the year, thus eliminating many of the time-consuming interruptions caused by frequent roll calls and quorum calls on the floor.

That is one of the less controversial proposals to be considered, but a place to begin the streamlining process.

Californians Waiting Out Quake Forecasts

Californians tend to take the earthquake propensity of their state for granted. They know quakes will occur from time to time, they hope the tremors will not be too severe and they go about their business without worrying too much.

Nor have they paid much attention over the years to predictions of when earthquakes might occur. That attitude could be changing as earthquake prediction begins moving higher on the scale of accuracy. Two predictions in particular have caught the eye of many Southern California residents.

The first prediction was made last April by Dr. James Whitcomb, a senior research fellow at the California Institute of Technology. Whitcomb predicted an earthquake of between 5.5 and 6.5 magnitude on the Richter scale would occur in the San Fernando Valley within the next 12 months, of which only 5 months remain.

Receiving more concerned attention is the second prediction, this one by Henry Minturn, a geophysicist who claims to have predicted accurately 22 earthquakes so far this year. Minturn bases his predictions on studies of the moon's gravitational pull, which he says will cause an earthquake in "the Southern California region" on December 20.

Without committing themselves, respectable scientific groups are evaluating Minturn's predictions. The lunar gravitational pull theory is not new, but the attempt to use it to pinpoint specific earthquake targets and dates could be.

RIVER VALLEY CLAIMED FIRST

Editor,

After reading Ms. Doris Tarzwell's letter to you, I felt I just had to write too.

I can understand how happy she was with their successful Grandparent's Day. However, I must say that the River Valley school system, which includes the Three Oaks, New Troy and Chikaming elementary schools, has had very successful Grandparent's Days for the last five years, the last one being held on Nov. 5th, so unless Washington school has had it for more than five years, I feel the River Valley school system should have the distinction of being the first known school of Southwestern Michigan to have Grandparent's Day.

I would like to add that each year is more successful than the previous and we here all feel that both children and grandparents benefit from this very nice visit. I know the grandparents appreciate the opportunity to see the school and leave with a better understanding of its operation. Other schools would profit from this program too, I'm sure.

BENTON HARBOR POLICE PRAISED

Editor,

The Benton Harbor Police Department is to be commended for personnel they employ. The other night my car stalled and wouldn't start, due to the fact that the carburetor become flooded through my repeated attempts to start it again. One of your officers promptly came to my assistance to see if there was anything he could do. Upon hearing my explanation, he waited to see that I got started and then went on to his usual duty.

So many times the public does not take the time to publicly thank the policemen for the many ways in which they help members of the community. They do perform their required duties and also many things which are above and beyond the call of duty.

On behalf of the citizens who have been helped by our Police Department, many thanks.

FLU CLINIC WAS GREAT, BUT ...

Editor,

This is meant for the Watervliet Public Schools.

As a concerned citizen I wish to thank everyone involved for setting up a Swine Flu Vaccine program in the high school on Tuesday, Dec. 7. It seems so many people took advantage of the program and it was a huge success because of the many volunteers and medical aides who gave of themselves for others. We owe a great deal of thanks to these people.

There were, however, a few things that might have been better organized. In speaking with others that were there, they seem to share my feelings. For instance; the parking lot had not been cleared of snow and it was quite difficult to drive in as well as walk through, making it a real traffic hazard. This is not to mention the fact that little thought was given for the safety of our senior citizens. Another problem was the fact that the high school students were allowed to move in and out of the designated areas set aside

The prospectus of the Chicago Evening Journal will be found elsewhere in this paper. It is one of the oldest as it certainly is one of the verbest journals and family papers now published in the great west.

The Literary Social at Esq. Brown's on Monday evening was a decided success. A large number were present and thoroughly enjoyed the unfolding of the programme. The tableau, "Jeptha's Daughter," was unusually fine, being especially rich in costuming. Miss Pixley and Ben. King in the charade of "Pat-rye-o-t," gave a most praiseworthy presentation of character.

"Tell Governor Carter we may run into more red tape with the Washington bureaucracy than we figured!"

Ray Cromley

Bureaucracy Hard To Control

WASHINGTON — Neither economy nor efficiency will be the major objective in President-elect Carter's upcoming moves to reform the federal bureaucracy.

Control is the name of the game.

At least three recent presidents — Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon — and a series of Cabinet officials have been angered or infuriated by their inability to have their orders obeyed by the rulers of small kingdoms scattered throughout the departments and agencies which run Washington and determine much of what goes on in the nation.

That is, a series of presidents and their aides have found that orders given are delayed interminably in execution or so modified as to be ineffective, or to produce a result diametrically opposite that intended.

Most of these powerful bureaucrats are extremely able. Though some have risen to high position on seniority alone, the majority have arrived there through expertise. They know the ins and outs of their domains so thoroughly that nothing moves up to senior officials or down to the action men without their approval, or indeed, without their imprint.

Many of these men and women have come to the conclusion that they, more than any president, cabinet official or other political appointee, know what should be done for the good of the country. Each has his own political philosophy, which may be radically different from that of an incumbent president.

In some cases, these key bureaucrats have built close alliances with influential senators or representatives or members of their staffs. This is not to say that these men and women are basically self-serving. Some are, of course. More, I believe, are not. They simply believe that, because of their experience, they are right.

Congressmen come to depend on these strategically placed kingpins. For one thing, the bureaucrats know what they are doing and congressmen usually do not. The insert of a paragraph here or there in proposed legislation can save a senator or representative headaches later.

Then too, there is frequently a personal payoff for cooperative congressmen. If a legislator wins the approval of a powerful bureaucrat, he can count on favors. For constituents, there will be job openings, special consideration in applying a federal law or access to hard-to-get information. The congressman and his staff can also profit by the ready opening of doors that otherwise would be closed, or in being spared checks and inspections that could otherwise be embarrassing.

BH Inspectors List 20 Phone Contacts

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

The City of Benton Harbor made appointments to inspect 20 homes as a result of a telephone campaign to notify residents of a program to inspect houses on the southside under a code enforcement and house rehabilitation program funded by federal community development money.

Herbert Boston, housing inspection department director, said the inspection department attempted to call 68 home owners between 5 and 7 p.m. Wednesday, and set up 20 appointments, found 36 home owners not at home, and 12 with no phones.

The department began the inspection program about two months ago, according to Boston, but has been unable to contact many homeowners during regular business hours.

Boston said the inspection department will continue to try to reach home owners to set up appointments each Wednesday between 5 and 7 p.m. He said the department will try next Wednesday night to reach the 36 not at home and will send letters to those found not to have phones.

Boston said the inspections are mandatory under the federal guidelines for the program, and the inspection department is trying to set up appointments to inspect the homes at the owner's convenience.

The area scheduled for inspections is bounded by Britain avenue on the north, Columbus avenue on the east, Emery street on the south, and Colfax avenue on the west. That area was selected as the first target for the program because it currently has a stable housing condition and code enforcement and rehabilitation would stem deterioration, according to Boston.

Approximately $250,000 of the city's $1.4 million second-year Community Development grant is earmarked for the program. After the houses are inspected, the owners will be notified of deficiencies. The inspections are also required for qualified home owners to receive loans and grants to rehabilitate their homes, Boston said.

The inspection department hopes to have all the approximately 350 owner-occupied homes in the southside area inspected by June, Boston said.

Yule Spirit Aids BH Santa Fund

"The Christmas rush is really upon us now. You can see the hustle and bustle on the streets and in stores, and trees are being trimmed inside homes," Santa Claus observed today.

And, he noted, the tempo is picking up in the Benton Harbor area Good Fellow counting house at The Herald-Palladium. "You wouldn't call it a land office rush yet, but some very considerate groups came in today."

The Benton Harbor firemen over at Central station are on duty 24 hours a day protecting life and property, and they also know that some will be without the necessary "property" to provide Christmas unless others help. So the firemen sent $25 from their Benefit Fund.

The Twin City chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority gave $20 with the message: "Here's hoping it will help to make some child's Christmas bright."

Ogata Landscaping trimmed the Good Fellow tree with $10, and the St. Joseph Chapter of the Deaf gave $7.50.

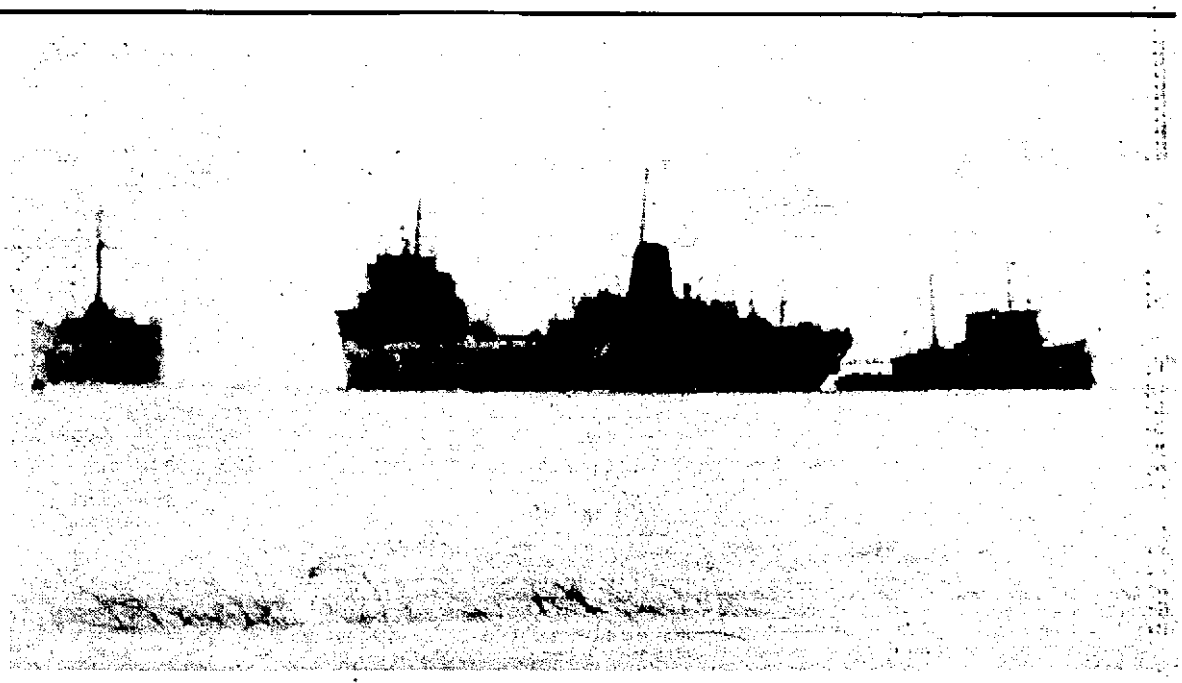

Today's gifts boosted the Benton Harbor Area Good Fellow Fund to $2,130.17.

Building Authority Re-Elects Officers

The Berrien county building authority, landlord of the courthouse in St. Joseph, Friday re-elected the same slate of officers for 1977 during a routine meeting. Re-elected were Allen W. Baker, Jr., of Coloma, chairman, Joseph Schulte, of St. Joseph, vice chairman, and George Behner, of New Buffalo, secretary. Other authority members include Doyle Barkmeier, James Dittmar, John E. Steele, and John Spelman. In other business, the authority authorized County Treasurer William Heyn, who also serves as treasurer of the building authority, to re-invest $217,000 for one year at the best interest rates. The sum is proceeds from current investments which expire Dec. 17.

ORE CARRIER FINALLY FREED: The 716-foot ore carrier Cliffs Victory is assisted by U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw (left) and tug John Rowan (right) after running aground in narrow section of St. Mary's river 20 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie on Thursday. Ship finally was freed today after causing worst shipping jam on river in 50 years. (AP Wirephoto)

SHIPPING JAM CLEARING NEAR SOO

Grounded Ore Carrier Is Freed

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — A grounded ore carrier which had caused the worst shipping jam in half a century on the St. Mary's River was freed early today.

Coast Guard officials said the 716-foot Cliffs Victory, owned by Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., was moved off the underwater shoal about 4 a.m. after being stuck since early Thursday.

The ship was begining to move down the narrow channel near Neebish Island, but officials said it could be several hours before they got the channel cleared completely.

The grounded ship caused the worst backup of freighters in the river in nearly 50 years. The last such tie-up came in 1926, when a sudden ice shift trapped 100 boats in the river for several days.

More than 60 other ships were lined up, waiting to pass. Among the waiting ships were six ocean-going freighters trying to beat a Dec. 18 deadline to clear the St. Lawrence Seaway before it closes for the winter.

Officials said an icebreaker and three tug boats pulled the Cliffs Victory off the shoal. They said the ore carrier would be taken to Lake Munuseong, where its cargo of ore pellets was to be reloaded.

The Cliffs Victory was carrying 1,300 tons of ore pellets when she ran aground in a narrow section of the lower St. Mary's River.

The ship's hull was dented but not punctured, according to a Cleveland Cliffs spokesman. None of the 28 crew members was injured.

The 290-foot Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw tried all day Friday to pull the Victory free. Several hundred tons of ore were unloaded into a barge to lighten the ship before the 10,000 horsepower Mackinaw hooked a line to her stern and started pulling.

Sault Coast Guard commander Charles A. Mittradt said the Victory was in no immediate danger. But he added, "If something happens in pulling her off and she's ruptured, then we'll have a problem."

Traffic conditions on the lakes were made even more difficult by the fact that all shipping traffic had been diverted into a single shipping channel this week to allow formation of an ice bridge from the mainland to link residents of nearby Neebish Island. During the rest of the year, channels on both sides of the island carry freighter traffic.

The Coast Guard said it might have to send the Mackinaw into a downbound lane, which would mean the cutter would demolish the Nebish ice bridge.

Company officials said the vessel was bound from Marquette to Conneaut, Ohio, when a sudden surge of ice and water pushed the big vessel slightly off course and she slid sideways onto a sunken shoal, the Coast Guard reported.

Flu-Like Illness Plagues Detroiters

DETROIT (AP) — Health authorities are convinced it's not swine flu. But dozens of Detroit area residents this week were reporting stomach upsets, mild fevers and other symptoms associated with influenza. County and state health department officials said Friday they were not ready to put a label on the disease, but acknowledged that those who have received swine flu shots probably are not protected.

Dr. Perry Stearns, Wayne County health director, took blood samples for analysis this week after a number of nursing homes and schools reported an unusual number of persons ill with flu-like symptoms. But the Michigan Department of Health analysis requires incubation in eggs, and the process may take more than a week.

"We don't suspect swine flu, however," Stearns said. "With all the publicity, doctors are checking for that very carefully. Actually, so far we have had no serologically diagnosed (identified by lab tests) cases of flu this season, although undoubtedly it's some kind of virus which is causing these illnesses," he said.

Ex-Bangor Man Killed In Smashup

BANGOR — Jack Rader, 43, Montgomery, Ala., formerly of Bangor, died Wednesday in Aiken, N.C. when the truck he was driving ran off the road and crashed.

Rader, who was employed as a truck driver at the Saluto Food Corporation's Montgomery plant, was returning to Montgomery from Virginia with a load of pizza crusts when the crash occurred, according to Saluto officials.

Preliminary indications were that Rader may have suffered a heart attack moments before the crash, Saluto officials said. An autopsy has been scheduled.

Mr. Rader was born Sept. 5, 1933, in Chicago.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Linda) Reynells of Lawrence and Miss Jackie Rader of Bangor; three sons, Steven of Hartford, George of Bangor and John of Lawrence; his mother, Mrs. Bruno (Clara) Novak of Bangor; and a brother, Jerome of Bangor. A son, Clifford, preceded him in death in 1975.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1 p.m. in the Stafford-Robbins funeral home, Bangor. Burial will be in North Shore Memory Gardens, Benton Harbor.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon on Sunday.

Shooting Probed In Covert

COVERT — Covert township police were continuing an investigation today into a shooting here Thursday in which a woman was wounded in the left hand by a blast from a 20-gauge shotgun.

The shooting victim was identified by Covert police as Ruby Clayton, 38, of route 1, box 24, 72nd street, Covert. She was reported in good condition today at St. Mary's hospital, Grand Rapids.

Police Chief Robert Kelnhoffer said Mrs. Clayton told officers yesterday she was shot in her home Thursday about 5:30 p.m. while struggling with a man for the shotgun.

Kelnhoffer said no charges have been filed in the case yet because three other people say the man was with them and not in the house at the time of the shooting.

Kelnhoffer said police would continue to withhold the name of the man unless charges are filed against him.

SJ Fund Seeking Second $1,000

"It's on to the next $1,000," Santa exclaimed gleefully after receiving two contributions today that put the St. Joseph Area Good Fellow fund over the $1,000 mark.

Two contributions totaling $30 were received and put the present total at $1,004.06. Though Santa was happy to be over the $1,000 mark, he noted fund totals were still $173.05 down from the same time last year and there can be no let up.

The two contributions came from American Legion Auxiliary unit No. 164, St. Joseph, $5, and from the Thursday Night Humility Group $25.

The fund still lacks $3,995.94 if the goal of $5,000 is to be reached. Santa asked St. Joseph area residents to open up their hearts and give to the Good Fellow fund to help those less fortunate have a Merry Christmas.

WINS JOB: Brian Berndt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Berndt of St. Joseph, has been elected chairman of the Concert Lecture board at Michigan Technological university, Houghton. He is a senior majoring in civil engineering.

Lawrence School Income $939,956

LAWRENCE — Because of a typographical error, a story in yesterday's Herald-Palladium incorrectly reported estimated revenue for Lawrence school district for the 1976-77 school year at $93,956. The correct amount is $939,956.

Garage, Car Burn In Baroda

BARODA — Fire destroyed a car and garage and damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wituckl, Poplar lane, Wildwood Estates subdivision, near here early this morning, according to Baroda - Lake township police.

Officers at the scene said the fire apparently originated in the garage attatched to the house and was discovered by Mrs. Wituckl between 6:30 and 7 a.m. Mrs. Wituckl removed her four children from the home unharmed. Her husband was not at home at the time.

The auto was parked in the garage. The fire was extinguished by firefighters from Baroda - Lake township, Bridgman and Stevensville. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

A cat was also killed in the fire.

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

The City of Benton Harbor made appointments to inspect 20 homes as a result of a telephone campaign to notify residents of a program to inspect houses on the southside under a code enforcement and house rehabilitation program funded by federal community development money.

Herbert Boston, housing inspection department director, said the inspection department attempted to call 68 home owners between 5 and 7 p.m. Wednesday, and set up 20 appointments, found 36 home owners not at home, and 12 with no phones.

The department began the inspection program about two months ago, according to Boston, but has been unable to contact many homeowners during regular business hours.

Boston said the inspection department will continue to try to reach home owners to set up appointments each Wednesday between 5 and 7 p.m. He said the department will try next Wednesday night to reach the 36 not at home and will send letters to those found not to have phones.

Boston said the inspections are mandatory under the federal guidelines for the program, and the inspection department is trying to set up appointments to inspect the homes at the owner's convenience.

The area scheduled for inspections is bounded by Britain avenue on the north, Columbus avenue on the east, Emery street on the south, and Colfax avenue on the west. That area was selected as the first target for the program because it currently has a stable housing condition and code enforcement and rehabilitation would stem deterioration, according to Boston.

Approximazely $250,000 of the city's $1.4 million second-year Community Development grant is earmarked for the program. After the houses are inspected, the owners will be notified of deficiencies. The inspections are also required for qualified home owners to receive loans and grants to rehabilitate their homes, Boston said.

The inspection department hopes to have all the approximately 350 owner-occupied homes in the southside area inspected by June, Boston said.

Yule Spirit Aids BH Santa Fund

"The Christmas rush is really upon on us now. You can see the hustle and bustle on the streets and in stores, andtrees are being trimmed inside homes," Santa Claus observed today.

And, he noted, the tempo is picking up in the Benton Harbor area Good Fellow counting house at The Herald-Palladium. "You wouldn't call it a land office rush yet, but some very considerate groups came in today."

The Benton Harbor firemen over at Central station are on duty 24 hours a day protecting life and property, and they also know that some will be without the necessary "property" to provde Christmas unless others help. So the firemen sent $25 from their Benefit Fund.

The Twin City chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority gave $20 with the message: "Here's hoping it will help to make some child's Christmas bright."

Ogata Landscaping trimmed the Good Fellow tree with $10, and the St. Joseph Chapter of the Deaf gave $7.50.

Today's gifts boosted the Benton Harbor Area Good Fellow Fund to $2,130.17.

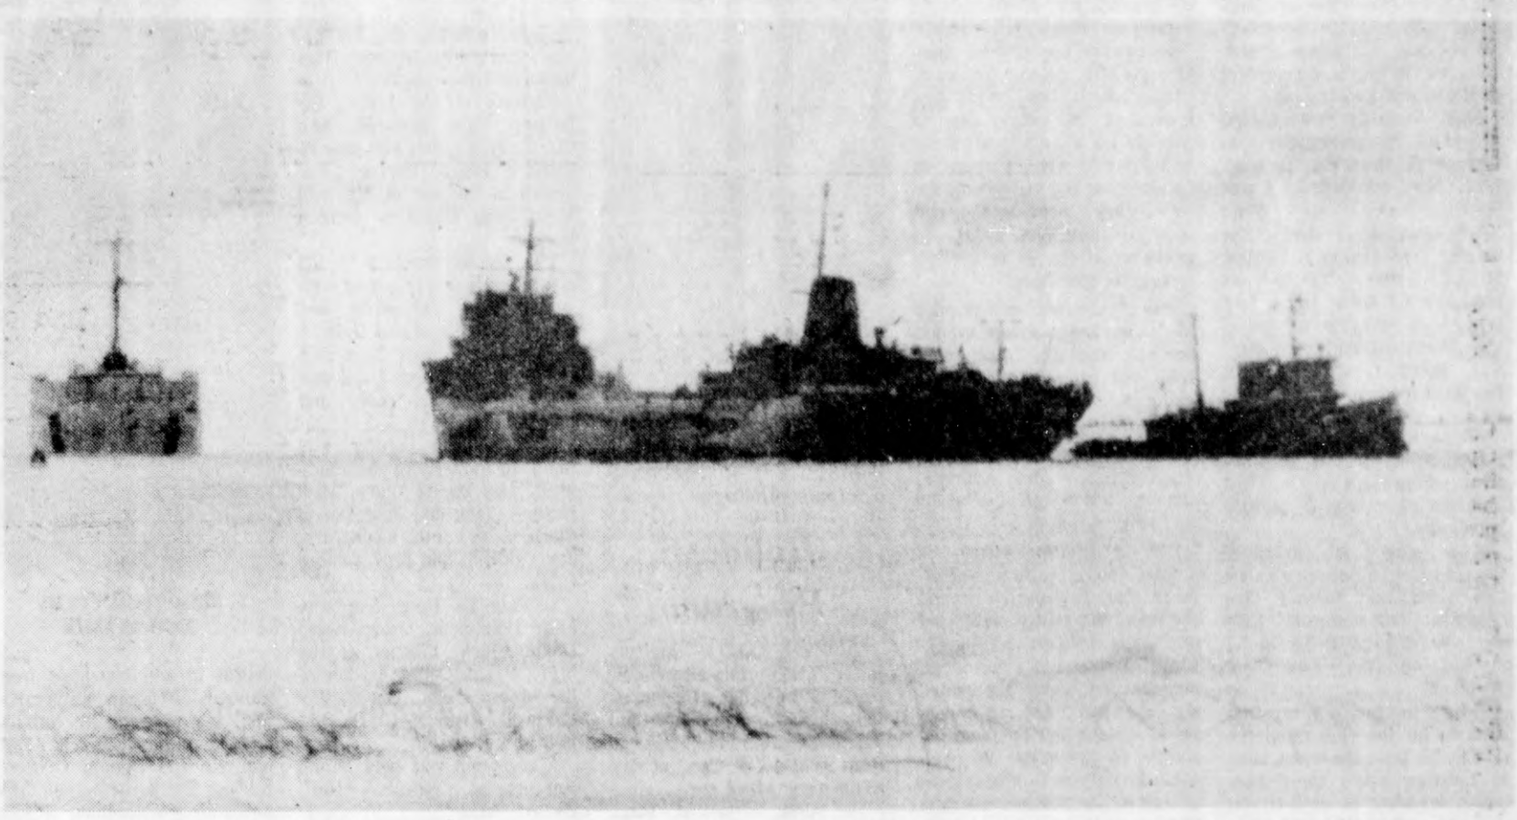

Building Authority Re-Elects Officers

The Berrien county building authority, landlord of the courthouse in St. Joseph, Friday re-elected the same slate of officers for 1977 during a routine meeting. Re-elected were Allen W. Baker, Jr., of Coloma, chairman, Joseph Schulte, of St. Joseph, vice chairman, and George Behner, of New Buffalo, secretary. Other authority members include Doyle Barkmeier, James Dittmar, John E. Steele, and John Spelman. In other business, the authority authorized County Treasurer William Heyn, who also serves as treasurer of the building authority, to re-invest $217,000 for one year at the best interest rates. The sum is proceeds from current investments which expire Dec. 17.

SANTA CLAUS ON STATE STREET: Santa Claus paused with two admirers as he arrived in St. Joseph Friday to hear the Christmas wishes of his constituents and distribute candy. Shown with St. Nick are Annette, 6, left, and Cari, 4, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Filbrandt of South Haven. Santa's arrival also marked start of extended Christmas shopping hours. St. Joseph high school musical groups also will perform at various times downtown as Christmas approaches. (Staff photo)

SHIPPING JAM CLEARING NEAR SOO

Grounded Ore Carrier Is Freed

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — A grounded ore carrier which had caused the worst shipping jam in half a century on the St. Mary's River was freed early today.

Coast Guard officials said the 716-foot Cliffs Victory, owned by Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., was moved off the underwater shoal about 4 a.m. after being stuck since early Thursday.

The ship was begining to move down the narrow channel near Neebish Island, but officials said it could be several hours before they got the channel cleared completely.

The grounded ship caused the worst backup of freighters in the river in nearly 50 years. The last such tie-up came in 1926, when a sudden ice shift trapped 100 boats in the river for several days.

More than 60 other ships were lined up, waiting to pass. Among the waiting ships were six ocean-going freighters trying to beat a Dec. 18 deadline to clear the St. Lawrence Seaway before it closes for the winter.

Officials said an icebreaker and three tug boats pulled the Cliffs Victory off the shoal. They said the ore carrier would be taken to Lake Munuscong, where its cargo of ore pellets was to be reloaded.

The Cliffs Victory was carrying 1,300 tons of ore pellets when she ran aground in a narrow section of the lower St. Mary's River.

The ship's hull was dented but not punctured, according to a Cleveland Cliffs spokesman. None of the 28 crew members was injured.

The 290-foot Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw tried all day Friday to pull the Victory free. Several hundred tons of ore were unloaded into a barge to lighten the ship before the 10,000 horsepower Mackinaw hooked a line to her stern and started pulling.

Sault Coast Guard commander Charles A. Millradt said the Victory was in no immediate danger. But he added, "If something happens in pulling her off and she's ruptured, then we'll have a problem."

Traffic conditions on the lakes were made even more difficult by the fact that all shipping traffic had been diverted into a single shipping channel this week to allow formation of an ice bridge from the mainland to link residents of nearby Neebish Island. During the rest of the year, channels on both sides of the island carry freighter traffic.

The Coast Guard said it might have to send the Mackinaw into a downbound lane, which would mean the cutter would demolish the Nebish ice bridge.

Company officials said the vessel was bound from Marquette to Conneaut, Ohio, when a sudden surge of ice and water pushed the big vessel slightly off course and she slid sideways onto a sunken shoal, the Coast Guard reported.

Flu-Like Illness Plagues Detroiters

DETROIT (AP) — Heaith authorities are convinced it's not swine flu. But dozens of Detroit area residents this week were reporting stomach upsets, mild fevers and other symptoms associated with influenza. County and state health department officials said Friday they were not ready to put a label on the disease, but acknowledged that those who have received swine flu shots probably are not protected.

Dr. Perry Stearns, Wayne County health director, took blood samples for analysis this week after a number of nursing homes and schools reported an unusual number of persons ill with flu-like symptoms. But the Michigan Department of Health analysis requires incubation in eggs, and the process may take more than a week.

"We don't suspect swine flu, however," Stearns said. "With all the publicity, doctors are checking for that very carefully. Actually, so far we have had no serologically diagnosed (identified by lab tests) cases of flu this season, although undoubtedly it's some kind of virus which is causing these illnesses," he said.

Ex-Bangor Man Killed In Smashup

BANGOR — Jack Rader, 43, Montgomery, Ala., formerly of Bangor, died Wednesday in Ahoskie, N.C. when the truck he was driving ran off the road and crashed.

Rader, who was employed as a truck driver at the Saluto Food Corporation's Montgomery plant, was returning to Montgomery from Virginia with a load of pizza crusts when the crash occurred, according to Saluto officials.

Preliminary indications were that Rader may have suffered a heart attack moments before the crash, Saluto officials said. An autopsy has been scheduled.

Mr. Rader was born Sept. 5, 1933, in Chicago.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Linda) Reynells of Lawrence and Miss Jackie Rader of Bangor; three sons, Steven of Hartford, George of Bangor and John of Lawrence; his mother, Mrs. Bruno (Clara) Novak of Bangor; and a brother, Jerome of Bangor. A son, Clifford, preceded him in death in 1975.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1 p.m. in the Stafford-Robbins funeral home, Bangor. Burial will be in North Shore Memory Gardens, Benton Harbor.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon on Sunday.

MISSING: This is photo of Tonya Kiessling, 14, who has been missing from her Hartford home since Tuesday. Her mother, Mrs. Richard Davis of rural Hartford asks that anyone knowing where she is contact state police at Paw Paw or call family's unlisted Hartford number, 621-4450.

Shooting Probed In Covert

COVERT — Covert township police were continuing an investigation today into a shooting here Thursday in which a woman was wounded in the left hand by a blast from a 20-gauge shotgun.

The shooting victim was identified by Covert police as Ruby Clayton, 38, of route 1, box 24, 72nd street, Covert. She was reported in good condition today at St. Mary's hospital, Grand Rapids.

Police Chief Robert Keinhoffer said Mrs. Clayton told officers yesterday she was shot in her home Thursday about 5:30 p.m. while struggling with a man for the shotgun.

Keinhoffer said no charges have been filed in the case yet because three other people say the man was with them and not in the house at the time of the shooting.

Keinhoffer said police would continue to withhold the name of the man unless charges are filed against him.

New President

House And Senate Club

LANSING — Eleene Kennedy, wife of State Representative Bela E. Kennedy (R-Bangor), is the new president of House and Senate club.

Mrs. Kennedy was elected president of the organization this week to serve through 1978. She succeeds Bernice Strang, wife of State Representative DeForrest Strang (R-Sturgis). Mrs. Strang, who served as president for three and a half years and formerly served as vice president and secretary, was honored at a recent luncheon for her service to the club.

House and Senate club is composed of wives of Senators and Representtives, and includes the wives of former legislators.

Mrs. Kennedy, a member of the club for the past five and a half years and former vice president and secretary, said she was flattered by being elected to the office of president.

"I hope to provide interesting sessions for the club members so that the time the wives have in Lansing while their husbands legislate is meaningful and enjoyable," Mrs. Kennedy said.

"Being the wife of a legislator tends to place us in a rather unique position in that we are somewhat alienated from our home community activities, yet we're not a part of the Lansing community either," she added. "Because of this unique position," Mrs. Kennedy said, "this non-political club was organized 50 years ago to provide for a gathering of the legislators' wives when in Lansing, the objective being for forwarding of acquaintance and mutual interests and to promote a closer fellowship among its members."

The club meets on a regular basis in Lansing and holds special meetings throughout the year to make trips to colleges and universities, businesses and other places of interest throughout the state.

According to Mrs. Kennedy, the trips are designed to be fun and educational.

"While talking issues is strictly taboo, we are interested in what is going on around the state. We visit socially, but our trips provide an opportunity to learn a great deal, and become better acquainted and informed about our educational system and business activities in the state. We welcome invitations to visit places in any of the various districts throughout the state," she said.

Other officers elected to serve during the next two years are vice president, Pamela Mack, wife of Senator Joseph Mack; secretary, Ella Young, wife of Representative Joseph Young, and treasurer, Marian Hoffman, wife of Representative Quincy Hoffman.

Holiday Program

NEW BUFFALO — Students in the New Buffalo elementary school will present a Christmas music program, art show and bake sale Thursday, Dec. 16 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the elementary school.

The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

Winning posters promoting the event, prepared by students in a contest sponsored by the New Buffalo Parent Teachers organization, will be on display.

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Timm Alan Culby are on a wedding trip to Florida and the Virgin Islands following their marriage Friday, Dec. 10, at St. Joseph Catholic church, St. Joseph. The Rev. Fr. George Ross performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride, the former Miss Deborah Ann Clark, are Mr. and Mrs. Jay R. Clark of Benton Harbor. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Culby of Benton Harbor.

The bride wore a nylon crystalette gown trimmed with venise lace and earls and designed with a chapel train. A lace Camelot cap held her chapel length illusion veil and she carried red roses and baby's breath.

Miss Valerie Semler was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Denise Clark, Miss Duanne Clark and Miss Donna Clark, sisters of the bride, Mrs. Jay Caldwell and Mrs. George Clark.

Serving as best man was Mike Hohnstein. Ushers were David Clark, brother of the bride, Frank Culby, brother of the groom, Leon Barber, Jay Caldwell, George Clark and Bob Koern.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will reside at 1010 Blue Creek road, Benton Harbor.

The bride is a graduate of Benton Harbor high school and received a bachelor of arts degree in administration from Central Michigan university. She is employed by Indiana and Michigan Electric Company at the Donald C. Cook Nuclear Plant, Bridgman. Her husband is a graduate of Benton Harbor high school and received a bachelor of arts degree in marketing from Central Michigan university. He is self-employed at Culby's Receiving Station, Benton Harbor.

Bethlehem Today

Christmas Visitors

Editor's Note: This story was written by the Rev. Dr. G. Douglas Young, president of the American Institute of Holy Land Studies at Mount Zion, Jerusalem.

If I were asked to single out the one city I would best like to visit during the coming weeks, I would have to pick Bethlehem.

The holiday feeling, which is abundant elsewhere in the world, seems to be infused with a special meaning in this important Holy Land city. Nowhere is Christmas celebrated with more fervor and true Christian spirit.

This feeling about Bethlehem is shared by Christians around the world, many of whom pick the holiday season for a visit. This year, many thousands of Christian tourists will experience Bethlehem during the Christmas season. They come to witness ceremonies and celebrations that have been held here each Christmas for centuries.

Christmas Eve ceremonies for the "Western" churches traditionally begin at 1 p.m. on Dec. 24 when a pilgrimage of clergymen sets out from Jerusalem, 10 miles to the north. As the procession reaches Bethlehem, it is joined by thousands of members of religious and youth organizations, and begins to weave its way through Bethlehem's narrow streets to Manger Square.

In the evening, the midnight ceremonies at the Church of the Nativity draw thousands of tourists, most of whom must watch the services outside on closed circuit television, since the church can accommodate only 800 invited guests. And this is only the first of the Christmas Eve celebrations. A similar scene is repeated on Jan. 6, the "Greek" Christmas, and Jan. 18, the "Armenian" Christmas.

Founded over 3,500 years ago by an Israelite clan descended from Judah, Bethlehem is one of the oldest cities in the Holy Land and of central significance to both Christianity and Judaism. The translation of the Hebrew name, Bethlehem, is "House of Bread," a reference to the fertile valleys and rich olive groves which surrounded the city before the time of Christ and still remain today.

The Bible tells us much about ancient Bethlehem. The city was the birthplace of David, the great grandson of Ruth and second king of Israel. Today the fields outside the city are little changed from the day when David, as a shepherd boy, tended them.

It was at the entrance to Bethlehem that Jacob erected a pillar to mark the grave of his wife, Rachel, who died in childbirth as she approached the city. Today a monument known as Rachel's Tomb stands at the gate of the city and draws thousands of pilgrims.

According to the New Testament Book of Matthew, Joseph and Mary returned to Bethlehem at the time of the census ordered by Caesar Augustus, and it was here in a manger that Jesus was born. The ancient Basilica of the Nativity now rests upon what is believed to be the site of the manger, at the end of the thoroughfare named Manger Street.

The Basilica has long been considered the oldest church in Christendom. A church was originally erected upon the site by Queen Helena, mother of Emperor Constantin in 325 AD. That church was destroyed in 500 AD, but portions of its elaborate mosaics are still visible in the present structure, erected over it only a few years later. The present church has the appearance of a citadel, reflecting the embattled history of the city.

Christian tourists are also attracted to the Chapel of the Milk Grotto, just a short distance from the Basilica. According to tradition, the Holy Family fled to Egypt shortly after the birth of Jesus, to escape Herod's edict that all infants under two years of age by slain. It was at the Milk Grotto that Mary nursed the infant while the family took temporary refuge.

Just outside the city are the Shepherd's Fields, where, tradition tells us, an Angel appeared to shepherds tending their flocks and announced the birth of Jesus. Also nearby is the Field of Ruth, where the idyll portrayed in the Old Testament Book of Ruth was enacted. Tourists also visit the room in St. Catherine's Church where St. Jerome translated the Bible into Latin, a work which is still the basis for all subsequent Catholic translations.

One attraction for Christian tourists in Bethlehem has become especially popular. Christians can buy Christmas cards and have them sent anywhere in the world with a Bethlehem postmark. And if it is too late for the present Christmas, they can arrange for next year's cards to be sent from the city.

PROCESSION: In Bethlehem on the day before Christmas, a procession of clergymen slowly makes it way into Manger Square after a 10 mile walk from Jerusalem. More than 20,000 tourists will visit the tiny city to witness this traditional ceremony.

Schedule Lutheran Christmas Specials

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Benji and Waldo will be returning to television this Christmas season for the seventh consecutive year in two of the most popular animated specials produced by the Lutheran television department of the International Lutheran Laymen's League.

"Christmas Is," which has become something of a holiday classic, is now in its seventh year, and "The City That Forgot About Christmas" made its television debut in 1974.

J. Michael Vincent, director of promotion and distribution for Lutheran TV, said each program is being carried by more than 100 stations on a public service basis, and many of the stations have them scheduled for prime-time play.

Vincent said the continued success of the programs is "remarkable" in light of the increased competition for television time. "Seven years ago," when 'Christmas Is' made its debut," he said, "relatively few Christmas specials were being produced. But that situation is vastly different today. The networks and independent producers have really increased the number of Christmas specials they are releasing."

Vincent lists several reasons for the continued success of the programs. "We have exceptionally good programs, very professionally done. If they weren't good, we would not have more than 200 stations carrying them," he explained.

He added that the programs are also affected by a "passing audience factor." This means that children who were too young to really understand and appreciate the programs when they first went on the air are now members of the viewing audience. "This is illustrated quite well by the ratings," he said. "The percentages really haven't dropped for the programs. They are just as popular with audiences as they always have been."

Vincent said the picture is very bright for the Spanish version of "Christmas Is."

"This year, the third for the Spanish program, is the best in its history in terms of station acceptance," he reported. "We are getting into the major markets — Miami, New York, Chicago, southern California and the Southwest — for Spanish language programming."

He said the program is being carried by the entire Spanish International Network, which has outlets serving the major Spanish-speaking communities of the United States.

"In addition, the program is also being broadcast by stations in smaller Spanish-speaking markets and stations that set aside a portion of their time for Spanish language programs," he said.

In addition to Lutheran Television, the International Lutheran Laymen's League, an auxiliary of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, also sponsors The Lutheran Hour on radio and Preaching through the Press, a print evangelism ministry.

'Hiding Place'

Nuptials . . . .

SOUTH HAVEN — Miss Loretta Ann Brush and David Lee Overhiser exchanged wedding vows Dec. 4 at the Casco United Methodist church. The Rev. Adam Chyrowski performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Alan Brush, route 4, South Haven. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Overhiser, route 4, South Haven.

The bride wore a polyester knit gown trimmed with lace and designed with a chapel train. A beaded headpiece held her fingertip illusion veil and she carried orchids, roses, stephanotis and holly.

Mrs. Robert DeArmond, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss JoAnn Pierce and Miss Alaina Brush, sister of the bride.

Serving as his brother's best man was Dennis Overhiser. Ushers were Steven Merson and Warrel Sill.

A reception was held at the church.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside on route 4, South Haven.

The bride, a graduate of L.C. Mohr high school, South Haven, is employed as a flower designer by The Rose Shop, South Haven. Her husband is a graduate of L.C. Mohr high school and attended Lake Michigan college. He is engaged in farming with his father.

BARODA — The London room at Win Schuler's restaurant, Stevensville, was the setting Nov. 28 for the wedding of Miss Linda Jean Janca and David Alan Braatz.

Vicar Jeff Blakely of San Diego, Calif., and the Rev. Robert Briggeman of Zion United Church of Christ, Baroda, performed the ceremony.

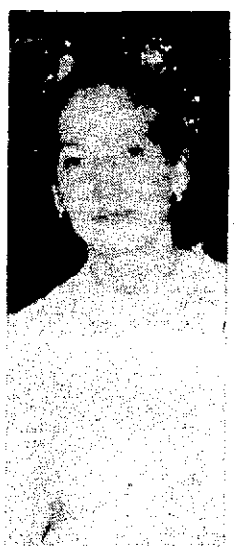

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Janca, 9131 Third street, Baroda. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Braatz of West Allis, Wis.

The bride wore an antique lace and pearl trimmed gown. She wore a headpiece of yellow rose buds and baby's breath and she carried similar flowers with daisies.

A reception was held in the London room.

Following a wedding trip to North Carolina, the couple is making their home in Mount Mourne, N.C.

The bride received her bachelor of arts degree in business administration in marketing from Michigan State university. She has been employed as statistical research assistant to the president, New Products Corp., Benton Harbor. Her husband received his master of science degree from the University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point, and is head aquatic invertibrate biologist at Duke Power Company, Huntersville, N.C.

To Show 'Polynesian Adventure'

The National Geographic Society film "Polynesian Adventure" will be shown Tuesday, Dec. 14, for Family Film Night at Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph, at 7:30 p.m.

The film follows Stan Waterman, his wife and three sons as they have a family adventure in Polynesia, filming underwater coral reefs and exotic fish, participating in native customs and festivals, and living island style.

A story hour for preschool through second grade children, featuring "Racketty Raccoon and Friends" and "Mr. Wookey and the Wookey Players," will be held Saturday, Dec. 18, at 11 a.m. at the library.

New books at the library include "The Users" by Joyce Haber; "The Choice: The Issue of Black Survival in America" by Samuel F. Yette, and "Paul Tillich: His Life and Thought" by Wilhelm and Marion Pauck.

Ministers To Meet

Southwestern Michigan Conservative Ministers Fellowship will meet at 10 a.m. Monday, Dec. 13, at First Baptist church, St. Joseph.

The film, "Step Over the Edge," will be shown followed by a fellowship time. Christmas carols will be sung and three Christmas thoughts, "The Fullness of the Time," "The Seed of the Woman," and "A Child is Born, a Son is Given," will be presented.

Women attending will provide cookies for the coffee hour.

Christmas Concert Tuesday

NEW BUFFALO — A Christmas concert will be presented by New Buffalo school bands Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

All school bands will participate according to Thomas Hilets, band director.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and entitles each person to a season ticket for all band performances during the school year.

Paul Oselka Jr., former New Buffalo band student, will be trumpet soloist.

House and Senate club is composed of wives of Senators and Representtives, and includes the wives of former legislators.

Mrs. Kennedy, a member of the club for the past five and a half years and former vice president and secretary, said she was flattered by being elected to the office of president.

"I hope to provide interesting sessions for the club members so that the time the wives have in Lansing while their husbands legislate is meaningful and enjoyable," Mrs. Kennedy said.

"Being the wife of a legislator tends to place us in a rather unique position in that we are somewhat alienated from our home community activities, yet we're not a part of the Lansing community either," she added. "Because of this unique position," Mrs. Kennedy said, "this non-political club was organized 50 years ago to provide for a gathering of the legislators' wives when in Lansing, the objective being for forwarding of acquaintance and mutual interests and to promote a closer fellowship among its members."

The club meets on a regular basis in Lansing and holds special meetings throughout the year to make trips to colleges and universities, businesses and other places of interest throughout the state.

According to Mrs. Kennedy, the trips are designed to be fun and educational.

"While talking issues is strictly taboo, we are interested in what is going on around the state. We visit socially, but our trips provide an opportunity to learn a great deal, and become better acquainted and informed about our educational system and business activities in the state. We welcome invitations to visit places in any of the various districts throughout the state," she said.

Other officers elected to serve during the next two years are vice president, Pamela Mack, wife of Senator Joseph Mack; secretary, Ella Young, wife of Representative Joseph

MRS. BELA KENNEDY

Young, and treasurer, Marian Hoffman, wife of Representative Quincy Hoffman.

Holiday Program

NEW BUFFALO — Students in the New Buffalo elementary school will present a Christmas music program, art show and bake sale Thursday, Dec. 16 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the elementary school.

The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

Bethlehem Today

Christmas Visitors

Editor's Note: This story was written by the Rev. Dr. G. Douglas Young, president of the American Institute of Holy Land Studies at Mount Zion, Jerusalem.

If I were asked to single out the one city I would best like to visit during the coming weeks, I would have to pick Bethlehem.

The holiday feeling, which is abundant elsewhere in the world, seems to be infused with a special meaning in this important Holy Land city. Nowhere is Christmas celebrated with more fervor and true Christian spirit.

This feeling about Bethlehem is shared by Christians around the world, many of whom pick the holiday season for a visit. This year, many thousands of Christian tourists will experience Bethlehem during the Christmas season. They come to witness ceremonies and celebrations that have been held here each Christmas for centuries.

Christmas Eve ceremonies for the "Western" churches traditionally begin at 1 p.m. on Dec. 24 when a pilgrimage of clergymen sets out from Jerusalem, 10 miles to the north. As the procession reaches Bethlehem, it is joined by thousands of members of religious and youth organizations, and begins to weave its way through Bethlehem's narrow streets to Manger Square.

In the evening, the midnight ceremonies at the Church of the Nativity draw thousands of tourists, most of whom must watch the services outside on closed circuit television, since the church can accommodate only 800 invited guests. And this is only the first of the Christmas Eve celebrations. A similar scene is repeated on Jan. 6, the "Greek" Christmas, and Jan. 18, the "Armenian" Christmas.

Founded over 3,500 years ago by an Israelite clan descended from Judah, Bethlehem is one of the oldest cities in the Holy Land and of central significance to both Christianity and Judaism. The translation of the Hebrew name, Bethlehem, is "House of Bread," a reference to the fertile valleys and rich olive groves which surrounded the city before the time of Christ and still remain today.

The Bible tells us much about ancient Bethlehem. The city was the birthplace of David, the great grandson of Ruth and second king of Israel. Today the fields outside the city are little changed from the day when David, as a shepherd boy, tended them.

It was at the entrance to Bethlehem that Jacob erected a pillar to mark the grave of his wife, Rachel, who died in childbirth as she approached the city. Today a monument known as Rachel's Tomb stands at the gate of the city and draws thousands of pilgrims.

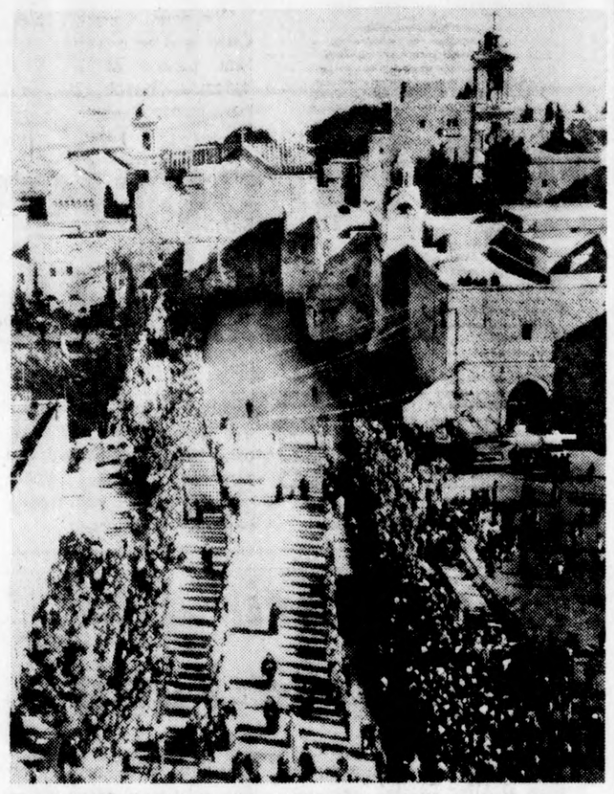

According to the New Testament Book of Matthew, Joseph and Mary returned to Bethlehem at the time of the census ordered by Caesar Augustus, and it was here in a manger that Jesus was born. The ancient Basilica of the Nativity now rests upon what is believed to be the site of the manger, at the end of the thoroughfare named Manger Street.

The Basilica has long been considered the oldest church in Christendom. A church was originally erected upon the site by Queen Helena, mother of Emperor Constantin in 325 AD. That church was destroyed in 500 AD, but portions of its elaborate mosaics are still visible in the present structure, erected over it only a few years later. The present church has the appearance of a citadel, reflecting the embattled history of the city.

Christian tourists are also attracted to the Chapel of the Milk Grotto, just a short distance from the Basilica. According to tradition, the Holy Family fled to Egypt shortly after the birth of Jesus, to escape Herod's edict that all infants under two years of age by slain. It was at the Milk Grotto that Mary nursed the infant while the family took temporary refuge.

Just outside the city are the Shepherd's Fields, where, tradition tells us, an Angel appeared to shepherds tending their flocks and announced the birth of Jesus. Also nearby is the Field of Ruth, where the idyll portrayed in the Old Testament Book of Ruth was enacted. Tourists also visit the room in St. Catherine's Church were St. Jerome translated the Bible into Latin, a work which is still the basis for all subsequent Catholic translations.

One attraction for Christian tourists in Bethlehem has become especially popular. Christians can buy Christmas cards and have them sent anywhere in the world with a Bethlehem postmark. And if it is too late for the present Christmas, they can arrange for next year's cards to be sent from the city.

PROCESSION: In Bethlehem on the day before Christmas, a procession of clergymen slowly makes it way into Manger Square after a 10 mile walk from Jerusalem. More than 20,000 tourists will visit the tiny city to witness this traditional ceremony.

Schedule Lutheran Christmas Specials

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Benji and Waldo will be returning to television this Christmas season for the seventh consecutive year in two of the most popular animated specials produced by the Lutheran television department of the International Lutheran Laymen's League.

"Christmas Is," which has become something of a holiday classic, is now in its seventh year, and "The City That Forgot About Christmas" made its television debut in 1974.

J. Michael Vincent, director of promotion and distribution for Lutheran TV, said each program is being carried by more than 100 stations on a public service basis, and many of the stations have them scheduled for prime-time play.

Vincent said the continued success of the programs is "remarkable" in light of the increased competition for television time. "Seven years ago," when 'Christmas Is' made its debut," he said, "relatively few Christmas specials were being produced. But that situation is vastly different today. The networks and independent producers have really increased the number of Christmas specials they are releasing."

Vincent lists several reasons for the continued success of the programs. "We have exceptionally good programs, very professionally done. If they weren't good, we would not have more than 200 stations carrying them," he explained.

He added that the programs are also affected by a "passing audience factor." This means that children who were too young to really understand and appreciate the programs when they first went on the air are now members of the viewing audience. "This is illustrated quite well by the ratings," he said. "The percentages really haven't dropped for the programs. They are just as popular with audiences as they always have been."

Vincent said the picture is very bright for the Spanish version of "Christmas Is."

"This year, the third for the Spanish program, is the best in its history in terms of station acceptance," he reported. "We are getting into the major markets — Miami, New York, Chicago, southern California and the Southwest — for Spanish language programming."

He said the program is being carried by the entire Spanish International Network, which has outlets serving the major Spanish-speaking communities of the United States.

"In addition, the program is also being broadcast by stations in smaller Spanish-speaking markets and stations that set aside a portion of their time for Spanish language programs," he said.

In addition to Lutheran Television, the International Lutheran Laymen's League, an auxiliary of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, also sponsors The Lutheran Hour on radio and Preaching through the Press, a print evangelism ministry.

'Hiding Place'

To Show 'Polynesian Adventure'

The National Geographic Society film "Polynesian Adventure" will be shown Tuesday, Dec. 14, for Family Film Night at Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph, at 7:30 p.m.

The film follows Stan Waterman, his wife and three sons as they have a family adventure in Polynesia, filming underwater coral reefs and exotic fish, participating in native customs and festivals, and living island style.

A story hour for preschool through second grade children, featuring "Racketty Raccoon and Friends" and "Mr. Wookey and the Wookey Players," will be held Saturday, Dec. 18, at 11 a.m. at the library.

New books at the library include "The Users" by Joyce Haber; "The Choice: The Issue of Black Survival in America" by Samuel F. Yette, and "Paul Tillich: His Life and Thought" by Wilhelm and Marion Pauck.

Christmas Concert Tuesday

NEW BUFFALO — A Christmas concert will be presented by New Buffalo school bands Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

All school bands will participate according to Thomas Holets, band director.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and entitles each person to a season ticket for all band performances during the school year.

Paul Oselka Jr., former New Buffalo band student, will be trumpet soloist.

Ministers To Meet

Southwestern Michigan Conservative Ministers Fellowship will meet at 10 a.m. Monday, Dec. 13, at First Baptist church, St. Joseph.

The film, "Step Over the Edge," will be shown followed by a fellowship time. Christmas carols will be sung and three Christmas thoughts, "The Fullness of the Time," "The Seed of the Woman," and "A Child is Born, a Son is Given," will be presented.

Women attending will provide cookies for the coffee hour.

Installation Sunday

REV. DOROTHY CROSS

The Rev. Dorothy Freeman Cross will be installed as assistant pastor of First Presbyterian church, Benton Harbor, Sunday, Dec. 12, by the Presbytery of Lake Michigan.

The installation service will be held at 4 p.m. and the public is invited. A reception will follow the service.

The Rev. Ellis Marshburn is pastor of the church.

The Rev. Edgar W. Ward, associate director general, Vocation Agency, United Presbyterian Church in the USA, of New York City, will be speaker for the service. Also participating will be Dr. J.L. Stolts, president of McCormick seminary, Chicago.

The Rev. Irving Phillips of Lansing, moderator of the Presbytery of Lake Michigan, will conduct the installation service. Dr. A.L. Reynolds of Chicago and the Rev. Donald L. Mathews of Muskegon will give the charges.

Others participating will be the Rev. Thomas Keizer and Elder Alden Bierman of Fairplain Presbyterian church, Benton Harbor, and Elder Honnie Stark and Elder Harry Goff of First Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Cross came to the Benton Harbor church last summer. She was ordained Nov. 26 in Chicago.

She is a 1976 graduate of McCormick Theological seminary, Chicago. She previously had a career in education before her seminary training.

Salem Lutheran Church Plans Organ Dedication

COLOMA — The new three manual Allen Digital Computer Organ of Salem Lutheran church, Coloma, will be dedicated in services Sunday, Dec. 12.

The public is invited to the two dedicatory services to be held at 8 and 10:30 a.m.

Guest organist for the services will be Walter F. Gresens, music director of Trinity Lutheran church, St. Joseph.

Gresens will present a program of organ music from 9:15 to 10:15 a.m. The program will include various types of organ music and congregational singing of familiar church hymns.

The three manual Allen 632-2 church organ has the equivalent of 57 ranks of pipes by using a new concept in sound and tone generation by means of two digital computers.

In addition, there is the opportunity of adding two additional ranks to each of the Swell, Great, Choir and Pedal divisions by means of computer cards programed for a great number of different sounds and effects. Each stop is a full 61-Note compass and completely independent with no unification or duplexing from other stops.

The organ was installed by Westfield Organ and Piano Company of Grand Rapids.

Members of the organ committee of the church who laid the groundwork for the purchase of the organ are Robert Klug, chairman, Gus Scheffler, Jim Barricklow, Mrs. Irene Walton and Mrs. Eunice Spilger.

Gresens has been music director and a teacher at Trinity Lutheran church since 1969. He attended Concordia Teacher's college, River Forest, Ill., and pursued his study of music at Chicago Conservatory of Music and the University of Wisconsin. He has attended various church music workshops and seminars at Valparaiso university, Andrews university, Eastman

WALTER GRESENS

School of Music and Paul Christiansen Choral school.

He served as music director and teacher at Emmaus Lutheran church in Milwaukee, Wis., before coming to St. Joseph.

Jews To Welcome Hanukah

Holiday Commemorates Maccabees Victory

Thursday evening, Dec. 16, Jews all over the world will welcome the holiday of Hanukah which will be celebrated for eight days.

Each evening is marked by the lighting of a special Hanukah Menorah which holds eight candles.

On the first night one candle is lit, and on each following night a new candle is added until eight are lit and burning on the last evening of the festival, according to Rabbi Harold J. Berman of Temple B'nai Shalom, Benton Harbor.

A special Shabbat/Hanukah dinner will be held at the Temple Friday, Dec. 17. Reservations in advance are necessary. Services that evening will begin at 6 o'clock and will include special prayers for Hanukah as well as a traditional Shabbat service.

For that special Friday night program there will be no regular 8:30 p.m. service at the Temple. Morning services for the Shabbat/Hanukah will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 18.

The holiday of Hanukah commemorates the victory of Judah Maccabee and other members of his family together with their rebel forces over the Greek forces of the Syrian King Antiochus Epiphanes in 160 BC. The revolt of the Maccabees, which began as a response to the prohibition of any Jewish practice and the forced introduction of pagan worship in the Temple in Jerusalem, ended with the cleaning of the Jewish Temple and its rededication in an eight day ceremony, Rabbi Berman said.

It is told that when the Temple was cleansed, there was not enough pure oil available to fuel the holy Eternal Light that was one of the central symbols of the ancient Temple. Miraculously, one day's supply of oil continued to burn for eight days so that the celebration could be compete and additional supplies of oil could be obtained.

Hanukah is a time for gift-giving and for playing games. Among the popular games of Hanukah are those that use the Dredyl, a four-sided top that is spun by hand to declare the winners and losers in a variety of children's games. On the four sides of the Dredyl are four Hebrew letters representing the first letters of the words that mean "a great miracle happened there."

The Dredyl is a toy used around the world, although Dredyls made in Israel have different letters, to represent the message, "a great miracle happened here," for now Jews play their Hanukah games and relive the memories of a fight for religious freedom on the same land where Judah Maccabee fought for more than two thousand years ago.

FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS: Children of Temple B'nai Shalom, Benton Harbor, prepare for a special Shabbat/Hanukah dinner which will be held Friday, Dec. 17, at the Temple. Jonathan Levin, center, lights Hanukah Menorah which holds eight candles. Each night one additional candle is lit until all eight are burning on the last evening of the festival. Looking on are Derek Rothschild, left, and Dianne Cleaver. (Staff photo)

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE BIBLE

No. 269. The Scroll

After the young prophet Ezekiel had had his first vision, the Lord summoned him and told him that he must go to warn the children of Israel of God's wrath and punishment. He was also admonished not to fear the words or deeds of the rebellious children.

"But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give thee. And when I looked, behold, an hand was sent unto me; and, lo, a roll of a book was therein; And he spread it before me; and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mournings, and woe." (Ezekiel 2:8-10)

"So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll. And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness." (Ezekiel 3:2-3)

Installation Sunday

REV. DOROTHY CROSS

The Rev. Dorothy Freeman Cross will be installed as assistant pastor of First Presbyterian church, Benton Harbor, Sunday, Dec. 12, by the Presbytery of Lake Michigan.

The installation service will be held at 4 p.m. and the public is invited. A reception will follow the service.

The Rev. Ellis Marshburn is pastor of the church.

The Rev. Edgar W. Ward, associate director general, Vocation Agency, United Presbyterian Church in the USA, of New York City, will be speaker for the service. Also participating will be Dr. J.L. Stolts, president of McCormick seminary, Chicago.

The Rev. Irving Phillips of Lansing, moderator of the Presbytery of Lake Michigan, will conduct the installation service. Dr. A.L. Reynolds of Chicago and the Rev. Donald L. Mathews of Muskegon will give the charges.

Others participating will be the Rev. Thomas Keizer and Elder Alden Bierman of Fairplain Presbyterian church, Benton Harbor, and Elder Honnie Stark and Elder Harry Goff of First Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Cross came to the Benton Harbor church last summer. She was ordained Nov. 28 in Chicago.

She is a 1976 graduate of McCormick Theological seminary, Chicago. She previously had a career in education before her seminary training.

Salem Lutheran Church Plans Organ Dedication

COLOMA — The new three manual Allen Digital Computer Organ of Salem Lutheran church, Coloma, will be dedicated in services Sunday, Dec. 12.

The public is invited to the two dedicatory services to be held at 8 and 10:30 a.m.

Guest organist for the services will be Walter F. Gresens, music director of Trinity Lutheran church, St. Joseph.

Gresens will present a program of organ music from 9:15 to 10:15 a.m. The program will include various types of organ music and congregational singing of familiar church hymns.

The three manual Allen 632-2 church organ has the equivalent of 57 ranks of pipes by using a new concept in sound and tone generation by means of two digital computers.

In addition, there is the opportunity of adding two additional ranks to each of the Swell, Great, Choir and Pedal divisions by means of computer cards programed for a great number of different sounds and effects. Each stop is a full 61-Note compass and completely independent with no unification or duplexing from other stops.

The organ was installed by Westfield Organ and Piano Company of Grand Rapids.

Members of the organ committee of the church who laid the groundwork for the purchase of the organ are Robert Klug, chairman, Gus Scheffler, Jim Barricklow, Mrs. Irene Walton and Mrs. Eunice Spilger.

Gresens has been music director and a teacher at Trinity Lutheran church since 1969. He attended Concordia Teacher's college, River Forest, Ill., and pursued his study of music at Chicago Conservatory of Music and the University of Wisconsin. He has attended various church music workshops and seminars at Valpariso university, Andrews university, Eastman

WALTER GRESENS

School of Music and Paul Christiansen Choral school.

He served as music director and teacher at Emmaus Lutheran church in Milwaukee, Wis., before coming to St. Joseph.

Jews To Welcome Hanukah

Holiday Commemorates Maccabees Victory

Thursday evening, Dec. 16, Jews all over the world will welcome the holiday of Hanukah which will be celebrated for eight days.

Each evening is marked by the lighting of a special Hanukah Menorah which holds eight candles.

On the first night one candle is lit, and on each following night a new candle is added until eight are lit and burning on the last evening of the festival, according to Rabbi Harold J. Berman of Temple B'nai Shalom, Benton Harbor.

A special Shabbat/Hanukah dinner will be held at the Temple Friday, Dec. 17. Reservations in advance are necessary. Services that evening will begin at 6 o'clock and will include special prayers for Hanukah as well as a traditional Shabbat service.

For that special Friday night program there will be no regular 8:30 p.m. service at the Temple. Morning services for the Shabbat/Hanukah will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 18.

The holiday of Hanukah commemorates the victory of Judah Maccabee and other members of his family together with their rebel forces over the Greek forces of the Syrian King Antiochus Epiphanes in 160 BC. The revolt of the Maccabees, which began as a response to the prohibition of any Jewish practice and the forced introduction of pagan worship in the Temple in Jerusalem, ended with the cleaning of the Jewish Temple and its rededication in an eight day ceremony, Rabbi Berman said.

It is told that when the Temple was cleansed, there was not enough pure oil available to fuel the holy Eternal Light that was one of the central symbols of the ancient Temple. Miraculously, one day's supply of oil continued to burn for eight days so that the celebration could be compete and additional supplies of oil could be obtained.

Hanukah is a time for gift-giving and for playing games. Among the popular games of Hanukah are those that use the Dredyl, a four-sided top that is spun by hand to declare the winners and losers in a variety of children's games. On the four sides of the Dredyl are four Hebrew letters representing the first letters of the words that mean "a great miracle happened there."

The Dredyl is a toy used around the world, although Dredyls made in Israel have different letters, to represent the message, "a great miracle happened here," for now Jews play their Hanukah games and relive the memories of a fight for religious freedom on the same land where Judah Maccabee fought for more than two thousand years ago.

FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS: Children of Temple B'nai Shalom, Benton Harbor, prepare for a special Shabbat%Hanukah dinner which will be held Friday, Dec. 17, at the Temple. Jonathan Levin, center, lights Hanukah Menorah which holds eight candles. Each night one additional candle is lit until all eight are burning on the last evening of the festival. Looking on are Derek Rothschild, left, and Dianne Cleaver. (Staff photo)

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE BIBLE

No. 269. The Scroll

After the young prophet Ezekiel had had his first vision, the Lord summoned him and told him that he must go to warn the children of Israel of God's wrath and punishment. He was also admonished not to fear the words or deeds of the rebellious children.

"But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give thee. And when I looked, behold, an hand was sent unto me; and, lo, a roll of a book was therein: And he spread it before me; and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mournings, and woe." (Ezekiel 2:8-10)

"So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll. And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness." (Ezekiel 3:2-3)

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

They Want To Be Alone

Dear Ann: I'm a high school junior (17) and so is my boyfriend. We have been going steady for five months and I'm sure this is true love.

Ken works Friday nights and Saturday afternoons. Our only chance to be together is Saturday night. Ken doesn't have a car so we can't go anyplace much.

My parents know all this but instead of cooperating they hang around the house every Saturday night and watch TV until the last show is off.

Ken and I enjoy TV, too, but it's no fun when the place is crawling with relatives. Do you think this is fair, Ann? I've mentioned it to my folks and all I get is dirty looks. A word from you might help. Please say something. — Too Many Eyes

Dear T.M.E.: If you two 17-year-olds can't think of anything better to do than sit in front of a TV on the one night in the week when you are together, I feel awfully sorry for you.

So Ken doesn't have a car. You have feet, don't you? And what about buses? Young love is beautiful, but it shouldn't mean the rest of the world should drop dead so you two can be alone. Get with it, Lovey. The burden is on you and Ken — not your folks.

Acknowledgement

Ann: I recently decided to make a career change and ran into a situation that must irk thousands of job applicants. I've never seen it mentioned in all the years I've been reading your column, and I think it's about time somebody complained.

When a company advertises employment and proudly uses its name to enhance the ad, why can't they show a little courtesy by sending the applicant a short letter thanking him or her for the resume and giving him a yea or nay?

I feel if I show an interest in a company and take the time to write a resume and a covering letter, it should at least be acknowledged by somebody. One company that failed to respond lost a long-time customer. I'll never feel the same about them.

Maybe if you print this letter a few highly respected (but inconsiderate) companies will wake up and smell the coffee. Sign me — A Disgusted Applicant

Dear App: Seems to me your complaint is valid. As a matter of good public relations all job applicants should receive an acknowledgment and a thank you for considering the company as a prospective employee. Get on the stick, Somebody!

Office Collections

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to say a few words to the guy who signed himself "Fleeced." He complained about office collections for brides, new babies, retirement parties, get-well flowers, etc. I know this type of cheapskate. I work with a few.

Just let someone come around with a punchboard, a football pool, a hot tip on a horse or a chance on a lottery ticket and Big Mouth is the first one to put his hand in his pocket.

I work in a large office. When I was in the hospital last spring, the gang sent a beautiful bouquet of flowers. I will never forget the thrill when the nurse brought them into my room. When I read the card I almost bawled.

I never complained about chipping in for office remembrances, but after having been the recipient once it gave me a whole new understanding. Please print this, Ann. — Ada

Dear A.: I'll bet this goes up on a few office bulletin boards around the country. Thanks for writing.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teenage Sex — Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Seek Family Histories

NILES — Anne Frese, head librarian at the Niles Community library, is reminding residents of the community to bring their family history forms to the library for the "We Were Here in 1976" file.

She says the library is also asking area residents, especially war veterans, to include their reminiscences of any first hand experiences relating to these conflicts. Families of servicemen who were killed are also requested to record the life stories of these men.

The preschool story hours Tuesday through Thursday, Dec. 14-16, will include the film "The Legend of Johnny Appleseed," and the story "Little Bear's Christmas." Children will also carol around the Christmas tree. Story hours are at 10:15 a.m. Tuesday and Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

The "Tiny Tot" story hours Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 14 and 15, will feature the story "The Little Drummer Boy" and children will carol around the Christmas tree in the children's room. Story hours begin at 9:30 a.m.

The Saturday, Dec. 18, film at the library will be "The Mystery of Animal Behavior," a National Geographic film showing dramatic aspects of animals, from baboons to fish to birds. The film will be shown at 3 p.m. in the library auditorium.

To Meet Thursday

COLOMA — Parent-Teachers club of Washington elementary school, Coloma, will meet Thursday, Dec. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The public is invited.

Dan Mitchell, school system bus coordinator, and Ronald Clark, assistant school superintendent, will discuss bus transportation.

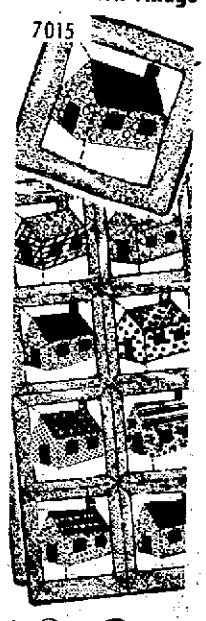

First and second graders of the school will present Christmas music. Refreshments will follow.

A special enzyme, Renin, is the center of a considerable amount of scientific excitement.

Dr. Eve Slater and Dr. Edgar Haber, of the Massachusetts General Hospital, believe that Renin plays a very significant role in the production of high blood pressure.

The doctors recently reported the presence of this substance "in normal human kidney tissues." Scientists at the meetings of the American Heart Association were impressed with the possibilities of the work of Dr. Slater and Dr. Haber.

Their research will be continued at various hospitals and medical centers in the United States. Such contributions may eventually be the answer to a disease which affects more than 20 million Americans and is a responsible factor in causing heart attacks, strokes and kidney failure.

The American Heart Association is to be congratulated for supporting such brilliant scientific research.

A new drug, tiapride, is being tried in Belgium for the rapid relief of symptoms caused by the withdrawal of alcohol.

This is of considerable importance because the unpleasantness of alcohol withdrawal is one of the factors that interferes with the good intent to break away from alcohol addiction.

Dr. Isadore Pelc, of the University Hospital in Brussels, hopes that his extensive research with this drug will soon be recognized and duplicated in America. Then the Federal Drug Administration may release tiapride for public consumption.

Angiography is a widely accepted technique for studying the blood circulation in the brain and around the heart. Using special dyes, the entire vascular system can be outlined.

Now, a dye, fluoresceins, is being used to study the complex divisions of the eye. This system of eye angiography can now outline areas which previously could not be visualized.

Dr. Robert W. Flower, of the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, has developed this technique. It may have invaluable diagnostic potential.

West cashed his king of clubs and shifted to the jack of hearts. The Professor who sat South remarked, "I have a lot of ways to play this hand. Most will make so I had best bring in the slam."

There are lots of squeeze possibilities and at the very worst there is a two-way guess for the queen of diamonds. The Profesor eliminated the guess quickly.

He won the heart with the ace and played three rounds of trumps while West chucked three clubs. Then he led a heart to dummy's king and ruffed a heart. When East showed out on that third heart lead, the Professor remarked, "It's a sure thing now."

Then he simply cashed his last three trumps. West had to come down to three cards. One had to be the ace of clubs, the second a heart so he could only hold one diamond. Meanwhile, the Professor had chucked the jack of diamonds from dummy and he could throw either the queen of clubs or the last heart from dummy. It made no difference. They had done their work against West.

Then he led a diamond to dummy's king, took the surething finesse against East's queen and had his slam as advertised.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

They Want To Be Alone

Dear Ann: I'm a high school junior (17) and so is my boyfriend. We have been going steady for five months and I'm sure this is true love.

Ken works Friday nights and Saturday afternoons. Our only chance to be together is Saturday night. Ken doesn't have a car so we can't go anyplace much.

My parents know all this but instead of cooperating they hang around the house every Saturday night and watch TV until the last show is off.

Ken and I enjoy TV, too, but it's no fun when the place is crawling with relatives. Do you think this is fair, Ann? I've mentioned it to my folks and all I get is dirty looks. A word from you might help. Please say something. — Too Many Eyes

Dear T.M.E.: If you two 17-year-olds can't think of anything better to do than sit in front of a TV on the one night in the week when you are together, I feel awfully sorry for you.

So Ken doesn't have a car. You have feet, don't you? And what about buses? Young love is beautiful, but it shouldn't mean the rest of the world should drop dead so you two can be alone. Get with it, Lovey. The burden is on you and Ken — not your folks.

Acknowledgement

Ann: I recently decided to make a career change and ran into a situation that must irk thousands of job applicants. I've never seen it mentioned in all the years I've been reading your column, and I think it's about time somebody complained.

When a company advertises employment and proudly uses its name to enhance the ad, why can't they show a little courtesy by sending the applicant a short letter thanking him or her for the resume and giving him a yea or nay?

I feel if I show an interest in a company and take the time to write a resume and a covering letter, it should at least be acknowledged by somebody. One company that failed to respond lost a long-time customer. I'll never feel the same about them.

Maybe if you print this letter a few highly respected (but inconsiderate) companies will wake up and smell the coffee. Sign me — A Disgusted Applicant

Dear App: Seems to me your complaint is valid. As a matter of good public relations all job applicants should receive an acknowledgment and a thank you for considering the company as a prospective employee. Get on the stick, Somebody!

ANN LANDERS

Office Collections

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to say a few words to the guy who signed himself "Fleeced." He complained about office collections for brides, new babies, retirement parties, get-well flowers, etc. I know this type of cheapskate. I work with a few.

Just let someone come around with a punchboard, a football pool, a hot tip on a horse or a chance on a lottery ticket and Big Mouth is the first one to put his hand in his pocket.

I work in a large office. When I was in the hospital last spring, the gang sent a beautiful bouquet of flowers. I will never forget the thrill when the nurse brought them into my room. When I read the card I almost bawled.

I never complained about chipping in for office remembrances, but after having been the recipient once it gave me a whole new understanding. Please print this, Ann. — Ada

Dear A.: I'll bet this goes up on a few office bulletin boards around the country. Thanks for writing.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teenage Sex — Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed,mped envelope to nnLanders, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Seek Family Histories

NILES — Anne Frese, head librarian at the Niles Community library, is reminding residents of the community to bring their family history forms to the library for the "We Were Here in 1976" file.

She says the library is also asking area residents, especially war veterans, to include their reminiscences of any first hand experiences relating to these conflicts. Families of servicemen who were killed are also requested to record the life stories of these men.

The preschool story hours Tuesday through Thursday, Dec. 14-16, will include the film "The Legend of Johnny Appleseed," and the story "Little Bear's Christmas." Children will also carol around the Christmas tree. Story hours are at 10:15 a.m. Tuesday and Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

The "Tiny Tot" story hours Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 14 and 15, will feature the story "The Little Drummer Boy" and children will carol around the Christmas tree in the children's room. Story hours begin at 9:30 a.m.

The Saturday, Dec. 18, film at the library will be "The Mystery of Animal Behavior," a National Geographic film showing dramatic aspects of animals, from baboons to fish to birds. The film will be shown at 3 p.m. in the library auditorium.

To Meet Thursday

COLOMA — Parent-Teachers club of Washington elementary school, Coloma, will meet Thursday, Dec. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The public is invited.

Dan Mitchell, school system bus coordinator, and Ronald Clark, assistant school superintendent, will discuss bus transportation.

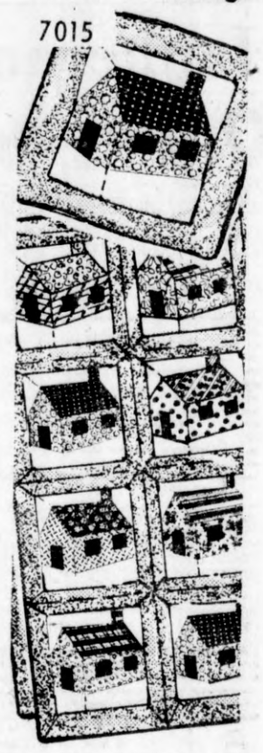

First and second graders of the school will present Christmas music. Refreshments will follow.

Chrysler To Challenge Recall Order

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says it will challenge a precedent-setting, government order to recall 208,000 of its large-engine cars because they emit too much carbon monoxide.

Friday's recall order by the Environmental Protection Agency involved nearly one-fifth of Chrysler's 1975 models. It marked the first time the agency has tried to hold an auto company responsible for excessive pollution resulting from improper engine adjustments made after the cars were sold.

The recall stems from previous EPA complaints that a high percentage of the cars exceed antipollution standards once in customer hands, even though the same vehicles were in compliance when they left the factory.

In the past, EPA has ordered auto recalls to correct manufacturing defects, but the agency said this was its first recall involving "improper design and adjustment procedures."

EPA gave Chrysler 45 days to come up with a plan for fixing 1975 cars with 360-and 400-cubic-inch engines, at no cost to the owners.

Affected by the recall are the Chrysler Cordoba and Newport; Plymouth Fury and Gran Fury and Dodge Monaco, Charger SE and Coronet.

EPA said the carburetor design of those models made them so sensitive to slight changes in adjustment that they were routinely misadjusted by Chrysler dealers and others.

The result, said EPA, has been excessive carbon monoxide emissions, as well as a "rotten egg" odor from catalytic-converter antipollution devices.

The agency said other carmakers have been using carburetor designs that avoid this problem for several years.

Chrysler said a car maker is legally responsible for correcting only those vehicles that have been properly used and maintained by owners.

"When an individual improperly adjusts an emissions control system, we are not responsible for those actions," a spokesman for the No. 3 automaker said. He added that EPA agreed the recalled cars do meet federal emission standards when maintained to factory specifications.

"By this order, EPA is trying to require Chrysler to be responsible for the actions of private individuals. We cannot accept the responsibility or the precedent it sets," the spokesman said.

Last summer, EPA tests of 1975 model cars in five cities found 83 per cent of Chrysler cars and nearly half of General Motors and Ford cars exceeded the carbon monoxide standard.

The agency attributed the problem to improper carburetor adjustments by dealers, probably made to provide a richer fuel mixture. The richer fuel mixture improves the car's performance, but also increases pollutants.

The agency held the automakers responsible for the situation, saying they should find a way to guarantee the cars meet emission standards for 50,000 miles of use as the law specifies, even if no manufacturing defect is involved.

The EPA is studying several proposals to correct the problem, including one that the auto companies build cars with permanent carburetor adjustments which cannot be altered by dealers.

Russians Set Fishing Zone

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union, following the lead of the United States and dozens of other nations, has announced a 200-mile coastal fishing zone.

The announcement brought a threat of protest from Japan, whose vessels fish extensively in Soviet waters. The U.S. State Department said the move came as no surprise.

Has Tests

CHICAGO (AP) — Radio and television personality Arthur Godfrey has been released from Michael Reese Hospital after five days of tests, a hospital spokesman says.

The spokesman said Friday that Godfrey, 73, was in good condition throughout his stay, which ended Thursday.

Chrysler To Challenge Recall Order

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says it will challenge a precedent-setting government order to recall 208,000 of its large-engine cars because they emit too much carbon monoxide.

Friday's recall order by the Environmental Protection Agency involved nearly one-fifth of Chrysler's 1975 models. It marked the first time the agency has tried to hold an auto company responsible for excessive pollution resulting from improper engine adjustments made after the cars were sold.

The recall stems from previous EPA complaints that a high percentage of the cars exceed antipollution standards once in customer hands, even though the same vehicles were in compliance when they left the factory.

In the past, EPA has ordered auto recalls to correct manufacturing defects, but the agency said this was its first recall involving "improper design and adjustment procedures."

SKYHAWK JET CRASHES: This is a 1969 file photo of a Navy A4 Skyhawk jet warplane, similar to one that crashed into Atlantic Ocean off North Carolina on Friday. Pentagon officials said plane crashed after being struck by a missle fired by a Marine aircraft. (AP Wirephoto)

Navy Jet Downed In Practice

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (AP) — Navy and Marine Corps authorities had widely differing accounts of what led to the shooting down of a Navy jet fighter by a Marine F4 Phantom jet firing unarmed, heatseeking missiles.

A Marine Corps spokesman said he didn't know what the Navy A4 Skyhawk was doing in the training area over the Atlantic Ocean.

But an official with Atlantic Fleet headquarters, Norfolk, Va., said the accident occurred during a joint Marine-Navy exercise, and that the Skyhawk was participating in the training.

Since the missile was unarmed, the Navy plane did not explode, but crashed into the ocean Friday as a result of the "projectile going through the aircraft," said Capt. James Pendergast of the Cherry Point Marine Air Station public affairs office.

The pilot of the Skyhawk, Navy Lt. Jerome L. Peiykowski, 30, stationed at Virginia Beach, Va., ejected safely and was picked up by a Marine search and rescue helicopter after being in the Atlantic Ocean about an hour, the Marine Corps said. He was taken to the Naval Hospital at Cherry Point, treated for minor injuries and released.

The accident occurred at about 10:30 a.m. during a Marine training exercise in restricted airspace about 40 miles southeast of here, Pendergast said.

Pendergast said the Marine plane was firing at an unmanned drone target plane being controlled from the ground by radio.

The missile missed the drone and struck the Skyhawk instead, he said.

Navy officials at Norfolk said that the Skyhawk was towing the target that the missile was intended to hit. Navy Cmdr. John Barry, commander of U.S. Atlantic Fleet headquarters at Norfolk, told reporters the A4 was on a "routine training mission" when it crashed.

"Obviously something went wrong," said Barry. "I don't know what.

Defense Department spokesmen in Washington said Navy and Marine officers were investigating the incident.

Electricians To Vote On GM Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Members of the International Union of Electrical Workers are to begin voting next week on a new three year national contract agreement reached Friday with General Motors Corp.

Some 14,000 IUE members began returning to their jobs shortly after the tentative national settlement was announced at 10:35 a.m. EST Friday, following round-the-clock negotiations which began Thursday.

The walkout began at 12:01 a.m. Friday.

IUE officials authorized another 11,000 members of Local 801 at two Dayton plants to continue their pickets over unsettled local contracts. Those agreements were reached Friday night, and employes at Dayton's Delco Air Conditioning and Frigidaire plants returned to work.

Details of the national settlement were withheld pending ratification votes. But the union said the pact includes agreement on key strike issues, including union demands for reduced work time and equal opportunity matters.

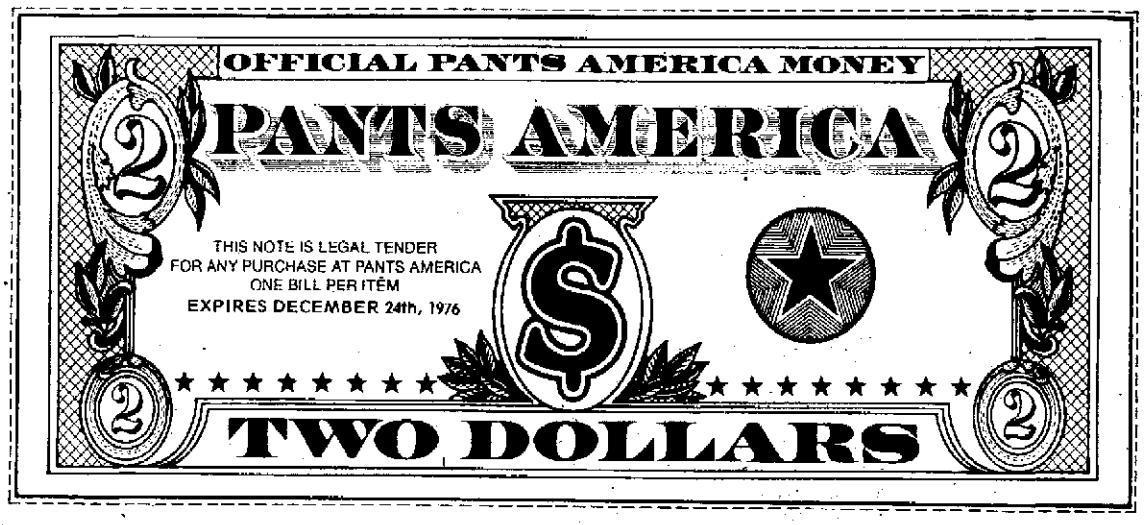

Wheat Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final production figures for the year show farmers produced a record wheat crop of nearly 2.15 billion bushels in 1976, edging the record set in 1975 by almost 21 million bushels.

The Agriculture Department said Friday that its Dec. 1 surveys showed the 1976 wheat crop to be more than 12½ million more bushels than had been expected as of November.

'Designer Dirt,' Live Buffalo On Gift Choice List

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

You don't have to be a millionaire to splurge on something utterly extravagant this Christmas. Retailers are offering a range of impractical goodies at almost every price level.

Here is a sampling of items, from under $10 to over $500, for shoppers who want to feel like big spenders, but don't have $10,000 for a dollhouse from F.A.O. Schwartz or $11,750 for Neiman-Marcus' special his-and-hers gift — a pair of 6-month-old buffalo calves, delivered anywhere in the United States.

—Designer dirt. A bag of dirt — the kind you put your plants in — for only $9. The elegant gimmick? The bag comes with initials — intertwined "Ds"— created to look like those on the expensive designer luggage, handbags, etc.

—Silk stockings. The real thing, complete with those now-unfamiliar touches such as seams that went out of style with panty hose. Imported from England, the stockings cost $25 and are available in silver or black only.

—A toy automobile that runs on its own live steam and travels a third of a mile in 15 minutes. Cost: $75.

—That old standard, the necktie. At a definitely unstandard price: $100. The tie, offered by a New York City store, is made of handwoven Italian silk, but is fairly traditional in design. The gimmick is the package — a velvet-lined leather box.

—Limited edition perfume. At $175 an ounce, it's in the running for the title of most expensive perfume around. The Jean Patou scent is advertised as being "so rare and available to so few, each flacon is registered."

—A briefcase with status. Louis Vuitton. Gucci. Mark Cross. Saks Fifth Avenue. They range in price from just under $200 to over $500.

—Costly card. A Manhattan department store offers a sterling silver Christmas card. The flat piece of silver is engraved with any address and message you want. Not for those with lengthy lists, the card is $300.

—Wrapping it all up. Neiman-Marcus offers whimsical wrappings for its packages at $2, $3 and $5. Items costing more than a certain amount — generally $100 — are gift wrapped free of charge.

Experts Say Don't Rap Santa

DETROIT (AP) — Reality-oriented parents who knock St. Nick are doing their children no favors, according to child psychiatrists.

Experts believe Santa Claus and other fantasies are an important part of childhood, and caution parents to be gentle about debunking them.

"It's best not to get worked up," advises Dr. John Fischhoff, chief of psychiatry at Detroit Children's Hospital. "Among pre-school age children, fantasizing in games or conversation is pretty essential."

Dr. Fischoff said a child can usually separate reality from make-believe by age 6 or 7.

"Usually by that age, you can't convince them that something like Santa Claus exists."

Philip Stahl, a psychologist with the child and adolescent center of Oakland County, agrees.

Tankers Replenishing Supply Of Water-Short U.P. Community

BESSEMER, Mich. (AP) — Suffering from the effects of a dry summer and dry fall, officials are using tanker trucks to replenish the city water supply in this Gogebic County community of 2,800.

The Michigan State University Extension Service reported the drought in the Gogebic County area is the worst in more than 100 years.

The tanker trucks are on loan from Bessemer Township and the city is replenishing its water supply from the township reservoir.

Other Upper Peninsula counties are experiencing water shortages, said the Western Upper Peninsula Health Department.

But the shortage is so acute in Bessemer that Mayor Bill Maccani went on local radio and asked residents to conserve water.

City officials have asked the Bessemer School District to voluntarily cut back on strenuous physical education activities so that students do not have to take showers.

If voluntary measures fail, city officials say they may consider more drastic action, such as shutting off water to industry in the area.

A warm spell might melt accumulated snow and ease dry conditions, but officials said they were not expecting sufficiently high temperatures until spring.

Residents in rural areas of Gogebic County have to haul water from springs because their wells have run dry.

The Gogebic County Board of Commissioners declared the county a disaster area Friday in an attempt to call attention of state officials to the plight of the water-starved area.

The use of spring water is becoming so widespread that the chief sanitarian for the Western Upper Peninsula Health Department has issued instructions on water purifying procedures.

The water shortage first showed up in rural areas several months ago when well levels began to drop. In some cases, rural fire departments have been enlisted to haul water for residents in outlying areas.

Commission To Aid Deaf

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Legislation creating a commission to help persons with hearing problems has won approval in the state Senate. The bill was returned to the Senate Thursday along with two others which would license hearing aid dealers and speech and language pathologists. The commission would advise the state Department of Licensing and Regulation in overseeing of hearing aid operations. The bills would regulate the sale or advertising of hearing aids, and regulate the practice of speech and language pathology and audiology.

'Designer Dirt,' Live Buffalo On Gift Choice List

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

You don't have to be a millionaire to splurge on something utterly extravagant this Christmas. Retailers are offering a range of impractical goodies at almost every price level.

Here is a sampling of items, from under $10 to over $500, for shoppers who want to feel like big spenders, but don't have $10,000 for a dollhouse from F.A.O. Schwartz or $11,750 for Neiman-Marcus' special his-and-hers gift — a pair of 6-month-old buffalo calves, delivered anywhere in the United States.

—Designer dirt. A bag of dirt — the kind you put your plants in — for only $9. The elegant gimmick? The bag comes with initials — intertwined "Ds"— created to look like those on the expensive designer luggage, handbags, etc.

—Silk stockings. The real thing, complete with those now-unfamiliar touches such as seams that went out of style with panty hose. Imported from England, the stockings cost $25 and are available in silver or black only.

—A toy automobile that runs on its own live steam and travels a third of a mile in 15 minutes. Cost: $75.

—That old standard, the necktie. At a definitely unstandard price: $100. The tie, offered by a New York City store, is made of handwoven Italian silk, but is fairly traditional in design. The gimmick is the package — a velvet-lined leather box.

—Limited edition perfume. At $175 an ounce, it's in the running for the title of most expensive perfume around. The Jean Patou scent is advertised as being "so rare and available to so few, each flacon is registered."

—A briefcase with status. Louis Vuitton. Gucci. Mark Cross. Saks Fifth Avenue. They range in price from just under $200 to over $500.

—Costly card. A Manhattan department store offers a sterling silver Christmas card. The flat piece of silver is engraved with any address and message you want. Not for those with lengthy lists, the card is $300.

Carter Expects To Name Cabinet Before Christmas

By JAMES GERSTENZANG
Associated Press Writer

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Carter is spending the weekend at home, but he plans to keep interviewing prospective Cabinet appointees by telephone.

Carter returned home Friday night after spending four days in Atlanta and Washington meeting with potential administration officials. He made it clear he planned a working weekend here.

"I'm going to work on selection of a Cabinet," the President-elect said, slinging his garment bag into the trunk of his car at the Albany, Ga., airport.

The President-elect interviewed prospective appointees during two days in Atlanta and Washington this week. He may return to Atlanta on Monday for more meetings.

Carter has said he expects to name his entire Cabinet before Christmas, two weeks from today. Only Secretary of State-designate Cyrus R. Vance has been named so far, and the next announcements are anticipated during the coming week.

Carter told a group of senators on Friday that he plans to name one person to head at least two energy agencies in what would be a first move to consolidate federal bureaus dealing with energy problems.

The Washington Post said in today's editions that James R. Schlesinger, fired by President Ford as defense secretary last year, is a top contender for the energy post.

But today's edition of the New York Times said Schlesinger is still in the running for secretary of defense.

Carter, according to aides, has done much of his talent searching by himself on the telephone. Press spokesman Rex Granum said the President-elect planned to spend today talking to people on his own list for Cabinet posts and with other people who know them.

Carter's visit to Washington ended Friday with a series of Pentagon briefings that touched on, among other things, "the responsibility I will have in the initiation of atomic use if it ever becomes necessary," he said.

His remarks on the Pentagon steps after the meetings were nearly drowned out by several demonstrators chanting, "disarm now."

After briefings in the National Military Command Center, known to outsiders as the "war room," Carter held to his campaign statement that $5 billion to $7 billion could be cut from the defense budget.

"I have no way to know what President Ford's budget requests will be, but I believe that through better organization and efficiencies that can be implemented that amount of savings is possible," Carter said.

While Carter's immediate problem is naming the Cabinet members and other top advisers who will help him run the government, he also is focusing on the economy, one of the first problems that will confront him when he becomes president on Jan. 20.

He met with most of the Democratic members of the House and Senate while staying at Blair House, the government guest quarters across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House.

He talked about the economy and promised that members of Congress would have access to him, participants in the meetings reported.

Summing up the congressional visits, Carter said his first priority in dealing with economic problems would be unemployment.

Addled Anchorman Film Draws Raves And Boos

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Television is not the truth! Television's a goddamned amusement park! Television is a circus, a carnival, a traveling troupe of acrobats, story tellers, sideshow freaks, lion-tamers and football players. We're in the boredom-killing business!"

The words, written by Paddy Chayefsky and delivered by Peter Finch, spring startlingly from the movie screen. At the Regent theater in Westwood, adjacent to the UCLA campus, the words were received with delight by the generation Chayefsky and Finch were referring to.

"Right now there is a whole and entire generation that never knew anything that didn't come outa this tube," rants Finch, portraying the demented TV news anchor man, Howard Beale.

"This tube is the gospel! The ultimate revelation! This tube can make or break presidents, popes, prime ministers. This tube is the most awesome god-damned force in the whole godless world! And woe is us if it ever falls into the hands of the wrong people!"

And so Howard Beale rages on the coast-to-coast hookup of the mythical United Broadcasting System in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new film, "Network." Not all viewers were as delighted as the television generation in Westwood Village.

Gene Shalit of NBC's "Today" hated "Network." So did Time magazine's reviewer. They dissented with such critics as Rona Barrett ("Best thing I've seen since 'Citizen Kane'") and Charles Champlin of the Los Angeles Times ("Chayefsky does not bite the hand that feeds him ... he rips it off at the shoulder").

The most interesting reactions came from TV's news Establishment, as reported by Newsday's Jerry Parker. David Brinkley declined comment. Walter Cronkite, whose daughter Kathy plays a Patty Hearst type in "Network," called it "kind of an amusing farce." Barbara Walters feared "people will think they're getting the inside story, and they're not; they'll never be that kind of show-biz approach to the news." Commented Edwin Newman: "Thoroughly incompetent."

Do the TV bigwigs protest too much? Certainly "Network" could be rejected if taken at face value. No network has ever retained an anchor man undergoing a nervous breakdown in public, as does Howard Beale (he promises to commit suicide on-camera after being fired for low ratings).

But Chayefsky is a satirist in the Swiftian manner, and he employs the blugeon as he did against the medical profession in "The Hospital."

"We know things are bad," Howard Beale raves into the camera. "Worse than bad, they're crazy! It's like everything is going crazy so we don't go out anymore. We sit in the house and slowly the world we're living in is getting smaller, and all we say is, 'Please leave us alone in our living rooms! Let me have my toaster and my TV, my steel-belted radials and I won't say anything ... "

Australian-born Peter Finch ("Sunday, Bloody Sunday") was a peculiar choice for the addled anchor person of an American TV network, yet his performance makes an Academy nomination seem obligatory. He, as well as William Holden, Faye Dunaway and Robert Duvall, shine under the direction of Sidney Lumet.

Finch became convinced of the success of "Network" after a report from his 14-year-old son: "He has never liked any of my work, always asking why I didn't play in 'Starsky and Hutch" or why I hadn't played George Kennedy's role. But he loved 'Network.'"

Scandal Threatens U.S.-Korean Ties

By BOY ESSOYAN
Associated Press Writer

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Relations between the United States and South Korea, soured by reports of Korean influence-buying on Capitol Hill, are bound to get worse, say some diplomats and observers here.

"This is going to drag on and on," one neutral diplomat said. "And it can only get worse and worse."

Recent public exchanges between Seoul and Washington have been acrimonious. They have also been baffling to those Koreans who have heard about them despite an official news blackout on the subject here — the story has filtered in from visitors and Japanese broadcasts.

"What's wrong with trying to improve your image abroad?" is a typical Korean reaction. "Everybody does it."

Some Koreans resent the big splash given the stories by the U.S. and Japanese media. Some concede the amounts of money reportedly involved were excessive, but others feel they were "peanuts" compared to the "hundreds of millions of dollars" allegedly spent by other countries on lobbying in Washington.

U.S. Justice Department investigations into the alleged influence-buying probably will stretch on for months. Reports indicate that as many up to 90 U.S. lawmakers may have received money from South Korean businessman Tongsun Park.

Over the past six years, Park reportedly spent up to $1 million a year on cash and other gifts and on campaign contributions to U.S. congressmen and other public officials.

The South Korean government has denied any part in the Washington lobbying, or any connection with Tongsun Park.

The scandal surfaced in October. The Korean government tried to ignore it at first, but President Park Chung-hee last Saturday fired the head of the South Korean Central Intelligence Agency (KCIA) in a move widely interpreted, even in Seoul, as an attempt to improve South Korea's image abroad. Local newspapers reported the shakeup, but did not explain why the image needed improving.

On Wednesday, the South Korean government accused the United States of forcibly detaining a top Korean diplomat. Kim Sang-keun, a reported KCIA agent who is said to be well-informed on the alleged influence-buying scheme.

The United States quickly denied the charge, saying Kim had asked to remain in the United States.

A few hours later, Seoul rejected the U.S. denial and attacked Washington on another front — the reported "bugging" of the residence of President Park by U.S. intelligence agencies.

Information Minister Kim Seong-jin threatened an official investigation, saying "appropriate measures" would be taken if the report was true. Such an action, he said, would "cast doubt on American morality" and hurt U.S.-South Korean relations.

The U.S. State Department told Seoul on Thursday that "their statements are not helpful."

American democratic processes are still a mystery to many Koreans and other Asians. Some Koreans even feel the entire influence-buying scandal is a plot between the American press and the U.S. government.

Relations between the two allies have not been steadily congenial since the Korean War a quarter-century ago, but the current crisis may be the worst.

One Korean even suggested the unlikely possibility that President Park, if pressed too hard, might even order U.S. forces out of Korea — a reversal of the traditional roles.

The scandal has contributed to fears of a backlash in the U.S. Congress that could lead to a decision to withdraw the troops. The Seoul government has been trying to convince the United States that such a withdrawal would invite another invasion from Communist North Korea.

President-elect Jimmy Carter has said he favors phasing out the 42,000 U.S. troops here, in consultation with South Korea and Japan. He has also said the human rights problem in South Korea would be a factor in future decisions on U.S. support.

Park has banned virtually all forms of political dissent. This decree and the arrests and occasional violence that have resulted have drawn increasing criticism from American liberals.

EX-OKLAHOMA TRAIN ROBBER

Fun House Mummy Identified

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elmer McCurdy swore he'd never be taken alive so he died with his boots on, shot to death by an Oklahoma sheriff's posse in 1911. He'd be mortified to know that he ended up mummified, as a fun house dummy.

The body tentatively identified as the train robber's was used as a carnival sideshow attraction and as security against a $300 loan. It gathered dust in a wax museum's warehouse and — painted to glow in the dark — hung from a gallows in an amusement park fun house.

The body was found in that undignified position Thursday, when a television crew was filming a segment of "The Six Million Dollar Man" in the fun house at Long Beach, Calif. One of the mummy's arms fell off, and when a technician tried to glue it back on, he discovered the arm bone of a human corpse.

The discovery sparked a search into the mummy's origin, and an autopsy was conducted. During the medical examination an old-style copper-jacketed bullet was extracted from the corpse's stomach.

Identification of the mummy as McCurdy was traced through sales and purchases by carnivals and exhibitors.

On Oct. 4, 1911, McCurdy and three of his outlaw gang held up a Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad train near Okesa, in Osage County, Okla. The robbers took $46 from a mail clerk and fled with "considerable merchandise," according to newspaper accounts of the time.

Bloodhounds and neighbors helped capture one of McCurdy's sidekicks, who led deputy sheriffs to McCurdy's hideout on the "old Charles Ravard place" near Big Caney River.

Western historian Glen Shirley, of Stillwater, Okla., said he found the following account of McCurdy's death in a clipping from the Pawhuska, Okla., Journal:

"Ravard went to McCurdy in his perch in a hayloft in Ravard's barn and gave him a message from the posse — come out or die.

"McCurdy refused, saying he would not be taken alive and opened fire on the posse that surrounded the barn.

"A 30-minute gunbattle raged, ending when Elmer was picked off by a bullet ..."

The sheriff apparently sold his outlaw prey to a carnival owner, who had the body mummified, according to Dave Friedman, president of Entertainment Ventures, Inc., in Los Angeles. Displaying mummified bodies was a common practice among carnivals in the 1920s and 1930s.

Then, carnival owner Louis Sonney, founder of Friedman's company, obtained McCurdy's body in 1921 as security on a $300 loan that was never repaid, Friedman said.

Sonney used the mummy in his traveling freak show until the World War II years, when such attractions lost their appeal. McCurdy's mummy was retired to a dusty warehouse, where it remained until 1968.

PLUCKY PUP: This plucky mite of a dog is named Wheels because of the two-wheeled cart she has been harnessed to since September, when it was discovered her spine was broken. Owner had wanted to have her put away. Veterinarian Dr. P.C. Baldwin of Coldwater, Mich., learned the dog was in no pain. He got the owners permission to rig up a wheeled cart to enable the dog to scoot around. Wheels, who is usually on the go at the veterinary clinic where she is resident pet, stops momentarily for a friendly greeting from receptionist Evelyn Parish. (AP Wirephoto)

Woes Continue For Inventor Of Rejected Engine

RICHMOND, Vt. (AP) — Inventor Edward LaForce always knows when the sheriff is at his door.

"If the dogs are barking, I know it isn't him," he says. "They only bark at strangers."

Sheriffs have been no strangers over the years to LaForce, best known as inventor of a high-gas-mileage engine rejected by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Their most recent visit was this week, when, armed with a warrant, they backed up a truck to his underwear - factory - turned - laboratory and left with a load of its contents to be sold for back taxes.

"Robbery," LaForce says. It's another chapter in what the 80-year-old Vermonter insists is a "conspiracy" that has plagued him in one form or another during his 40-year career.

LaForce's laboratory has been seized by the Internal Revenue Service, his experimental engine flunked by the EPA and his sale of stock attacked as fraudulent by the Securities and Exchange Commission. He also has been charged with failing to pay employes minimum wages.

After the EPA said last year that his engine traded horsepower for fuel efficiency and did not warrant further study and development, he convinced a U.S. Senate committee to investigate the EPA's rejection. The EPA study later was criticized by the committee's staff, but little more has happened to it.

LaForce claims his motor gets 30 per cent more mileage than conventional gasoline engines and does so without loss of horsepower.

There is no activity at the once-bustling laboratory, largest building on Main Street in the small, farming town. The approximately 30 people who once worked there have found other jobs, LaForce says.

Tired and bitter, the creator says he has found a way to fight back.

"Nobody can steal from you if you don't have a patent," he says, with a laugh. "I intend to make my technology available to the public in the form of a book. The book will be my next project.

"There's one thing they can't confiscate. They can't take my brain. And it's just like leather — the more they pound it, the tougher it gets."

Members, Prices Two Goals Of NFO

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The National Farmers Organization set its farm product price goals Friday and then outlined another goal for the next several months: uniting at least 30 per cent of the nation's producers of agricultural products.

The NFO, ending its three-day national convention here, said it hoped to achieve the product price goals through collective bargaining but might try to enforce them through withholding actions.

Oren Lee Staley, the union's national president, said the prices reflect costs of production plus a reasonable profit, and he said they are close to 100 per cent of parity.

"We have now established price goals," he said. "Our job for the next four or five months is to enroll members and their production nationwide to unite at least 30 per cent of the nation's production and then, if we don't get our price goals, hold our production on farms until we do."

The goals call for a bottling grade milk price of $12.75 per hundredweight, and $11.90 for manufacturing. The NFO said the price received for all milk sold to plants on Nov. 15 was $9.91.

Other goals, followed by the Nov. 15 price as reported by the NFO: wheat, $4.95 per bushel for hard red winter, $2.46; corn, $3.20 per bushel, $2.02; soybeans, $7.55 per bushel, $6.11.

Also: fat cattle, $65.25 per hundredweight, compared with $37.10 on Nov. 15 for all beef cattle; hogs, $53.50 per hundredweight, $31.10; and lambs, $59.05 per hundredweight, $41.60.

Rep. Fred Richmond, D-N.Y., a member of the House Agriculture Committee, spoke Friday as the estimated 10,000 farmers neared the end of their convention.

He said the most pressing problem facing mankind is the "inexorable growth in human numbers throughout the world."

The population of this country may reach 444 million by 2026 and the outlook is particularly frightening for the American farmer, he said.

"Just think, with only half that many people today, population growth in America is causing us to bulldoze and pave over two million acres of your farmland each year and strip mine over 100,000 acres of farmland for coal," he said.

Richmond said he planned to work for consumer representation on advisory committees of the U.S. Department of Agriculture to help unite the efforts of farmers and consumers.

"The best consumer policy this country can have is a positive, fair and progressive farm policy," he said.

John W. Schmitt, Wisconsin AFL-CIO president, said farmers and laborers lack purchasing power, adding that the next Congress should find ways to share the nation's wealth with those segments of society.

Student Exchange Plan Called Broke

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — An international student exchange program has run out of money and may leave more than 100 high school students from the United States and Central and South America without flight tickets home, according to a Mount Clemens newspaper.

The Macomb Daily reported today that the financial records of the International Cultural Exchange Corp. (ICX) of Ann Arbor have been subpoenaed by the state attorney general's office.

Other probes of the program are being conducted by the U.S. State Department and several congressional and legislative offices, the newspaper said.

Frederick Lutty, a $32,000-a-year director of the ICX, told the newspaper the program is in a disastrous financial state and that it would take about $50,000 to pay for return tickets for all the exchange students.

Lutty, 47, former director of Gov. William Milliken's volunteer programs office and once dean of admissions at Brandeis College, would not estimate to the Macomb Daily how many students are in other countries. He did say 21 Brazilian students scheduled to leave the U.S. next month will probably not have tickets back home.

Carol Harrington, 18, of Pontiac, is now in Bogota, Colombia, without a return ticket. Her tuition is paid on a month-to-month basis but payments may not be paid in the future, Lutty told the newspaper. Miss Harrington's parents paid ICX $1,895 so she could study in Colombia this year, the newspaper reported.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Ronald Styka of the state consumer protection division said ICX officials have disregarded several recent letters asking the corporation to register as a charitable trust. The ICX was chartered as a non-profit Michigan corporation in 1972.

"We also received a number of citizen complaints that ran the gamut from dissatisfaction with their service to more serious ones, like when we were informed the ICX phones were disconnected," Styka told the Macomb Daily.

Styka said the subpoena for the ICX's financial records must be answered by Wednesday. He said he wasn't sure what legal action could be taken against the corporation if the investigation indicates irregularities.

The nine-member ICX board of directors authorized Lutty this fall to seek a merger between ICX and any other exchange program that would assume control of it, according to the newspaper.

Lutty said a possible merger with the Experiment in International Living was blocked because U.S. State Department officials who must approval special visa status for exchange programs didn't want the two groups to merge.

"We are contemplating legal action against the state department," Lutty told the Macomb Daily. "They have given $400,000 a year to two other programs. But in the four years we've had the program, we haven't received a dime in public funds. Now we're in trouble and they refuse to help."

Municipal Battle Escalates

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Since being arrested for trying to pick the lock on his police chief's office door, Mayor Edward Hanna's feud with the police department has escalated.

Hanna suspended the chief and four officers, declared a state of emergency and asked Gov. Hugh Carey to send in National Guard troops.

Carey sent one state police representative to monitor conditions.

And the police chief told his men he was resisting the mayor's orders.

Hanna suspended Police Chief Benny Rotundo and four officers who arrested him and a locksmith on third-degree trespass charges. On Friday he suspended a fifth officer who prevented him from removing Rotundo's name from the office door.

Later Friday, in the face of threats of legal action by the Police Benevolent Association to remove him from his self-appointed post as public safety commissioner, Hanna appointed to the post Michael Fusco, the same man he had earlier named deputy fire chief in a dispute with the fire department.

Rotundo and the suspended officers showed up for work Friday, with Rotundo telling officers "not to pay any attention" to the mayor. He said he was resisting the mayor's orders because he believed Hanna had exceeded his authority and was trying to violate the confidentiality of police records.

Troopers Report 31,853 Arrests During October

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State Police troopers made 31,853 arrests in October. Of the total, 27,848 citations were issued for traffic offenses.

Verbal warnings were issued to 22,479 drivers.

State police also received 3,005 applications in October for permits to carry a concealed weapon. Police discovered through routine fingerprint checks that 253 of the applicants had criminal records.

Measles Cases Rise Sharply

ATLANTA (AP) — Measles cases are up significantly this year, and a federal official says next year may be worse — partly because the swine flu immunization program has drawn so much emphasis.

The number of measles cases has jumped 64 per cent this year, said Dr. Lyle Conrad, assistant director of the immunization division of the national Center for Disease Control.

EX-OKLAHOMA TRAIN ROBBER

Fun House Mummy Identified

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elmer McCurdy swore he'd never be taken alive so he died with his boots on, shot to death by an Oklahoma sheriff's posse in 1911. He'd be mortified to know that he ended up mummified, as a fun house dummy.

The body tentatively identified as the train robber's was used as a carnival sideshow attraction and as security against a $500 loan. It gathered dust in a wax museum's warehouse and — painted to glow in the dark — hung from a gallows in an amusement park fun house.

The body was found in that undignified position Thursday, when a television crew was filming a segment of "The Six Million Dollar Man" in the fun house at Long Beach, Calif. One of the mummy's arms fell off, and when a technician tried to glue it back on, he discovered the arm bone of a human corpse.

The discovery sparked a search into the mummy's origin, and an autopsy was conducted. During the medical examination an old-style copper-jacketed bullet was extracted from the corpse's stomach.

Identification of the mummy as McCurdy was traced through sales and purchases by carnivals and exhibitors.

On Oct. 4, 1911, McCurdy and three of his outlaw gang held up a Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad train near Okesa, in Osage County, Okla. The robbers took $46 from a mail clerk and fled with "considerable merchandise," according to newspaper accounts of the time.

Bloodhounds and neighbers helped capture one of McCurdy's sidekicks, who led deputy sheriffs to McCurdy's hideout on the "old Charles Ravard place" near Big Caney River.

Western historian Glen Shirley, of Stillwater, Okla., said he found the following account of McCurdy's death in a clipping from the Pawhuska, Okla., Journal:

"Ravard went to McCurdy in his perch in a hayloft in Ravard's barn and gave him a message from the posse — come out or die.

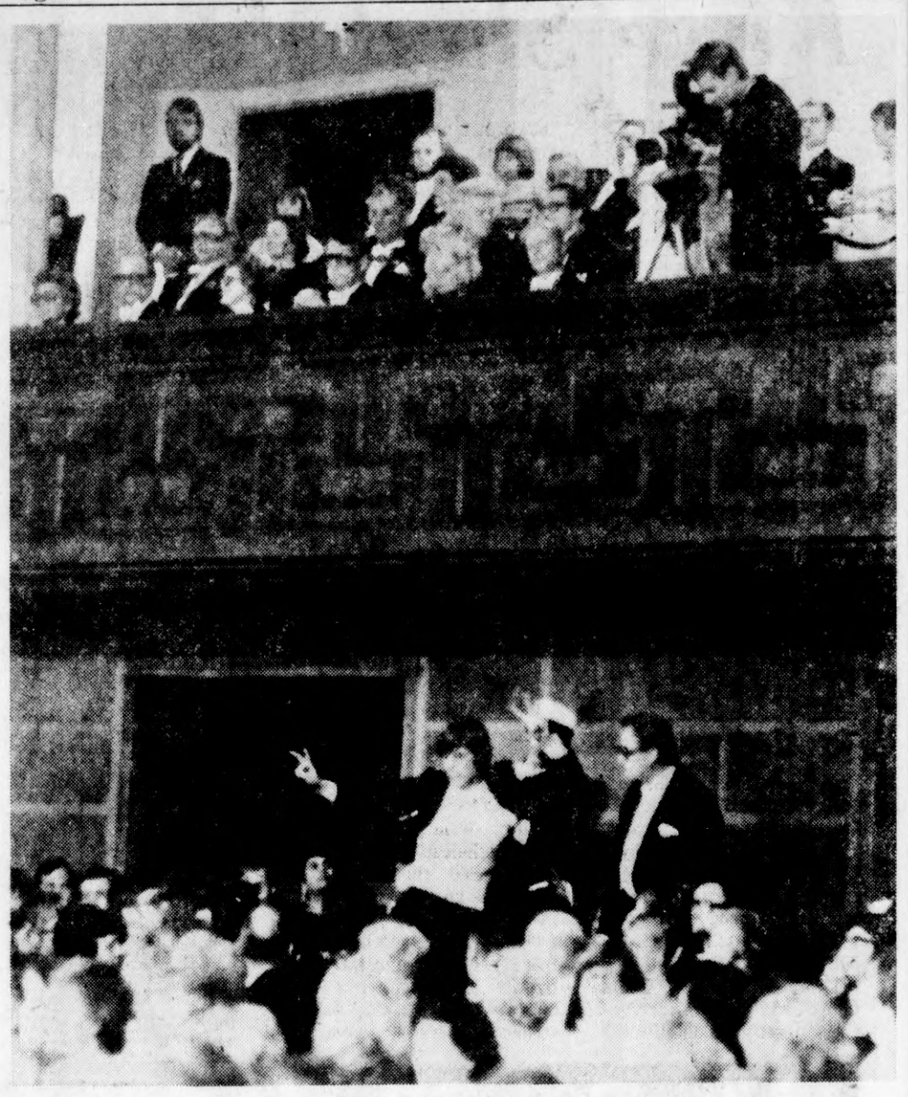

"McCurdy refused, saying he would not be taken alive and opened fire on the posse that surrounded the barn.

"A 30-minute gunbattle raged, ending when Elmer was picked off by a bullet ..."

The sheriff apparently sold his outlaw prey to a carnival owner, who had the body mummified, according to Dave Friedman, president of Entertainment Ventures, Inc., in Los Angeles. Displaying mummified bodies was a common practice among carnivals in the 1920s and 1930s.

Then, carnival owner Louis Sonney, founder of Friedman's company, obtained McCurdy's body in 1921 as security on a $500 loan that was never repaid, Friedman said.

Sonney used the mummy in his traveling freak show until the World War II years, when such attractions lost their appeal. McCurdy's mummy was retired to a dusty warehouse, where it remained until 1968.

PROTESTING NOBEL PRIZE: One demonstrator who shouted "Long live the people of Chile" is grabbed by security men in the Concert Hall at Stockholm, Sweden Friday. He stood and shouted his protest moments before America's Milton Friedman received Nobel Prize in Economics from Sweden's King Carl Gustaf. Some 2,000 leftists marched outside hall Friday, protesting Friedman's award, claiming he supports right-wing military government in Chile. He denies it. (AP Wirephoto)

PLUCKY PUP: This plucky mite of a dog is named Wheels because of the two-wheeled cart she has been harnessed to since September, when it was discovered her spine was broken. Owner had wanted to have her put away. Veterinarian Dr. P.C. Baldwin of Coldwater, Mich., learned the dog was in no pain. He got the owners permission to rig up a wheeled cart to enable the dog to scoot around. Wheels, who is usually on the go at the veterinary clinic where she is resident pet, stops momentarily for a friendly greeting from receptionist Evelyn Parish. (AP Wirephoto)

Student Exchange Plan Called Broke

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — An international student exchange program has run out of money and may leave more than 100 high school students from the United States and Central and South America without flight tickets home, according to a Mount Clemens newspaper.

The Macomb Daily reported today that the financial records of the International Cultural Exchange Corp. (ICX) of Ann Arbor have been subpoenaed by the state attorney general's office.

Other probes of the program are being conducted by the U.S. State Department and several congressional and legislative offices, the newspaper said.

Frederick Lutty, a $32,000-a-year director of the ICX, told the newspaper the program is in a disastrous financial state and that it would take about $50,000 to pay for return tickets for all the exchange students.

Lutty, 47, former director of Gov. William Milliken's volunteer programs office and once dean of admissions at Brandeis College, would not estimate to the Macomb Daily how many students are in other countries. He did say 21 Brazilian students scheduled to leave the U.S. next month will probably not have tickets back home.

Carol Harrington, 16, of Pontiac, is now in Bogota, Colombia, without a return ticket. Her tuition is paid on a month-to-month basis but payments may not be paid in the future, Lutty told the newspaper. Miss Harrington's parents paid ICX $1,895 so she could study in Colombia this year, the newspaper reported.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Ronald Styka of the state consumer protection division said ICX officials have disregarded several recent letters asking the corporation to register as a charitable trust. The ICX was chartered as a non-profit Michigan corporation in 1972.

"We also received a number of citizen complaints that ran the gamut from dissatisfaction with their service to more serious ones, like when we were informed the ICX phones were disconnected," Styka told the Macomb Daily.

Styka said the subpoena for the ICX's financial records must be answered by Wednesday. He said he wasn't sure what legal action could be taken against the corporation if the investigation indicates irregularities.

The nine-member ICX board of directors authorized Lutty this fall to seek a merger between ICX and any other exchange program that would assume control of it, according to the newspaper.

Lutty said a possible merger with the Experiment in International Living was blocked because U.S. State Department officials who must approval special visa status for exchange programs didn't want the two groups to merge.

"We are contemplating legal action against the state department," Lutty told the Macomb Daily. "They have given $400,000 a year to two other programs. But in the four years we've had the program, we haven't received a dime in public funds. Now we're in trouble and they refuse to help."

Municipal Battle Escalates

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Since being arrested for trying to pick the lock on his police chief's office door, Mayor Edward Hanna's feud with the police department has escalated.

Hanna suspended the chief and four officers, declared a state of emergency and asked Gov. Hugh Carey to send in National Guard troops.

Carey sent one state police representative to monitor conditions.

And the police chief told his men he was resisting the mayor's orders.

Hanna suspended Police Chief Benny Rotundo and four officers who arrested him and a locksmith on third-degree trespass charges. On Friday he suspended a fifth officer who prevented him from removing Rotundo's name from the office door.

Woes Continue For Inventor Of Rejected Engine

RICHMOND, Vt. (AP) — Inventor Edward LaForce always knows when the sheriff is at his door.

"If the dogs are barking, I know it isn't him," he says. "They only bark at strangers."

Sheriffs have been no strangers over the years to LaForce, best known as inventor of a high-gas-mileage engine rejected by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Their most recent visit was this week, when, armed with a warrant, they backed up a truck to his underwear - factory - turned - laboratory and left with a load of its contents to be sold for back taxes.

"Robbery," LaForce says. It's another chapter in what the 60-year-old Vermonter insists is a "conspiracy" that has plagued him in one form or another during his 40-year career.

LaForce's laboratory has been seized by the Internal Revenue Service, his experimental engine flunked by the EPA and his sale of stock attacked as fraudulent by the Securities and Exchange Commission. He also has been charged with failing to pay employes minimum wages.

After the EPA said last year that his engine traded horsepower for fuel efficiency and did not warrant further study and development, he convinced a U.S. Senate committee to investigate the EPA's rejection. The EPA study later was criticized by the committee's staff, but little more has happened to it.

LaForce claims his motor gets 30 per cent more mileage than conventional gasoline engines and does so without loss of horsepower.

There is no activity at the once-bustling laboratory, largest building on Main Street in the small, farming town. The approximately 30 people who once worked there have found other jobs, LaForce says.

Tired and bitter, the creator says he has found a way to fight back.

"Nobody can steal from you if you don't have a patent," he says, with a laugh. "I intend to make my technology available to the public in the form of a book. The book will be my next project.

"There's one thing they can't confiscate. They can't take my brain. And it's just like leather — the more they pound it, the tougher it gets."

Members, Prices Two Goals Of NFO

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The National Farmers Organization set its farm product price goals Friday and then outlined another goal for the next several months: uniting at least 30 per cent of the nation's producers of agricultural products.

The NFO, ending its three-day national convention here, said it hoped to achieve the product price goals through collective bargaining but might try to enforce them through withholding actions.

Oren Lee Staley, the union's national president, said the prices reflect costs of production plus a reasonable profit, and he said they are close to 100 per cent of parity.

"We have now established price goals," he said. "Our job for the next four or five months is to enroll members and their production nationwide to unite at least 30 per cent of the nation's production and then, if we don't get our price goals, hold our production on farms until we do."

The goals call for a bottling grade milk price of $12.75 per hundredweight, and $11.80 for manufacturing. The NFO said the price received for all milk sold to plants on Nov. 15 was $9.91.

Other goals, followed by the Nov. 15 price as reported by the NFO: wheat, $4.95 per bushel for hard red winter, $2.46; corn, $3.20 per bushel, $2.02; soybeans, $7.55 per bushel, $6.11.

Also: fat cattle, $65.25 per hundredweight, compared with $31.10 on Nov. 15 for all beef cattle; hogs, $53.50 per hundredweight, $31.10; and lambs, $59.05 per hundredweight, $41.60.

Rep. Fred Richmond, D-N.Y., a member of the House Agriculture Committee, spoke Friday as the estimated 10,000 farmers neared the end of their convention.

He said the most pressing problem facing mankind is the "inexorable growth in human numbers throughout the world."

The population of this country may reach 444 million by 2026 and the outlook is particularly frightening for the American farmer, he said.

"Just think, with only half that many people today, population growth in America is causing us to bulldoze and pave over two million acres of your farmland each year and strip mine over 100,000 acres of farmland for coal," he said.

Richmond said he planned to work for consumer representation on advisory committees of the U.S. Department of Agriculture to help unite the efforts of farmers and consumers.

"The best consumer policy this country can have is a positive, fair and progressive farm policy," he said.

John W. Schmitt, Wisconsin AFL-CIO president, said farmers and laborers lack purchasing power, adding that the next Congress should find ways to share the nation's wealth with those segments of society.

Kaye Sheds 'Twinkle' For Villain Role

By MALCOLM N. CARTER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Kaye insisted he was no child at heart at the age of 63. Not one bit.

"I left my childhood behind 100 years ago," he said. Then he jammed a thumb into his mouth and added with a pregnant pause:

"Arthur J. Malcolm once said that to be a child at heart is to be stupid." And just who is Arthur J. Malcolm?

Silence, and that inevitable twinkle in his eye.

Don't look for that twinkle on NBC Sunday night, however, when Kaye plays a mean old Captain Hook in "Peter Pan."

The "Hallmark Hall of Fame" had stored for a year this brand new version of the classic tale in which Mary Martin and Cyril Ritchard starred for a generation of reruns. The occasion of its broadcast is Hallmark's 25th anniversary on NBC.

Mia Farrow plays the title role, John Gielgud is the narrator and Julie Andrews sings "Once Upon a Bedtime" off camera in a production with 14 new songs by Anthony Newley and Leslie Bricusse.

On his way to Europe for yet another journey on behalf of the United Nations Children's Fund, Kaye allowed that he liked the old production just fine. It reminded him, he said, of crystal radios.

"It looked absolutely primitive," Kaye recalled. "It was TV in its infancy, and they shot it like a stage play."

Wearing a houndstooth sport jacket, dark trousers and white socks, Kaye was alternately outrageous and impish — as always.

No prude in private, he said he nonetheless demands only those roles that might be classed as good clean entertainment.

"This is a standard of mine that is not inflicted on me either by my profession or by my colleagues," he said, waxing serious for a rare moment. "It is a standard I set myself."

He insisted, however, that he would not impose his standards on anyone else. Nor should anyone, he said. His advice was that individuals who don't like dirty movies or violent TV programs should make a pocketbook protest and simply shouldn't watch them.

"If you want to protest, then don't go and they'll stop making them," he said before lapsing into mirth. "Peter Pan was one of the dirtiest people in the whole world."

This Benjamin Spock of children's entertainment was asked whether he has detected a change in their attitudes.

"Children's attitudes don't change toward things anymore than adults' attitudes change toward things," he scoffed. "Do you think human behavior is any different now than it was 100 years ago?" Replying himself, the one-time Hans Christian Andersen continued:

"People are doing the same things today that they did 50 years ago, only they don't mind as much."

Someone asked him how many Captain Hooks have preceded his.

"How many?" he bellowed, rattling paintings on the paneled walls of an elegant Manhattan restaurant. "There have been 114 Captain Hooks. There were 37 companies playing "Peter Pan" in northern England alone between January and September."

Then the irrepressible actor rolled his eyes heavenward with that discernible twinkle:

"How the hell do I know how many Captain Hooks there were?"

Besides "Peter Pan," which airs at 7:30 p.m. EST, other promising shows this weekend are (all times EST):

"Report to the Commissioner," a police drama starring Michael Moriarty, CBS at 9 p.m.

"Rudolph's Shiny New Year," an animated Christmas special featuring the voices of Red Skelton, Frank Gorshin and Morey Amsterdam, ABC at 8 p.m.

SATURDAY:

An attractive young reporter makes a play for Ted Baxter on the "Mary Tyler Moore Show," CBS at 8 p.m.

Dick Van Dyke stars in "Lt. Robin Crusoe, U.S.N.," who crashes in the Pacific and finds solace on an uncharted island, NBC at 8 p.m.

Live coverage of the Los Angeles Rams and the Detroit Lions playing from Detroit, ABC at 9 p.m.

SUNDAY:

Evening at Symphony, with Michael Tilson Thomas conducting works by Brahms and Schoenberg, PBS at 8 p.m.

DANNY IN NEVER-NEVER LAND: Would-be villain Capt. Hook, played by Danny Kaye, is frightened by Mia Farrow, as Peter Pan, in scene from "Peter Pan." It'll be aired on NBC Sunday. (AP Wirephoto)

No-Hard-And-Fast Rule On Home Affordability

From SOUTHWESTERN MICHIGAN BOARD OF REALTORS

Housing, whether you rent or buy, represents a large chunk of your monthly budget. Just how much of that budget can you afford to devote to buying a home?

For years a general rule of thumb has been that you could afford to buy a home costing about 2 to 2½ times your annual income before taxes. In other words, if your income is $12,000, you could afford to buy a home in the $30,000 range.

However, this formula cannot be strictly applied. Lower income families will have to devote a large proportion of their income to housing. Higher income families should devote a smaller portion. If you foresee large expenditures in the near future, such as college expenses for children, plan on spending less. If you plan to move to an area where taxes are rising, also plan to spend less. If income is irregular, also plan on spending less.

There are alternative methods to help you determie what you should spend on a home. Determine what you are spending now and adjust according to the rest of your budgeted expenses. Analyze your budget carefully to see if you can cut other expenses, such as entertainment.

When you have determined what you can spend and have found the home that meets your needs and doesn't exceed your budget, you can realize some savings by carefully shopping for a mortgage and obtaining terms most favorable to you.

How large should your downpayment be? Lending institutions will determine the minimum for you based on the home you want to buy. However, you will find that a large downpayment will reduce your interests costs in the long-run. You also can save money by shortening the length of your mortgage from the maximum permitted.

When you are shopping for terms, ask a lot of questions. Determine how long it will take to get the loan. Find out the exact terms. When are payments due? Can the loan be extended? What will the preliminary costs be? Will you be charged a penalty for prepayment? Can you make your own arrangements for insurance? How much is charged for late payments? What will closing costs cost you? How many points will you be charged?

Under the Real Estate Settlement Procedures act, within three days of your written loan application you are entitled to receive from the lender an information booklet on settlement costs and a good faith estimate of settlement charges.

The answers you receive to your questions will help you determine the best loan for you.

Remember, you can save a lot of money in the long run if you shop carefully now. If you need advice to help you get started, ask your Realtor. He has day-to-day experience helping people find mortgage money.

Hot Water Heater Labeled 'Guzzler'

NEW YORK (AP) — Spotting the energy guzzlers among home energy guzzlers among home applicances and shifting their use to "off-peak hours" will help reduce the size of future increases in electric bills.

Shifting to off-peak means using appliances in the evening when power consumption is lower and electric is produced at a utility's most efficient stations — usually fired by coal or nuclear energy, according to the General Public Utilities Corp.

A hot water heater in the home is by all odds the No. 1 energy guzzler. It uses almost four times as much electricity as the next most energy-hungry appliance, the electric oven and range.

The clothes dryer is No. 3 in the pecking order of electricity users, followed by the dishwasher and clothes washer.

POINT O' WOODS ADDING ON, TOO

Two Homes Win Nod In Benton

Construction of two single-family homes head the list of building permits issued recently in Benton township by Chester Shuck, chief of buildings and inspection.

A $42,000 permit was issued to Adolph Jeske to build a four-bedroom home for John Pickar, 2281 Cleveland avenue, St. Joseph township, at 1745 Roslin road.

Coloma Construction company was issued a $30,000 permit to construct a three-bedroom home for Larry Ohst of 2096 North Benton Center road at 2020 North Benton Center.

Those also issued permits include:

Point O' Woods country club, 1516 Roslin road, construct an addition to the pro shop, $26,700.

M.E. Burkett, 3135 Territorial road, construct a chain saw and trailer sales store at 2573 Territorial, $15,000.

Ron Fain, 1836 Kerlikowske road, construct a family room addition for himself at that address, $7,000.

Garlanger Construction company, Benton Harbor, make general repairs to a commercial building at 1035 Territorial road owned by Avion Coach Corp., $2,000. Joe Lindley, general repairs to a restaurant he owns at 1591 Territorial, $1,600. Trail Klean, Inc., Benton Harbor, repair fire damage to a house at 1553 Empire avenue owned by Albert Q. Thomas of 1841 Union avenue, $1,500.

Roger Garrison, a family room addition for himself at 1359 South Port street, $3,000. Peterson Building Sales, St. Joseph, to repair fire damage to the Better Building Products building in Millburg, $1,955.

Permits were also issued to make repairs to five homes under the township's Community Development home rehabilitation program. Permits were issued to Bobby R. Brown, to make repairs to a house at 1360 Broadway for Adeline Brown, $5,000; 1378 Agard for Roland Price, $5,599, and 1480 Hurd for Annie Kelly, $5,420. Also issued permits for Community Development repairs were Voyd Thomas, of Benton Harbor, at 1376 Monroe for Dorothy Wolf, $4,000, and Walter Thomas, Benton Harbor, at 1394 Jennings for Melba Johnson, $5,700.

Sales Office Tops Royalton Building

A $37,500 permit to construct a mobile home sales office led the list of Royalton township building permits issued in November by William Nace, township building inspector.

The permit was issued to C & H Mobile Home Service, US-31 South, Berrien Springs, to build a steel building to be used for office, display and storage.

Those also issued permits include:

Modern Construction company, to construct a 42 by 24 foot house with a 24 by 32 foot addition for a recreation room and garage for William Hasse, $25,000. Melita Graphis, Linco road, to reroof his house and install shutters, $1,200. Eric A. Summerud, to build a garage and storage building for Oscar Weidler in the Pond's subdivision, $5,000. Church of Christ, Niles road, to build a 10 by 12 foot lean-to to garage for storage, $300. F.C. Fiebich, Hollywood road, to build a garden shed for himself at that address, $100.

Watervliet Twp. Approves 11 Jobs

WATERVLIET — Eleven building permits issued in November in Watervliet township were for construction with an estimated value of $50,350, according to township officials.

The permit for the single biggest construction went to James Truhn, North Watervliet road, for a 28 by 40-foot home at an estimated cost of $28,000.

Other permits went to: Jack Gaul, Red Arrow highway, fence to enclose ice skating area, $2,700. Ken Sutter, 364 Shorelane, panel and change three windows of porch, $1,500.

Bruce Little, East Baldwin avenue, paneling, $1,000. Emory Yetzke, Indian Trail, remodel and add 12 by 24-foot addition, $7,000. Ernest Huckaba, route 1, box 979, move garage onto property, $800. Jim Mayes, route 2, County Line road, trailer for temporary help, $2,000. Peggy J. Miller, 253 Pokagon, 20 by 20-foot carport, $650. Don Bond, Lake avenue, demolition and build 18 by 18-foot addition, $3,500 on lot 185; and on lot 176, a 34 by 32-foot garage and storage building, $3,200.

Here's the Answer

Q. — I saw some beautiful paintings hung in a restaurant the other day. The man in the restaurant said they had been done by a customer of his. All he knew about the unusual effect was that it had been achieved with skim milk mixed with dry colors. He didn't know the exact procedure. I would like to try this myself, since I have had some success with charcoal drawings. Can you tell me how it is done?

A. — He told you about everything there is to know. Add dry color to the skim milk until it is fairly heavy — about the consistency of those nondrip paints. Then go ahead and paint. Allow to dry for four or five days and the finish will become very hard, after which it can be waxed if desired.

Q. — The cypress fence on the property of an old house we bought is in sound condition, but appears to be very dry. How can we perk up its appearance?

A. — Apply wood preservative to it. You can get the clear liquid or that with color in it, as you wish. The preservative will not only improve the fence's appearance, it will lengthen its life.

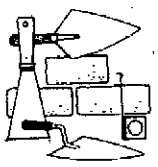

Q. — You recently suggested to someone that he should use a sand finish interior latex paint to cover a problem wall. I'd like to try the same thing, but wonder if it is difficult to apply.

A. — No. But don't forget the warning that was given to the questioner. If you ever decide at some time in the future that you want a smooth wall, you'll have one tough job leveling it.

Slain Officer's Funeral

ALPENA, Mich. (AP) — More than 250 police officers from across Michigan came here Friday to attend funeral services for policeman Gerald Carpenter, slain in a gun battle in a Pontiac hospital. Carpenter was gunned down while attempting to halt a breakout by a police prisoner at the hospital. A two-mile-long procession of 50 police cars followed Carpenter's family to the burial site in Holy Cross Cemetery in the slain officer's hometown. As the funeral services were being held, controversy raged over a suggestion by the Michigan State Troopers Association that the state should reintroduce the death penalty in some first degree murder cases. State Troopers announced their endorsement of the death penalty after Carpenter was slain. Opposing the State Police proposal were spokesmen for the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), the Michigan Council on Crime and Delinquency and the Michigan Committee against Capital Punishment.

Grievance Is Dropped

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maryland officials have dropped a grievance against Robert C. Ozer, the federal investigator who prosecuted former Michigan Supreme Court Justice, John B. Swainson, and who was named to a top Maryland post this week. Steven C. Bransdorfer, ex-president of the Michigan Bar, confirmed the report. Ozer, former head of the U.S. Justice Department Organized Crime Task Force in Detroit, was the target of a complaint filed by the former head of the Michigan Bar Association. If found guilty, Ozer could have been disbarred. He was named Tuesday by the Maryland attorney general's office as chief counsel for investigations in that state. Bransdorfer refused to comment on the handling of his complaint in Maryland. A spokesman for the Attorney Grievance Commission in Maryland said that under rules of the Maryland Supreme Court, he could not disclose what charges had been made against Ozer, what discussions had been held and how the final determination was reached.

Seafarer Called No Hazard

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A National Academy of Sciences report based on U.S. Navy studies says the controversial Project Seafarer presents no substantial health hazard to "plants, humans or other animals." However, the preliminary NAS report cautioned that some parts of the proposed underground cable system might produce an electrical field "comparable" to fields known to produce "electric shock and nerve stimulation." The Navy has delivered the report to Michigan's Environmental Review Board. Project Seafarer is a Navy-proposed plan calling for installation of hundreds of miles of underground cable in a huge grid pattern in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. The system would transmit extra-low frequency (ELF) waves to communicate with submarines underwater, the Navy says.

Commission's Stance Unclear

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Natural Resources Commission on Friday adopted a nuclear energy policy statement that neither endorses nor condemns increased use of atomic power plants. Adopted on a 3-1 vote, the policy called for "debate," but left unclear the commission's stance on using nuclear power plants to generate electricity in the state. The policy says the governor and the State Energy Administration should "initiate a vigorous informed debate to clarify for the public the risks association with increased reliance on nuclear energy in the state." Scientists disagree on whether nuclear power is safe.

Carter Wants PSC Man?

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State Public Service Commissioner William Ralls says Jimmy Carter's talent scouts have contacted him for a possible chairmanship of a federal regulatory agency. Ralls, the three-member PSC's lone Democrat, said Thursday that while Carter's aides spoke with him several times, they made no actual job offer and named no specific agency. He said he did not initiate the contact.He made the remarks during an interview on WKAR-TV. Ralls, 38, worked with a Detroit law firm before being named to the PSC in 1971. His term expires next July, but he says he does not know yet if he will seek reappointment. Ralls, who consistently dissents on utility rate hikes or recommends lower increases, says he has not ruled out the possibility of running for governor in 1978.

$25 Million Waste Charged

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Civil Service Commission wastes at least $25 million in taxpayers' money each year through "administrative inefficiency," alleges a newly-formed coalition of state employe unions. The commission simply is "not accountable" for the $7 million it spends each year to administer the employe merit system, Duane M. Lewis, spokesman for the Coalition of State Employes, said. "The balance of the wasted funds, stems from the failure of the Civil Service Commission to fill job openings which are funded by the federal government," Lewis said. He labeled civil service testing "a shambles," and contended hiring and promotions methods "are at a virtual standstill."

It's A 'Moral Responsibility'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — New buses bought by city bus systems must be accessible to wheelchair-bound people or the systems will lose their state funding, according to a bill approved in the Michigan House. Sponsored by Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, the bill was approved 99-5 and sent to the Senate. Supporters called passage of the bill a "moral responsibility" to allow persons confined to wheelchairs to have the same mobility as others. Ryan said he fears the bill may die in the Senate this year. But if it is approved, he predicted city bus systems would be totally accessible to wheelchair-bound people within 12 years.

Under Psychiatrist's Care

IONIA, Mich. (AP) — A man who thought he was in the army during wartime was arrested and placed under a psychiatrist's care Friday after he allegedly abducted an Ionia woman and her 17-year-old daughter. Police say 34-year-old Paul E. Monks abducted Kathy Martin, 24, and her daughter, Brenda, from the Martin home shortly after 2 a.m. Friday. Monks ordered the woman and her daughter into a car at gunpoint, Ionia police said. Monks drove to the State Police Post in Ionia where he was disarmed and arrested. The woman and her daughter were not harmed. Police say the man was under the illusion that he in the Army and at war and was driving to a military installation rather than a State Police post.

Liquor Fee Bill On Way

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state House has reversed itself and approved a bill — defeated earlier this week — to boost liquor license fees by 20 to 900 per cent. In a reconsideration of its earlier defeat of the bill, the House voted 69-32 Thursday in favor of the measure, which would levy the first fee hike in decades. Lawmakers said Thursday the Liquor Control Commission would be put out of business without the $9 million expected to be raised through the higher fees. Revenue from the increase would go to improve enforcement of liquor laws by the Liquor Control Commission and local governments. The bill already has passed the Senate, but needs Senate agreement in changes the House made in fee amounts. Increases proposed in the bill range from 20 per cent for some bars and hotels to 900 per cent for Michigan breweries and out-of-state breweries that distribute beer in the state.

South Haven Fire Hits Barber Shop

SOUTH HAVEN — Fire caused an estimated $2,000 damage to Jones Barber shop, 909 Indiana avenue, last night, according to South Haven firefighters.

Firemen said a furnace pipe apparently came loose and that the ceiling caught fire shortly after 5 p.m.

Employes of the Everett Piano Co. noticed smoke coming from the building and called firemen before the fire got out of control. The business had closed for the day a few minutes before, according to owner William Jones of Hartford.

The building is owned by Jesse Fleming of South Haven.

Midget Snowmobiler Mystery Is Solved

ALGONAC, Mich. (AP) — The hunt for a snowmobiling midget feared drowned under the ice of Lake St. Clair's Anchor Bay has ended.

After a week of searching, authorities believe the object reported earlier in the week as an abandoned snowmobile was nothing more than a large cardboard box, propelled across the ice by high winds.

"We are now convinced that reports of somebody driving a machine out on the ice, getting off, and falling through are without foundation," declared Clay Township Police Officer Marian Jacobs.

Coast Guard helicopter pilot Lt. Jerry Arens agreed.

— "We flew over the area for six hours. The only thing we spotted was that cardboard carton."

The Macomb County Sherriff's Department went so far as putting a diver in the water to explore one of the holes in the ice off Fair Haven.

"The water was only three feet deep," Deputy Joseph Allard said. "We decided the only one who could drown in it would be a midget."

Authorities said the exercise was not a total waste, since they are now better-prepared to cope with a real emergency.

Phone Book Ruling Due

is superior to the Consumers Council's because it would shorten what he calls the "lookup" time for both phone users and directory assistance operators who have only a wife's name.

Under Bell's plan, the extra charge would apply even if a husband and wife could fit their names together onto one line. But it would cover the cost of the option. Ratepayers who do not want the double listing would not be charged at all, even through rates.

Bell claims the charge is necessary because if many people opt for the plan, more directory pages would be needed.

Otstot said the PSC hopes other companies will seek permission for similar plans after Bell's example.

Car Kills Two

ALBION, Mich. (AP) — Two seven-year-old boys playing along a Calhoun County roadside were killed Friday night when they rolled in front of a car, state police said.

The victims, identified as Joseph Lawrence and Corey Miller of Albion, were dead at the scene. Officials said a third boy who was wrestling with them on the roadside was not injured.

Slain Officer's Funeral

ALPENA, Mich. (AP) — More than 250 police officers from across Michigan came here Friday to attend funeral services for policeman Gerald Carpenter, slain in a gun battle in a Pontiac hospital. Carpenter was gunned down while attempting to halt a breakout by a police prisoner at the hospital. A two-mile-long procession of 50 police cars followed Carpenter's family to the burial site in Holy Cross Cemetery in the slain officer's hometown. As the funeral services were being held, controversy raged over a suggestion by the Michigan State Troopers Association that the state should reintroduce the death penalty in some first degree murder cases. State Troopers announced their endorsement of the death penalty after Carpenter was slain. Opposing the State Police proposal were spokesmen for the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), the Michigan Council on Crime and Delinquency and the Michigan Committee against Capital Punishment.

Grievance Is Dropped

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maryland officials have dropped a grievance against Robert C. Ozer, the federal investigator who prosecuted former Michigan Supreme Court Justice, John B. Swainson, and who was named to a top Maryland post this week. Steven C. Bransdorfer, ex-president of the Michigan Bar, confirmed the report. Ozer, former head of the U.S. Justice Department Organized Crime Task Force in Detroit, was the target of a complaint filed by the former head of the Michigan Bar Association. If found guilty, Ozer could have been disbarred. He was named Tuesday by the Maryland attorney general's office as chief counsel for investigations in that state. Bransdorfer refused to comment on the handling of his complaint in Maryland. A spokesman for the Attorney Grievance Commission in Maryland said that under rules of the Maryland Supreme Court, he could not disclose what charges had been made against Ozer, what discussions had been held and how the final determination was reached.

Seafarer Called No Hazard

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A National Academy of Sciences report based on U.S. Navy studies says the controversial Project Seafarer presents no substantial health hazard to "plants, humans or other animals." However, the preliminary NAS report cautioned that some parts of the proposed underground cable system might produce an electrical field "comparable" to fields known to produce "electric shock and nerve stimulation." The Navy has delivered the report to Michigan's Environmental Review Board. Project Seafarer is a Navyproposed plan calling for installation of hundreds of miles of underground cable in a huge grid pattern in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. The system would transmit extra-low frequency (ELF) waves to communicate with submarines underwater, the Navy says.

Commission's Stance Unclear

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Natural Resources Commission on Friday adopted a nuclear energy policy statement that neither endorses nor condemns increased use of atomic power plants. Adopted on a 3-1 vote, the policy called for "debate," but left unclear the commission's stance on using nuclear power plants to generate electricity in the state. The policy says the governor and the State Energy Administration should "initiate a vigorous informed debate to clarify for the public the risks association with increased reliance on nuclear energy in the state." Scientists disagree on whether nuclear power is safe.

Carter Wants PSC Man?

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State Public Service Commissioner William Ralls says Jimmy Carter's talent scouts have contacted him for a possible chairmanship of a federal regulatory agency. Ralls, the three-member PSC's lone Democrat, said Thursday that while Carter's aides spoke with him several times, they made no actual job offer and named no specific agency. He said he did not initiate the contact.He made the remarks during an interview on WKAR-TV. Ralls, 38, worked with a Detroit law firm before being named to the PSC in 1971. His term expires next July, but he says he does not know yet if he will seek reappointment. Ralls, who consistently dissents on utility rate hikes or recommends lower increases, says he has not ruled out the possibility of running for governor in 1978.

$25 Million Waste Charged

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Civil Service Commission wastes at least $25 million in taxpayers' money each year through "administrative inefficiency," alleges a newly-formed coalition of state employe unions. The commission simply is "not accountable" for the $7 million it spends each year to administer the employe merit system, Duane M. Lewis, spokesman for the Coalition of State Employes, said. "The balance of the wasted funds, stems from the failure of the Civil Service Commission to fill job openings which are funded by the federal government," Lewis said. He labeled civil service testing "a shambles," and contended hiring and promotions methods "are at a virtual standstill."

It's A 'Moral Responsibility'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — New buses bought by city bus systems must be accessible to wheelchair-bound people or the systems will lose their state funding, according to a bill approved in the Michigan House. Sponsored by Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, the bill was approved 99-5 and sent to the Senate. Supporters called passage of the bill a "moral responsibility" to allow persons confined to wheelchairs to have the same mobility as others. Ryan said he fears the bill may die in the Senate this year. But if it is approved, he predicted city bus systems would be totally accessible to wheelchair-bound people within 12 years.

Under Psychiatrist's Care

IONIA, Mich. (AP) — A man who thought he was in the army during wartime was arrested and placed under a psychiatrists's care Friday after he allegedly abducted an Ionia woman and her 17-year-old daughter. Police say 34-year-old Paul E. Monks abducted Kathy Martin, 24, and her daughter, Brenda, from the Martin home shortly after 2 a.m. Friday. Monks ordered the woman and her daughter into a car at gunpoint, Ionia police said. Monks drove to the State Police Post in Ionia where he was disarmed and arrested. The woman and her daughter were not harmed. Police say the man was under the illusion that he in the Army and at war and was driving to a military installation rather than a State Police post.

Liquor Fee Bill On Way

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state House has reversed itself and approved a bill — defeated earlier this week — to boost liquor license fees by 20 to 900 per cent. In a reconsideration of its earlier defeat of the bill, the House voted 69-32 Thursday in favor of the measure, which would levy the first fee hike in decades. Lawmakers said Thursday the Liquor Control Commission would be put out of business without the $9 million expected to be raised through the higher fees. Revenue from the increase would go to improve enforcement of liquor laws by the Liquor Control Commission and local governments. The bill already has passed the Senate, but needs Senate agreement in changes the House made in fee amounts. Increases proposed in the bill range from 20 per cent for some bars and hotels to 900 per cent for Michigan breweries and out-of-state breweries that distribute beer in the state.

South Haven Fire Hits Barber Shop

SOUTH HAVEN — Fire caused an estimated $2,000 damage to Jones Barber shop, 909 Indiana avenue, last night, according to South Haven firefighters.

Firemen said a furnace pipe apparently came loose and that the ceiling caught fire shortly after 5 p.m.

Employes of the Everett Piano Co. noticed smoke coming from the building and called firemen before the fire got out of control. The business had closed for the day a few minutes before, according to owner William Jones of Hartford.

The building is owned by Jesse Fleming of South Haven.

Midget Snowmobiler Mystery Is Solved

ALGONAC, Mich. (AP) — The hunt for a snowmobiling midget feared drowned under the ice of Lake St. Clair's Anchor Bay has ended.

After a week of searching, authorities believe the object reported earlier in the week as an abandoned snowmobile was nothing more than a large cardboard box, propelled across the ice by high winds.

"We are now convinced that reports of somebody driving a machine out on the ice, getting off, and falling through are without foundation," declared Clay Township Police Officer Marian Jacobs.

Coast Guard helicopter pilot Lt. Jerry Arens agreed.

"We flew over the area for six hours. The only thing we spotted was that cardboard carton."

The Macomb County Sherriff's Department went so far as putting a diver in the water to explore one of the holes in the ice off Fair Haven.

"The water was only three feet deep," Deputy Joseph Allard said. "We decided the only one who could drown in it would be a midget."

Authorities said the exercise was not a total waste, since they are now better prepared to cope with a real emergency.

is superior to the Consumers Council's because it would shorten what he calls the "lookup" time for both phone users and directory assistance operators who have only a wife's name.

Under Bell's plan, the extra charge would apply even if a husband and wife could fit their names together onto one line. But it would cover the cost of the option. Ratepayers who do not want the double listing would not be charged at all, even through rates.

Bell claims the charge is necessary because if many people opt for the plan, more directory pages would be needed.

Otstot said the PSC hopes other companies will seek permission for similar plans after Bell's example.

Car Kills Two

ALBION, Mich. (AP) — Two seven-year-old boys playing along a Calhoun County roadside were killed Friday night when they rolled in front of a car, state police said.

The victims, identified as Joseph Lawrence and Corey Miller of Albion, were dead at the scene. Officials said a third boy who was wrestling with them on the roadside was not injured.

RV Seeking State Championship Tonight

Frankenmuth Edged In Semifinals

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

GRAND RAPIDS — A coveted state championship trophy.

That's what the mighty Mustangs of River Valley hope to bring back to Three Oaks tonight after battling Marine City for the Class B girls state basketball crown.

River Valley earned a ticket into the 8 p.m. finals at East Kentwood high school with a emotion-wrenched, pressure-packed 51-48 victory over previously unbeaten Frankenmuth Friday night at Grand Rapids Christian.

Marine City qualified for the title tilt with a 64-57 overtime win over Jenison in the second game of the semifinal doubleheader.

Julie Gnodtke, filling in for the injured Peggy DeMorrow at forward, was the hero for the perfect Mustangs (23-0) Friday night. The cool 5-11 junior sank both ends of an one-and-one free-throw situation with 13 seconds left in the game to give Valley a 49-46 lead.

Spunky 5-3 guard Ruth Simmons, a ball-hawk all night, then literally stole the show. Simmons picked off a Frankenmuth pass under the loser's basket to deny the Eagles any chance at a shot for the winning basket.

Simmons was fouled immediately with six seconds to go but missed the free throw. Debbie Lundin then iced the sweet victory as she took the rebound and dumped in a basket with four seconds showing on the clock.

"I tell you Julie was in a heck of position with those free throws," offered Mustang coach Fred Knutel. "She sure showed a lot of poise."

"I just tried not to think about it," voiced Gnodtke outside the Mustang dressing room. "Mary Lintner (teammate) and I practice free throws together in the gym during practice. So I just tried to think about beating my teammate in practice out there."

Lundin, a 5-9 senior, paced the Mustangs with 20 points, including four-of-four from the field in the third period. Simmons followed with 14 while Lynda Mitchell netted seven, Gnodtke six and Wendy Schwark four.

Ruth List hit 20 for Frankenmuth, which goes to the sidelines with a 26-1 mark. Rhonda Herzog contributed 14 points.

"Simmons was all over the floor again tonight...she's a real hustler," stated Knutel. "But all the kids who played did great jobs. I'm just sorry I couldn't use everyone. Lori Rennhack and Heidi Lovgren came off the bench and did what we wanted...work the ball into the middle well."

The game was a barn-burner all the way with 10 ties and seven points the biggest spread.

The Mustangs, who trailed by seven early in the second period, took advantage of 13 Eagle turnovers in the second quarter to gain a 24-22 edge at the half. Valley also led by two points (40-38) after three periods.

A basket by Linda Mossiner with 1:03 to go gave Frankenmuth its lone lead of the last period and set up the late Valley heroics.

River Valley hit 24 of 58 shots afield for 42 per cent and canned three of eight free throws, all in the last period. Frankenmuth meshed 22 of 58 shots for 38 per cent and four of six foul tosses.

The Mustangs held a 17-12 rebound margin and committed 21 floor errors to the Eagles' 25.

River Valley, which has only had a girls varsity team for four years, now will be trying to knock off its third undefeated team within a week when it takes on Marine City (22-0).

"I don't know much about the two teams but I know we're not going to do anything different than we've been doing all year," said Knutel before the Jenison-Marine City contest. "We're going to stick with the things that have been successful for us all year."

Mustangs fans again gave their team loyal support despite the boys team also playing Friday night.

Slate RV Caravan

THREE OAKS — River Valley fans will meet Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the high school to form a motor caravan to honor the girls basketball team. The caravan will tour the school district.

After the caravan fans and the team will meet for an assembly at the high school at 2:30 p.m.

The ceremonies will take place whether the Mustangs win or lose tonight in the Class B state championship game.

Sophomore Page Directs Tiger Victory

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

Benton Harbor may have finally found stability in sophomore Ronald Page Friday night.

Page tossed in 22 points to lead the Tigers to a 78-69 win over Grand Haven in an LMAC basketball game before more than 2,800 fans at the Colfax Gym.

The win was the first for Benton Harbor after two season-opening defeats. Grand Haven fell to 2-1. It was the league opener for both teams.

Page had come off the bench to score 19 points in a loss Tuesday to Muskegon Heights. And McKee decided to start the 5-10 guard after his play in that game. Page did not disappoint McKee.

"Ronald really gives us stability," McKee said. "We have a set group of plays for a man-to-man defense and a different set for a zone defense. He does the things that we practice.

"He controls the game and helps to make us more consistent. He's a very stable kid for a sophomore. He was as steady as anyone on the floor. He really tries to do the things we want to do. He stays in the game and continues to hustle. Ronald made some mistakes in the first half, but didn't make any in the end."

Page turned the ball over five times in the first 16 minutes, but had just one miscue in the second half. And speaking of consistency, Page scored 10 points in the first half and 12 in the second. He hit on seven of 12 from the floor and added eight of 12 from the charity stripe.

"Ronald has a nice outside shot, but he's not anxious to go one-on-one with anybody," McKee said. "He's more anxious to do the things we want to do. He gets most of his baskets just by running our offense. He's as relaxed as anyone on the floor and knows what he has to do."

Forward Mark Hospers paced the Buccaneers with 20, while Bob Constant and Phil Murphy came off the bench to add 12 and 10 points, respectively.

It was a 16-point spree at the end of the third quarter and beginning of the final period which turned the game around for the Tigers. Trailing 52-45 with 1:34 left in the third quarter, Benton Harbor scored the next 16 points to grab a 61-52 edge with just over six minutes to play. The Buccaneers never got closer than three after that.

And it was Page who scored seven points during that stretch, while also dishing out a pair of assists.

"It took us three quarters to think," McKee said. "We were much steadier in the second half. Even then we turned over some easy baskets.

"We took some good shots and did a lot of things right. But we turned the ball over too many times and gave too many fouls."

For the game Benton Harbor committed 33 turnovers, but 24 of those came in the first half which saw Grand Haven lead 43-38. The Tigers were whistled for 24 fouls. Grand Haven turned the ball over just 19 turnovers, nine coming in the first quarter. The Buccaneers picked up 25 fouls, if you include four technicals.

Three of the technicals came with 3:19 left in the first quarter and helped Benton Harbor to a seven-point play.

Hospers was whistled for a foul in a rebound battle with Donald Green. Grand Haven coach Al Schaffer argued the call so vehemently that he was hit with a pair of technicals. At the same time Phil Murphy entered the game, wearing a different number than that listed in the official scorebook for an automatic technical.

Green hit the first end of a one-and-one and missed the second. Page was then awarded five free throws, two for each technical on Schaffer and one for the other technical. He hit four of the five. And on the ensuing inbounds play Taylor scored a basket to give the Tigers the seven-point play and a 17-9 edge.

Grand Haven came back to grab a 24-21 first-quarter edge and led 40-29 midway through the second period before Benton Harbor rallied.

The Buccaneers hit on 26 of 61 from the floor for 43 per cent. The Tigers meshed 30 of 64 for 47 per cent.

Benton Harbor held a 46-40 rebounding margin with Taylor pulling down 14, McNutt 10 and James Potts nine.

The Tigers also won the junior varsity game 68-49 with Andrew Hurst and Tyrone Hampton scoring 18 points and James Dortch 15.

Johnson Gets Start

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers say newcomer Randy Johnson will start at quarterback in the team's National Football League finale at Atlanta Sunday, and Johnson says he wants to salvage some respect for his new team.

Johnson, a 10-year veteran acquired by the Packers shortly after an injury sidelined Lynn Dickey in the Chicago Bear game Nov. 14, said he hoped the Packers could show their potential in the final game against the Falcons.

Fast-Starting Panthers Topple Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE — Watervliet is off to its fastest basketball start in 22 years.

The unbeaten Panthers defeated Eau Claire 71-54 in Red Arrow action here Friday night to hike their record to 5-0....the best start for a Watervliet squad since the 1954-55 squad got underway with 10 consecutive victories.

Friday night's win wasn't as easy as the score might indicate. The score was tied at 39-39 early in the fourth quarter, before Watervliet reeled off 11 unanswered points in about a two-minute span.

"They were able to capitalize on our turnovers and inability to hit the basket and that was the game," declared Eau Claire coach Dave Gray.

Watervliet held quarter leads of 18-14, 35-27 and 46-45.

"They solved our all court press and pulled up on us with some nice shooting," added Watervliet coach Gene Bednarowski.

Watervliet got balanced scoring with Jim Weaver, Pat Curtis and Jon Hinkelman all scoring 14 points. Chuck Brock added 12 as the Panthers put their league record at 4-0.

Hinkelman came off the bench to score his 14 points, including 10 in the second quarter, and Bednarowski said that was a "big thing for us." "He was a one-man show in the second quarter," added Gray.

Eau Claire's Randy Grandberry took game scoring honors with 22 points and teammate Eric Newsome added 13 as the Beaver records fell to 1-2 in the Red Arrow and 2-2 overall.

Watervliet made 26 of 68 field goals (38 per cent) and 19 of 29 free throws (66 per cent). Eau Claire swished 22 of 67 from the floor (33 per cent) and 10 of 22 at the lines (45 per cent).

Other areas of the game were also about even, with Eau Claire having 40 rebounds and Watervliet 36. Newsome pulled off 20 for Eau Claire and Tom Hutchinson and Tim Hardy had 10 each fo Watervliet. Eau Claire had 19 turnovers and Watervliet 17.

Eau Claire did win the junior varsity preliminary 66-57 while getting 22 points from Jim Mix.

Weber Comes To Rescue Again In Bear Win

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDE
Sports Editor

"When the going gets tough, Pat Weber gets going.

The senior guard saved St. Joseph again Friday night, hitting the winning basket with two seconds left in a thrilling 70-68 Big Seven basketball victory over Kalamazoo Loy Norrix at the Bear gym.

Back on Nov. 30, Weber scored at the buzzer to give St. Joe a 56-54 victory over River Valley.

St. Joseph took a time out Friday night while trailing 68-67 with six seconds remaining after Norrix' Don Atkinson missed two free throws.

St. Joe set up a "fly play," and on the inbounds play Paul Knuth threw the ball the length of the court to Weber, who was fouled by Norrix' Greg Brown while having his shot blocked.

"He got me on the arm," Weber recalled afterward.

Weber went to the line and hit his first of two free throws with four seconds left. It was a real pressure shot, and Weber said he "felt it all."

The 5-10 senior missed the second free throw, but the ball bounced right back to him, and he tossed it through the hoop for the winning basket.

"I wasn't expecting it," said Weber on having the missed free throw bounce back in his hands. And he said the winning shot was "just unbelievable....just like against River Valley."

St. Joe coach George Gaunder didn't understand why Norrix didn't "seal off" in the free throw lane on the missed free throw...."obviously they had a mental lapse. Maybe they were shocked when Weber made that first one."

But Gaunder also noted that Weber is always alert at the line. "Of all the free throw shooters we've got, Weber moves in there the quickest."

While Weber made the winning shot when needed, he wasn't the only St. Joe hero.

Senior forward Dale Wright followed up his 35-point performance Tuesday with 26 points. Junior center Jeff Beal added 11 points and Weber and senior forward Ted Dongvillo added 11 apiece.

Mike Tinberg also came off the bench to lead St. Joe in rebounding with 12, and senior guard Herb Ross paced the team in assists with six.

"It was a team effort," declared Gaunder. "We helped each other on defense and on offense we were patient and got the good percentage shots.

"We definitely needed that one. I think we can be in most ball games if we continue to improve, and we are improving."

The victory snapped a two-game skid and left St. Joseph at 1-1 in the Big Seven and 3-2 overall.

Loy Norrix got 21 points from center Brown, 16 from guard Atkinson and guard John Sutton 10 while falling to 1-1 in the league and 2-2 on the season.

Norrix opened the game by making six of its first nine shots for its biggest lead of the first half at 12-6. St. Joe then scored 23 of the next 31 points, including six points by Weber, for its biggest lead of the half (29-20).

Norrix scored the final eight points of the first half for a 35-31 halftime advantage and it was a dog fight the rest of the way. There was never more than seven points between the squads the rest of the way.

St. Joe had a second straight good shooting night, hitting 30 of 63 field goals (48 per cent), including 11 of 19 by Wright, six of 13 by Beal, five for five by Dongvillo and four of eight by Weber. The Bears also made 10 of 21 free throws (48 per cent).

Norrix was 29 for 61 from the floor (48 per cent) and 10 of 17 at the lines (59 per cent).

Norrix had a slim 38 to 44 rebounding edge, but turnovers were costly for the Knights. They made 26 and St. Joe had 17.

Dongvillo and Ross started Friday in place of Steve Ziebart and Knuth. Gaunder said he was "looking for a change" after the two losses.

In Friday night's preliminary game, the St. Joe jayvees slipped to 1-4 in a 67-57 loss to Norrix. Jeff Curry and Jerry Jones netted 16 and 13, respectively, for St. Joe. Ricky Duvall had 23 and Billy Dunnigan 14 for Norrix.

RV Seeking State Championship Tonight

Frankenmuth Edged In Semifinals

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

GRAND RAPIDS — A coveted state championship trophy.

That's what the mighty Mustangs of River Valley hope to bring back to Three Oaks tonight after battling Marine City for the Class B girls state basketball crown.

River Valley earned a ticket into the 8 p.m. finals at East Kentwood high school with a emotion-wrenched, pressure-packed 51-48 victory over previously unbeaten Frankenmuth Friday night at Grand Rapids Christian.

Marine City qualified for the title tilt with a 64-57 overtime win over Jenison in the second game of the semifinal doubleheader.

Julie Gnodtke, filling in for the injured Peggy DeMorrow at forward, was the hero for the perfect Mustangs (23-0) Friday night. The cool 5-11 junior sank both ends of an one-and-one free-throw situation with 13 seconds left in the game to give Valley a 49-48 lead.

Spunky 5-3 guard Ruth Simmons, a ball-hawk all night, then literally stole the show. Simmons picked off a Frankenmuth pass under the loser's basket to deny the Eagles any chance at a shot for the winning basket.

Simmons was fouled immediately with six seconds to go but missed the free throw. Debbie Lundin then iced the sweet victory as she took the rebound and dumped in a basket with four seconds showing on the clock.

"I tell you Julie was in a heck of position with those free throws," offered Mustang coach Fred Knutel. "She sure showed a lot of poise."

"I just tried not to think about it," voiced Gnodtke outside the Mustang dressing room. "Mary Lintner (teammate) and I practice free throws together in the gym during practice. So I just tried to think about beating my teammate in practice out there."

Lundin, a 5-9 senior, paced the Mustangs with 20 points, including four-of-four from the field in the third period. Simmons followed with 14 while Lynda Mitchell netted seven, Gnodtke six and Wendy Schwark four.

Ruth List hit 20 for Frankenmuth, which goes to the sidelines with a 26-1 mark. Rhonda Herzog contributed 14 points.

"Simmons was all over the floor again tonight...she's a real hustler," stated Knutel. "But all the kids who played did great jobs. I'm just sorry I couldn't use everyone. Lori Rennhack and Heidi Lovgren came off the bench and did what we wanted...work the ball into the middle well."

The game was a barn-burner all the way with 10 ties and seven points the biggest spread.

The Mustangs, who trailed by seven early in the second period, took advantage of 13 Eagle turnovers in the second quarter to gain a 24-22 edge at the half. Valley also led by two points (40-38) after three periods.

A basket by Linda Mossiner with 1:03 to go gave Frankenmuth its lone lead of the last period and set up the late Valley heroics.

River Valley hit 24 of 58 shots afield for 42 per cent and canned three of eight free throws, all in the last period. Frankenmuth meshed 22 of 58 shots for 38 per cent and four of six foul tosses.

The Mustangs held a 17-12 rebound margin and committed 21 floor errors to the Eagles' 25.

River Valley, which has only had a girls varsity team for four years, now will be trying to knock off its third undefeated team within a week when it takes on Marine City (22-0).

"I don't know much about the two teams but I know we're not going to do anything different than we've been doing all year," said Knutel before the Jenison-Marine City contest. "We're going to stick with the things that have been successful for us all year."

Mustangs fans again gave their team loyal support despite the boys team also playing Friday night.

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

Benton Harbor may have finally found stability in sophomore Ronald Page Friday night.

Page tossed in 22 points to lead the Tigers to a 78-69 win over Grand Haven in an LMAC basketball game before more than 2,800 fans at the Colfax Gym.

The win was the first for Benton Harbor after two season-opening defeats. Grand Haven fell to 2-1. it was the league opener for both teams.

Page had come off the bench to score 19 points in a loss Tuesday to Muskegon Heights. And McKee decided to start the 5-10 guard after his play in that game. Page did not disappoint McKee.

"Ronald really gives us stability," McKee said. "We have a set group of plays for a man-to-man defense and a different set for a zone defense. He does the things that we practice.

"He controls the game and helps to make us more consistent. He's a very stable kid for a sophomore. He was as steady as anyone on the floor. He really tries to do the things we want to do. He stays in the game and continues to hustle. Ronald made some mistakes in the first half, but didn't make any in the end."

Page turned the ball over five times in the first 16 minutes, but had just one miscue in the second half. And speaking of consistency, Page scored 10 points in the first half and 12 in the second. He hit on seven of 12 from the floor and added eight of 12 from the charity stripe.

"Ronald has a nice outside shot, but he's not anxious to go one-on-one with anybody," McKee said. "He's more anxious to do the things we want to do. He gets most of his baskets just by running our offense. He's as relaxed as anyone on the floor and knows what he has to do."

Forward Mark Hospers paced the Buccaneers with 20, while Bob Constant and Phil Murphy came off the bench to add 12 and 10 points, respectively.

It was a 16-point spree at the end of the third quarter and beginning of the final period which turned the game around for the Tigers. Trailing 52-45 with 1:34 left in the third quarter, Benton Harbor scored the next 16 points to grab a 61-52 edge with just over six minutes to play. The Buccaneers never got closer than three after that.

And it was Page who scored seven points during that stretch, while also dishing out a pair of assists.

"It took us three quarters to think," McKee said. "We were much steadier in the second half. Even then we turned over some easy baskets.

"We took some good shots and did a lot of things right. But we turned the ball over too many times and gave too many fouls."

For the game Benton Harbor committed 33 turnovers, but 24 of those came in the first half which saw Grand Haven lead 43-38. The Tigers were whistled for 24 fouls. Grand Haven turned the ball over just 19 turnovers, nine coming in the first quarter. The Buccaneers picked up 25 fouls, if you include four technicals.

Three of the technicals came with 3:19 left in the first quarter and helped Benton Harbor to a seven-point play.

Hospers was whistled for a foul in a rebound battle with Donald Green. Grand Haven coach Al Schaffer argued the call so vehemently that he was hit with a pair of technicals. At the same time Phil Murphy entered the game, wearing a different number than that listed in the official scorebook for an automatic technical.

Green hit the first end of a one-and-one and missed the second. Page was then awarded five free throws, two for each technical on Schaffer and one for the other technical. He hit four of the five. And on the ensuing inbounds play Taylor scored a basket to give the Tigers the seven-point play and a 17-9 edge.

Grand Haven came back to grab a 24-21 first-quarter edge and led 40-29 midway through the second period before Benton Harbor rallied.

The Buccaneers hit on 26 of 61 from the floor for 43 per cent. The Tigers meshed 30 of 64 for 47 per cent.

Benton Harbor held a 46-40 rebounding margin with Taylor pulling down 14, McNutt 10 and James Potts nine.

The Tigers also won the junior varsity game 68-49 with Andrew Hurst and Tyrone Hampton scoring 18 points and James Dortch 15.

Weber Comes To Rescue Again In Bear Win

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDE
Sports Editor

When the going gets tough, Pat Weber gets going.

The senior guard saved St. Joseph again Friday night, hitting the winning basket with two seconds left in a thrilling 70-68 Big Seven basketball victory over Kalamazoo Loy Norrix at the Bear gym.

Back on Nov. 30, Weber scored at the buzzer to give St. Joe a 56-54 victory over River Valley.

St. Joseph took a time out Friday night while trailing 68-67 with six seconds remaining after Norrix' Don Atkinson missed two free throws.

St. Joe set up a "fly play," and on the inbounds play Paul Knuth threw the ball the length of the court to Weber, who was fouled by Norrix' Greg Brown while having his shot blocked.

"He got me on the arm," Weber recalled afterward.

Weber went to the line and hit his first of two free throws with four seconds left. It was a real pressure shot, and Weber said he "felt it all."

The 5-10 senior missed the second free throw, but the ball bounced right back to him, and he tossed it through the hoop for the winning basket.

"I wasn't expecting it," said Weber on having the missed free throw bounce back in hands. And he said the winning shot was "just unbelievable....just like against River Valley."

St. Joe coach George Gaunder didn't understand why Norrix didn't "seal off" in the free throw lane on the missed free throw...."obviously they had a mental lapse. Maybe they were shocked when Weber made that first one."

But Gaunder also noted that Weber is always alert at the line. "Of all the free throw shooters we've got, Weber moves in there the quickest"

While Weber made the winning shot when needed, he wasn't the only St. Joe hero.

Senior forward Dale Wright followed up his 35-point performance Tuesday with 26 points. Junior center Jeff Beal added 14 points and Weber and senior forward Ted Dongvillo added 11 apiece.

Mike Tinberg also came off the bench to lead St. Joe in rebounding with 12, and senior guard Herb Ross paced the team in assists with six.

"It was a team effort," declared Gaunder. "We helped each other on defense and on offense we were patient and got the good percentage shots.

"We definitely needed that one. I think we can be in most ball games if we continue to improve, and we are improving."

The victory snapped a two-game skid and left St. Joseph at 1-1 in the Big Seven and 3-2 overall.

Loy Norrix got 21 points from center Brown, 16 from guard Atkinson and guard John Sutton 10 while falling to 1-1 in the league and 2-2 on the season.

Norrix opened the game by making six of its first nine shots for its biggest lead of the first half at 12-6. St. Joe then scored 23 of the next 31 points, including six points by Weber, for its biggest lead of the half (29-20).

Norrix scored the final eight points of the first half for a 35-33 halftime advantage and it was a dog fight the rest of the way. There was never more than seven points between the squads the rest of the way.

St. Joe had a second straight good shooting night, hitting 30 of 63 field goals (48 per cent), including 11 of 19 by Wright, six of 13 by Beal, five for five by Dongvillo and four of eight by Weber. The Bears also made 10 of 21 free throws (48 per cent).

Norrix was 29 for 61 from the floor (48 per cent) and 10 of 17 at the lines (59 per cent).

Norrix had a slim 38 to 34 rebounding edge, but turnovers were costly for the Knights. They made 28 and St. Joe had 17.

Dongvillo and Ross started Friday in place of Steve Ziebart and Knuth. Gaunder said he was "looking for a change" after the two losses.

In Friday night's preliminary game, the St. Joe jayvees slipped to 1-4 in a 67-57 loss to Norrix. Jeff Curry and Jerry Jones netted 16 and 13, respectively, for St. Joe. Ricky Duvall had 23 and Billy Dunnigan 14 for Norrix.

Top Dowagiac For First Victory

Everyone Gets In On Lancer Win

Every Lancer got into the act Friday night as Lakeshore picked up its first win of the season by dunking Dowagiac 85-47 at the Lancer gym.

Lakeshore put all 13 team members into the scoring column as it scored its most points in 31 games and gave up its least amount of points in three years (68 games).

"It was just an excellent team effort," explained Lakeshore coach Lloyd MacTavish. "We knew the depth was there...and it came through for us tonight. The starters scored 44 of the 85 points."

The Lancers, who travel to South Haven tonight, placed three players in double figures with Scott Lee sinking 15, Paul Freer 12 and Larry Toth 10.

"Lee had his first start of the year and came through admirably," noted MacTavish. "He played well on offense and did a good job of holding Mullen (Jeff), one of their top scorers, to no points.

"And Freer came off the bench and did a nice job. All the people who came in there did the job tonight."

Dowagiac, now 0-2 in the Blossomland and 1-3 overall, got 20 points from Ken Mulder and 11 from Brian Reist.

The Lancers built quarter leads of 17-8, 36-20 and 60-35 in taking their first win in three decisions.

Lakeshore, 1-1 in the league, hit 36 of 80 shots for a solid 45 per cent. The Lancers, who committed 31 fouls, made 13 of 20 free throws while Dowagiac could only dump in 15 of 37 (41 per cent).

Mark Forrest led the Lancers with 11 rebounds while Tom Jager had eight and Lee seven.

"We'll be taking a look at one of the premier Class B basketball teams in southwestern Michigan Saturday night," voiced MacTavish. "We anticipate some pressure zone defenses, somewhat like we saw tonight."

The unbeaten Lakeshore jayvees (3-0) won 51-40 over the Chiefs. Dave Goodwin paced the effort with 19 points.

Buchanan Posts First Triumph

COLOMA — Can this be the start of something big?

Defending state Class C champion Buchanan won its first game under new head coach Jon Bohannon here Friday night, dropping Coloma 90-55 in a Blossomland conference boys basketball game.

Last season when the Bucks won the state crown, they went 28-0. This year has been quite a bit different as Buchanan is now 1-1 in the league and 1-2 overall.

The Comets now have lost 15 straight games, including three straight this season.

Coloma's head coach Sam Wright summed up best what the Bucks do well. "They are good shooters and rebounders and have good quickness."

Mo Kyles and Gerald Busby led the winners with 19 points. Greg Frazier added 17, Kevin Vanderbush 16 and Joe Kyles 10 as all five starters hit double digits.

Rich Scherer and Don Arent led the Comets with nine points and Joe Jones added eight.

Buchanan swished 38 of 73 field goal attempts (52.1 per cent) while the Comets hit on 18 of 62 tries (29.0 per cent).

The Bucks also held a 57-25 rebounding edge with Busby grabbing 19, Frazier 17 and Mo Kyles 13. Bruce Dings had nine for Coloma.

It was the first quarter which really did Coloma in as it could manage just one field goal and were outscored 28-5. "We tried to zone them to keep their big kids off the boards," Wright said. "But they shot well from the outside.

"Our kids were intimidated in the first quarter, too."

The Bucks then raced out to leads of 51-23 at the half and 71-37 after three quarters.

Wright was pleased with several of his players' performances. "I was pleased with Mike Schmidt's play. He boards well and went three-for-four from the field.

"Keith Penoyar did a good job bringing the ball up against the press and Dings looked good even though he only practiced two days because of cartilage damage to his knee."

Cassopolis Creams Edwardsburg

EDWARDSBURG — Cassopolis reeled off 12 unanswered points at the end of the second quarter and went on to crunch Edwardsburg 79-52 in Blossomland basketball action here Friday night.

Cass star Kevin Loder was on the bench with three fouls when the Rangers exploded for a commanding 37-24 halftime advantage.

Loder finished with 14 points to share Cass scoring honors with Glen Hawkins. Marshall Sinclair added 13 points as the Rangers hiked their records to 2-0 in the conference and 3-0 overall.

"We tried to shut off Loder, but everybody else went wild," declared Edwardsburg coach Dick Bubler.

Edwardsburg's Jim Case took game scoring honors with 18 points as the Eddies slipped to 1-1 in the league and 3-2 on the season.

Cass ended up hitting an excellent 33 of 68 field goals (49 per cent) while posting its fifth straight win over Edwardsburg. The Rangers were 13 of 21 at the free throw lines.

Edwardsburg swished 21 of 64 from the floor (33 per cent) and 10 of 17 at the lines (59 per cent).

Edwardsburg charts had the Eddies with a 33 to 27 rebounding edge.

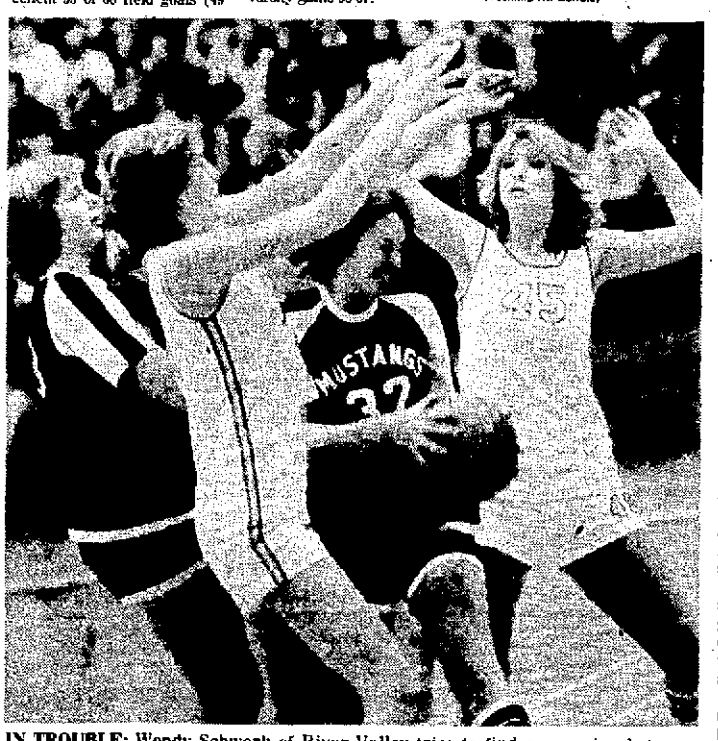

Cassopolis also won the junior varsity game 58-57.

Free Throws Key Bobcats

NILES — Niles Brandywine remained unbeaten by edging River Valley 51-50 here Friday night in a key Blossomland conference cage battle.

Free throw shooting was the difference for the Bobcats, now 4-0 on the season and 2-0 in the Blossomland.

Brandywine connected on 11 of 17 foul tosses while Valley, which had two more field goals than the winners, made only six of 13.

The Bobcats led by nine points at the start of the fourth quarter but the Mustangs came roaring back and scored eight straight points in only 43 seconds and then took the lead.

But a bucket by Scott Rose with 4:24 to go gave the hosts the lead for good at 47-48. Free throws by Terry Pruitt and Ed Pilarski in the final 23 seconds turned out to be the difference.

Pilarski sparked the 'Cats with 22 points while Tony Harris meshed 12 and Jim Rzepka 10.

Dave Reith scored 11 for the Mustangs, while Gary Schaffer and Steve both netted 10. The Mustangs' Werner Monk got in foul trouble and ended with only four points.

Brandywine hit 20 of 37 shots for 54 per cent. River Valley 22 of 48 for 46 per cent.

The Bobcats held 33-18 rebound margin with Harris getting 12 caroms. Brandywine made 21 turnovers, Valley 11.

River Valley falls to 1-1 in the Blossomland and 2-2 overall.

Valley won the jayvee game in triple overtime.

LMC Gains Revenge In 108-83 Victory

Lake Michigan College gained some sweet revenge Friday night.

The Indians placed five players in double figures in blasting St. Clair College 108-83 at the LMC Gym. St. Clair had beaten LMC 89-87 in the Port Huron Tournament earlier this year, but the Indians were ready this time around.

"The kids just made up their minds that they were not going to get beat again," LMC coach Lou Harvey said. "They felt they owed them a beating and went out and put it to them."

That they did. LMC raced out to a 60-34 halftime lead and was never headed.

Dwayne Wright led the Indians with 22 points. Virgil Savage added 20, Greg Cole and Robert Walker had 18 apiece and Freddie Walker had 10.

"The biggest thing was we worked on defense all week," Harvey said. "Last time they killed us with a press but this time we were ready for it."

LMC has now won four of its last five games for a 5-5 season mark.

Free Throws Key Bobcats

NILES — Niles Brandywine remained unbeaten by edging River Valley 51-50 here Friday night in a key Blossomland conference cage battle.

Free throw shooting was the difference for the Bobcats, now 4-0 on the season and 2-0 in the Blossomland.

Brandywine connected on 11 of 17 foul tosses while Valley, which had two more field goals than the winners, made only six of 13.

The Bobcats led by nine points at the start of the fourth quarter but the Mustangs came roaring back and scored eight straight points in only 43 seconds and then took the lead.

But a bucket by Scott Rose with 4:24 to go gave the hosts the lead for good at 47-46. Free throws by Terry Pruitt and Ed Pilarski in the final 23 seconds turned out to be the difference.

Pilarski sparked the 'Cats with 22 points while Tony Harris meshed 12 and Jim Rzepka 10.

Dave Reith scored 11 for the Mustangs, while Gary Schaffer and Steve both netted 10. The Mustangs' Werner Maak got into foul trouble and ended with only four points.

Brandywine hit 20 of 37 shots for 54 per cent, River Valley 22 of 48 for 48 per cent.

The Bobcats held 33-18 rebound margin with Harris getting 12 caroms. Brandywine made 21 turnovers, Valley 11.

River Valley falls to 1-1 in the Blossomland and 2-2 overall.

Valley won the jayvee game in triple overtime.

Powerful Bulldogs Chew Saugatuck In A-O Opener

COVERT — Defending Allegan-Ottawa Conference champion Covert opened league play with a 92-47 romp over Saugatuck here Friday night.

Robert Maggard scored 20 points, Jerry Starks 19, James DeBoe 16 and Steve Hawkins 10 as the unbeaten Bulldogs won their sixth straight game of the season.

Saugatuck got 12 points from Jeff Miser while slipping to 0-1 in the league and 1-2 on the season.

Covert held a slim 18-17 lead after the first quarter but got going in the second period for a commanding 44-25 halftime advantage. The Bulldogs led 69-33 after three periods.

"We didn't play very well in the first quarter... we missed a lot of easy shots," declared Covert coach Rod DeYoung.

The shots then started falling and the Bulldogs ended up hitting 41 of 88 for the night (47 per cent) They also connected on 12 of 26 free throws (46 per cent).

Saugatuck went 19 for 59 from the floor (32 per cent) and nine of 17 at the lines (53 per cent).

Covert managed its tremendous shot advantage by posting a 63 to 45 rebounding edge, including 12 by DeBoe.

Covert also won the junior varsity preliminary 91-49. The little Bulldogs, now 5-1, got 35 points from Terry Crump.

LMC Gains Revenge In 108-83 Victory

Lake Michigan College gained some sweet revenge Friday night.

The Indians placed five players in double figures in blasting St. Clair College 108-83 at the LMC Gym. St. Clair had beaten LMC 89-87 in the Port Huron Tournament earlier this year, but the Indians were ready this time around.

"The kids just made up their minds that they were not going to get beat again," LMC coach Lou Harvey said. "They felt they owed them a beating and went out and put it to them."

That they did. LMC raced out to a 60-34 halftime lead and was never headed.

Dwayne Wright led the Indians with 22 points. Virgil Savage added 20, Greg Cole and Robert Walker had 18 apiece and Freddie Walker had 10.

"The biggest thing was we worked on defense all week," Harvey said. "Last time they killed us with a press but this time we were ready for it."

LMC has now won four of its last five games for a 5-5 season mark.

Mutz Bees' Latest Hero

Scores 23 In Victory Over Lakers

BY PAUL MORGAN
Staff Sports Writer

Bridgman has been using a different hero in their first four games...and it has paid off with a 4-0 record.

Howie Mutz poured in 23 points and had 10 rebounds as the Bees topped Lake Michigan Catholic 71-60 in a Red Arrow boys basketball game at the Laker gym Friday night.

Bridgman stays even at 3-0 with Watervliet at the top of the conference while the Lakers fall to 0-3 in the league and 0-5 overall, its worst start ever.

"It seems like someone new comes along every week," grinned Bees' head coach Doug Hendricks.

Against Berrien Springs, Bob Linke hit 32 points. Center Wolf then notched 21 against Hartford. Balance like that along the front line tends to drive opposing coaches crazy.

"If Linke can get 18 or so and someone else get hot, we can do it," added Hendricks.

Linke got his 18, as usual, and guard Tom Meredith scored an important 14 points.

"The thing that hurt us last year was our guards moving the ball upcourt and scoring," Hendricks explained. "Now, that phase of the game has pleased me immensely."

Guard Tim Gentry came through with a fine performance for the Lakers, scoring 19 points and grabbing six rebounds. "With Gentry getting in double figures now, it's nice having someone outcourt who can score," commented Lakers' coach Al Nixon.

Wilson Price came off the bench to add 10 points as Catholic's other double digit scorer. "Wilson has settled down in practice and is doing the job," Nixon said. "He will help us in the future."

The smaller Lakers started the game off using their four-corner offense, only going for the layup. Bridgman stayed back in its zone defense for about two minutes, then the Bees went to a foreign object for them — a man-to-man defense.

"Our game plan was to use the four-corner until they went to the man-to-man, then work the ball inside," Nixon explained. "We felt the man-to-man wasn't their primary defense. Bridgman, however, did a nice job in it."

Hendricks chuckled when he thinks about how much man-to-man defense his team has played. "Collectively, we have played more of that this season than all of my previous years at Bridgman," he grinned. "In four games now, three teams have also tried to hold the ball on us, to some degree."

The Bees went out to a big lead near the end of the first quarter when they outscored the Lakers 12-2 to take a 19-9 lead at the end of the stanza. Mutz had 10 points in the quarter.

Catholic closed to within three points at 21-18, but the Bees scored 18 to their opponents four and led at the intermission 39-22. Bridgman increased that to 61-43 after three quarters.

Hendricks was disappointed in the number of second shots his squad gave up, and that showed up in the rebounding count as the Lakers and Bees each grabbed 49 caroms.

Bridgman made 29 of 68 floor shots (42.6 per cent) while Catholic canned 25 of 69 shots (36.2 per cent).

In individual rebounding, Linke and Wolf each had nine for the Bees while Mike Masini hauled in 11 for the Lakers.

Catholic committed 17 turnovers to 16 for the Bees.

Even though his team has lost their first five, Nixon is happy with the way his team is still fighting. "We still haven't given up on the season," he said.

Sizzling Shamrocks Zap New Buffalo

NEW BUFFALO — Berrien Springs posted its ninth straight victory over New Buffalo here Friday night, beating the Bisons 80-60 in Red Arrow basketball action.

Jack Lewis scored 21 points, Tim Sunday 15, Terry Hosbein 14 and Mike Shembarger 13 as the Shamrocks put their records this season at 2-1 in the league and 2-3 overall.

New Buffalo slipped to 1-2 in the Red Arrow and 1-4 on the season while getting a game-high 22 points from Mark D'Amato and 12 tallies from John Miller.

Berrien Springs, which yielded less than 70 points for the first time in nine games over two seasons, held leads of 21-18 after the first quarter, 41-32 at halftime and 65-48 after three periods.

"We had a couple of terrible times that just killed us," declared New Buffalo coach Tom Miller.

Berrien Springs opened the game with an 11-0 lead. New Buffalo then battled back to trail by only 32-30 with 1:18 to go in the first half. But the Shamrocks then scored nine of the next 11 points.

Berrien Springs shooters were deadly while hitting 22 of 64 field goals (52 per cent) and 14 of 21 free throws (67 per cent). New Buffalo netted 26 of 71 from the floor (37 per cent) and eight of 19 at the lines (42 per cent).

With Lewis leading the way, Berrien Springs posted a 35 to 29 rebounding edge. Jim Wold had 11 for New Buffalo.

Berrien Springs also won the junior varsity preliminary 66-65 while getting 22 points from George Hager. James Smith netted 20 for New Buffalo.

Wolf Paces Titan Win

Michigan Lutheran Tops Covenant Christian

Randy Wolf tossed in 18 points as Michigan Lutheran clipped Covenant Christian 57-48 Friday night at the Titan gym.

Wolf hit a hot nine of 15 from the floor as the Titans evened their record at 2-2 for the season.

"The key was taking advantage of our scouting report for a change," noted Lutheran Coach John Eggert. "We tried a press in the first quarter and got a good lead. After that we ran a real disciplined attack and it was just enough to hang on to the lead.

"We ran things to Wolf and it paid off. He hit nine of 15, mostly from outside."

Robert Guse and Mark Briney both added 13 to the Lutheran cause. Tim Coole had 14 for the losers.

Lutheran canned 22 of 72 shots for 30 per cent and Covenant Christian 15 of 48 for 31 per cent. Titans made 13 of 24 free throws, the losers 18 of 29.

Lutheran held a slight 40-38 rebound edge with Bruce Morris pulling down 12 for the hosts. Lutheran committed 18 floor errors, Covenant 30 with 11 coming in the opening period.

Uzelac Top MAC Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Elliot Uzelac and his star Western Michigan running back, Jerome Persell, and Toledo linebacker-middle guard Aaron Bivins are the winners of the Mid-American Conference's major football awards.

Uzelac, who led the Broncos from a 1-10 disaster his rookie season to 7-4 this fall, was acclaimed the MAC Coach of the Year in balloting by the Mid-American News Media Association.

Uzelac outpointed Dave McClain of champion Ball State 25-12.

Persell, a 5-foot-8, 180-pound sophomore from Detroit, was instrumental in the Western Michigan comeback, gaining a conference and school record 1,505 yards rushing. His 18 touchdowns tied an MAC record and set another school mark.

Persell collected 24 votes to 17 for runnerup Art Yaroch, Ball State's quarterback, for the Offensive Player of Year award.

Bivins, a 6-1, 212-pound junior, led the league in tackles per game with 188 stops, an average of 16.9 per game.

Lowe Nets 26 In Indian 67-48 Win Over Gaels

GALIEN — Ken Lowe pumped in a career-high 26 points as Hartford surprised Galien 67-48 here Friday night in a Red Arrow game.

The Indian victory broke a string of 10 straight defeats at the hands of the Gaels. It was also Hartford's first win of the season in four games.

Hartford, 1-2 in the league, held only a 32-31 edge at intermission but then caught fire and outscored the Gaels 35-17 in the last half.

"We just couldn't get a basket in the last half," offered Gael coach Mike Heckathorn. "We turned the ball over and Hartford capitalized on our turnovers. Things just didn't go right for us. We only had 10 shots in the third period.

"We had a lot of mistakes but Hartford played with a lot of desire. They really wanted to win this game."

The Gaels, 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the Red Arrow, made 35 floor mistakes, 21 in the last half.

Lowe, hitting over the Gael zone, kept the Indians in the game in the first half when he had eight baskets.

Bob Everhart did a fine job off the bench and ended with 11 points for the winners. Dave Gailhouse made 12.

Brad Marshall paced the Gaels with 14 points. Matt Koziel meshed 13 and Dale Seyfred 11.

Hartford's top scorer on the season, Duane Toney, got into foul trouble and didn't score a point. Toney had made double figures in 11 straight games.

Hartford canned 29 of 64 shots for 45 per cent and nine of 17 foul shots. Galien was 17 of 48 for 37 per cent and 14 of 27 at the foul lines.

Galien held a 40-30 advantage under the backboards. Hartford ended with 18 turnovers.

Shrine Grid Squads Filled

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — All-American guards T.J. Humphreys of Arkansas State and Ted Albrecht of California were among the final 16 players named Wednesday to play in the North-South Shrine football all-star game Dec. 17 at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Humphreys will play for the South unit and Albrecht for the North.

Two of Albrecht's teammates have also joined the North squad, running back Tom Newton and defensive tackle Jeff Barnes. Also added were offensive tackle Gary Andersun of Stanford, running back Art Best of Kent State, defensive tackle David Lindstrom of Boston University, plus defensive back Tony Hawkins and tight end Al Dixon of Iowa State.

Joining the South team are wide receiver Mike Adams and defensive lineman Dennis Brockner of Miami of Florida, defensive back Reggie Pinkney of East Carolina, defensive back Mike Nelms and tight end David Steven of Baylor, plus defensive tackle Eary Jones and running back Terdell Middleton of Memphis State.

Marcellus Clips Cardinals

MARCELLUS — Defense could be the name of the game this season at Marcellus.

The Wildcats used mainly a tight man-to-man with a little zone sprinkled in to top SAC foe Bloomingdale 66-49 here Friday night in the league opener for both boys basketball clubs.

"We are playing a lot better defense," commented Marcellus' head coach Joe Wood. "This is the second straight game we have held the opposition to under 50 points.

"Last year we gave up an average of 59 points per game. Now we have that lowered to 41."

Lonnie Lewis of Marcellus led all scorers with 20 points and 11 rebounds. Steve Bradley added 13 points for the only other Wildcat in double digits.

Bill Rowlison scored 16 for the Cardinals, now 0-2 this season.

The Wildcats, now 2-0 overall, held quarter leads of 12-11, 36-25 and 46-37.

Marcellus also won the junior varsity game 63-62.

Mutz Bees' Latest Hero

Scores 23 In Victory Over Lakers

BY PAUL MORGAN
Staff Sports Writer

Bridgman has been using a different hero in their first four games...and it has paid off with a 4-0 record.

Howie Mutz poured in 23 points and had 10 rebounds as the Bees topped Lake Michigan Catholic 71-60 in a Red Arrow boys basketball game at the Laker gym Friday night.

Bridgman stays even at 3-0 with Watervliet at the top of the conference while the Lakers fall to 0-3 in the league and 0-5 overall, its worst start ever.

"It seems like someone new comes along every week," grinned Bees' head coach Doug Hendricks.

Against Berrien Springs, Bob Linke hit 32 points. Center Wolf Wolf then notched 21 against Hartford. Balance like that along the front line tends to drive opposing coaches crazy.

"If Linke can get 18 or so and someone else get hot, we can do it," added Hendricks.

Linke got his 18, as usual, and guard Tom Meredith scored an important 14 points.

"The thing that hurt us last year was our guards moving the ball upcourt and scoring," Hendricks explained. "Now, that phase of the game has pleased me immensely."

Guard Tim Gentry came through with a fine performance for the Lakers, scoring 19 points and grabbing six rebounds. "With Gentry getting in double figures now, it's nice having someone outcourt who can score," commented Lakers' coach Al Nixon.

Wilson Price came off the bench to add 10 points as Catholic's other double digit scorer. "Wilson has settled down in practice and is doing the job," Nixon said. "He will help us in the future."

The smaller Lakers started the game off using their four-corner offense, only going for the layup. Bridgman stayed back in its zone defense for about two minutes, then the Bees went to a foreign object for them — a man-to-man defense.

"Our game plan was to use the four-corner until they went to the man-to-man, then work the ball inside," Nixon explained. "We felt the man-to-man wasn't their primary defense. Bridgman, however, did a nice job in it."

Hendricks chuckled when he thinks about how much man-to-man defense his team has played. "Collectively, we have played more of that this season than all of my previous years at Bridgman," he grinned. "In four games now, three teams have also tried to hold the ball on us, to some degree."

The Bees went out to a big lead near the end of the first quarter when they outscored the Lakers 12-2 to take a 19-9 lead at the end of the stanza. Mutz had 10 points in the quarter.

Catholic closed to within three points at 21-18, but the Bees scored 18 to their opponents four and led at the intermission 39-22. Bridgman increased that to 61-43 after three quarters.

Hendricks was disappointed in the number of second shots his squad gave up, and that showed up in the rebounding count as the Lakers and Bees each grabbed 49 caroms.

Bridgman made 29 of 68 floor shots (42.6 per cent) while Catholic canned 25 of 69 shots (36.2 per cent).

In individual rebounding, Linke and Wolf each had nine for the Bees while Mike Masini hauled in 11 for the Lakers.

Catholic committed 17 turnovers to 16 for the Bees.

Even though his team has lost their first five, Nixon is happy with the way his team is still fighting. "We still haven't given up on the season," he said.

Sizzling Shamrocks Zap New Buffalo

NEW BUFFALO — Berrien Springs posted its ninth straight victory over New Buffalo here Friday night, beating the Bisons 80-60 in Red Arrow basketball action.

Jack Lewis scored 21 points, Tim Sunday 15, Terry Hosbein 14 and Mike Shembarger 13 as the Shamrocks put their records this season at 2-1 in the league and 2-3 overall.

New Buffalo slipped to 1-2 in the Red Arrow and 1-4 on the season while getting a game-high 22 points from Mark D'Amato and 12 tallies from John Miller.

Berrien Springs, which yielded less than 70 points for the first time in nine games over two seasons, held leads of 21-18 after the first quarter, 41-32 at halftime and 65-48 after three periods.

"We had a couple of terrible times that just killed us," declared New Buffalo coach Tom Miller.

Berrien Springs opened the game with an 11-0 lead. New Buffalo then battled back to trail by only 32-30 with 1:18 to go in the first half. But the Shamrocks then scored nine of the next 11 points.

Berrien Springs shooters were deadly while hitting 22 of 64 field goals (52 per cent) and 14 of 21 free throws (67 per cent). New Buffalo netted 26 of 71 from the floor (37 per cent) and eight of 19 at the lines (42 per cent).

With Lewis leading the way, Berrien Springs posted a 35 to 29 rebounding edge. Jim Wold had 11 for New Buffalo.

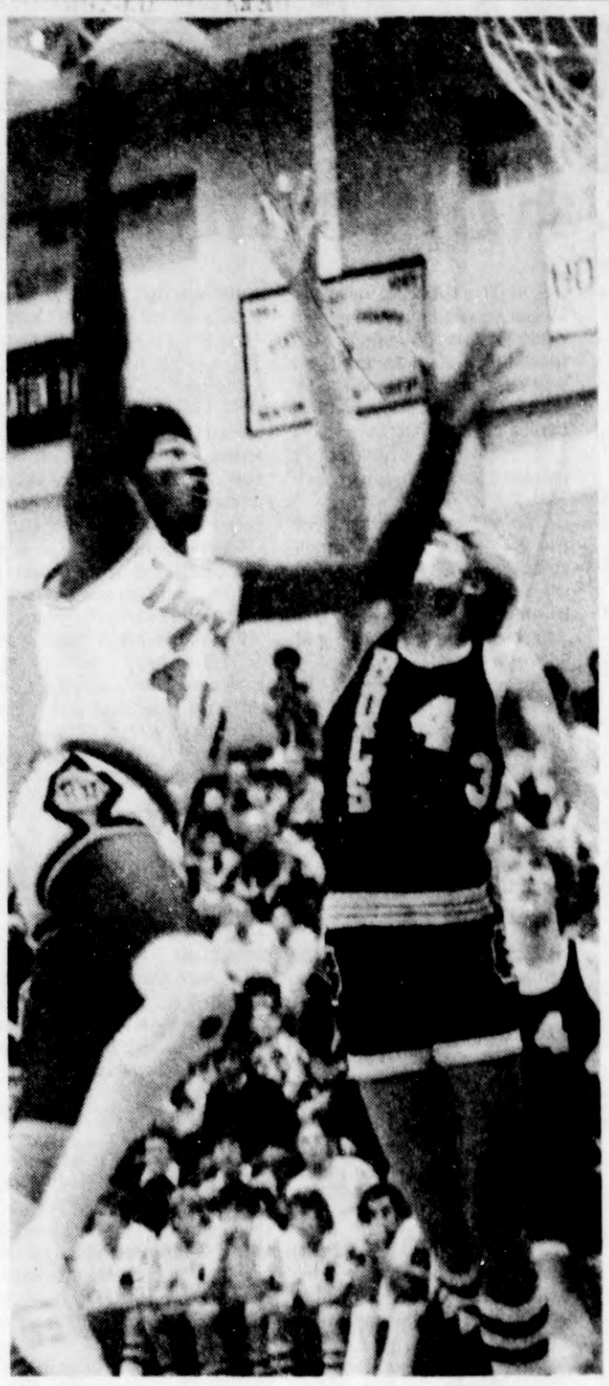

Berrien Springs also won the junior varsity preliminary 66-65 while getting 22 points from George Hager. James Smith netted 20 for New Buffalo.

Wolf Paces Titan Win

Michigan Lutheran Tops Covenant Christian

Randy Wolf tossed in 18 points as Michigan Lutheran clipped Covenant Christian 57-48 Friday night at the Titan gym.

Wolf hit a hot nine of 13 from the floor as the Titans evened their record at 2-2 for the season.

"The key was taking advantage of our scouting report for a change," noted Lutheran Coach John Eggert. "We tried a press in the first quarter and got a good lead. After that we ran a real disciplined attack and it was just enough to hang on to the lead.

"We ran things to Wolf and it paid off. He hit nine of 13, mostly from outside."

Robert Guse and Mark Briney both added 13 to the Lutheran cause. Tim Coole had 14 for the losers.

Lutheran canned 22 of 72 shots for 30 per cent and Covenant Christian 15 of 48 for 31 per cent. Titans made 13 of 24 free throws, the losers 18 of 29.

Lutheran held a slight 40-38 rebound edge with Bruce Morris pulling down 12 for the hosts. Lutheran committed 18 floor errors, Covenant 30 with 11 coming in the opening period.

Uzelac Top MAC Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Elliot Uzelac and his star Western Michigan running back, Jerome Persell, and Toledo linebacker-middle guard Aaron Bivins are the winners of the Mid-American Conference's major football awards.

Uzelac, who led the Broncos from a 1-10 disaster his rookie season to 7-4 this fall, was acclaimed the MAC Coach of the Year in balloting by the Mid-American News Media Association.

Uzelac outpointed Dave McClain of champion Ball State 25-12.

Persell, a 5-foot-9, 180-pound sophomore from Detroit, was instrumental in the Western Michigan comeback, gaining a conference and school record 1,505 yards rushing. His 19 touchdowns tied an MAC record and set another school mark.

Persell collected 24 votes to 17 for runnerup Art Yaroch, Ball State's quarterback, for the Offensive Player of Year award.

Lowe Nets 26 In Indian 67-48 Win Over Gaels

GALIEN — Ken Lowe pumped in a career-high 26 points as Hartford surprised Galien 67-48 here Friday night in a Red Arrow game.

The Indian victory broke a string of 10 straight defeats at the hands of the Gaels. It was also Hartford's first win of the season in four games.

Hartford, 1-2 in the league, held only a 32-31 edge at intermission but then caught fire and outscored the Gaels 35-17 in the last half.

"We just couldn't get a basket in the last half," offered Gael coach Mike Heckathorn. "We turned the ball over and Hartford capitalized on our turnovers. Things just didn't go right for us. We only had 10 shots in the third period.

"We had a lot of mistakes but Hartford played with a lot of desire. They really wanted to win this game."

The Gaels, 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the Red Arrow, made 35 floor mistakes, 21 in the last half.

Lowe, hitting over the Gael zone, kept the Indians in the game in the first half when he had eight baskets.

Bob Everhart did a fine job off the bench and ended with 11 points for the winners. Dave Gailhouse made 12.

Brad Marshall paced the Gaels with 14 points. Matt Koziel meshed 13 and Dale Seyfred 11.

Hartford's top scorer on the season, Duane Toney, got into foul trouble and didn't score a point. Toney had made double figures in 11 straight games.

Hartford canned 29 of 64 shots for 45 per cent and nine of 17 foul shots. Galien was 17 of 48 for 37 per cent and 14 of 27 at the foul lines.

Galien held a 40-30 advantage under the backboards. Hartford ended with 18 turnovers.

Shrine Grid Squads Filled

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — All-American guards T.J. Humphreys of Arkansas State and Ted Albrecht of California were among the final 16 players named Wednesday to play in the North-South Shrine football all-star game Dec. 17 at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Humphreys will play for the South unit and Albrecht for the North.

Two of Albrecht's teammates have also joined the North squad, running back Tom Newton and defensive tackle Jeff Barnes. Also added were offensive tackle Gary Anderson of Stanford, running back Art Best of Kent State, defensive tackle David Lindstrom of Boston University, plus defensive back Tony Hawkins and tight end Al Dixon of Iowa State.

Joining the South team are wide receiver Mike Adams and defensive lineman Dennis Breckner of Miami of Florida, defensive back Reggie Pinkney of East Carolina, defensive back Mike Nelms and tight end David Steven of Baylor, plus defensive tackle Eary Jones and running back Terdell Middleton of Memphis State.

Marcellus Clips Cardinals

MARCELLUS — Defense could be the name of the game this season at Marcellus.

The Wildcats used mainly a tight man-to-man with a little zone sprinkled in to top SAC foe Bloomingdale 66-49 here Friday night in the league opener for both boys basketball clubs.

"We are playing a lot better defense," commented Marcellus' head coach Joe Wood. "This is the second straight game we have held the opposition to under 50 points.

"Last year we gave up an average of 59 points per game. Now we have that lowered to 41."

Lonnis Lewis of Marcellus led all scorers with 20 points and 11 rebounds. Steve Bradley added 13 points for the only other Wildcat in double digits.

Bill Rowlison scored 16 for the Cardinals, now 0-2 this season.

The Wildcats, now 2-0 overall, held quarter leads of 12-11, 36-25 and 46-37.

Marcellus also won the junior varsity game 63-62.

Fourteen 'Hawks Score In Romp

FENNVILLE — Fourteen of the 15 players on the Fennville roster scored as the Blackhawks pasted Martin 82-57 here Friday night in a non-league game.

The hosts only led 16-13 after the first period but then outscored Martin 24-9 in the second quarter to clip the Clippers.

Jim Scudder, Kurt Bale and Gary Morse all tallied 10 points for the winners.

Fennville hit 37 of 88 shots for 42 per cent in raising its record to 2-2.

The Blackhawks made eight of 14 free throws, Martin 23 of 33. Fennville outrebounded Martin 45-34 and ended with 18 turnovers.

Martin fell to 0-3 for the season.

Fennville won the jayvee game 52-31 and the freshmen tilt 50-31.

Close Loop Victory For South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN — The Wolverine conference champion South Haven is going about defending its crown the hard way this season.

The Rams edged Otsego 68-66 here Friday night in a boys basketball game which didn't exactly please winning coach M.H. White.

"We played overall rather poorly with not much enthusiasm, except at the end when the game was in doubt," he stated.

"It's early in the season and we are having trouble running our offense," White added. "In the later part of the game, we played well enough to win."

It was when the chips were down, the Rams got tough. The game was tied at 64 with about 25 seconds left. William Gamble then hit a jump shot for the Rams to put them up 66-64.

Otsego couldn't convert on a field goal try and with eight seconds left, Mike Grimes was fouled. He canned both free shots and South Haven gave up a meaningless basket which ended the game.

Gamble led his team in scoring with 16 and Grimes added 15 for the Rams, now 2-1 in the league and overall.

For the Bulldogs, who stand at 1-2 overall and in the conference, Jim Luoma notched 20 points, Joe Stout had 18 and Bob Claeys scored 10.

While South Haven was making 40 per cent of its floor shots (26-65), Otsego made good on 27 of 51 tries, a 52.9 per cent clip.

The Rams held a 34-30 rebounding edge, with Grimes and Gamble each snarring eight, and committed just 16 turnovers to their foe's 21. "Those last two stats won the game for us," stated White.

Bangor Is KVA Winner

BANGOR — Springfield's Scott LeClear popped in 28 points...but the one-man show couldn't stop Bangor.

The Vikings notched their first Kalamazoo Valley Association win in over a year as they topped the Rams 54-53 here Friday night.

Last year, Bangor couldn't play league games because of a millage defeat.

Even though it was a one-point game, Bangor had things pretty much under control in the closing seconds. Dave Gregory, who led the team with 26 points, hit a one and bonus situation that gave the Vikings a 54-50 lead with 20 seconds left in the game.

LeClear made a three point play with six seconds left to cut the lead to one. Doug Watkins was then fouled, but he missed on the free throw attempt.

Springfield then threw up a desperation shot that hit the rim and bounced off.

Gargus was a thorn in Springfield's side most of the night. "He is a good outcourt shooter but we got him loose in the first three quarters on the baseline," commented Bangor's head coach Norm Johnson. "We got the ball down to him and he put it in."

Gregory scored 10 points in each of the first two quarters.

"Then they went to a zone in the second half, and that cut him off," Johnson explained.

Brett Sanford scored 10 points for Springfield, now 0-2 in the conference and 1-3 overall.

Gregory had a good supporting cast as Ricky Ross notched 13 points and Tim Gargus 11 for the Vikings, now 1-1 in the KVA and 3-2 overall.

Both teams made 42 per cent of their field goals, Bangor connecting on 22 of 52 and Springfield 23 of 55.

The Vikings held a 39-21 rebounding edge with Ross grabbing 10, Gargus eight and Watkins seven. Bangor made 26 turnovers to the Rams' 21.

Johnson is still concerned with his team's momentum. "In all three games we have won, we led by nine points and the other teams have come back," he stated. "We have not been able to sustain momentum."

Bangor won the junior varsity game 44-41 in overtime.

Ali Retirement Off Again

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The on-again, off-again retirement of world heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali is off again, the champ says.

Ali, in town Friday to shoot scenes for a movie on his life, said flatly that he's not retiring and that he'll never tell anyone again that's he's quitting.

"When I retire, I will just retire," Ali said in an interview. "I could tell you I was gonna retire, so I will just be quiet."

Ali conceded that earlier in the week he told another interviewer he was stepping down and that he'd never fight again. But since then he's changed his mind.

"I'm not quitting," he said. "One reason is my wife is suing me, and the settlement with my wife is for $2 million and more.

"Two million dollars cash is a lot of money," he said. "I've got to pay her two million cash dollars."

Since his latest retirement announcement, Ali said, he has learned of the settlement terms with his wife and "certain things I cannot disclose."

Ex-Tiger Gets Benefits

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Former Detroit Tiger pitcher Les Cain has been awarded $111 a week for life in worker's compensation payments for injuries to his pitching arm.

Cain, who pitched for the Tigers from 1968 to 1971, filed for disability benefits claiming his career was ended by injuries suffered while playing for Detroit.

The hard-throwing lefthander was touted as a coming star when he broke into the league, but after several outstanding performances he developed a sore arm.

He filed the claim in 1973 after an operation on his shoulder which disclosed a dislocated shoulder and bone chips.

The award was granted by the state Worker's Compensation Bureau and notice was mailed Dec. 8, officials said. The Detroit Tigers have 15 days from that date to appeal the decision to the Worker's Compensation Appeal Board.

Jerome Solomon, the lawyer who filed Cain's claim more than three years ago, said the bureau's order requires the Tigers to pay Cain $111 retroactive to the date he retired from baseball. Solomon said he expected the Tigers to appeal the decision.

Decatur Downs Gobles

DECATUR — Defending SAC champion Decatur opened league play with a 70-53 victory over Gobles here Friday night.

Kurt Wiese, the leading active career scorer in southwestern Michigan, led the way with a game-high 21 points. It marked his 19th straight game over two seasons in double figures.

Steve Greendyk and Dave Cerven added 15 and 12 points, respectively, as the Raiders put their overall record at 2-1.

Gobles, now 0-1 in the league and 2-2 on the season, got 13 points from Dale Sunlin, 12 from Kendall Smith and 10 each from Ward Richard and Mike Erickson.

Decatur busted out to a 24-11 first quarter lead. "That was our best quarter of the night," declared Decatur coach Tom Gibson. "We went to a full court press and kind of had them on edge, and we rebounded well."

Greendyk, who got nine points in the first quarter, and Jim Smaia then got into foul trouble in the second quarter and went to the bench. "That cooled us off a little bit," added Gibson.

Decatur led 40-21 at halftime and 59-40 entering the last quarter.

Decatur ended up making 30 of 83 field goals (36 per cent) and of 18 free throws (56 per cent). Gobles meshed 21 of 71 from the floor (29 per cent) and 11 of 25 (44 per cent) from the lines.

Decatur posted a 47 to 37 rebounding edge, with Greendyk pulling down 11.

Gobles won the junior varsity preliminary. And Decatur took the freshman game.

"Our son fixes digital computers for the Navy and pop-up toasters for me."

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Ellisville, Missouri.

"Our son is a Data Systems Technician. The Navy taught him how to remove computer circuits and repair them. But I can't wait till he comes home on leave," says Mrs. Johnson. "All that training comes in very handy."

If your son is good at fixing up his stereo or if he knows his way around the wiring in your appliances, he may be eligible for about $17,000 worth of advanced technical training in electronics. And it won't cost you a cent.

For more information, tell him to talk to his local Navy Recruiter. Or mail the coupon below. For the fastest reply, call toll-free, 800-841-8000 anytime, day or night. The Navy.

Close Loop Victory For South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN — The Wolverine conference champion South Haven is going about defending its crown the hard way this season.

The Rams edged Otsego 68-66 here Friday night in a boys basketball game which didn't exactly please winning coach M.H. White.

"We played overall rather poorly with not much enthusiasm, except at the end when the game was in doubt," he stated.

"It's early in the season and we are having trouble running our offense," White added. "In the later part of the game, we played well enough to win."

It was when the chips were down, the Rams got tough. The game was tied at 64 with about 25 seconds left. William Gamble then hit a jump shot for the Rams to put them up 66-64.

Otsego couldn't convert on a field goal try and with eight seconds left, Mike Grimes was fouled. He canned both free shots and South Haven gave up a meaningless basket which ended the game.

Gamble led his team in scoring with 16 and Grimes added 15 for the Rams, now 2-1 in the league and overall.

For the Bulldogs, who stand at 1-2 overall and in the conference, Jim Luoma notched 20 points, Joe Stout had 18 and Bob Claeys scored 10.

While South Haven was making 40 per cent of its floor shots (26-65), Otsego made good on 27 of 51 tries, a 52.9 per cent clip.

The Rams held a 34-30 rebounding edge, with Grimes and Gamble each snarring eight, and committed just 16 turnovers to their foe's 21. "Those last two stats won won the game for us," stated White.

Bangor Is KVA Winner

BANGOR — Springfield's Scott LeClear popped in 28 points...but the one-man show couldn't stop Bangor.

The Vikings notched their first Kalamazoo Valley Association win in over a year as they topped the Rams 54-53 here Friday night.

Last year, Bangor couldn't play league games because of a millage defeat.

Even though it was a one-point game, Bangor had things pretty much under control in the closing seconds. Dave Gregory, who led the team with 26 points, hit a one and bonus situation that gave the Vikings a 54-50 lead with 20 seconds left in the game.

LeClear made a three point play with six seconds left to cut the lead to one. Doug Watkins was then fouled, but he missed on the free throw attempt.

Springfield then threw up a desperation shot that hit the rim and bounced off.

Gargus was a thorn in Springfield's side most of the night. "He is a good outcourt shooter but we got him loose in the first three quarters on the baseline," commented Bangor's head coach Norm Johnson. "We got the ball down to him and he put it in."

Gregory scored 10 points in each of the first two quarters.

"Then they went to a zone in the second half, and that cut him off," Johnson explained.

Brett Sanford scored 10 points for Springfield, now 0-2 in the conference and 1-3 overall.

Gregory had a good supporting cast as Ricky Ross notched 13 points and Tim Gargus 11 for the Vikings, now 1-1 in the KVA and 3-2 overall.

Both teams made 42 per cent of their field goals, Bangor connecting on 22 of 52 and Springfield 23 of 55.

The Vikings held a 39-21 rebounding edge with Ross grabbing 10, Gargus eight and Watkins seven. Bangor made 26 turnovers to the Rams' 21.

Johnson is still concerned with his team's momentum. "In all three games we have won, we led by nine points and the other teams have come back," he stated. "We have not been able to sustain momentum."

Bangor won the junior varsity game 44-41 in overtime.

Ali Retirement Off Again

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The on-again, off-again retirement of world heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali is off again, the champ says.

Ali, in town Friday to shoot scenes for a movie on his life, said flatly that he's not retiring and that he'll never tell anyone again that's he's quitting.

"When I retire, I will just retire," Ali said in an interview. "I could tell you I was gonna retire, so I will just be quiet."

Ali conceded that earlier in the week he told another interviewer he was stepping down and that he'd never fight again. But since then he's changed his mind.

"I'm not quitting," he said. "One reason is my wife is suing me, and the settlement with my wife is for $2 million and more.

"Two million dollars cash is a lot of money," he said. "I've got to pay her two million cash dollars."

Since his latest retirement announcement, Ali said, he has learned of the settlement terms with his wife and "certain things I cannot disclose."

Ex-Tiger Gets Benefits

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Former Detroit Tiger pitcher Les Cain has been awarded $111 a week for life in worker's compensation payments for injuries to his pitching arm.

Cain, who pitched for the Tigers from 1968 to 1971, filed for disability benefits claiming his career was ended by injuries suffered while playing for Detroit.

The hard-throwing lefthander was touted as a coming star when he broke into the league, but after several outstanding performances he developed a sore arm.

He filed the claim in 1973 after an operation on his shoulder which disclosed a dislocated shoulder and bone chips.

The award was granted by the state Worker's Compensation Bureau and notice was mailed Dec. 8, officials said. The Detroit Tigers have 15 days from that date to appeal the decision to the Worker's Compensation Appeal Board.

Jerome Solomon, the lawyer who filed Cain's claim more than three years ago, said the bureau's order requires the Tigers to pay Cain $111 retroactive to the date he retired from baseball. Solomon said he expected the Tigers to appeal the decision.

Decatur Downs Gobles

DECATUR — Defending SAC champion Decatur opened league play with a 70-53 victory over Gobles here Friday night.

Kurt Wiese, the leading active career scorer in southwestern Michigan, led the way with a game-high 21 points. It marked his 19th straight game over two seasons in double figures.

Steve Groendyk and Dave Cerven added 15 and 12 points, respectively, as the Raiders put their overall record at 2-1.

Gobles, now 0-1 in the league and 2-2 on the season, got 13 points from Dale Sunlin, 12 from Kendall Smith and 10 each from Ward Richard and Mike Erickson.

Decatur busted out to a 24-11 first quarter lead. "That was our best quarter of the night," declared Decatur coach Tom Gibson. "We went to a full court press and kind of had them on edge, and we rebounded well."

Groendyk, who got nine points in the first quarter, and Jim Smola then got into foul trouble in the second quarter and went to the bench. "That cooled us off a little bit," added Gibson.

Decatur led 40-21 at halftime and 59-40 entering the last quarter.

Decatur ended up making 30 of 83 field goals (38 per cent) and of 18 free throws (56 per cent). Gobles meshed 21 of 71 from the floor (29 per cent) and 11 of 25 (44 per cent) from the lines.

Decatur posted a 47 to 37 rebounding edge, with Groendyk pulling down 11.

Gobles won the junior varsity preliminary. And Decatur took the freshman game.

"Our son fixes digital computers for the Navy and pop-up toasters for me."

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Ellisville, Missouri.

"Our son is a Data Systems Technician. The Navy taught him how to remove computer circuits and repair them. But I can't wait till he comes home on leave," says Mrs. Johnson. "All that training comes in very handy."

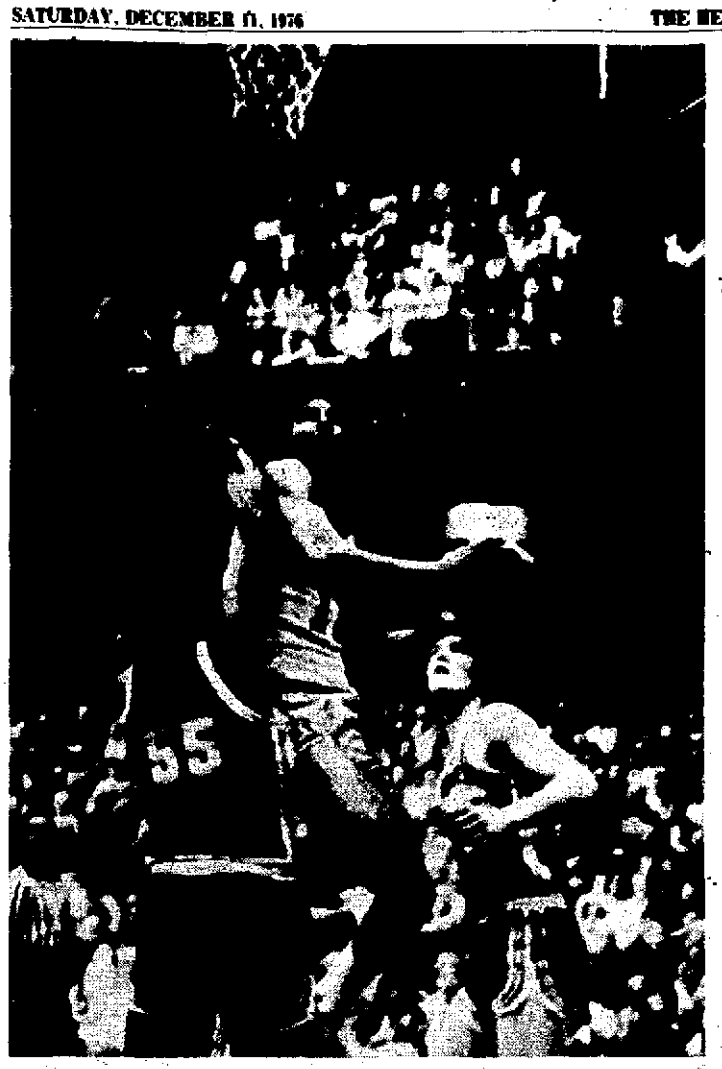

If your son is good at fixing up his stereo or if he knows his way around the wiring in your appliances, he may be eligible for about $17,000 worth of advanced technical training in electronics. And it won't cost you a cent.

For more information, tell him to talk to his local Navy Recruiter. Or mail the coupon below. For the fastest reply, call toll-free, 800-841-8000 anytime, day or night. The Navy.

Chicago Gives Up Forster, Gossage

Zisk Sent To White Sox

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It'll be like old times when manager Chuck Tanner glances down to his bullpen next season. The new manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates will be able to choose between right-hander Rich Gossage and left-hander Terry Forster.

What the Pirates won't have is Richie Zisk ripping the ball out of the ballpark.

This all came about Friday night at baseball's winter meetings, just three hours before the midnight (PST) interleague trading deadline when the Pirates acquired Gossage and Forster from the Chicago White Sox in exchange for Zisk, a hard-hitting outfielder and Silvio Martinez, a rookie righthanded pitcher.

Tanner knew what he was bargaining for because he had both pitchers when he managed the White Sox from 1972-1975.

"Gossage and Forster will be used as relievers," said Tanner, who managed Oakland last season and was dealt by the A's in November for catcher Manny Sanguillen and $183,000.

In other transactions Friday, the St. Louis Cardinals reacquired third baseman Ken Reitz from the San Francisco Giants for right-handed pitcher Lynn McGlothen and the Cleveland Indians sent right-handed pitcher Jackie Brown to the Montreal Expos for first baseman Andre Thornton.

During this week's meetings 40 players changed teams in 14 deals. This amounts to a sharp decline from last year when 64 players were involved in 23 deals.

One factor, for the first time in history, is another interleague trading period is set for Feb. 15-March 15. The new free agent provision and multiple-year contracts are other causes of light trading.

Another baseball news, one sad note, major league outfielder Danny Thompson's four year battle with leukemia is over.

The disease killed Thompson Friday night at St. Marys Hospital in Rochester. The hospital is affiliated with the world-famous Mayo Clinic.

Thompson was a member of the Texas Rangers at the time of his death. He was 29. He came to Texas June 1, 1978 with pitcher Bert Blyleven in a multiplayer trade with the Minnesota Twins.

"Danny Thompson was a fine, fine human being. I was most impressed with him as a person," said Rangers' Vice President Eddie Robinson in Los Angeles after learning of Thompson's death. "He was a very valuable player because he could play all three infield positions."

Doctors discovered Thompson suffered from leukemia during a routine physical Jan. 31, 1975. Thompson, however, always looked on the cheery side of things.

He insisted he had learned to live with the disease, medically diagnosed as chronic granulocytic leukemia. "If you've got to have leukemia, this is the best type to have," Thompson said. "You just have so long to do your thing. You don't have time to get down."

In 1975, Thompson was honored with the "Hutch Award," given each year to the major league athlete who exemplies the courage of former pitcher and Cincinnati Manager Frank Hutchinson, who died from cancer.

Bernier Won't Play For Jets

QUEBEC (AP) — Center Serge Bernier of the Quebec Nordiques of the World Hockey Association will not be permitted to play with the WHA's Winnipeg Jets in the Izvestia Cup tournament in Moscow later this month, says Nordiques General Manager Maurice Filion.

Filion said Tuesday he had rejected the Jets' request to use Bernier because the Nordiques have six league games scheduled while the tourney is being held Dec. 16-22, and they could not afford to lose him for that period of time.

Super Defense Lifts PP Past Plainwell

PAW PAW — Paw Paw got some super defensive efforts here Friday night in knocking off Plainwell 65-46 in a Wolverine league game.

The Redskins blocked eight shots and had nine steals in handing Plainwell its first loss in three games.

Paw Paw, 2-1 in the league, was in control the entire game although Plainwell did narrow the gap to five points in the third period. But then Don Stull came off the bench and the Redskins went on the warpath again.

Willy Gipson sank a career-high 24 points to pace the win. Gipson scored 12 points in the first quarter while blocking Brian Archart's first four shots. Archart, who ended with 14, had scored 31 against South Haven.

Craig LaPine and Jon Ghastin both netted 14 for the winners.

Paw Paw held a 33-25 margin in rebounding with junior Don Stull collecting 10 caroms.

Paw Paw, which had 14 turnovers, shot 31 of 67 for 46 per cent while Plainwell was 17 of 54 for 31 per cent. The Redskins canned 14 of 19 foul tosses, Plainwell three of seven.

Plainwell won the jayvee game 54-51.

Chicago Gives Up Forster, Gossage

Zisk Sent To White Sox

LOS ANGELES (AP) – It'll be like old times when manager Chuck Tanner glances down to his bullpen next season. The new manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates will be able to choose between right-hander Rich Gossage and left-hander Terry Forster.

What the Pirates won't have is Richie Zisk ripping the ball out of the ballpark.

This all came about Friday night at baseball's winter meetings, just three hours before the midnight (PST) interleague trading deadline when the Pirates acquired Gossage and Forster from the Chicago White Sox in exchange for Zisk, a hard-hitting outfielder and Silvio Martinez, a rookie righthanded pitcher.

Tanner knew what he was bargaining for because he had both pitchers when he managed the White Sox from 1972-1975.

"Gossage and Forster will be used as relievers," said Tanner, who managed Oakland last season and was dealt by the A's in November for catcher Manny Sanguillen and $100,000.

In other transactions Friday, the St. Louis Cardinals reacquired third baseman Ken Reitz from the San Francisco Giants for right-handed pitcher Lynn McGlothen and the Cleveland Indians sent right-handed pitcher Jackie Brown to the Montreal Expos for first baseman Andre Thornton.

During this week's meetings 40 players changed teams in 14 deals. This amounts to a sharp decline from last year when 64 players were involved in 23 deals.

One factor, for the first time in history, is another interleague trading period is set for Feb. 15-March 15. The new free agent provision and multiple-year contracts are other causes of light trading.

In other baseball news, one sad note, major league infielder Danny Thompson's four year battle with leukemia is over.

The disease killed Thompson Friday night at St. Marys Hospital in Rochester. The hospital is affiliated with the world-famous Mayo Clinic.

Thompson was a member of the Texas Rangers at the time of his death. He was 29. He came to Texas June 1, 1976 with pitcher Bert Blyleven in a multiplayer trade with the Minnesota Twins.

"Danny Thompson was a fine, fine human being. I was most impressed with him as a person," said Rangers' Vice President Eddie Robinson in Los Angeles after learning of Thompson's death. "He was a very valuable player because he could play all three infield positions."

Doctors discovered Thompson suffered from leukemia during a routine physical Jan. 31, 1973. Thompson, however, always looked on the cheery side of things.

He insisted he had learned go live with the disease, medically diagnosed as chronic granulocytic leukemia. "If you've got to have leukemia, this is the best type to have," Thompson said. "You just have so long to do your thing. You don't have time to get down."

In 1975, Thompson was honored with the "Hutch Award," given each year to the major league athlete who exemplies the courage of former pitcher and Cincinnati Manager Frank Hutchinson, who died from cancer.

Dutchmen Gain Pittsburgh Classic Finals

Unknown Hofstra Changes Image

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hofstra is hardly a household name—not even in Pittsburgh.

"We had a cab driver and a bus driver on the way into town say, 'Hofstra Who?' " noted Coach Ralph Gaeckler.

But the Flying Dutchmen could be known in some households tonight if they beat Southern Illinois in the finals of the Pittsburgh Classic.

The college basketball team with the anonymous image defeated Duquesne 76-70 Friday night to advance to the championship round against the 17th-ranked Salukis, who beat Pitt 72-67.

Here's a quick rundown on the Flying Dutchmen: They're off to a 4-1 start this season after compiling an 18-12 record last year and winning the East Coast Conference playoffs. Defeated by Connecticut 80-78 in overtime in the NCAA regionals, the Flying Dutchmen have returned one of the nation's most fearsome rebounders in John Irving.

Irving's performance complemented a 29-point night by Rich Laurel and preceded another superb show by Mike Glenn of Southern Illinois. The Salukis' extraordinary guard poured in 32 points to help turn back Pitt.

In other tournaments Friday night, sixth-ranked San Francisco defeated No. 15 Tennessee 86-77 and Utah trimmed Seton Hall 95-86 in the Utah Classic at Salt Lake City; Idaho State whipped Georgia Tech 88-72 and Marshall stopped Columbia 79-78 in the opening round of the Marshall Memorial Invitational in Huntington, W. Va.; North Carolina-Charlotte downed Lamar 91-86 and New Mexico State stopped Northern Arizona 82-77 in the Roadrunner Invitational at Las Cruces, N.M., and Niagara defeated Xavier of Ohio 46-44 and Brigham Young trounced Seattle 91-65 in the Cougar Classic in Provo, Utah.

Also, Long Beach State outscored Butler 63-50 and Southern Cal trounced Grambling 83-75 in the Trojan Classic in Los Angeles; St. Francis, Pa., walloped Georgia State 74-56 and Stetson turned back LIU 57-47 in the Hatter Classic in Deland, Fla.; Texas A&M whipped Houston Baptist 67-72 and Southwestern Louisiana nudged Centenary 91-88 in double overtime in the Bayou Classic in Lafayette, La., and Cal State Fullerton beat South Alabama 89-71 and Pepperdine trimmed Azusa Pacific 83-62 in the Malibu Classic in Los Angeles.

Elsewhere, ninth-ranked Arizona stopped Northwestern 78-64.

Sophomores James Hardy and Winford Boynes each scored 18 points to lead San Francisco past Tennessee. Jeff Judkins scored 29 points, mostly from the outside, and Buster Mathenay muscled in many of his 27 points from underneath the basket as Utah defeated Seton Hall in the second game of the Utah Classic.

Ed Thompson's 25 points powered Idaho State past Georgia Tech. Greg Young sank a short jumper with 14 seconds remaining as Marshall nipped Columbia.

North Carolina-Charlotte defeated Lamar as Cedric Maxwell scored 25 points and pulled down 13 rebounds. Forward Richard Robinson connected for 27 points to lead New Mexico State over Northern Arizona.

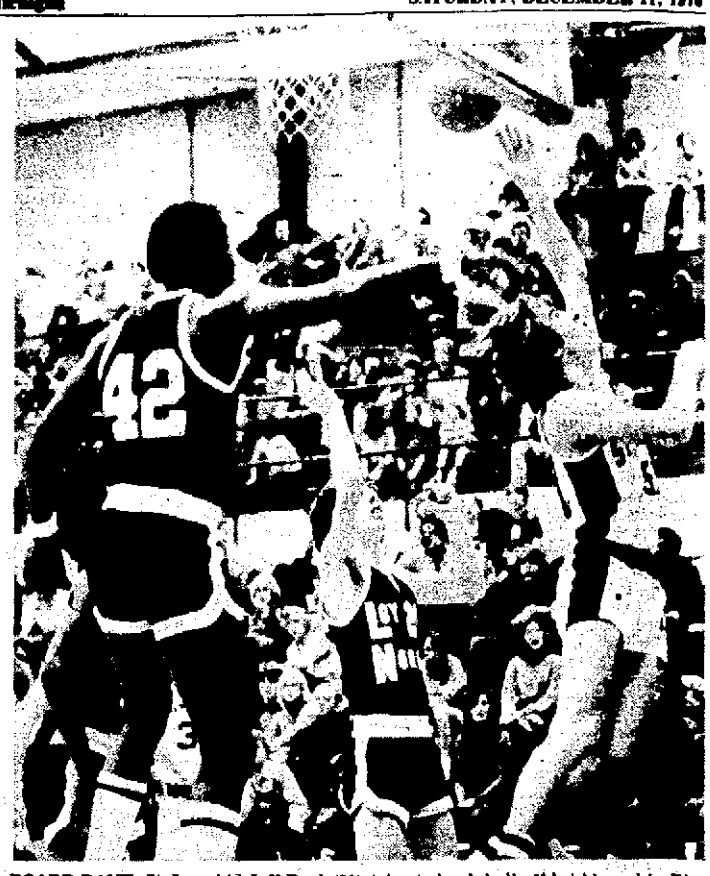

Vern Allen hit a jump shot from 15 feet with seven seconds left to give Niagara its victory over Xavier of Ohio. Vance Law scored 26 points to lead Brigham Young over Seattle.

Clarence Ruffen's 16 points paced Long Beach State over Butler in the opener of the Trojan Classic. Southern Cal won the nightcap over Grambling as Greg White scored 28 points.

A 17-point performance by Larry Walker powered St. Francis, Pa., past Georgia State. Mel Daniels scored 18 points and led a second-half charge as Stetson trimmed LIU in the second game of the Hatter Classic.

Dave Goff keyed an 18-point burst in the second half to power Texas A&M over Houston Baptist. A 20-foot jump shot by Pascal Mitchell near the end of the second overtime led Southwestern Louisiana past Centenary.

Herman Harris and Phil Taylor combined for 55 points to help Arizona outclass Northwestern.

Wisconsin Tied For WCHA Lead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin moved into a first-place tie with North Dakota in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA) Friday night, whipping the Sioux 6-2 in Madison, Wis.

In other WCHA games, Michigan State defeated Michigan 7-5 and Denver beat Colorado College 6-3. Michigan Tech overwhelmed Lake Superior State 7-2 in a non-conference game.

Center Mark Johnson and wings Les Grauer and Mike Meeker scored one goal each as Wisconsin moved to a 4-0 lead over North Dakota with 8:01 left in the second period. All Wisconsin's goals were scored by different players.

Late in the middle period, Mike Burggraf and Dave Colborne each scored for North Dakota, before Wisconsin came back to add two insurance goals.

Badger goalie Julian Baretta had 31 saves, while North Dakota's Pete Waselovich had 38 saves.

The two teams are now tied at 10-3.

Freshman winger Russ Welch scored three goals to lead Michigan State to victory. The Spartans exploded for four goals in the first seven minutes of the final period on shots by Paul Klasinski, Welch, Ron Heaslip and Rob Harris.

Michigan is in third place at 9-4, while Michigan State is 5-8.

Denver, 7-6, jumped to a four-goal lead in the first period against Colorado College, with center Alex Belcourt knocking in what proved to be the winning goal.

Colorado College, 5-7-1, cut the margin to 4-3 in the second period as wing Dean Magee slapped home two goals and wing Mike Reilly added another. But Denver answered with two goals in the third period to ice the victory.

Left winger Stu Oslund scored two goals to lead Michigan Tech to victory over Lake Superior State. Tech led 3-0 after the first period, before Claude Bolleau put the Lakers on the scoreboard.

The same teams meet tonight.

Mason Return Keys Lawrence Victory

LAWRENCE — Jim Mason is back...and that can only mean trouble for cage opponents of Lawrence.

The senior center, slowed by a football injury, started his first game and came through with 22 points and 21 rebounds to lead the Tigers past Lawton 73-71 here Friday night in the SAC opener for both clubs.

"He hasn't been doing that well in practice, but he was ready to play tonight," grinned Tigers' head coach Dave Smith.

Lawrence, now 1-1 overall, effectively used a press to mount a 38-36 halftime lead. The Tigers built that into a 17-point margin with six minutes left in the game.

"Then we lost our composure," Smith moaned. "They pressed us and they were hitting 20-foot jumpers like crazy. Under the pressure, we got a lot of layups and missed them...we missed loads of them in that quarter."

With little time remaining, Lawton got the margin down to three points, but Jeff Queen was fouled and connected on the front end of a one and bonus.

The Blue Devils John Lepley was then fouled and he made both of the charity tosses to end the scoring.

Dennis Kidd added 18 points and Queen 14 to Mason's total. "Kidd took control of the game and did a fine job," said Smith. "He controlled the ball against their press and that's what I have to have from him."

Jack Bastien led the Blue Devils, now 0-1 overall, with 22 points while Lepley added 19 and Craig Rupp 15. "I have to give Lepley and Bastien a lot of credit," Smith commented. "They didn't miss too many 20-footers."

Lawton hit a blazing 54 per cent from the floor, making 30 of 57 tries. The Tigers came through with a 33 per cent effort, canning 26 of 77 attempts.

Lawrence held a 51-44 rebound edge.

Dutchmen Gain Pittsburgh Classic Finals

Unknown Hofstra Changes Image

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hofstra is hardly a household name—not even in Pittsburgh.

"We had a cab driver and a bus driver on the way into town say, 'Hofstra Who?' " noted Coach Ralph Gaeckler.

But the Flying Dutchmen could be known in some households tonight if they beat Southern Illinois in the finals of the Pittsburgh Classic.

The college basketball team with the anonymous image defeated Duquesne 76-70 Friday night to advance to the championship round against the 17th-ranked Salukis, who beat Pitt 72-67.

Here's a quick rundown on the Flying Dutchmen: They're off to a 4-1 start this season after compiling an 18-12 record last year and winning the East Coast Conference playoffs. Defeated by Connecticut 80-78 in overtime in the NCAA regionals, the Flying Dutchmen have returned one of the nation's most fearsome rebounders in John Irving.

Irving's performance complemented a 29-point night by Rich Laurel and preceded another superb show by Mike Glenn of Southern Illinois. The Salukis' extraordinary guard poured in 32 points to help turn back Pitt.

In other tournaments Friday night, sixth-ranked San Francisco defeated No. 15 Tennessee 86-77 and Utah trimmed Seton Hall 95-86 in the Utah Classic at Salt Lake City; Idaho State whipped Georgia Tech 88-72 and Marshall stopped Columbia 79-78 in the opening round of the Marshall Memorial Invitational in Huntington, W. Va.; North Carolina-Charlotte downed Lamar 91-86 and New Mexico State stopped Northern Arizona 82-77 in the Roadrunner Invitational at Las Cruces, N.M., and Niagara defeated Xavier of Ohio 46-44 and Brigham Young trounced Seattle 9165 in the Cougar Classic in Provo, Utah.

Also, Long Beach State outscored Butler 63-50 and Southern Cal trimmed Grambling 8375 in the Trojan Classic in Los Angeles; St. Francis, Pa., walloped Georgia State 74-56 and Stetson turned back LIU 57-47 in the Hatter Classic in Deland, Fla.; Texas A&M whipped Houston Baptist 87-72 and Southwestern Louisiana nudged Centenary 91-88 in double overtime in the Bayou Classic in Lafayette, La., and Cal State Fullerton beat South Alabama 89-71 and Pepperdine trimmed Azusa Pacific 83-62 in the Malibu Classic in Los Angeles.

Elsewhere, ninth-ranked Arizona stopped Northwestern 7864.

Sophomores James Hardy and Winford Boynes each scored 18 points to lead San Francisco past Tennessee. Jeff Judkins scored 29 points, mostly from the outside, and Buster Mathenay muscled in many of his 27 points from underneath the basket as Utah defeated Seton Hall in the second game of the Utah Classic.

Ed Thompson's 25 points powered Idaho State past Georgia Tech. Greg Young sank a short jumper with 14 seconds remaining as Marshall nipped Columbia.

North Carolina-Charlotte defeated Lamar as Cedric Maxwell scored 25 points and pulled down 13 rebounds. Forward Richard Robinson connected for 27 points to lead New Mexico State over Northern Arizona.

Vern Allen hit a jump shot from 15 feet with seven seconds left to give Niagara its victory over Xavier of Ohio. Vance Law scored 26 points to lead Brigham Young over Seattle.

Clarence Ruffen's 16 points paced Long Beach State over Butler in the opener of the Trojan Classic. Southern Cal won the nightcap over Grambling as Greg White scored 28 points.

A 17-point performance by Larry Walker powered St. Francis, Pa., past Georgia State. Mel Daniels scored 18 points and led a second-half charge as Stetson trimmed LIU in the second game of the Hatter Classic.

Dave Goff keyed an 18-point burst in the second half to power Texas A&M over Houston Baptist. A 20-foot jump shot by Pascal Mitchell near the end of the second overtime led Southwestern Louisiana past Centenary.

Herman Harris and Phil Taylor combined for 55 points to help Arizona outclass Northwestern.

Detroit Needs Win Badly

Can Finish With Worst Mark In 8 Years

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Their worst finish in eight years faces the Detroit Lions tonight if they don't beat, or tie, the powerful Los Angeles Rams in their National Football League season finale.

A Pontiac Silverdome crowd of at least 75,000 is expected, as well as a national television audience.

The Lions, filled with potential but prone to mistakes all season, need a triumph to finish with their third consecutive 7-7 record. A loss would put Detroit at 6-8 for its worst finish since a 4-8-2 mark in 1968. The team was 6-7-1 in 1973.

Los Angeles has already wrapped up the Western Division of the National Conference, its fourth straight title under Coach Chuck Knox. He was an assistant with the Lions for six years (1967-72) before taking the Rams' head job.

The Rams, who have won their last three games, own a 93-1 record and are coming off a 59-0 thumping of Atlanta. Detroit was upset 24-10 last Sunday by the lowly New York Giants.

After the Giants' game, Lions Coach Tommy Hudspeth said: "Against the Rams next week we might have to ask for volunteers. If we play like we did today, they (the Rams) will set a new scoring record."

Early this week Hudspeth said he viewed Rams' game films and "it was more like a horror movie. They have one fine football team." He grinned and added he was "afraid to show the films" to the Lions.

Hudspeth said the Lions "will have to depend on a lot of emotion" in their last game.

"We're in a negative catchup situation," he said. "A win heading into the winter is most vital."

Lawrence McCutcheon is the Rams' leading runner with 1,144 yards —, a Los Angeles record. He has scored nine touchdowns on the ground, one more than all of Detroit's rushers.

The Lions' top runner is Dexter Bussey. He has rushed for 844 yards this year and needs just 28 to finish with the second best single season total by a Lion. The record is Steve Owens' 1,035 in 1971.

Quarterback Greg Landry of Detroit, first statistically in the conference for four weeks, fell to second this week behind James Harris of the Rams. But Harris isn't even Los Angeles' regular any more. Rookie Pat Haden has been starting.

"Haden's a heady quarterback," Hudspeth said. "He throws the ball well and he has wide receivers who can fly (ex-Lion Ron Jessie, Harold Jackson). McCutcheon keeps them honest with his ball carrying ability.

"And with the Rams their defense is tough, especially against the rush."

Los Angeles ranks first in the conference in defense against the run. It is fourth overall and ninth against the pass. Offensively the Rams are third overall, fifth in pass offense and first in rushing.

Detroit has fallen to second behind San Francisco in the conference in total defense after being No. 1 for four weeks. The Lions are fifth against the rush and third versus the pass.

On offense, Detroit is fifth overall for the sixth straight week. It is fourth in rushing and sixth in passing.

Healthy Walton Helping Portland Lead Pacific

NEW YORK (AP) — The red ponytail is gone and so is the bandanna. So, too, are the aches and pains, the injuries that dogged Bill Walton through his first two years as a pro.

"I'm healthy now, that's the biggest difference," said Walton, who is playing the way the Portland folks had hoped when they drafted him No. 1 in 1974 out of UCLA.

"It's been a long time since I've felt this good," the soft-spoken center added. "Winning is a lot nicer than losing."

The Trail Blazers have been winning regularly of late and have taken over first place in the Pacific Division of the National Basketball Association. The biggest reason has been Walton, who has stayed healthy throughout the first quarter of the season and become a dominant pro center.

The 6-foot-11, 225-pounder is in great shape and is playing nearly 40 minutes a game. He still wears bandages on his knees, and after games he soaks his chronically sore feet in a tray of ice. But to have gone through seven weeks of the season with no injuries is a new experience, one he is enjoying.

"This is the most I've ever played in the NBA in one stretch," Walton said.

"Consistency, that's the important thing," he said. "I've been able to develop all areas of my game. When you play two weeks and then get hurt and sit out two weeks, you can't do that."

Walton, whose personal new look consists of a relatively trim red beard and only moderately long hair, is very happy with the new look of the Blazers, who dealt away long-time stars Sidney Wicks and Geoff Petrie in the off-season and obtained a host of new faces, including coach Jack Ramsay.

"This is a very unselfish team, and it is really enjoyable to play that way," said Walton. "I like to run a lot, and with the people we have here, we can really run the fast breaks."

Ramsay has nothing but praise for Walton, who leads the league in rebounding and blocked shots and is Portland's leading scorer at 21.1 points a game.

"Bill has been just super," Ramsay said. "He's a very team-oriented guy. He's been working his tail off to help this team. He has great rapport with his teammates."

Walton, 24, is the captain of the Blazers, a position to which he was voted by the other players.

"It was nice of the guys to elect me captain," he said with a smile.

State Schools Get National Rankings

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan, Michigan State and Western Michigan all were ranked nationally in various statistics categories released by the NCAA.

Michigan was first in rushing offense, averaging 362.6 per game, and first in total offense, 448.1 per game. The Wolverines were also fifth in rushing defense and 10th in total defense.

Western Michigan won the passing defense title, giving up just 78.5 yards per game, and was ninth in rushing offense.

The Spartans came in ninth in passing offense, throwing for 211.1 per game.

Jerome Persell of Western Michigan ranked second in the nation in rushing with a 150.5 yards per game average. Rob Lytle of Michigan was seventh in rushing, averaging 127.5.

Michigan State's Eddie Smith was ninth among the nation's passers with a 13.2 completions per game mark.

The Lions, filled with potential but prone to mistakes all season, need a triumph to finish with their third consecutive 7-7 record. A loss would put Detroit at 6-8 for its worst finish since a 4-8-2 mark in 1968. The team was 6-7-1 in 1973.

Los Angeles has already wrapped up the Western Division of the National Conference, its fourth straight title under Coach Chuck Knox. He was an assistant with the Lions for six years (1967-72) before taking the Rams' head job.

The Rams, who have won their last three games, own a 93-1 record and are coming off a 59-0 thumping of Atlanta. Detroit was upset 24-10 last Sunday by the lowly New York Giants.

After the Giants' game, Lions Coach Tommy Hudspeth said: "Against the Rams next week we might have to ask for volunteers. If we play like we did today, they (the Rams) will set a new scoring record."

Early this week Hudspeth said he viewed Rams' game films and "it was more like a horror movie. They have one fine football team." He grinned and added he was "afraid to show the films" to the Lions.

Hudspeth said the Lions "will have to depend on a lot of emotion" in their last game.

"We're in a negative catchup situation," he said. "A win heading into the winter is most vital."

Lawrence McCutcheon is the Rams' leading runner with 1,144 yards — a Los Angeles record. He has scored nine touchdowns on the ground, one more than all of Detroit's rushers.

The Lions' top runner is Dexter Bussey. He has rushed for 844 yards this year and needs just 29 to finish with the second best single season total by a Lion. The record is Steve Owens' 1,035 in 1971.

Quarterback Greg Landry of Detroit, first statistically in the conference for four weeks, fell to second this week behind James Harris of the Rams. But Harris isn't even Los Angeles' regular any more. Rookie Pat Haden has been starting.

"Haden's a heady quarterback," Hudspeth said. "He throws the ball well and he has wide receivers who can fly (ex-Lion Ron Jessie, Harold Jackson). McCutcheon keeps them honest with his ball carrying ability.

"And with the Rams their defense is tough, especially against the rush."

Los Angeles ranks first in the conference in defense against the run. It is fourth overall and ninth against the pass. Offensively the Rams are third overall, fifth in pass offense and first in rushing.

Detroit has fallen to second behind San Francisco in the conference in total defense after being No. 1 for four weeks. The Lions are fifth against the rush and third versus the pass.

On offense, Detroit is fifth overall for the sixth straight week. It is fourth in rushing and sixth in passing.

Healthy Walton Helping Portland Lead Pacific

NEW YORK (AP) — The red ponytail is gone and so is the bandanna. So, too, are the aches and pains, the injuries that dogged Bill Walton through his first two years as a pro.

"I'm healthy now, that's the biggest difference," said Walton, who is playing the way the Portland folks had hoped when they drafted him No. 1 in 1974 out of UCLA.

"It's been a long time since I've felt this good," the softspoken center added. "Winning is a lot nicer than losing."

The Trail Blazers have been winning regularly of late and have taken over first place in the Pacific Division of the National Basketball Association. The biggest reason has been Walton, who has stayed healthy throughout the first quarter of the season and become a dominant pro center.

The 6-foot-11, 225-pounder is in great shape and is playing nearly 40 minutes a game. He still wears bandages on his knees, and after games he soaks his chronically sore feet in a tray of ice. But to have gone through seven weeks of the season with no injuries is a new experience, one he is enjoying.

"This is the most I've ever played in the NBA in one stretch," Walton said.

"Consistency, that's the important thing," he said. "I've been able to develop all areas of my game. When you play two weeks and then get hurt and sit out two weeks, you can't do that."

Walton, whose personal new look consists of a relatively trim red beard and only moderately long hair, is very happy with the new look of the Blazers, who dealt away long-time stars Sidney Wicks and Geoff Petrie in the off-season and obtained a host of new faces, including coach Jack Ramsay.

"This is a very unselfish team, and it is really enjoyable to play that way," said Walton. "I like to run a lot, and with the people we have here, we can really run the fast breaks."

Ramsay has nothing but praise for Walton, who leads the league in rebounding and blocked shots and is Portland's leading scorer at 21.1 points a game.

"Bill has been just super," Ramsay said. "He's a very team-oriented guy. He's been working his tail off to help this team. He has great rapport with his teammates."

Walton, 24, is the captain of the Blazers, a position to which he was voted by the other players.

"It was nice of the guys to elect me captain," he said with a smile.

State Schools Get National Rankings

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan, Michigan State and Western Michigan all were ranked nationally in various statistics categories released by the NCAA.

Michigan was first in rushing offense, averaging 362.6 per game, and first in total offense, 448.1 per game. The Wolverines were also fifth in rushing defense and 10th in total defense.

Western Michigan won the passing defense title, giving up just 78.5 yards per game, and was ninth in rushing offense.

The Spartans came in ninth in passing offense, throwing for 211.1 per game.

Jerome Persell of Western Michigan ranked second in the nation in rushing with a 150.5 yards per game average. Rob Lytle of Michigan was seventh in rushing, averaging 127.5.

Michigan State's Eddie Smith was ninth among the nation's passers with a 13.2 completions per game mark.

Rocks Tied For Lead

Berrien Springs is tied for first place in both the boys and girls sections of the Red Arrow conference all-sports race after the fall sports.

The Shamrock boys are deadlocked with Watervliet at 15 points with Hartford third (12), Lake Michigan Catholic fourth (11), Eau Claire fifth (6), Galien sixth (5), Bridgman seventh (4) and New Buffalo eighth (2).

Berrien Springs and Lake Michigan Catholic are tied for the lead in the girls section with eight points apiece. Eau Claire is third (6), Hartford fourth (5), Bridgman fifth (4), Watervliet sixth (3), Galien seventh (2) and New Buffalo eighth (1).

The defending champions are Lake Michigan Catholic in the boys and Berrien Springs in the girls.

EXAMINE AMMUNITION: Ontario, Calif., police officers examine some of ammunition and explosives found in the yard and garage of Donald G. Wiggins of Ontario here early Friday morning. Ontario said Wiggins had been under surveillance since Sunday, when the first cache was found near Lancaster, some 50 miles north of Los Angeles. (AP Wirephoto)

LINKED TO RIGHT-WING EXTREMISTS

Huge Munitions Cache Found Near LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A munitions cache found in the desert 30 miles east of here and large enough to supply a 200-man military company appears to have been stockpiled by right-wing extremists, authorities say.

"We are satisfied at this point that a large group of people were behind this, people who are potentially dangerous," Los Angeles County Sheriff Peter Pitchess told a news conference.

He said investigators suspect there are more buried caches.

The eight tons of machine guns, mortars, grenades, ammunition and an antitank bazooka have been linked to a man who had Nazi and other right-wing literature at his home, authorities said.

A spokesman at the U.S. Army 70th Ordnance Disposal Team, which is helping investigators identify the munitions, said the material had been military stock but it wasn't yet known where it had come from.

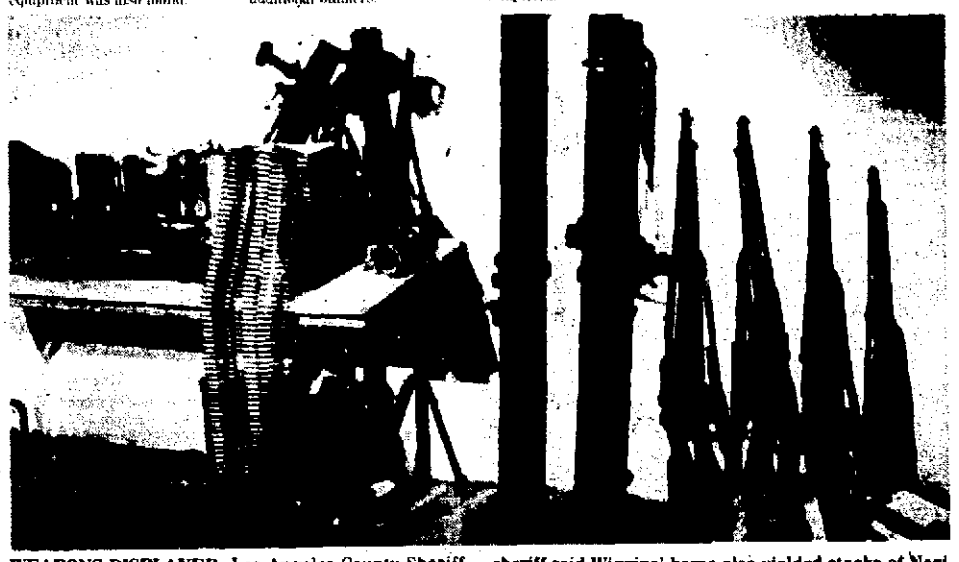

Donald Wiggins, 41, of Ontario, Calif., was booked Friday for investigation of possessing destructive devices and machine guns after leading investigators to the cache at his home and a foundry he owns in nearby Pomona. He was being held on $15,000 bail.

Pitchess said the literature found in Wiggins' home — anti-Jewish, Nazi and anti-Communist propaganda — had originated with several revolutionary organizations. Food, survival supplies and protective equipment was also found.

The U.S. Air Force was called on Friday to fly a reconnaissance mission over the desert area to take infrared photographs expected to show spots where earth may have been broken for additional bunkers.

Sheriff's explosive experts already have blown up five tons of highly dangerous material found in desert bunkers, and will destroy the remainder after the air reconnaissance is completed.

Wiggins told investigators that a man named Jeff Martin had acquired and stored the munitions in the desert near Lancaster, at Wiggins' home and at the foundry, Pitchess said.

WEAPONS DISPLAYED: Los Angeles County Sheriff said Friday these weapons were part of eight tons of munitions found on property owned by Donald Wiggins of suburban Ontario, east of Los Angeles. The sheriff said Wiggins' home also yielded stacks of Nazi and right-wing literature. Wiggins told police another man stored the material on his property. (AP Wirephoto)

Pitchess said he did not yet know who Martin was; but deputies investigating the Ontario cache said the man they are seeking had given Wiggins $17,000 in $20 bills, supposedly as a loan to help finance the foundry.

"We are assuming that the name (Martin) is correct and that he (Wiggins) is not trying to establish a fall guy," said sheriff's detective Ron Moya. "We are not totally satisfied with what he said. There are several conflicts, but we think he's trying to make a clean breast of it."

Wiggins' mother, Edna Methe, said, "My son's politics, if anything, are right wing."

She offered this explanation for her son's predicament:

A friend of her son's named Jeff Martin of Los Angeles loaned her son $17,000 to finance his foundry in Pomona and asked to store some containers in 1974, returning intermittently to store more drums and canisters since then.

Her son accidentally knocked over one of the canisters two weeks ago, opened it, found what he believed were machine gun parts and then buried it.

Free Emphysema Tests Slated

The Northern Berrien county Tuberculosis and Emphysema association will provide free tests for emphysema at several locations in the next two weeks, according to Mrs. Mary DeFoe, chairman of the local association.

Mrs. DeFoe said a breathing capacity testing unit, which tests for emphysema, will be available at the following times and locations:

Dec. 16 and 22 — Senior citizens building, 500 Main street, St. Joseph, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Dec. 17 — Senior citizens building, 53 Wall street, Benton Harbor, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Dec. 20 and 21 — Fairplain Plaza, Brick Alley mall, Benton township, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 5 to 8 p.m.

Blood pressure tests will also be available at the locations at the same time, Mrs. DeFoe said.

The Northern Berrien county Tuberculosis and Emphysema association recently purchased the breathing capacity testing unit. A positive pressure breathing unit for use by emphysema and asthma patients also is available for loan, according to Mrs. DeFoe.

Mrs. DeFoe said a written request is required from a physician for a patient to use the positive pressure breating unit. A qualified person is sent with the unit to show a person how to use and clean it and mix the medication which the doctor prescribes, she said.

The Northern Berrien county Tuberculosis and Emphysema association is currently conducting a local seal fund-raising campaign, according to Mrs. DeFoe.

Two Men Face Drunk Driving Felony Charges

Two men charged with driving under the influence of intoxicants, third offense, demanded preliminary examinations in Berrien District court Friday.

Clyde Hall, 42, of 801 Ansley drive, St. Joseph, was arrested on the charge Dec. 4 in Royalton township. After arraignment he was jailed under $1,000 bond.

James Blue, 48, of 121 Frederick street, Benton township, is charged with the offense Dec. 9 in Benton township. He was jailed under $1,500 bond.

Driving under the influence of intoxicants is a misdemeanor, but the third conviction within a 10-year period is a felony punishable by a one-to five-year term in prison.

Others demanding examinations were:

Hilbert J. Manning, 49, of East 16th avenue, Bangor, accused of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder against Halton West in Benton Harbor Oct. 26. He was jailed under $1,000 bond.

Police: Niles Pair Had Suspected Policy Slips

By STEVE McQUOWN
Assistant State Editor

NEW BUFFALO — A Niles man and woman killed in a truck-car crash Thursday night here had some $1,200 and five suspected policy (illegal lottery) slips in their possession, a state police detective confirmed Friday.

Det. Sgt. James Gunderson of the Benton Harbor post said the money was turned over to relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnson by the Smith funeral home in New Buffalo.

He said he doubted whether there would be a further investigation of the so-called numbers or policy slips. There were numbers but no identification about where the slips originated, Gunderson said.

Johnson, 60, and his wife Hattie, former Chicago residents who moved to Niles about four years ago, were killed instantly when their car slammed into the rear of a semi-truck on I-94 south of New Buffalo.

The crash occurred shortly after the truck had jackknifed on I-94, breaking electrical wires to the truck's rear lights, accident investigators reported. The investigation of the accident is continuing, according to police.

Detroiter Convicted Of Armed Assault

A Detroit man accused of snatching a pistol from a state policeman's holster and pointing the gun at the officer was convicted Friday in Berrien Circuit court of assault with a deadly weapon.

Jurors deliberated only one-half hour before returning the guilty verdict against Willie Lewis Dortch, 26, to end a 1½-day trial in Judge William S. White's court. Following the verdict, White revoked Dortch's bond authorization and remanded him to the county jail to await a sentence of up to four years in prison.

Dortch was charged with assaulting Trooper James Delgado, of the Benton Harbor state police post, July 5 alongside I-94 in Benton township. Delgado testified he stopped a car for speeding and while talking to the driver, Dortch, a passenger, snatched his service revolver from his holster.

The trooper said he talked to Dortch, then moved behind his patrol car and got another gun. He said he fired a shot which hit the door of the car he had stopped, and Dortch then dropped the service revolver and surrendered.

Opposing counsel during the trial were Assistant Prosecutor Scott Beatty and Detroit Atty. Barry Solomon.

LMC Law Enforcement Program Is Commended

Lake Michigan college's law enforcement education program has received a state commendation for the quality of its work with basic police recruits.

A letter of commendation from the Michigan Law Enforcement officers Training council (MLEOTC) indicated that the LMC Basic Police Academy class that graduated last October scored the highest post-test class average to date among the 14 regional training academies in Michigan in matters regarding traffic law enforcement.

The test, administered by MLEOTC representatives just prior to the Oct. 29 graduation, covered such areas as motor vehicle law, driver licensing, motor vehicles accident investigation, driving under the influence of intoxicant enforcement, traffic direction and control, and techniques and methods of traffic law enforcement.

The traffic law enforcement exam was the test used this year by the MLEOTC throughout Michigan to check on the efficiency of the recruit academies, to test the graduating officers themselves, and to validate and standardize the test for future use. Last year the MLEOTC tested the legal section of the recruit training program on a state-wide basis.

A letter to LMC President James L. Lehman from Leslie Van Beveran, MLEOTC executive secretary, stated: "On behalf of the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council, I would like to give special recognition to Michael Devine and Neil Teske for outstanding performance and dedication to law enforcement training and education."

Sheriff Deputy Lt. Devine is coordinator of the LMC law enforcement training program, and Teske is assistant coordinator.

The October recruit class singled out for commendation by the council, a division of the Michigan Department of State Police, was the 11th to be graduated from LMC's program since 1971, the year police recruit training became mandatory in the state.

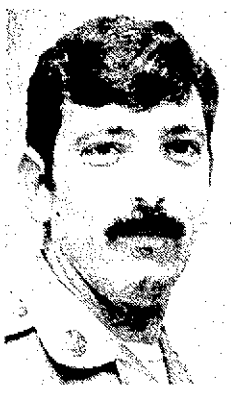

Although, 362 recruits from 34 different counties have been graduated from LMC's Basic Police academy. Counties sending the greatest number of recruits to LMC over the years have been Berrien, Cass, Kent, Van Buren, Calhoun, and Allegan, in that order.

LMC's Basic Police academy is a part of the total law enforcement, criminal justice, and public safety programs taught at the college. Others include advanced law enforcement training; correction, probation, and parole training; industrial security and public safety; and court management.

The college also offers a variety of short-courses in basic and advanced police work as part of an on-going in-service training program for area law enforcement officers. Many of these short-courses are designed to enable area officers to keep up-to-date regarding new police techniques and procedures.

LMC began an associate degree program in law enforcement in 1969. The first courses offered in the fall of that year had a collective enrollment of 200 for all classes. In the spring of 1976, seven years later, the program offered 32 courses during the first semester with a collective enrollment of 615.

Army Assigns Two To Plaza

SSG. ROBERT PETERSEN

SGT. CHARLES DAGGETT

The Army has assigned Staff Sergeant Robert Petersen and Sergeant Charles Daggett to the Army Recruiting office at Fairplain Plaza. They join station commander Sergeant First Class George Johnson.

A 10-year Army veteran, SSG Petersen has been a recruiter in Michigan for the past four years. He comes to Benton Harbor from the Army office in Niles. Before volunteering for recruiting duty, he was an infantry specialist.

Sgt. Daggett, a four-year Army veteran, just completed the Army's recruiter training course at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., and Benton Harbor is his initial recruiting assignment. A native of Orlando, Fla., his last assignment was in Denver, Colo. at Fitzsimons Army Hospital as a medical records specialist. He earlier served in Hawaii for three years. His wife, Donna Lee, recently spent a three-year Army tour of duty as a medical records specialist and is now a civilian.

Student Choirs To Sing For Shut-Ins

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Students from Berrien Springs high school and Sylvester elementary school here will present Christmas musical programs next week for patients at Berrien General hospital and three area nursing homes. The Swingers, a 16-voice chorus from the high school, will sing carols at the Arcadia, Sunset Manor and Bry-Fern nursing homes and the Gateway Sheltered workshop on Tuesday, Dec. 14. On Thursday, Dec. 16, the Swingers will sing in the wards at Berrien General from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m., according to an announcement from school officials. The Sylvester Singers, a 100-member choir of fourth and fifth graders, will sing carols at Berrien General's extended care facility from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, Dec. 16.

Haupt Will Bequeaths $200,000

Probate proceedings have been initiated in Berrien Probate court on the estimated $200,000 estate of Mrs. Josephine W. Haupt, formerly of Benton Harbor.

Mrs. Haupt died Sept. 11 in New Jersey, and her 1964 will lists personal property valued at $200,000. The will bequeaths jewelry to her grandaughters, Josephine and Margaret Haupt, and asks that the rest of the estate be divided equally between her sons, Dr. Edward C. Haupt, of Higman Park in Benton township, and Caspar Haupt, Jr., of Montreal, and a daughter, Martha H. Carter, of Ohio.

Police In Benton Use Tracking Dog

The theft of a purse at knifepoint from a Benton township woman last night was investigated by state police who used a tracking dog in a field located in the heavily commercialized area off M-139 near Napier avenue.

Mrs. Cletus Burns, 62, of 1376 St. James, told Trooper James Bos of the Benton Harbor post her purse containing $50 and papers was seized as she approached the passenger door of an auto in the lot of Pic-Way Shoes, 1611 M-139. Mrs. Burns was reported unhurt and the purse minus money and papers was later located on Milton near Napier, a little over a block away.

Mrs. Burns said two youths about 14 approached her and one grabbed the purse, threatened to shoot, but then pulled a knife. The pair ran across M-139 and into a field in a westerly direction. A tracking dog was unable to trail the suspects, it was reported. Mrs. Burns was accompanied by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Burns, 1412 Downing, Benton township, when the robbery occurred about 8 p.m.

Larry S. Curry, 709 Broadway, Benton Harbor, told city police at 10:20 p.m. Friday that his 1968 maroon and black Ford LTD was stolen from a lot where it was parked near his home.

Other thefts reported to Benton Harbor police were stereo equipment and a radio valued at $188 from the home of LeRoy Gulledge, 824 Ogden avenue; and clothing valued at $711 owned by Eddie White and stolen from his room at Milner hotel, 250 East Main street.

Teen Fined, Told To Repay Driver

A Benton Harbor teenager was ordered to make restitution of $500 as a part of his Berrien District court sentence yesterday for petty larceny of money from a truck driver. Sentenced to make restitution and pay fine and costs of $200 was Milton D. McGee, 19, of 1043 Agard avenue.

McGee was originally charged with the March 16, unarmed robbery of $500 from Joe Pratl, a driver for Bud Kerly Sales, Inc. Pratl told police he scuffled with a man at the corner of Broadway and Empire avenues, Benton Harbor, during a daylight robbery witnessed by several people, none of whom aided him. Yesterday McGee pleaded no contest to a reduced charge of petty larceny and was sentenced by District Judge Ronald J. Taylor. He was released after paying restitution to Bud Kerly Sales, Stevensville, and his fines and costs.

Battered Wives Striking Back In High Court

NEW YORK (AP) — Victims of what they call "the most popular sport in the United States" — wife beating — have decided to fight back.

Twelve of them have filed suit in state Supreme Court on behalf of themselves and all other battered wives, charging that the police and Family Court aid and abet the wifebeaters by refusing to prosecute or by dragging their feet.

The typical police reaction to a charge of wife-beating, said the plaintiffs, is, "Because you are married, we cannot help you."

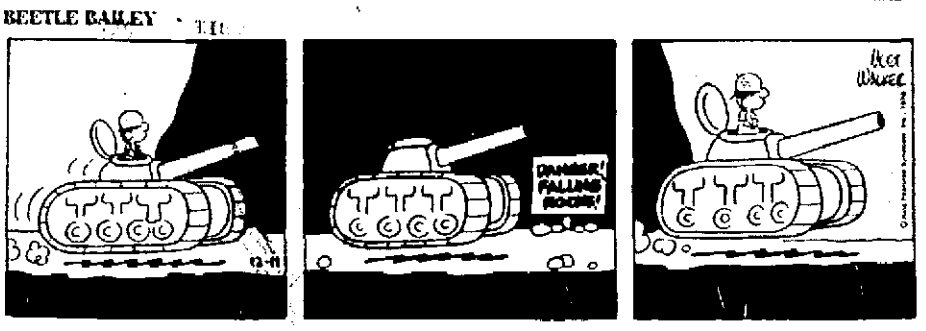

New Warship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rohr Marine Inc. of San Diego has received a $159.9-million contract from the Navy to design a type of warship to ride on an air bubble at speeds about three times that of conventional ships.

The Navy said it wants a fleet of destroyer-size vessels that would be armed with missiles and could speed through the open ocean on a variety of missions.

WALL STREET REPORT

Proposed Tax Cut Gives Stocks Push

By CHET CURRIER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Talk of a tax cut to stimulate the economy gave the stock market a strong upward push this past week in the busiest trading in nine months.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks climbed 22.60 to 973.15, reaching its highest level since early October.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock composite index recorded a 1.94 gain to 104.70, and the New York Stock Exchange composite index picked up 1.13 to 56.33.

Big Board volume averaged 26.66 million shares a day, providing brokers with a nice year-end infusion of business. It was the busiest week since March 8-12, when the daily average was 27.25 million.

Topic A all week on Wall Street was the possibility of some early moves by President-elect Carter to pump some life into the recently sluggish economy.

Emissaries from several different groups proposed to Carter a combination of tax reductions and spending increases on the order of $15 billion.

Carter remained noncommittal about what he might decide. But Thomas "Bert" Lance, who has been named to be the new President's budget chief, said he believed Carter would choose to push for a tax cut, and investors seemed to be thinking the same thing.

In addition, Wall Street seemed to be going on the assumption that a tax cut would prove to be the proper medicine for the economy's ills.

The market drew additional support from a falling prime lending rate. New York's Morgan Guaranty Trust lowered its prime from 6¼ to 6 per cent, and numerous other banks cut their basic rates on blue-chip loans from 6½ to 6¼.

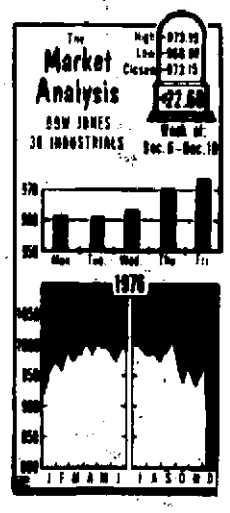

American Telephone & Telegraph was a market leader in the past week, hitting a series of 10 year highs. The stock, a favorite of yield-conscious investors, benefitted from the downtrend in interest rates.

Rohr Industries shares jumped ahead as the company won a big Navy contract.

Advances outnumbered declines 1,345 to 401 among the 2,107 NYSE-listed issues traded during the week.

Highs for the year outnumbered lows 402 to 20.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index picked up 3.05 to 103.20.

HIGHER: Dow Jones average closed at 973.15 Friday, up 22.60 from the week before. Analysts attributed gains to news of widespread prime rate cuts and favorable government report on retail sales. (AP Wirephoto)

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Bonds Rarely Good Inflation Hedge

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. I've admired your columns for years but feel I can't agree with your statement a few weeks ago that bonds do not qualify as a hedge against inflation. Early in September, 1975, I bought AA and A grade utility bonds with an average yield of 10.2 per cent. I felt interest rates had peaked. I am in my 70s and I now feel I made the right move.

A. I don't think we're really so far apart. You want me to reverse my statement about bonds, whereas I always qualify the use of bonds according to the investor involved. So it comes out to the same thing.

You made a good investment which will bring you $102 per $1,000 investment (unless of course, the issuing corporation decides to refund). That's an excellent return and you have every reason to be pleased. Evidently you feel that the 10.2 per cent income, assured by the quality of your bonds, is good enough to protect you against as much inflation as you are likely to encounter. Certainly, it could be counted as a 70 per cent increase over, for example, what you could get from a 6 per cent dividend — and that 70 per cent represents a good "lead" on foreseeable inflation. BUT —

That DOES NOT prove that a bond is an inflation hedge investment. A bond pays a fixed amount of interest dollars each year. Today, that $102 (per $1,000) will buy you, say, two pairs of good shoes. Next year or the year thereafter it may cover the cost of only one pair. You note in your letter that you feel the fight on inflation is making progress. I certainly hope so. But I wouldn't bet on it.

Under any president or any political party, inflation, as we have seen in recent years, has nothing to do with party labels.

So, you see, we've come full circle and are right back where we started. A man in his 70s should be quite satisfied with a 10.2 per cent return — even though fixed. But it would not be the complete answer, by far, for a man 10 or 15 years younger. And it could spell disaster in the 21st century for a young man just starting to build his retirement nest egg.

E Bond Interest Rules Liberalized: The Department of the Treasury has announced that E bonds will earn a minimum of 4 per cent even if held only two months after purchase. Heretofore E bonds earned no interest unless they were held for at least 6 months, and increased in value each 6 months thereafter.

Recent legislation has provided that any bond issued on or after Sept. 1, 1976, will pay at least 4 per cent interest if held for more than two months. Bonds will thus begin to receive interest in the third month after issue and their redemption value will increase each month until the 30th month after purchase, after which the increases will be on a semi-annual basis. The move is designed to help those bond owners who find they must redeem their bonds before maturity.

The new legislation does not affect Series H bonds. These continue to yield 5 per cent the first year, 5.8 per cent for the next four years and 6.5 per cent for the second five years, thus producing an average rate of 6 per cent when held to their full maturity period of 10 years.

Q. Please explain the symbols used in the bond listings. What is meant by coupon rate, yield, maturity? And I often see an "s" after an interest figure. What does that mean?

A. Bonds are usually identified in the following manner (and please bear in mind all publications do not use exactly the same column headings): "XYZ 7½s of '98."

XYZ is the name of the corporation which issued the bond; 7½s refers to the coupon rate — 7½ per cent, or $75 a year, interest paid on each $1,000 face amount; '98 refers to the year in which the bond comes due. The "s" after 7½ is merely a way of referring to this particular bond issue in exactly the same way the "s" on the end of the "Yankees" refers to members of that team.

Carton Swindle Charged

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley Friday filed an antitrust suit against 25 of the nation's largest manufacturers of folding cartons, charging them with conspiracy to fix prices.

Kelley, accusing the firms of violating the Sherman Antitrust Act, asked for damages of $300,000.

"Specifically we are charging that these 25 companies engaged in a conspiracy to illegally fix, raise and maintain the prices of folding cartons," he said.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Grand Rapids as a class action suit on behalf of the state and local communities.

"All of these units of government have purchased substantial quantities of folding cartons, and all have suffered from the conspiracy of these companies to maintain prices at artificial and noncompetitive levels," Kelley said.

Kelley charged in the suit that the companies exchanged cost and price information to permit them to submit noncompetitive bids to public agencies.

"We are asking the court to permanently enjoin and restrain these companies from continuing or renewing antitrust activities," Kelley said. "We are also asking that the court prevent them from disclosing price information except in connection with bonafide purchase or sales transactions."

None of the companies involved is headquartered in Michigan.

Thousands Return As Gas Clears

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Some 10,000 persons returned to their homes after a 42-mile-long cloud of poisonous chlorine gas that spewed from a ruptured tank at a chemical plant broke up in steady light wind and rain.

State police said not even a smell remained to indicate where the gas had been.

No injuries were reported, officers said.

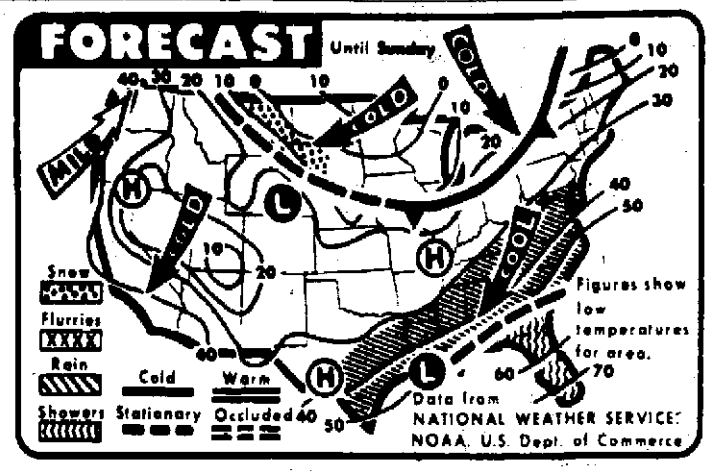

The gas from the tank at Allied Chemical Co. formed a yellowish-green triangle 42 miles long and four miles across.

The area it covered is largely cane fields, with the community of Scotlandville and Southern University the only heavily populated areas in the path of the cloud.

To keep people out of the area, authorities closed bridges, set up road blocks and halted boat traffic on the Mississippi River. Among the evacuees were 6,000 students from Southern University dormitories.

The cause of the tank rupture was not known, authorities said.

The gas spewed from the tank for about five hours, and plant officials said there was no way to cut off the flow.

TODAY'S WEATHER MAP: A wide band of rain is forecast today for the most of southern states, with showers for Florida. Snow is expected for the northern Plains. Most of the rest of the country will have seasonably cold temperatures. (AP Wirephoto)

Cocaine Possession OK, Judge In Boston Rules

BOSTON (AP) — Suffolk County prosecutor James Hayes says he'll continue to arrest cocaine users, despite a local judge's ruling that the state's ban on possession of cocaine is unconstitutional. "We'll keep arresting people if they use cocaine. This case has no precedent-setting effect," said Hayes after the decision Friday by Roxbury District Court Judge Elwood McKinney, who also said the drug is less dangerous than alcohol or cigarettes. Hayes said he would not appeal the ruling, which does not affect enforcement of the law because district court rulings do not set precedents for other courts.

In dismissing a case against a man charged with possession of cocaine, McKinney said, "Defendant has introduced factual evidence that there is no proof that cocaine endangers the individual or society in any significant way. Unless, then, there is benefit flowing to a public interest, legislation restricting individual freedom is a violation of due process of law." Defense lawyers had produced testimony from five expert witnesses, among them Harvard psychiatrist Norman Zinberg, and Richard Ashley, author of the book, "Cocaine."

In his 23-page written decision, the judge said:

—Both alcohol and nicotine, the drug in tobacco, are more dangerous than cocaine.

—No one has ever died from using cocaine socially.

—The drug is a mild stimulant that produces a feeling of euphoria, but people who sniff it are able to keep control of themselves.

A first conviction for possession of cocaine in Massachusetts carries a jail sentence of up to one year and a fine of up to $1,000. McKinney noted that when cocaine was banned, it was considered to be a narcotic. "This erroneous classification, and the attendant legal ramifications, results from generations of ignorance, from myths connected with the drug, and from blatantly racist attacks on cocaine users, all of which are now destroyed by reliable scientific data," he said.

Strong Defense Planned For New Gilmore Trial

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Attorneys for convicted killer Gary Gilmore, who insisted he wanted no one to appeal his death sentence, say they will vigorously defend him if he stands trial on a second murder charge.

Gilmore, convicted of the July 20 murder of Provo motel clerk Bennie Bushnell, faces a second murder charge in the July 19 shooting death of Orem gas station attendant Max Jensen.

Gilmore's attorney, Ronald Stanger, said Friday the defense would "make the state prove its case" if Gilmore goes on trial again.

Setting of a trial date on the second charge was postponed Friday when Stanger asked 4th District Court Judge George Ballif to allow Gilmore to be in court for all hearings. Ballif said he'd rule on the request Wednesday.

Stanger said he had expected the U.S. Supreme Court to rule Friday on whether it would review Gilmore's death sentence, but no word came from Washington on the court's decision. Gilmore's firing squad execution on the first conviction has been stayed by the Supreme Court at the request of Gilmore's bed-ridden mother, Bessie Gilmore of Milwaukee, Ore.

Gilmore probably will be able to talk to her on the phone during the weekend, said Stanger. Earlier, Gilmore urged her to withdraw her petition to the Supreme Court. He told her he wants his death sentence carried out without lengthy appeals that would force him to spend years of uncertainty in prison.

Currently housed in the prison's infirmary, Gilmore is continuing a hunger strike he started Nov. 19 because he hasn't been allowed to talk to his girlfriend, Nicole Barrett. Stanger estimated Gilmore has lost between 30 and 40 pounds.

Mrs. Barrett, who has been involuntarily committed to the Utah State Hospital, attempted to commit suicide with Gilmore following the first of three stays of his execution.

Prison officials say that, if it appears his hunger strike will endanger his life, the state attorney general's office has ruled prison guards may force feed him to keep him alive until his case is decided by the courts.

Suit Asks $100,000 For Fall

A Berrien Springs man has filed suit in Berrien Circuit court seeking $100,000 damages for injuries he allegedly sustained when he slipped and fell on an icy sidewalk.

The plaintiff, Robert V. Boromisa, claims he was injured Dec. 11, 1973, when he slipped outside a door as he was leaving one of the buildings in the 777 Riverview drive, Benton Harbor, complex.

Named defendant in the suit was Consumers Investment Co., owner of the complex.

The suit contends the firm failed to maintain safe premises, and because of Boromisa's shoulder and back injuries, he will be unable to return to his employment with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers by May, 1978.

NLRB Is Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board is being charged by some of its lawyers with the same sort of violations the agency enforces against private employers.

In an unfair labor practices complaint filed with the Labor Department earlier this week and made public Friday, the NLRB Professional Association said board officials improperly imposed a requirement that all new employes pledge to work for the agency for at least three years.

The association, the collective-bargaining agent for the approximately 175 non-supervisory attorneys employed by the NLRB in Washington, said the board failed to bargain with a recognized employe representative, unilaterally changed working conditions and negotiated individually with employes.

Berrien Christmas In Hawaii

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP) — Mount Pleasant residents are sending 26 Christmas trees to Hawaii as part of a program to give Honolulu citizens a taste of an old fashioned Michigan Christmas.

Twelve varieties of trees, including spruce, scotch pine and balsam, will go on display as part of Operation Aloha.

Hundreds of pounds of Christmas goodies, decorations, handmade stuffed toys and Michigan apples, all donated by Mount Pleasant residents, also are on their way to children's hospitals and schools in Honolulu. Gifts also are to be sent to a leper colony at Kalaupapa.

It is the third year for the Christmas program, sponsored by local radio stations in Mount Pleasant and Honolulu.

State PBB Meeting Is Jan. 4

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Dr. Irving J. Selikoff, a scientist who probed the effects of PBB on humans, will meet Jan. 4 with top state officials to discuss the potential impact of the poisoning.

The meeting originally was scheduled for Tuesday but was postponed when Selikoff, of New York's Mt. Sinai Hospital, became ill.

He will meet with Gov. William Milliken, House Speaker Bobby Crim and Public Health Director Maurice Reizen.

Results of Selikoff's tests won't be made available for several months. PBB, a fire retardant chemical, was accidentally mixed into livestock feed in 1973 and shipped to farms around the state.

More than 1,000 Michigan farm residents were directly exposed to the poison.

WALL STREET REPORT

Proposed Tax Cut Gives Stocks Push

By CHET CURRIER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Talk of a tax cut to stimulate the economy gave the stock market a strong upward push this past week in the busiest trading in nine months.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks climbed 22.60 to 973.15, reaching its highest level since early October.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock composite index recorded a 1.94 gain to 104.70, and the New York Stock Exchange composite index picked up 1.13 to 56.33.

Big Board volume averaged 26.66 million shares a day, providing brokers with a nice year-end infusion of business. It was the busiest week since March 8-12, when the daily average was 27.25 million.

Topic A all week on Wall Street was the possibility of some early moves by President-elect Carter to pump some life into the recently sluggish economy.

Emissaries from several different groups proposed to Carter a combination of tax reductions and spending increases on the order of $15 billion.

Carter remained noncommittal about what he might decide. But Thomas "Bert" Lance, who has been named to be the new President's budget chief, said he believed Carter would choose to push for a tax cut, and investors seemed to be thinking the same thing.

In addition, Wall Street seemed to be going on the assumption that a tax cut would prove to be the proper medicine for the economy's ills.

The market drew additional support from a falling prime lending rate. New York's Morgan Guaranty Trust lowered its prime from 6¼ to 6 per cent, and numerous other banks cut their basic rates on blue-chip loans from 6½ to 6¼.

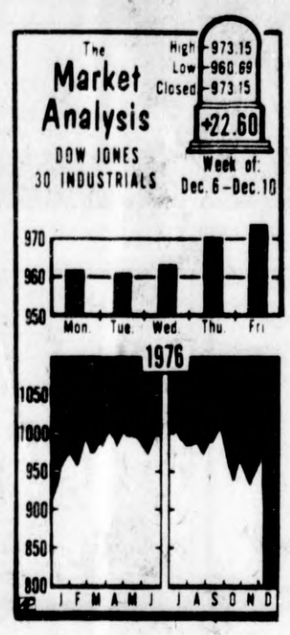

American Telephone & Telegraph was a market leader in the past week, hitting a series of 10 year highs. The stock, a favorite of yield-conscious investors, benefitted from the downtrend in interest rates.

Rohr Industries shares jumped ahead as the company won a big Navy contract.

Advances outnumbered declines 1,545 to 401 among the 2,107 NYSE-listed issues traded during the week.

Highs for the year outnumbered lows 402 to 20.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index picked up 3.05 to 103.20.

HIGHER: Dow Jones average closed at 973.15 Friday, up 22.60 from the week before. Analysts attributed gains to news of widespread prime rate cuts and favorable government report on retail sales. (AP Wirephoto)

BH Woman Gets Award Of $3,500

A Benton Harbor woman injured when a car crashed through the wall of a hair salon in which she was sitting was awarded $3,500 damages Friday by a Berrien Circuit court jury.

Jurors in Judge Julian E. Hughes' court deliberated about one hour before returning he verdict in favor of Mary Lou Bankman. The judgment went against Robert Carter, Jr., of Benton Harbor, defendant in the case.

Mrs. Bankman claimed she was injured March 24, 1972, while sitting inside Robert's Hair Fashions, at 275 East Empire avenue, Benton Harbor. A car driven by Carter left Empire and smashed into the front of the beauty shop, and Mrs. Bankman sustained a back injury when struck by debris from the falling wall, according to testimony.

Although Carter's mother, Verbina, was also named a defendant, the jury only assessed damages against the son. The original suit for Mrs. Bankman sought $50,000 damages. Opposing counsel in the two-day trial were Cassopolis Atty. Dennis Tushla, representing Mrs. Bankman, and the defense was presented by St. Joseph Attys. Edward Yampolsky and John Rohm and Niles Atty. Charles La Sata.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Bonds Rarely Good Inflation Hedge

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. I've admired your column for years but feel I can't agree with your statement a few weeks ago that bonds do not qualify as a hedge against inflation. Early in September, 1975, I bought AA and A grade utility bonds with an average yield of 10.2 per cent. I felt interest rates had peaked. I am in my 70s and I now feel I made the right move.

A. I don't think we're really so far apart. You want me to reverse my statement about bonds, whereas I always qualify the use of bonds according to the investor involved. So it comes out to the same thing.

You made a good investment which will bring you $102 per $1,000 investment (unless of course, the issuing corporation decides to refund). That's an excellent return and you have every reason to be pleased. Evidently you feel that the 10.2 per cent income, assured by the quality of your bonds, is good enough to protect you against as much inflation as you are likely to encounter. Certainly, it could be counted as a 70 per cent increase over, for example, what you could get from a 6 per cent dividend — and that 70 per cent represents a good "lead" on foreseeable inflation. BUT —

That DOES NOT prove that a bond is an inflation hedge investment. A bond pays a fixed amount of interest dollars each year. Today, that $102 (per $1,000) will buy you, say, two pairs of good shoes. Next year or the year thereafter it may cover the cost of only one pair. You note in your letter that you feel the fight on inflation is making progress. I certainly hope so. But I wouldn't bet on it. ...under any president or any political party. Inflation, as we have seen in recent years, has nothing to do with party labels.

So, you see, we've come full circle and are right back where we started. A man in his 70s should be quite satisfied with a 10.2 per cent return — even though fixed. But it would not be the complete answer, by far, for a man 10 or 15 years younger. And it could spell disaster in the 21st century for a young man just starting to build his retirement nest egg.

Gilmore probably will be able to talk to her on the phone during the weekend, said Stanger. Earlier, Gilmore urged her to withdraw her petition to the Supreme Court. He told her he wants his death sentence carried out without lengthy appeals that would force him to spend years of uncertainty in prison.

Currently housed in the prison's infirmary, Gilmore is continuing a hunger strike he started Nov. 19 because he hasn't been allowed to talk to his girlfriend, Nicole Barrett. Stanger estimated Gilmore has lost between 30 and 40 pounds.

Mrs. Barrett, who has been involuntarily committed to the Utah State Hospital, attempted to commit suicide with Gilmore following the first of three stays of his execution.

Prison officials say that, if it appears his hunger strike will endanger his life, the state attorney general's office has ruled prison guards may force feed him to keep him alive until his case is decided by the courts.

Michigan Christmas In Hawaii

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP) — Mount Pleasant residents are sending 26 Christmas trees to Hawaii as part of a program to give Honolulu citizens a taste of an old fashioned Michigan Christmas.

Twelve varieties of trees, including spruce, scotch pine and balsam, will go on display as part of Operation Aloha.

Hundreds of pounds of Christmas goodies, decorations, handmade stuffed toys and Michigan apples, all donated by Mount Pleasant residents, also are on their way to children's hospitals and schools in Honolulu. Gifts also are to be sent to a leper colony at Kalaupapa.

It is the third year for the Christmas program, sponsored by local radio stations in Mount Pleasant and Honolulu.

Suit Asks $100,000 For Fall

A Berrien Springs man has filed suit in Berrien Circuit court seeking $100,000 damages for injuries he allegedly sustained when he slipped and fell on an icy sidewalk.

The plaintiff, Robert V. Boromisa, claims he was injured Dec. 11, 1973, when he slipped outside a door as he was leaving one of the buildings in the 777 Riverview drive, Benton Harbor, complex.

Named defendant in the suit was Consumers Investment Co., owner of the complex.

The suit contends the firm failed to maintain safe premises, and because of Boromisa's shoulder and back injuries, he will be unable to return to his employment with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers by May, 1978.

VICTIM: Argentinan police have arrested a man described as a former aide of Adolf Eichmann as the rape-slayer of 5-year-old Claudio Quintana, above. Police found the boy's body last week in woods near San Fernando, 20 miles north of Buenos Aires. (AP Wirephoto)

NLRB Is Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board is being charged by some of its lawyers with the same sort of violations the agency enforces against private employers.

In an unfair labor practices complaint filed with the Labor Department earlier this week and made public Friday, the NLRB Professional Association said board officials improperly imposed a requirement that all new employes pledge to work for the agency for at least three years.

The association, the collective-bargaining agent for the approximately 175 non-supervisory attorneys employed by the NLRB in Washington, said the board failed to bargain with a recognized employe representative, unilaterally changed working conditions and negotiated individually with employes.

NOTICE

TO: THE RESIDENTS OF ST. JOSEPH TOWNSHIP

Take notice that the Township Planning Commission of St. Joseph Township will hold a public hearing on December 14, 1976, at the Fairplain West School in said Township to consider the following changes in the zoning ordinances:

At 7:10 p.m. re signs:

Under Section 11.02 Permitted Signs - All Districts

Add Paragraph 2. Parking Area Signs, subject to the following:

(a) One sign per parking area or lot, designating the conditions of use or identity of such parking area and limited to a maximum size of nine (9) square feet, shall be permitted. On a corner lot, two (2) such signs, one facing each street, shall be permitted.

(b) Signs designating parking area entrances or exists are limited to one sign for each such entrance or exit and to a maximum size of two (2) square feet each.

Under 11.03 Paragraph 1b., revise as follows:

b. For Sale and To Rent Signs, subject to the following:

Delete sub-paragraph (1) in its entirety and replace with the following:

(1) Area and Number.
No sign shall exceed a total of seven (7) square feet in area. Additional auxiliary or satellite signs in conjunction with the main sign shall be considered in the computation of the total sign area allowable. Only one such sign per zoning lot shall be permitted. On a corner lot, two (2) such signs, one facing each street, shall be permitted.

Revise sub-paragraph (3) as follows:

(3) Height. No sign or post or standard shall project higher than five (5) feet above ground level.

Add sub-paragraph (4) as follows:

(4) Width. Signs and supports shall not exceed four (4) feet in width.

At 7:45 p.m. to consider a request of Marlene Thompson for a special use permit for home occupation, specifically a one-chair beauty salon, located on Lot No. 3 of Donna Park Subdivision No. 2, also known as 534 Ansley Drive, St. Joseph Township.

Please take further notice that the tentative text of the above proposed changes may be examined prior to the date of the hearing during normal business hours at the Fairplain Township Hall.

Federal Jury Convicts Two In Boat Case

GRAND RAPIDS — A federal court jury has found two of three Elkhart, Ind., men guilty of charges brought against them in connection with the theft of some $30,000 in boats recovered in Cass county in August.

Dean Phelps, FBI agent at Benton Harbor, said the U.S. District court jury found Nick John Popvits, 37, and Lindell Otto Myrick, 44, each guilty of charges of possession of stolen property and conspiracy to possess stolen property.

Charges against Howard Myrick, the 21-year-old son of Howard Myrick, were dismissed for lack of evidence, Phelps said.

Popvits and Lindell Myrick face a maximum prison term of 15 years. No date has been set for sentencing.

The five new boats were found in dense undergrowth near Union in Cass county on Aug. 24. Federal authorities determined they were the same boats on a truck rig driven from a Bondurant, Iowa, truck stop between May 19-20.

Phelps said Cecil Watkins, the truck driver who originally reported the boats stolen, refused to testify at the trial, claiming the right to protect himself against self incrimination.

Phelps said an investigation is continuing into what part the Ocola, Fla., truck driver may have had in the theft of the boats.

He said Popvits remains in custody in lieu of bail and Myrick was released after posting $10,000 bond.

The trial started Tuesday and ended Thursday night, Phelps added.

Area Won't Receive Snow-Removal Aid

LANSING — No counties in southwestern Michigan had enough snow during the 1975-76 winter to qualify for annual snow-removal assistance payments, according to the state highway commission. The commission said that 38 of the state's 83 counties recorded more than 80 inches of snow last winter and thus became eligible to share $1,820,742 in snow removal assistance payments from state gas and weight taxes.

A county must record a minimum of 80 inches of accumulated snowfall to qualify for the payments. The largest snow removal payment will go to Houghton county which recorded 211.78 inches of snowfall last winter, a commission spokesman said.

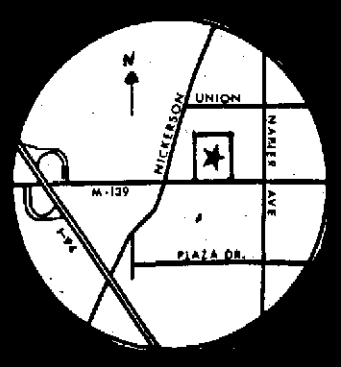

The spokesman said the most snowfall last winter was recorded by Keweenaw county, 227.39 inches. That county is to receive $23,761 in snow removal funds. Payments are based on accumulated depth of snowfall and number of miles of county roads.

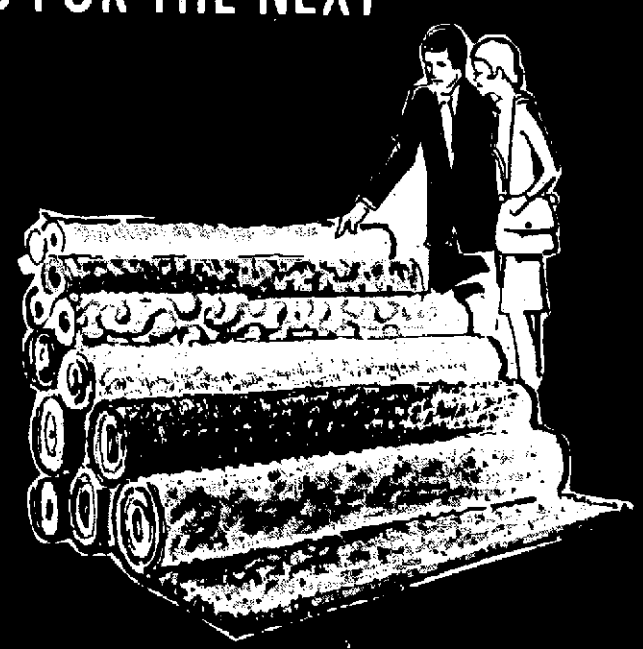

Among counties eligible for funds, Osceola had the least amount of snow last winter, 81.27 inches, and received the least in snow removal payments, $2,252.

Why Life Insurance?

Read and Save This Insurance Supplement For Future Reference

Because of today's tax structure and the increased cost of living due to the inflationary trend, the use of life insurance is the only way a man with a family can provide the security needed.

Life insurance today has a different meaning than it once did. Years ago a $1,000 policy was enough for the burial plus a few dollars extra, but today the cost of dying amounts to a great deal more than that.

First, there is the final expense to pay such as funeral cost, administrative expenses, unpaid current bills, medical expense caused by death plus a hand-full of other items.

Once this is cleared away the family faces the mortgage on the home. This need for life insurance is very clear to most people because of the capital it takes to get the home bought. Nobody wants to lose hard-earned money and life insurance can guarantee them a home debt free in case of a premature death.

Probably one of the most overlooked needs by most is that of continuing income for the family if the breadwinner dies. The life insurance industry terms this family income while the children are at home; income should be a least enough each month so enough. The life underwriter then coordinates enough insurance with social security income to guarantee the total amount needed by the family.

After high school comes college for most children and that means extra cash is needed over and above the necessary income for the family; therefore, most farsighted persons will include in their life insurance program a given amount of money to pay at least a part of the cost and some include enough to pay all the cost of continuing education, a college fund.

Now that the family has grown and left home there is mother all alone; after what she has been through I think you'll agree she deserves something, so why not set up a life insurance fund which will pay her $600 or $800 per month for the rest of her lifetime or a widow's income.

There are two main ways a family can lose its income: Number 1 — if the breadwinner dies too soon — or premature death; Number 2 — what if he lives to an age beyond which he can't work? This is the old-age death when income stops. Why not set aside in your program a few dollars each week to guarantee, if dad lives that long, that we start paying him. As you probably have guessed this is called retirement income; remember, the only difference between an old man and an elderly gentleman is money.

To summarize the needs again, they are:

1. Final Expenses or executor fund.
2. Mortgage cancellation.
3. Family income.
4. College fund for the children.
5. Widow's income.
6. Retirement income for yourself.

There are many other needs life insurance can help solve, but the basic needs for a family are the ones that have been mentioned. If you want more information, call your life insurance man and ask him to go over your program and explain each need as it pertains to your family situation.

mother can stay home with the children where she is needed.

Social Security can provide a monthly income base, but everyone agrees it is not

What Is Time?

We Are In A Contest With Time

Will we live long enough to earn our fortune? Will we plan soon enough to conserve our fortune?

Time could mean several things to many different people. I feel that when it comes right down to it, when most people stop and think about time, they are really asking themselves what am I going to do with my life. We all know that this gift is so precious we don't want to use it foolishly. In this fast world of society it is so easy to get caught in the web of being too busy to really live. We all take so much for granted these days. We have a tendency to forget that life can change very quickly. For example, a husband and father can get so wrapped up with his job, he sometimes forgets he is spending very little TIME with his family. He takes for granted his wife and children will be there when he has what he calls more TIME to spend with them. This can apply to the wife who is so busy doing "her thing" that when her husband comes home and is wanting to talk to her, she will say something like , this, "Oh, I am sorry, dear, I can't talk right now. I don't have the TIME." The children, especially those in high school or college sometimes feel they are so busy with their activities, they don't have TIME to talk with Mom and Dad because they feel they will be there tomorrow to talk to. So, what do we really mean "WHAT IS TIME?" Here are a few ideas that are very important:

To focus in on what God wants us to do with our alloted TIME.

To be aware of our surroundings.

Never be too busy for our fellowman so that when we are planning for the future, we keep our eyes and ears open to be willing to listen to other people with an open mind.

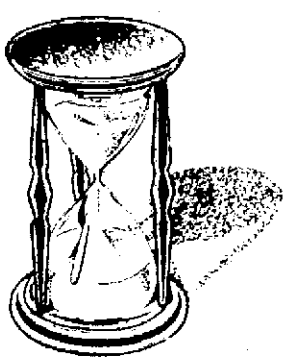

When you have decided what you are going to do with your life and have taken on added responsibilities, such as a family, then this is the TIME to consider life insurance in your planning. There are two major hazards which face all of us — dying too soon or living too long.

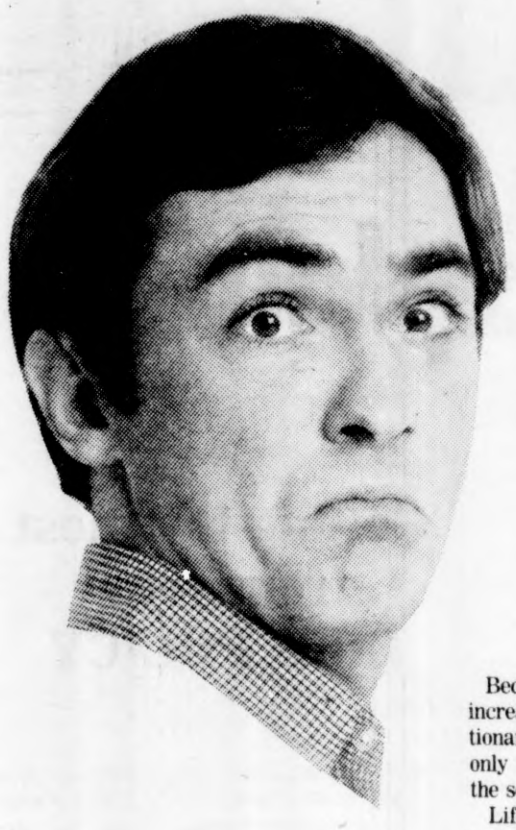

If you died prematurely and had provided for the family with life insurance, they will as least have financial security so that the mother will have the TIME to spend with the children to give them her love and guidance. This way the mother and children will have a broader perspective to seek and find what they want to do with their life.

If you live to retirement age, your insurance program will provide a considerable monthly income for the rest of your life.

We live in a great country, The United States of America, and we all have an equal opportunity and TIME to decide our future.

Will we live long enough to earn our fortune? Will we plan soon enough to conserve our fortune?

Glossary

Life Insurance Terms Explained

1. Accidental death benefit. A provision added to a life insurance policy for payment of an additional benefit in case of death as a result of accidental means. It is often called "double indemnity."

2. Automatic premium loan. A provision in a life insurance policy that any premium not paid by the end of the grace period (usually 31 days) be automatically paid by a policy loan if there is sufficient cash value.

3. Beneficiary. The person or instrument (e.g. trust) named in the policy, to whom the insurance money is to be paid at the death of the insured.

4. Cash surrender value (cash value). The amount available in cash upon surrender of a policy before it becomes payable by death or maturity.

5. Convertible term insurance. Term insurance providing the right to exchange it for a permanent plan of insurance without evidence of insurability.

6. Dividend. A return of part of the premium on participating insurance resulting from actual mortality, interest and expenses which were more favorable than the corresponding assumptions used in determining the premiums.

7. Family policy. A life insurance policy providing insurance on all or several family members in one contract, generally whole life insurance on the husband, whole life or term insurance on the wife, and smaller amounts of term insurance on the children, including automatic insurance at no increase in premium for those born after the policy is issued.

8. Grace period. A period (usually 31 days) following each premium due date, other than the first, during which an overdue premium may be paid. All provisions of the policy remain in force throughout this period.

9. Loan value. Under an insurance policy, the amount which can be borrowed at a specified rate of interest from the issuing company by the policy as collateral. In the event the policy matures with the debt partially or full unpaid, then the amount borrowed, plus any accrued interest, is deducted from the amount payable.

10. Reinstatement. The restoring of a lapsed policy to full force and effect. The company required evidence of insurability and payment of past due premiums.

11. Settlement option. One of the several ways, other than immediate payment in a lump sum, in which the insured or beneficiary may choose to have the policy proceeds paid.

12. Underwriting. The process of selecting risks and classifying them according to their degrees of insurability so that the appropriate premium rates may be charged. The process includes rejection of unacceptable risks.

13. Waiver of premium. A provision that under certain conditions an insurance policy will be kept in full force by the company without the payment of premiums. It is used most often as a total and permanent disability benefit, but may be available in certain other cases.

14. Endowment. Essentially a savings plan with insurance to protect the savings program against premature death.

15. Annuity. A vehicle to provide for the scientific liquidation of capital to arrange a life income.

16. Variable Annuity. A vehicle to provide for the scientific liquidation of capital to arrange a life income based on equity accumulation units that changes monthly based on unit value.

17. Disability income. This pays you when you are sick or hurt.

Getting the most from your LIFE POLICY

Your life insurance policy contract is a valuable piece of property. Do not give it up for a new policy without talking to your representative or writing to the Home Office of your company.

A representative of any company urging you to use the values of your present insurance to buy a new policy should submit a proposal to you in writing for your careful consideration.

It is considered a violation of law in most jurisdictions to sell insurance by means of misrepresentations, misleading statements, or by making incomplete comparisons of policy provisions and benefits.

Glossary

Life Insurance Terms Explained

1. Accidental death benefit. A provision added to a life insurance policy for payment of an additional benefit in case of death as a result of accidental means. It is often called "double indemnity."

2. Automatic premium loan. A provision in a life insurance policy that any premium not paid by the end of the grace period (usually 31 days) be automatically paid by a policy loan if there is sufficient cash value.

3. Beneficiary. The person or instrument (e.g. trust) named in the policy, to whom the insurance money is to be paid at the death of the insured.

4. Cash surrender value (cash value). The amount available in cash upon surrender of a policy before it becomes payable by death or maturity.

5. Convertible term insurance. Term insurance providing the right to exchange it for a permanent plan of insurance without evidence of insurability.

6. Dividend. A return of part of the premium on participating insuracne resulting from actual mortality, interest and expenses which were more favorable than the corresponding assumptions used in determining the premiums.

7. Family policy. A life insurance policy providing insurance on all or several family members in one contract, generally whole life insurance on the husband, whole life or term insurance on the wife, and smaller amounts of term insurance on the children, including automatic insurance at no increase in premium for those born after the policy is issued.

8. Grace period. A period (usually 31 days) following each premium due date, other than the first, during which an overdue premium may be paid. All provisions of the policy remain in force throughout this period.

9. Loan value. Under an insurance policy, the amount which can be borrowed at a specified rate of interest from the issuing company by the policy as collateral. In the event the policy matures with the debt partially or full unpaid, then the amount borrowed, plus any accrued interest, is deducted from the amount payable.

10. Reinstatement. The restoring of a lapsed policy to full force and effect. The company required evidence of insurability and payment of past due premiums.

11. Settlement option. One of the several ways, other than immediate payment in a lump sum, in which the insured or beneficiary may choose to have the policy proceeds paid.

12. Underwriting. The process of selecting risks and classifying them according to their degrees of insurability so that the appropriate premium rates may be charged. The process includes rejection of unacceptable risks.

13. Waiver of premium. A provision that under certain conditions an insurance policy will be kept in full force by the company without the payment of premiums. It is used most often as a total and permanent disability benefit, but may be available in certain other cases.

14. Endowment. Essentially a savings plan with insurance to protect the savings program against premature death.

15. Annuity. A vehicle to provide for the scientific liquidation of capital to arrange a life income.

16. Variable Annuity. A vehicle to provide for the scientific liquidation of capital to arrange a life income based on equity accumulation units that changes monthly based on unit value.

17. Disability income. This pays you when you are sick or hurt.

Getting the most from your LIFE POLICY

Your life insurance policy contract is a valuable piece of property. Do not give it up for a new policy without talking to your representative or writing to the Home Office of your company.

A representative of any company urging you to use the values of your present insurance to buy a new policy should submit a proposal to you in writing for your careful consideration.

It is considered a violation of law in most jurisdictions to sell insurance by means of misrepresentations, misleading statements, or by making incomplete comparisons of policy provisions and benefits.

Housewife
Her Value Increases

The housework done by an average American housewife was worth $4,705 in 1972, according to a study published by the Social Security Administration. That figure has since risen with inflation, Social Security researchers say, and is about $5,500 today.

For younger housewives — those in their late 20s or early 30s, with younger children at home and more housework — the figure is higher than the average for women of all ages, the study says.

It was a little more than $6,400 for younger women in 1972 according to the study — and is probably close to $7,500 now.

The estimates are contained in a brief report titled "Economic Value of a Housewife," written by researcher Wendyce H. Brody and published by Social Security's Office of Research and Statistics.

They are based on work done a few years ago at Cornell University. Time-motion studies were done by Cornell experts on a representative sample of housewives to see how much time they spent each week on each of their basic tasks — child care, cleaning, cooking, dishwashing, clotheswashing and so on.

These hours were multiplied by the prevailing hourly wage for each activity — how much commercial and private employers were paying in 1972 to dishwashers, cooks, cleaning women, "child-care" women, washing-machine operators, "clothing maintenance specialists," handymen and accounting clerks.

The Social Security study was done as part of a larger study to be published next month on the cost of illness in this country.

The illness-cost study — Social Security published one in 1968 — will have various uses, such as when Congress is deciding how much the government should spend to combat a particular disease.

According to the study, in 1972 the work of a housewife in her early 20s was worth a little more than $6,000. The figure rose to a little more than $6,400 in the late 20s and early 30s ages, was around $5,900 from ages 35 to 45, about $5,200 from 45 to 55 and progressively less thereafter.

The median weekly earnings of all full-time wage and salary workers, male and female, in 1972 was $144, or $7,488 for a 52-week year.

Partnership Insurance

In the absence of legal safeguards to avoid dissolution, a partnership automatically dissolves at the death or shortly after the death of any one of its partners. This results in cessation of normal partnership activities and the surviving partners become known as "liquidating trustees."

They cannot do any new business but must confine themselves to winding up the affairs of the partnership. If they continue the business, they may become personally liable for any losses incurred should the assets not cover such losses.

There are several ways to avoid these difficulties, one of which is an adequately financed buy-and-sell agreement providing for the purchase at a prearranged valuation of the deceased partner's interest. An attorney will draw up the necessary papers carrying out the wishes of the partners.

If a buy-and-sell agreement is decided upon the next step is to fund the arrangement, which can be done effectively through business insurance.

It enables the surviving partners to reorganize at once and continue in business. It liquidates the interest of the deceased partner without loss. It enables the beneficiaries of the deceased partner to secure full, fair value for his interest in the firm, at once and with a minimum of trouble. And it lends support to the credit standing of the firm.

'Business Life' Explained

What is business life insurance?

Business life insurance is used to protect a business or the family of a businessman from the financial loss which results from the death of someone associated with the business. Many billions of dollars worth of this protection is now in force, giving assurance of business continuity to the firms and full value of the business equity to the family of the deceased.

THERE IS NO BASIC difference between business life insurance and the life insurance used for personal and family needs. But the protection set up by business firms does involve many more complex details to meet legal, financial, tax and technical problems. It is life insurance custom-tailored to the individual business and probably no two plans are precisely alike in all details.

There are numerous specific purposes for which business life insurance is written. Chief among these are:

(1) Key-man protection to reimburse for loss or provide replacement in the event of the death of a key employe.

(2) Partnership insurance, to retire a partner's interest at death.

(3) Corporation insurance, to retire a shareholder's interest at death.

(4) Proprietorship insurance, to provide for maintenance of a business upon the death of a sole proprietor.

(5) Insurance to aid a firm's credit status, covering the owner or key man during the period of a loan or the duration of a mortgage on property held.

(6) Where the estate of a business man consists almost entirely of his interest in a business, insurance on his life, payable to his family on his death, to provide them with ready cash and to aid in liquidating his interest in the business.

Pension plans for employes, group life insurance, disability income insurance, hospitalization, surgical and medical insurance and major medical insurance are other types of personal insurance which are utilized by business concerns to help stabilize their activities and increase operating efficiency.

Corporation Coverage Described

A corporation is not as directly and immediately affected by the death of a shareholder as is the partnership by the death of a partner, but unfortunate consequences are a distinct hazard.

Unlike the partnership, the corporation is not terminated at the death of an owner, but with the transfer of the deceased stockholder's shares, new stockholders (new to management and possibly an unknown element) may come into the picture.

The death of a principal stockholder may deal a severe blow to the firm's credit.

There are several ways to handle the problem. One way is an adequately financed stock sale and purchase agreement, drawn up by the firm's attorney. This may be funded by insurance. An adequate corporation insurance program on the lives of its principal shareholders, provides retirement of their interest at death. It gives the deceased shareholder's heirs full value for his interest at once and reduces the shock of changes in ownership.

This is a special concern to the small corporation with a few shareholders whose interests keep them close to the management of the business.

Frequently, ownership and management are one and the same. The great bulk of the country's corporations are in this category. Large numbers of them are small, closely held businesses which adopted the corporate form primarily for its legal, tax, and continuity advantages.

By so doing, however, these owners have not escaped the death hazards which affect any business organization. Life insurance can provide the corporation with funds to purchase the interest of a stockholder at his death.

Family

Main Insurance Needs Listed

1. Cash For Final Expenses

The loss of any member of the family is almost always followed by inescapable debts — doctor bills, hospital bills, funeral expenses, unpaid taxes and any other outstanding obligations — the final settlement of personal accounts. These obligations must be met immediately. Unless they can be met from savings or from current income, life insurance is needed.

Insurance for this purpose should be purchased for the breadwinner of the family. In families with little or no savings and with low incomes, some life insurance also may be thought necessary for the wife and each of the children. Families with moderate savings and income, or even better means, may feel that they can meet such situations without life insurance ear-marked for this purpose, particularly in the case of children.

2. Readjustment Money

The loss of the head of the family cuts off the flow of family income. Funds are urgently needed until the rest of the family can carry on. At least some money is necessary until other members of the family can get out and work. This may mean leaving the younger children with relatives or making other arrangements for their care. If the widow is going back to secretarial work, for example, she may need a refresher course in typing and shorthand.

All families need enough insurance to allow for at least a brief period of readjustment. Some families can afford no more than this. Families that can, should arrange the readjustment money so that it will be paid out in installments over a period of a year or more, rather than in a lump sum.

3. The Family Income Period

Think how much it means to a widow with children, to know that she will receive a definite amount of money each month — now that she has the sole responsibility for bringing up her family. A regular income means bread and butter, clothing, and shelter. Equally important, it means giving the children a fair chance to prepare for life's work. Most families will want sufficient life insurance, together with Social Security survivorship payments, to provide at least a minimum living income for the family until the youngest child is, say 18 years of age. Here again, the policies purchased to cover this need should be arranged so as to provide an income covering a period of years, depending upon the age of the children and other factors.

4. Life Income for the Widow

Most families would like to make provision for an income, not only for the young family during their "growing-up years," but also for the widow during her remaining lifetime. After the children have struck out for themselves, a widow is left alone and her problems change. It may then be difficult for her to hold down a full-time job, or she may not wish to do so. A steady income for life, even if it is only enough to provide part of the income she needs, would be most welcome.

5. Income for Old Age

Everyone would like to be able to retire someday from active work, and most of us look forward to that day. The most enjoyable years of our lives can be those following retirement, particularly if this time can be spent in doing the things we have always wanted to do. A regular guaranteed income can help make this possible. In many cases, this may be provided by a pension plan supplemented by life insurance. In other cases, it may be provided primarily by life insurance, perhaps supplemented by income from investments, or some combination of all three.

Some of the life insurance policies designed to take care of a man's family may no longer be necessary when he reaches retirement age. He can then use the cash or maturity values of these policies to provide a life annuity income to help take care of himself and his wife. Whatever additional money he may need in the way of a retirement income can be provided by another policy designed specifically for this purpose. Here again, when the retirement income is being planned, a person should take into consideration all other funds that will be available at retirement, with particular reference to any pension plan there may be.

6. Other Needs

Other needs, which a family will want to consider and provide for as they are able, include the following:

(A) Education of the Children

Many parents would like their sons and daughters to go to college. The father's death will not necessarily deprive his children of educational opportunities if he has made special plans through a life insurance policy.

(B) Repayment of Mortgage

A home with a mortgage may be a burden instead of a comfort following the death of the family breadwinner. Provision may be made to pay off the balance of the mortgage with the proceeds of a life insurance policy, in the event the policy holder does not live to do so himself.

OF THE 1976
MILLION DOLLAR ROUND TABLE

The Million Dollar Round Table is an independent, international assoication of life insurance agents. Membership reflects a commitment to continuing advanced education to better serve the financial security needs of families, individuals and businesses.

Family

Main Insurance Needs Listed

1. Cash For Final Expenses

The loss of any member of the family is almost always followed by inescapable debts — doctor bills, hospital bills, funeral expenses, unpaid taxes and any other outstanding obligations — the final settlement of personal accounts. These obligations must be met immediately. Unless they can be met from savings or from current income, life insurance is needed.

Insurance for this purpose should be purchased for the breadwinner of the family. In families with little or no savings and with low incomes, some life insurance also may be thought necessary for the wife and each of the children. Families with moderate savings and income, or even better means, may feel that they can meet such situations without life insurance ear-marked for this purpose, particularly in the case of children.

2. Readjustment Money

The loss of the head of the family cuts off the flow of family income. Funds are urgently needed until the rest of the family can carry on. At least some money is necessary until other members of the family can get out and work. This may mean leaving the younger children with relatives or making other arrangements for their care. If the widow is going back to secretarial work, for example, she may need a refresher course in typing and shorthand.

All families need enough insurance to allow for at least a brief period of readjustment. Some families can afford no more than this. Families that can, should arrange the readjustment money so that it will be paid out in installments over a period of a year or more, rather than in a lump sum.

3. The Family Income Period

Think how much it means to a widow with children, to know that she will receive a definite amount of money each month — now that she has the sole responsibility for bringing up her family. A regular income means bread and butter, clothing, and shelter. Equally important, it means giving the children a fair chance to prepare for life's work. Most families will want sufficient life insurance, together with Social Security survivorship payments, to provide at least a minimum living income for the family until the youngest child is, say 18 years of age. Here again, the policies purchased to cover this need should be arranged so as to provide an income covering a period of years, depending upon the age of the children and other factors.

4. Life Income for the Widow

Most families would like to make provision for an income, not only for the young family during their "growing-up years," but also for the widow during her remaining lifetime. After the children have struck out for themselves, a widow is left alone and her problems change. It may then be difficult for her to hold down a full-time job, or she may not wish to do so. A steady income for life, even if it is only enough to provide part of the income she needs, would be most welcome.

5. Income for Old Age

Everyone would like to be able to retire someday from active work, and most of us look forward to that day. The most enjoyable years of our lives can be those following retirement, particularly if this time can be spent in doing the things we have always wanted to do. A regular guaranteed income can help make this possible. In many cases, this may be provided by a pension plan supplemented by life insurance. In other cases, it may be provided primarily by life insurance, perhaps supplemented by income from investments, or some combination of all three.

Some of the life insurance policies designed to take care of a man's family may no longer be necessary when he reaches retirement age. He can then use the cash or maturity values of these policies to provide a life annuity income to help take care of himself and his wife. Whatever additional money he may need in the way of a retirement income can be provided by another policy designed specifically for this purpose. Here again, when the retirement income is being planned, a person should take into consideration all other funds that will be available at retirement, with particular reference to any pension plan there may be.

6. Other Needs

Other needs, which a family will want to consider and provide for as they are able, include the following:

(A) Education of the Children

Many parents would like their sons and daughters to go to college. The father's death will not necessarily deprive his children of educational opportunities if he has made special plans through a life insurance policy.

(B) Repayment of Mortgage

A home with a mortgage may be a burden instead of a comfort following the death of the family breadwinner. Provision may be made to pay off the balance of the mortgage with the proceeds of a life insurance policy, in the event the policy holder does not live to do so himself.

IRA

Some Questions Are Answered

Why has this new deduction been authorized by Congres?

The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (The Pension Reform Act) caused the most sweeping overhaul of pension rules in American history. Part of that legislation attempts to provide tax equality for, and end the discrimination against, individuals not covered by a qualified pension or profit-sharing plan, H.R. 10 plan, a tax-sheltered annuity, or a retirement plan for governmental employes.

This important new tax break is known as the Individual Retirement Account (IRA).

How much can I set aside?

You may take a deduction from gross income (that is, regardless of whether you elect the standard deduction or elect to itemize your personal deductions) for cash you put into an IRA.

Your annual deduction is limited to the lesser of: (1) $1,500 or (2) 15 per cent of your compensation.

And, if you and your spouse are both working, you can each have your own IRA and contribute up to the maxium based on your respective incomes if you both otherwise qualify.

How can I invest my IRA money?

You can set aside retirement savings in an annuity contract or in certain life insurance endowment contracts. Assets may also be invested in all forms of securities through a trusteed or custodial account with a bank, savings and loan, or any other person who demonstrates to the satisfaction of the commissioner of internal revenue that the trust will be administered in a satisfactory manner, for investment in stocks, bonds, mutual funds, annuities, life insurance or other investments.

You could also put part of your total contributions into an endowment contract and part into a trusteed bank account.

How are earnings of my IRA taxed between now and the time I begin receiving retirement payments?

Generally, earnings of an IRA ACCUMULATE TAX-FREE. This means that you are earning interest on money that might otherwise have been paid in taxes.

When can I start receiving retirement payments from my IRA?

You must be at least 59½ years of age (unless you are disabled) to receive an IRA payment without tax penalty. The penalty tax on "premature distributions" is 10 per cent of the value of the assets of your account. So if you received (or are deemed to have received) a distribution at age 50 and your account is worth $5,000 at that time, you must pay an additional $500 in taxes.

How long can I wait before beginning to receive distributions from my IRA?

The law is quite liberal here. You don't have to start receiving distributions until the year in which you reach age 70½ (but of course payments can begin as early as age 59½ without penalty, if you so desire).

I'm leaving my present employer who now covers me in his coporate pension plan. My new employer does not have a retirement plan. Can I put my benefits from my old employer's account into an IRA?

This is one of the biggest advantages of an IRA. Assume that you have the right to a current distribution from the present employer's plan (which may or may not be so). If you take the money and-or property you receive from your present employer's retirement plan and reinvest it within 60 days in an IRA, you can avoid the tax on the distribution from your old employer. And if you don't put any other assets in the IRA you set up for this purpose, you can later transfer those funds to a future employer's retirement plan (with his consent), tax-free.

These advantageous provisions were designed to encourage and facilitate a degree of portability of pensions, and make it easier for you to transfer your pension fund as you move from job to job.

How will I be taxed when I receive retirement payments from my IRA?

The amounts you receive will generally be taxed at ordinary income rates. However, if you qualify under the applicable tax rules, you can elect to average your income, which may substantially reduce the tax due.

If your IRA is in the form of an annuity, its value will not be includible in your income at the time it is distributed; instead, you'll be taxed as you receive each annuity payment.

If your IRA was funded through a qualified endowment life insurance policy, its maturity value will constitute ordinary income. Or you can elect to take the proceeds as an annuity income, and be taxed as payments are received.

If I choose a particular investment vehicle for my IRA, and later change my mind, can I shift to another type of investment?

It is possible to liquidate your IRA investment and reinvest the proceeds in another investment on a tax-free basis. For example, if you originally purchased mutual funds and later wanted to split your investment between mutual funds and a life insurance endowment policy, it is possible to do so without incurring adverse tax consequences.

Life 'Ordinary' Policies Described

Practically all companies sell what are called ordinary insurance policies. Ordinary refers to all life insurance except industrial (weekly premium) and group. There are three basic types of ordinary insurance: Life, endowment and term. We'll talk about each one in turn.

Life: A life policy protects you for your entire lifetime. It is "permanent" insurance. The premium is usually payable until death — although it may be for a shorter period. The proceeds are payable to the beneficiary after your death. Whole life, modified life and limited payment life are the major classes of permanent life insurance. Each is designed to fill specific needs.

Whole Life: Also called straight life, is used primarily to protect your dependents in the event of your death. Whole life generally has a lower annual premium than most other types of permanent life insurance because premium payments are spread over your entire lifetime. The premium remains level from year to year, and is more than the actual cost of protection in the early years, and less than the actual cost in the later years. From the excess in the early years, the policy builds up a reserve (and a resulting cash value) that increases over the years.

Modified Life: The same as whole life except the premium is lower during the first few years of the policy (usually 2, 3, 5 or 10 years) than it is thereafter. The purpose of the modified premium is to give those who expect to have larger earnings later a chance to start an adequate permanent insurance program earlier.

Limited payment life: Another variation on whole life in which you pay premiums for a limited number of years (10, 20, etc.) or until you reach a specific age (60, 65, etc.) The premiums are usually level, but can be modified. Naturally, limited payment life has a higher annual premium than whole life because fewer premium payments are made. However, the cash value increases faster for the same reason. These policies are used by people who wish to pay all their premium during a set period of time — during their most productive years, for example.

Term insurance: Term insurance provides protection for a specific number of years or until a certain age. If you die during the specified period, your beneficiary receives the death proceeds. However, all protection ceases at the end of the term. Because the protection which term insurance provides is "temporary," it generally covers fewer of the later, high-risk years. Consequently, term policies have a lower annual premium than most permanent ones. Term policies build up a much smaller reserve than permanent policies. Therefore, they generally have no cash value. Term policies are either level or decreasing term policies.

Level term: This policy is so called because the amount of insurance protection remains level throughout the term period. This type of plan is frequently used by people who want to augment their permanent life insurance protection for a specific period of time — during those critical years when the children are young, for example.

Decreasing term: The amount of insurance decreases gradually until the end of the term period. The purpose of this type of policy is to cover decreasing needs. Mortgage protection is one of its most common uses.

Term policies can be renewable and-or convertible.

If your term policy is renewable, you have the privilege of renewing it at the end of each term for an additional term, usually up to a maximum age, without submitting evidence of insurability. Since each new premium is based on your age at the time of renewal, the premium increases for each successive term period.

If your term policy is convertible, you have the right to convert it to a permanent type of policy without submitting evidence of insurability.

Endowment: An endowment policy is a combination of term insurance and an agreement to make a cash payment (the endowment) to you at the end of the term period — at the end of a specified number of years or at a stated age. If you die during the term period, your beneficiary will receive the face amount. If you live until the policy matures at the end of the term period, you will receive an endowment equal to the face amount. For example, if you had a 20-year endowment for $10,000, you would receive that sum at the end of 20 years. If you died in the meantime, your beneficiary would receive that amount. Endowment policies have a somewhat different purpose than life insurance. They are designed for people who want to have a certain amount of money at some definite time in the future, and still have life insurance protection in the meantime. There are two kinds of endowments: Regular and income endowment.

A regular endowment policy pays you the proceeds in one lump sum. This type of endowment might be purchased, for example, by parents of a new-born child who want a certain amount of cash available when the child is of college age.

An income endowment pays you a guaranteed monthly income — usually $10 per $1,000 of insurance — when the policy matures. This type of policy is frequently purchased by people who want to be sure of an income at retirement.

'Job' Lifted To Profession

By WILLIS E. BEUTLER

The National Association of Life Underwriters is the professional organization of life insurance salesmen.

As the oldest and largest trade association of its type in the world, NALU is conserned with the interest of the insurance-buying public, as well as the interests of those engaged in life insurance selling and in life insurance sales management. NALU also aims to bring about a clearer understanding and appreciation of life underwriters to perform in the best interest of the public.

Its primary objectives are:

To support and maintain the principles of legal reserve life insurance.

To advance public knowledge of legal reserve life insurance and its uses.

To promote the adoption and application of higher standards of ethical conduct in the profession of life underwriting and in the life insurance business.

To increase the knowledge of agents concerning legal reserve life insurance, its uses and its sale.

To provide, through this association, a medium for rendering community service and for forming enduring friendships.

To create and maintain a sound public opinion, to promote cooperation and good will, and in all other ways to promote the best interest of legal reserve life insurance.

The National Association of Life Underwriters has no individual members as such. Qualified life underwriters become members of a local life underwriters association. These local associations, in turn, are affiliated with state life underwriter associations. Both local and state associations are elected to membership in The National Association of Life Underwriters. Thus, NALU is actually a federation of state and local life underwriter associations.

Surveys show that public desires with respect to life insurance salesmen can be conveniently reduced to three main points:

— People want an agent with integrity.

— People want an agent with sound knowledge of life insurance.

— People want an agent who will take a sincere personal interest in them.

The National Association of Life Underwriters helps life underwriters to attain these characteristics. In short, NALU works to improve the moral climate surrounding the sale of life insurance and the capacity and service of the agent.

NALU has raised the life agent's "job" to the status of a "profession." It has instilled in the typical association member a pride of achievement, which is best summed up by the NALU Code of Ethics, to which every association member subscribes.

NALU supports legislation. NALU was not organized — and does not exist — primarily for the purpose of dealing with state or national legislation. However, it has always supported legislation in the best interest of life insurance — especially the policyowner. It has opposed, with equal vigor, legislation detrimental to life insurance and those who own it.

Over the years NALU has campaigned successfully for anti-rebating and anti-discrimination laws and, in many states, for enactment of sound group life insurance legislation. It has effectively championed the public interest against discriminatory state and federal taxation of life insurance. NALU has also been responsible for laws that protect the public against the sale of unethical and misleading life insurance policies, as well as laws that give life insurance protection against creditors' claims.

NALU is currently engaged in a countrywide anti-inflation program and in an educational-information program designed to alert Americans to the many dangers inherent in costly, continual expansion of our government-operated Social Security system.

The Southwestern Michigan Association of Life Underwriters is the local arm of NALU. Through its membership local programs have been established in the areas of public service, and education and training. Two courses of the Life Underwriter Training Course (LUTC) one offered each year. In conjuction with Lake Michigan College an accredited program for CLU students is offered each semester which will lead to a CLU designation.

ASK THEM YOURSELF

Want to ask a famous person a question? Send the question, on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR IRVING MANSFIELD, widower of Jacqueline Susann, author of "Dolores"

Was "Dolores" based on Jackie Onassis, and do you know whether she has read the book?—Steve Gargan, Grand Rapids, Mich.

● Since the plot concerns the widow of an assassinated U.S. President, who later marries a shipping tycoon, draw your own conclusions! When Mrs. Onassis was asked whether she'd read the book, I'm told she said: "Have I read it? I'm living out the sequel." By the way, the book is going to be made into a film. When I saw Telly Savalas recently, I told him to put his oar in for the role of the Greek shipping tycoon, a natural since Telly's Greek. Telly, who's going to make three films for Universal (one of the companies interested in the book), is keeping his fingers crossed, hoping that if they do buy it, he'll get the part.

FOR EDGAR BERGEN, ventriloquist

As a senior citizen, what's your secret for staying young?—S.M., Buffalo, N.Y.

● The one thing I don't do is worry or wonder about the future. (It's nicer to dwell on the past!) I exercise more than I used to, eat what's good for me instead of what I like. Most important: I try to avoid doctors. Seems to me they're in love with pills. Also, I've become spiritual. I haven't given up sin—it's the other way around!

FOR JUDITH GUEST, author of "Ordinary People"

Why did you feel a twinge of guilt when you heard that your manuscript would be the first unsolicited manuscript Viking Press had accepted in 27 years?—Mary Leonard, Sacramento, Calif.

● Because I never lived in a garret, never had to deprive myself while writing as a housewife. My first reaction was disbelief. Then ecstasy.

FOR SANDY DUNCAN, actress

Are you as giddy as you appear to be on talk shows? If not, why do you seem that way?—E.B., Steubenville, Ohio

● The real me is half-way between serious and silly! The problem began with my first talk show. I found it very hard to go into details about my private life. I skirted those questions by dwelling on funny things, like the time I chased a lizard out of my bedroom. I avoided the personal stuff but got labeled a dizzy blonde.

FOR DAVE GARROWAY, former talk show host

I hear you have some strange hobbies. What are they?—F.S., Santa Monica, Calif.

● I don't know that autos and astronomy are strange. I've owned 60 sports cars over the years, including 15 antique Rolls-Royces. I'm also into sports cars and racing. I have a collection of astronomy instruments including a 100-year-old 9½-inch telescope made by Alvan Clark, the Stradivari of telescope lens makers. (The Smithsonian Institution wants it.)

FOR DICK CLARK, host of "American Bandstand"

Many dancers on your show come back every week. Are they hired for the show, or do they buy season tickets?—Leon Yankwich, Urbana, Ill.

● For almost 25 years, admission to American Bandstand has been by invitation only—but it's free. The dancers on the program are strictly audience participants. Many come back and become regular attendees and are therefore seen frequently.

FOR ROBYN SMITH, jockey

Do the men in your sport ever deliberately try to embarrass you?—A.R., Aberdeen, S.D.

● When I first started riding, there was a great deal of prejudice against girl jockeys, but since I've become successful (and many other girls are riding, too), my only real moments of humiliation are when my horse runs a disappointing race, and the crowd yells, "Why don't you get back into the kitchen?"

FOR BARBARA BAIN, star of TV's "Space: 1999"

What do you do if you get unexpected visitors?—J.R., Lebanon, Pa.

● Behave in a rude and merciless way. Most of our friends have the intelligence to call before dropping in. To those who don't, and arrive, saying, "I just happened to be passing by," I say, "Well, then, keep passing." The only exception to this rule would be if Artur Rubinstein wanted to come in and give a piano recital for me.

FOR ANN LANDERS, columnist

Where did you get the phrase, "Wake up and smell the coffee" (a euphemism for face the facts)?—B.L., Bartlesville, Okla.

● From my twin sister's mother-in-law, Mrs. Jay Phillips, who lives in Minneapolis. She's my great friend. I heard her say it about 25 years ago and have been using it ever since.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

Can you tell me what Annette Funicello is doing these days? I always used to watch her on the Mickey Mouse Club's show.—B.N., Asbury Park, N.J.

● After the series ended, Annette went on to make "beach party" pictures (with horribly teased hair and skin that never tanned), and in 1965 married her agent, Jack Gilardi. For a few years, because of their three children, Annette kept a rather low profile, with only occasional TV guest appearances. Annette—who was Walt Disney's favorite mouseketeer—was recently on Frankie Avalon's CBS-TV series, "Easy Does It." Incidentally, did you know that the Mickey Mouse Club is going to be revived next year? And you might also be interested in a book-that's coming out soon, Forever Hold Your Banner High, by Jerry Bowles, which traces the history of the Club and what's happened to the cast during the past two decades.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT SCHOOL TESTS

They can slow down bright kids, discourage creativity—even endanger a child's future. But now educators are doing something about the problem.

By Polly Dranov

CHOOSE THE BEST RESPONSE
IQ tests show:
a) How smart a child is
b) How well he understands English
c) What grade he should be placed in
d) All of the above
e) None of the above

Confused? It's a confusing question, one that educators have been debating for years. In fact, a rip-roaring argument is going on right now about the value of all standardized tests kids take in school—the IQ tests, the achievement tests, the aptitude tests and even the reading readiness tests. On one side are influential educators who claim the test results are not only misleading and useless to parents and teachers but also are unfair to children. On the other are state governments, local school boards and administrators who rely on tests to judge the kind of job our schools are doing.

One thing, though, everyone agrees on—the scores kids get on these tests have a tremendous impact on their schooling. Take the case of Jerry, a restless nine-year-old who was doing pretty well in school until he took an IQ test in fourth grade. His score was low, much lower than his schoolwork indicated it should be. Jerry's teacher was a little surprised—she knew he often had a hard time sitting still in the classroom, but his work was pretty good.

Jerry never knew the results of the test, but he did sense that his teachers expected less of him, and in the fifth grade his marks began to slip. They went even lower in the sixth grade. By the time he was 16, Jerry had dropped out of school. Then, a few years later, he met a girl who didn't want to marry a high-school dropout. She convinced him to finish at night school, where he was required to take another IQ test. Somehow, his "intelligence" had miraculously jumped about 20 points. Jerry was not "slow" and never had been.

Why did he score so low on that fourth-grade IQ test? There could be dozens of reasons. Maybe he was coming down with a cold. Maybe he was more restless than usual that day. Maybe he misunderstood the instructions and lingered over a tough question instead of moving on to the next one.

Luckily, Jerry got a second chance. But thousands of others aren't that lucky, and more and more educators are protesting that standardized tests are unfair to all children. Jerrold R. Zacharias, a physics professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is passionate on the subject. "Our efforts to measure so-called intelligence have had an imprisoning and destructive effect on the lives of children. In fact, I believe the entire enterprise of standardized machine-scored aptitude and achievement tests has been grossly misused," he wrote in a professional journal for elementary school principals. Says Bernard McKenna of the National Education Association (N.E.A.): "These tests take time and cost money. They're frustrating to the kids and most of them simply aren't very useful."

In particular, IQ tests serve no useful purpose, say Dr. McKenna, Dr. Zacharias and many other educators, if only because no one has ever defined intelligence. "The best research on intelligence tells us that there are between 50 and 100 different types. IQ tests get at two or three—verbal and mathematical reasoning and the ability to recall. They're really low-level achievement tests," says McKenna.

Other problems, the N.E.A. feels, are that some of the standardized tests kids take in the public schools "are either invalid and unreliable or out of date or unfair. They should be withdrawn from use." The group is against using test results as a basis for allocation of Federal, state or local funds or for judging student progress.

Here's one example of what the N.E.A. is talking about. All tests have to be constructed so that they can be graded by a computer. That means there can only be one "right" or "best" answer. But often none of the choices is precisely right, so the student is left to figure out what is best. This confuses a lot of youngsters—particularly the bright ones who know that none of the answers really fits. The kids who do best, therefore, are the ones who guess what the tester wants.

The tests also penalize children who don't work fast, who don't work well under pressure and who are puzzled by questions that are ambiguous, meaningless, misleading or simply irrelevant to anything they know or care about. In fact, Jerrold Zacharias contends that the test makers themselves are often ignorant about the subject matter and unclear about what they want the tests to disclose.

Furthermore, testing profoundly affects the entire educational process. Educators are especially appalled at the increasing practice of releasing test scores to the press. The argument in favor of this trend is that the public has a right to know how well the schools are doing their jobs. Everyone agrees that a need exists for school evaluation, but educators don't think standardized tests are the best way to go about it, particularly with the tests currently in use. They also point out that, for this and other reasons, teachers find themselves "teaching to the tests" in an effort to boost the scores of their students—even though they often don't believe that the tests have any relevance. And published scores can mislead parents into panicking at the thought that their kids aren't very bright or are enrolled in a school where achievement levels are lower than at other schools in the district, the state or even the whole country.

Worst of all, of course, is the effect on the youngsters themselves. The stigma of a low test score—both for classmates and teachers—is hard to shake, as witnessed by Jerry's experience. His was a case of a "self-fulfilling prophecy," which means that everyone accepted the judgment of the test; Jerry wasn't expected to do well on the basis of that score, and, so, without encouragement at home or at school, he began doing poorly.

Fortunately for us—and our children—educators are working on ways to cope with the problem. For instance, figuring that every child will be subjected to at least six full batteries of standardized tests during a public-school education, two of Dr. Zacharias' colleagues at MIT have come up with what they call a "due process" procedure. It would require principals to send a note to parents describing the test, explaining who will take it, who is expected to benefit and how, what the results will be used for, whether or not a student's name will be known by those studying the results, whether or not the score will become part of the child's permanent record, the consequences of not taking the test and any description of the report that will be made to the parent AND child on the basis of the results. Thus informed, parents could refuse to permit their children to take the test if they saw fit.

That kind of procedure could enlighten parents about what kinds of tests their youngsters take and why. Even so, parents have to be on guard against taking the results too seriously. Essentially, we've got to keep in mind that the tests, at best, are an imprecise measure of a child's abilities and, at worst, are downright misleading and unfair. Both teachers and parents must be alert to the fact that their impressions of a child's talents and abilities are far more reliable than any computer.

Walter Lippmann summed it all up way back in 1920: "If the impression takes root that these tests really measure intelligence, that they constitute a sort of last judgment on the child's capacity, that they reveal 'scientifically' his predestined ability, then it would be a thousand times better if all the intelligence testers and all their questionnaires were sunk without warning in the Sargasso Sea."

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT SCHOOL TESTS

They can slow down bright kids, discourage creativity—even endanger a child's future. But now educators are doing something about the problem.

By Polly Dranov

CHOOSE THE BEST RESPONSE
IQ tests show:
a) How smart a child is
b) How well he understands English
c) What grade he should be placed in
d) All of the above
e) None of the above

Confused? It's a confusing question, one that educators have been debating for years. In fact, a rip-roaring argument is going on right now about the value of all standardized tests kids take in school—the IQ tests, the achievement tests, the aptitude tests and even the reading readiness tests. On one side are influential educators who claim the test results are not only misleading and useless to parents and teachers but also are unfair to children. On the other are state governments, local school boards and administrators who rely on tests to judge the kind of job our schools are doing.

One thing, though, everyone agrees on—the scores kids get on these tests have a tremendous impact on their schooling. Take the case of Jerry, a restless nine-year-old who was doing pretty well in school until he took an IQ test in fourth grade. His score was low, much lower than his schoolwork indicated it should be. Jerry's teacher was a little surprised—she knew he often had a hard time sitting still in the classroom, but his work was pretty good.

Jerry never knew the results of the test, but he did sense that his teachers expected less of him, and in the fifth grade his marks began to slip. They went even lower in the sixth grade. By the time he was 16, Jerry had dropped out of school. Then, a few years later, he met a girl who didn't want to marry a high-school dropout. She convinced him to finish at night school, where he was required to take another IQ test. Somehow, his "intelligence" had miraculously jumped about 20 points. Jerry was not "slow" and never had been.

Why did he score so low on that fourth-grade IQ test? There could be dozens of reasons. Maybe he was coming down with a cold. Maybe he was more restless than usual that day. Maybe he misunderstood the instructions and lingered over a tough question instead of moving on to the next one.

Luckily, Jerry got a second chance. But thousands of others aren't that lucky, and more and more educators are protesting that standardized tests are unfair to all children. Jerrold R. Zacharias, a physics professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is passionate on the subject. "Our efforts to measure so-called intelligence have had an imprisoning and destructive effect on the lives of children. In fact, I believe the entire enterprise of standardized machine-scored aptitude and achievement tests has been grossly misused," he wrote in a professional journal for elementary school principals. Says Bernard McKenna of the National Education Association (N.E.A.): "These tests take time and cost money. They're frustrating to the kids and most of them simply aren't very useful."

In particular, IQ tests serve no useful purpose, say Dr. McKenna, Dr. Zacharias and many other educators, if only because no one has ever defined intelligence. "The best research on intelligence tells us that there are between 50 and 100 different types. IQ tests get at two or three—verbal and mathematical reasoning and the ability to recall. They're really low-level achievement tests," says McKenna.

Other problems, the N.E.A. feels, are that some of the standardized tests kids take in the public schools "are either invalid and unreliable or out of date or unfair. They should be withdrawn from use." The group is against using test results as a basis for allocation of Federal, state or local funds or for judging student progress.

Final Net vs. Aerosols: a head-on comparison

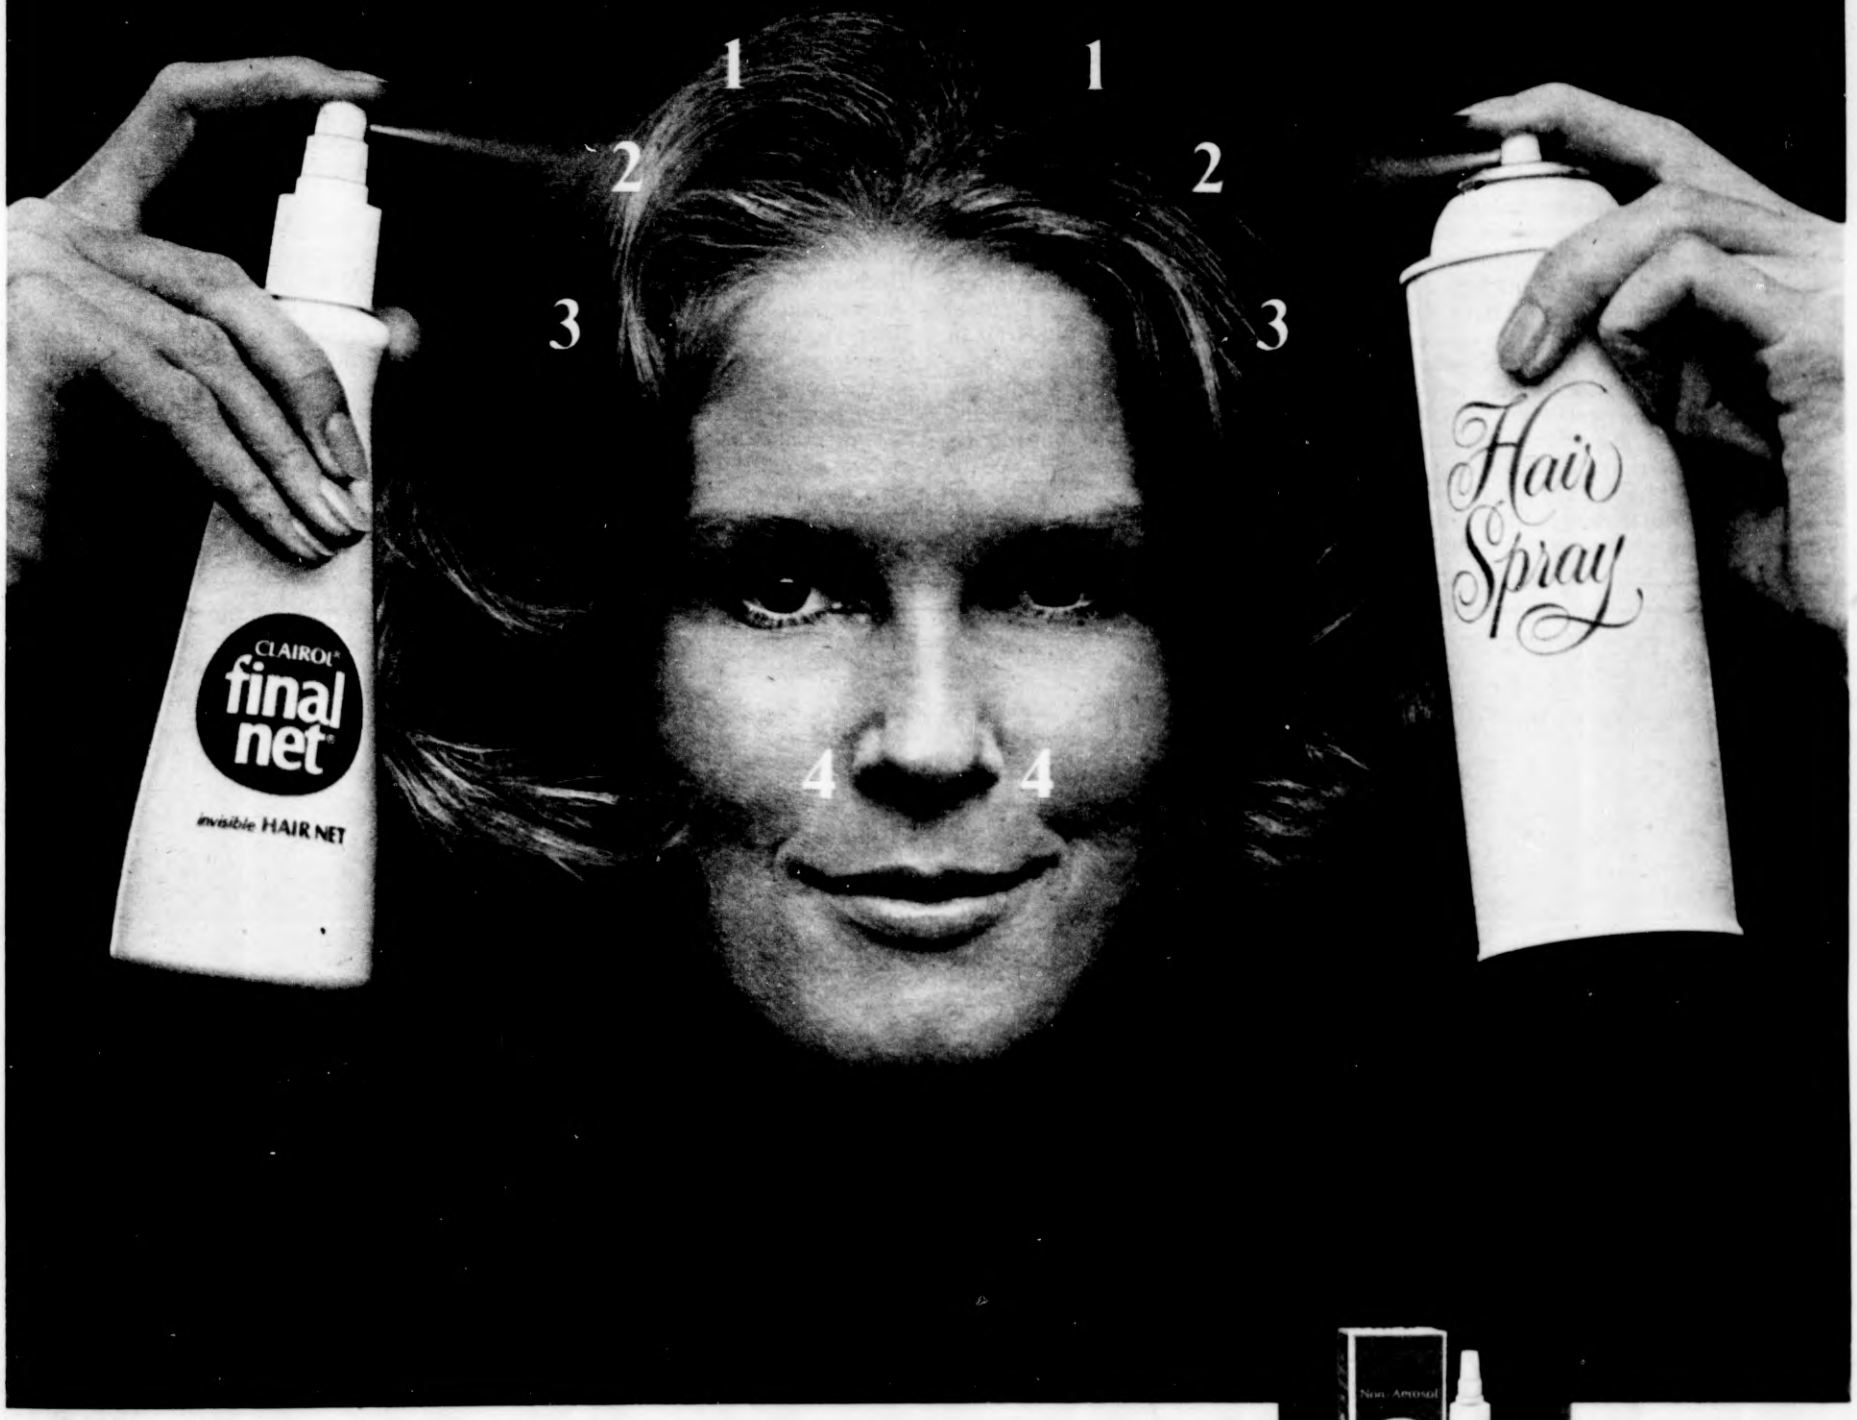

In the first place, (1) Final Net is not an aerosol. There's no wasteful propellant mixed in. Final Net gives you concentrated power, for a really great long-lasting hold. (2) Final Net holds your hair in any weather without leaving it tacky. (3) Final Net spritzes exactly where you want it—no need to spray and spray in hopes of hitting the right place. (4) If aerosol hairsprays bother you here. Final Net won't. You'll find (5) in your pocketbook, because 8 ounces of Final Net go as far as 24 ounces of aerosol hairspray. (With aerosols, you're paying for a lot of propellant.) Final Net over aerosols. Really, there's no comparison.

JANE PAULEY: AT 26 SHE'S FOUND ROOM AT THE TOP

In 4 short years she has gone from college senior at Indiana University to co-host of America's Number 1 morning show.

Judy Garoutte

Her new apartment has a spectacular view: "I want to see all of the city."

By Anita Summer

Jane Pauley. Only a few months ago the name meant nothing to us. But now there she is, every morning on the Today show, wedged in between Tom Brokaw and Gene Shalit.

Outwardly, she's easy enough to describe—a 26-year-old, 5'4" willowy blonde with a flawless complexion wearing a crew neck sweater, loose jacket, flared skirt and high-heeled boots in shades of brown—but how did she get where she is, and what's she like inside?

"Well," she says, "to begin with, I was born in Indianapolis. My father wasn't rich, but we never went without, either." She was raised by church-going parents who were not disciples of permissiveness: "I had to say where I was going, why, with whom, proposed time of arrival and precise moment of departure." She shared her home with cats, dogs, parakeets, goldfish and her older sister Ann, once her nemesis and idol, now her best friend.

At 15, Jane became involved with the N.F.L. (The National Forensic League, the debating, not the sports, organization.) She spoke extemporaneously for her team, wrote speeches on current events and began her love affair with politics and people in the public eye.

Jane graduated from Indiana University in 1972 with a degree in political science. She soon joined WISH-TV in Indianapolis as a reporter. Now, in a few short years, she's come a long way —both geographically and financially: NBC refuses to comment, but reports say Jane is earning from $70,000 to $100,000 a year.

When NBC called her to New York City last summer, Jane was unaware she was one of a hundred people on NBC's list of possible replacements for Barbara Walters. But on July 30th and August 2nd she tried out for Today. Then the five finalists—Betty Furness, Catherine Mackin, Linda Ellerbee, Betty Rollin and Jane Pauley—were each brought back for another week. It was no contest. NBC's screening committee agreed unanimously that Jane was the person. Said Richard Fisher, vice president of TV News: "She stood out as the one most popular with viewers. She was like a shining star."

But, then, everyone who has been associated with her says she is special. She's been defined as "hard working," "no ego," "serious but warm," "dedicated" and "highly articulate." Perhaps her ex-boss, Lee Giles, of WISH-TV puts it best: "On TV she blossoms. She just has that special quality not many people in this business have. You can't define it, it's just there."

Observations

What do you say to a four-ton elephant? You say "Abracadabra!" and it disappears—if you happen to be Doug Henning. His second Mobil Showcase presentation will be telecast live on NBC December 23. In addition to disposing of his ponderous friend, the magical Mr. Henning will mystify one and all with his "organic" illusions (involving fire, water or air). As a climax (after he's really warmed up) Henning will escape from a flaming box. "Doug Henning's World of Magic" starts at 8 p.m. on the East Coast. For other areas, check your local TV listings. Watch closely!

Peaceful coexistence. How do sport fish and offshore oil wells get along? Swimmingly, according to the National Marine Fisheries Service. Citing experience in the Gulf of Mexico, the Service points out that platforms act as artificial reefs, providing shelter for the small organisms little fish feed on. The little fish, in turn, attract such species as grouper, red snapper, and king mackerel, much to the delight of Gulf anglers. So next time someone hassles you about those offshore platforms, just ask him if he's checked with a fish lately.

The more things change . . . . A magazine editorial headlined "Government Acts Make Oil Crisis Worse Than Ever" described a "growing emergency," and "new threats to the oil supply in the Middle East." It made the point that the government ought to help, not obstruct, efforts to drill for domestic oil offshore. Where did the editorial appear? In the Saturday Evening Post. When? On May 26, 1951, when the U.S. imported 844,000 barrels of oil a day, about one-eighth of today's 6.7-million-barrel-a-day import level. Enough said.

Squeeze play. That's what the oil industry was caught in last year. A recent Chase Manhattan Bank analysis shows that, while worldwide net income for the 29 companies selected for the study fell 30 percent in 1975 (to $11.5 billion), capital and exploration outlays grew 9.5 percent (to a record $26.6 billion). Like so many people, these oil companies were earning less and spending more. So far in 1976, an analysis of selected major oil companies indicates that earnings have improved, but expenditures are also up.

JANE PAULEY

Continued

Judy Gurovitz

poise, she frowns and says, "My nightmare—one that comes back with disturbing regularity—is that I will find myself on the set, totally unprepared, with a mystery guest, holding a script containing gibberish." She also says she panics when she turns off the lights at night: "That's when I agonize about being ready for the next day. Whether that means I'm secure—or naive—remains to be seen. So far," quickly tapping the nearest piece of wood, "I've managed to bypass a myriad of probable calamities—becoming blank, forgetting the guest's name, losing continuity." At the same time, being the focal point of millions of curious eyes does not faze her. "I don't look at or into a camera with fear. While I know I'm vulnerable, I've never had that awful sensation of being alone in front of all those people."

When, with bleary eyes, having just rolled out of bed, you tune in to Jane at 7:00 A.M. and see her so crisp and alert, it's hard to believe she's been up since 4:30. Was adjusting to this new early-to-bed, early-to-rise routine difficult? "No. If it's black outside, it's all the same whether you get up at 4:00 or 6:30. The hardest bit is lights out at 9:00 or 10:00." Doesn't she resent climbing between the sheets when others are out on the town? "I've never been one for socializing during the week. I stay close to home."

After Jane leaves the air at 9:00 A.M., she threads her way through the maze of 14th-floor desks and rooms housing the Today staff at 30 Rockefeller Plaza to her small office, where she plunges into stacks of newspapers, magazines, book reviews, mail and memos. "We're a small group, so we all must constantly scour magazines and papers for interesting and newsworthy people. Our suggestions are given to the producer, and his choices are turned over to a single writer or researcher who accumulates all relevant data. Then, it all comes to me, and I have to determine the thrust of the interview and prepare questions. On politicos' activities, for instance, it's essential that I'm up-to-date until the last second. On authors, I must, of course, read their books."

At 3:30, she can call it a day and go home. An hour nap and then down to homework—watching local and network news, perusing more newspapers, books and magazines. ("Wish I read quicker," she sighs. "Life would be simpler.") Sometimes she'll have dinner with a friend and then return to her apartment on New York's East Side for more TV viewing, reading and writing before going to bed.

Her weaknesses? Splurging on lavish Christmas presents and weekend air tickets to Chicago and Pittsburgh—to visit friends and sister Ann, now a nuclear engineer—and to Indianapolis, where her parents and close friend, newspaperman Bill Shaw, live. Jane, never married or engaged, met Bill three years ago when they worked together on a murder story. "We see each other as often as distance allows. Ours is an exclusive relationship. When you find someone extraspecial, you don't want to end it."

How does Jane see herself, now that fame and fortune are at her door? Stumped at first, she gives the question some thought, then replies: "I'm easygoing, impetuous, friendly and border on the haphazard. I can be funny, but I make a point of announcing when a joke is coming—I don't want it to slip by unnoticed! I have a temper, but it is lost only when I'm under pressure. I'm the world's worst cook, specializing in scrambled eggs, sandwiches and frozen chicken pot pies. I could live on chocolate and Mom's spaghetti. I'm scared of horses and crawling things, dislike the winter, enjoy walking through the woods and watching others fish. I hate housework but, once a month, late at night, turn into a human tornado and get everything clean and sparkling. I'm turned off by pretentious people, even the interesting ones."

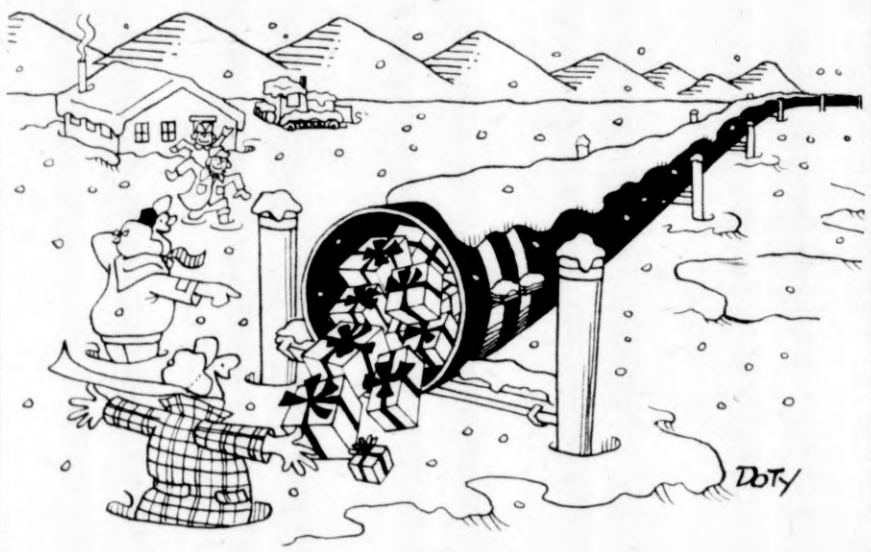

Her hopes and ambitions? She lights a cigarette and says, wistfully: "Recognition from my peers and colleagues. I've reached the precise spot that I would have strived for, but my dream now is to arrive at the point when people will associate Today with me, Jane Pauley, not with Barbara Walters. I'm what I'd call an optimistic fatalist, and I believe events work out. Whenever my fortune seems bad, something falls out of heaven on me. Thankfully, I haven't had too many fallouts; I've truly been blessed most of my life."

CHRISTMAS
GIFTS FROM THE KITCHEN

FAMILY WEEKLY COOKBOOK

Here is our annual treasury of treats to make and to give to special friends. You're sure to find a dish in our collection that will be in just the right "taste." And all of them are easy to make!

By Marilyn Hansen

FRUITED BRAN BREAD

- 1 cup finely chopped dried apricots
- 1 cup golden raisins
- ¾ cup boiling water
- ½ cup margarine
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup dark corn syrup
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 medium-ripe banana, mashed (about 1/3 cup)
- 1 cup whole bran cereal
- ¼ cup buttermilk
- 1½ cups unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt

1. Remove labels from 5 empty (10¾ ozs. each) soup cans. Grease inside of each can.
2. In small bowl, stir together apricots and raisins. Pour boiling water over fruit mixture; soak for 30 minutes.
3. In large bowl of electric mixer, beat margarine and sugar at low speed until well blended.
4. Stir in corn syrup, then eggs. Add banana, beating until smooth.
5. In small bowl, stir together cereal and buttermilk. Stir together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Gradually add to low-speed mixer until well mixed.
6. Add cereal mixture, then fruit mixture, stirring until well mixed.
7. Turn batter into soup cans, using 1 generous cup of batter per can.
8. Bake in preheated 350° F. oven for 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Makes 5 mini-loaves

Commune Dollhouse, Ridgewood, NJ. Hill Margolin

Miniatures are "in" this Christmas from country-style doll houses to gifts from your kitchen. Try our Sesame Crunch, Hunan Glazed Pecans, Mixed Nut Crunch, Frozen Cranberry Orange Relish, Fruit Dressing, Bar-B-Que Sauce, Cranberry Leather, Lemon Bread and Fruited Bran Bread.

SESAME CRUNCH

- 2 cups sesame seeds
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup light corn syrup
- ⅓ cup water
- 2 tablespoons margarine

1. Grease 15½ x 10½ x 1-inch jelly roll pan.
2. In 3-qt. saucepan, stir together sesame seed, sugar, corn syrup, water and margarine. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly.
3. Continue cooking, without stirring, until temperature reaches 270° F. on candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water forms a ball which is hard enough to hold its shape, yet plastic.
4. Turn onto prepared cookie sheet and spread with greased metal spatula or greased wooden spoon to ¼-inch thickness.
5. Score with sharp knife into 1½ x ½-inch pieces. Let cool completely.
6. Break apart by placing knife in scores and tapping gently with spoon.

Makes 1¾ lbs. or 175 (1½ x ½ x ¼-inch) pieces

CRANBERRY LEATHER

- 2 lbs. cranberries, washed and stems removed
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1½ cups light corn syrup
- Granulated sugar

1. In 3-qt. saucepan, place cranberries and water.
2. Cook, covered, until berries begin to pop. Add corn syrup and cook for 20 minutes.
3. Put fruit through food mill to remove skins and seeds.
4. Return mixture to saucepan.

simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

5. Line 3 (15½ x 10½ x 1 inch) jelly roll or similar-size pans with plastic wrap, letting it extend up the sides of the pans.

6. Divide fruit mixture equally among pans. With rubber scraper or spatula, spread mixture evenly about ¼-inch thick.

7. Place pans in warm, dry place and let dry 2 or 3 days or until "leather" is easily removed from plastic wrap.

8. With scissors, cut sheet into quarters. Dip in granulated sugar for a frosty effect, if you like. Roll up; wrap securely with plastic wrap or waxed paper and seal ends with plastic tie or small rubber bands. Store in refrigerator up to 3 months or in freezer up to 6 months. Makes 12 rolls

MIXED NUT CRUNCH

4 qts. freshly popped corn
2 cups dry roasted mixed nuts
1¼ cups sugar
⅔ cup margarine
⅔ cup dark corn syrup
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
½ teaspoon baking soda

1. Preheat oven to 250° F.

2. In large, shallow roasting pan or two 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking pans, spread popcorn and nuts.

3. In heavy 1½-qt. saucepan, stir together sugar, margarine and corn syrup.

4. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Continue cooking for 5 minutes without stirring.

5. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla and baking soda. Pour syrup mixture over popcorn and nuts. Stir to coat.

6. Bake, uncovered, in 250° F. oven, stirring occasionally, for 1 hour. Cool; break apart. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 1 pound

LEMON BREAD

½ cup margarine
2 eggs
2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup water
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
4 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup chopped walnuts or pecans
¼ cup light corn syrup

1. Preheat oven to 350° F. Grease a 9 x 5 x 3-inch pan.*

2. In large bowl of electric mixer, beat sugar and margarine until well blended and fluffy. Beat in eggs.

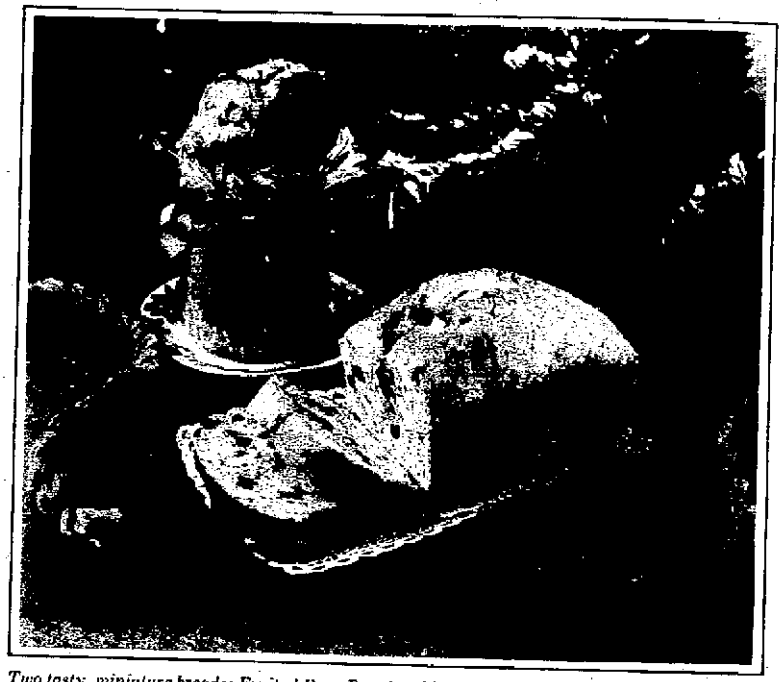

3. Stir in flour, baking powder and salt, until well mixed. Add water, lemon rind and 2 tablespoons of the lemon juice; stir in nuts. Turn batter into prepared pan.

4. Bake for 50 minutes. Stir together corn syrup and remaining 2 tablespoons of the lemon juice. Pour over loaf.

5. Return to oven and continue baking for 5 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

6. Cool 10 minutes before removing from pan. Let loaf stand overnight for easier slicing. Makes 1 loaf

*For Little Lemon Loaves grease three 5½ x 3 x 2-inch loaf pans. Divide batter evenly among pans. Bake at 350° F. for 40 minutes; spoon 2 tablespoons lemon syrup over each loaf and continue baking for 5 minutes. Makes 3 small loaves

Two tasty, miniature breads: Fruited Bran Bread and Lemon Bread ready for holiday gift-giving.

Three last-minute easy-to-do kitchen gifts might be Bar-B-Que Sauce, Fruit Dressing or Cranberry Orange Relish.

HUNAN GLAZED PECANS

2¼ cups water
1 cup pecan halves
¾ cup light corn syrup
2 cups corn oil

1. In small saucepan, bring 2 cups of water to a boil. Add pecans. Reduce heat; simmer 10 minutes. Drain.

2. Return pecans to saucepan; add corn syrup and remaining ¼ cup water.

3. Simmer over medium heat until mixture reaches 210° F. on candy thermometer or until syrup spins a fine thread when dropped from spoon.

4. Remove pecans to plate with a slotted spoon, not allowing sides to touch. Cool about ½ hour.

5. In a heavy, sturdy 2-qt. saucepan, heat corn oil over medium heat to 300° F. Carefully drop pecans into oil. Fry until temperature reaches 345° F. on thermometer or until few bubbles remain on the surface of the oil.

6. Remove pecans to platter. When cool, drain on paper towels, then store in tightly covered jars. Makes 1 cup

FROZEN CRANBERRY ORANGE RELISH

1 lb. cranberries, washed; stems removed (about 3 cups)
1 large orange, quartered, seeded
2 small lemons, quartered, seeded
1 cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
Canned peach or pear halves, drained

1. Put cranberries, orange and lemons through fine blade of food chopper or in blender container, blending at medium speed until fruit is finely chopped.

2. In large bowl, stir together finely chopped fruit, sugar and corn syrup until sugar is dissolved.

3. Turn mixture into suitable freezer container or 8 x 8 x 2-inch baking dish.

4. Freeze about 1 hour or until it is mushy. Spoon into peach or pear halves and serve as relish with roast or other meats. Makes 4 cups

Editor's note: If made ahead, store relish in 2 (1 pint each) freezer containers or jars, leaving ½-inch head space. Store in freezer. Refrigerate until ready to use.

BAR-B-QUE SAUCE

2 cans (8-oz. size) tomato sauce
½ cup dark corn syrup
½ cup vinegar
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon hot pepper sauce

1. In saucepan, combine tomato sauce, corn syrup, vinegar, onion, mustard, Worcestershire and hot pepper sauce.

2. Bring to boil; boil 2 minutes. Pour hot sauce into sterilized jars and seal.

3. Use as a barbecue basting sauce. Also good to pour over meat in roasting pan the last ½ hour of roasting. Delicious with roast beef slices, spareribs, pork chops, veal and chicken. Makes 3 cups

VERSATILE SALAD DRESSING

½ cup light corn syrup
2 teaspoons corn starch
½ cup cider vinegar
½ cup orange juice
2 teaspoons paprika
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons celery seed
¾ cup corn oil

1. In medium saucepan, stir together corn syrup and corn starch; add vinegar and orange juice.

2. Bring to boil over medium

MINCEMEAT PECAN PIE
In small saucepan combine 1 pkg. 9 oz. condensed mincemeat, broken up, 1 2 cup Karo Light or Dark Corn Syrup and 1 4 cup margarine. Heat, stirring constantly, until boiling. Gradually stir mixture into 3 slightly beaten eggs. Add 1 2 cup coarsely chopped pecans and 1 Tbsp. grated orange peel. Pour into 1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell. Bake in 350 F oven 45 minutes or until top springs back when lightly pressed with finger. Pour 1 4 cup dry sherry over top of pie. Cool.

CREAMY PUMPKIN CUSTARD PIE
Mix together until smooth: 1 cup Karo Dark Corn Syrup, 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk, 4 whole eggs, 2 egg whites, 1 can (16 oz.) pumpkin, 1 tsp. each salt, ground cinnamon and ground ginger and 1 8 tsp. ground nutmeg. Pour into 1 unbaked (9-inch) pastry shell with high fluted edge. Bake in 400 F oven 1 hour or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Cool.

GOLDEN SYRUP WALNUT PIE
Mix together: 2 cups Karo Light Corn Syrup, 3 slightly beaten eggs, 2 Tbsp. melted margarine, 1 tsp. vanilla and 1/8 tsp. salt. Stir in 1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts. Pour into 1 unbaked (9 inch) pastry shell. Bake in 400 F oven 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 F; bake 30 to 35 minutes longer. Filling should be slightly less set in center than around edge.

Let me say this bluntly—

YOU CAN MANAGE ALMOST ALL BUT THE MOST GRIEVOUS ILLNESSES ENTIRELY BY YOURSELF

Without drugs . . . without cost . . . without painful apparatus . . . and (except in rare instances) entirely without the services of a doctor!

says Marsh Morrison, Doctor of Chiropractic

How? Primarily By Learning How To STOP INTERFERING WITH THE FLOW OF LIFE FORCES THROUGHOUT YOUR BODY—As Effortlessly As This:

Yes, Dear Friend—

I say again bluntly, based on FORTY YEARS as a healing practitioner! The human system wants to be well!

Men and women become sick because their bodies suffer from certain mechanical breakdowns—primarily blocked or pinched nerves in their spinal cords, that prevent healing life forces from being transmitted to one or more of their vital organs!

If these mechanical breakdowns—if these nerve blocks persist—these illnesses will go on for years! And if these people turn, in their agony, to drug-dispensing doctors—who try to treat these mechanical ailments by such chemical means—the results will be, in case after case, exactly what I have seen over the past forty years! These people will continue to remain sick!

But If You Are Suffering From Any Of The Racking Diseases Listed Below, I SAY THIS HONESTLY TO YOU:

You can unblock these pinched nerve pathways YOURSELF!

Once you are shown how, you, in your own home, without medical help at all, can free hitherto blocked nerve lines! And therefore allow them to transmit again the healing life force, and the proper "get-back-to-work" power to those sick organs!

Yes, the renewed-health answers to all these agonizing diseases are ridiculously simple . . . almost effortless . . . natural and effective . . . and (I must say it again and again) by-pass the doctor except in the most extreme cases!

For example:

I say that better nerve supply is so powerful in cases of baldness that I have treated, that (to give just one instance) it turned a bald bandleader from a man who actually looked as hairy as a hippie! And I give you full details of this proof on page 24 of my new book!

I say that better nerve supply is a nearly foolproof aid to shoulder and upper arm neuritis and bursitis. And I give you full proof—plus instant instructions—on page 74 of my book!

I say that better nerve supply—gained in your own home by one simple mechanical adjustment that I show you—allows full Life Force to come through once again to that most vital organ of your entire body . . . your heart! That it is the first, almost effortless step, in a "New Heart Program," that ends up by actually building you extra arteries to take the load off those that have already been narrowed or even blocked completely!

Yes, I say that better nerve supply—the simple techniques of easily, safely, painlessly unblocking pinched nerves all over your body—is the Gold Key to getting rid of lumbago and sciatica, sacroiliac and backaches, curvatures, disc problems and swaybacks (see page 49) . . . to revitalizing the digestive system in as little as 20 short days, and therefore keeping waste products from breaking out in ugly skin problems, or agonizing, waste-caused arthritis (see page 79 on) . . . to instantly treat even such conditions as tortuous trifacial neuralgia, loss of hearing, facial rash, drooping eyelids, eye and cheek tics, and especially headaches of almost any kind, including migraines not unmeasurable to any other treatment!

But Freeing Blocked Nerves Is Only The First Great Step To Rejuvenating Your Health! There Are 4 More—All Just As Easy—All Just As Powerful—All Making The Most At Last OF YOUR BODY'S NATURAL HEALING POWERS!

They include such ridiculously simple "wonder-workers" as pulling the poisons out of your blood stream . . . using natural food-medicines to duplicate the effects of dangerous drugs, without the side effects of these drugs, and therefore conquer many painful ailments, simply by enjoying your meals . . . even a special way to walk, for a few minutes a day, that reverses at last the gravitational down-pull that, right now, is making you old years before your time!

Using these simple, natural, mechanical ways to treat illness—without cost, without drugs, and without doctors—I have produced the following immediate results! And so can you!

Permit slipped disc to work its way back into place, naturally, without pain!

Provide remarkable help for fuzzy hearing—simply by lying in an ingenious way on your own bed!

Correct visual defects—such as astigmatism and myopia—so much that your glasses may actually become too much for you!

A surprisingly simple technique for ridding yourself of sinus pain!

An ingenious little way to strengthen throat muscles, so they have the power and resistance from that moment on to ward off sore throats!

How to cope successfully with emphysema! Strengthen the muscles of breathing! Improve the lungs remaining capacity for breathing!

How To Increase Your Body's Oxygenating Capacity! Burn Up Toxins In The System! Affect All Sub-Oxydation Conditions—Such As Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchial Congestion, And Wheezing!

Why asthma is easy to help—once you know these facts! Several simple rules must be followed. then you are free of enslavement to adrenalin and other bronchial antispasmodics and drugs!

(I remember vividly one patient heaving a huge sigh of relief, as she got rid of breath that was trapped and couldn't get out before! Then, only moments later, I made her breathe as easily as a baby! See page 167 for step-by-easy-step details.)

How to de-compress the "intervertebral discs" of your back, and avoid getting shorter as you get older!

How to let one quarter-hour of complete rest—my way—equal several hours of delicious sleep as far as the energy it gives you!

Why I have never yet seen a skin ailment in a person with a free and uninterrupted nerve supply to all his digestive organs. And how you can treat your skin through your nerves—this easy way.

How To Regain The Full Potential Of Your Liver, Kidneys, Pancreas And Gall Bladder—For That "Totally Alive" Feeling!

Yes, we now know how to correct most, if not all liver and kidney and gall bladder ailments. And how to do it naturally—not with expensive doctoring methods, but with sensible and effective adjustments that you can apply at home!

In fact, we even have ways to avoid surgery in most cases of common bile duct congestion and even outright obstruction! See page 92 for full details!

How an ordinary, common, inexpensive food—eaten in the correct way—is often enough to eliminate the need for insulin in my diabetic patients!

How the sun can increase your sexual vigor! How to soften a hardened prostate gland at home, in minutes, without even touching it! Or, if it is inflamed and very enlarged, how to reduce it in just 15 minutes to a size where urination is easy again!

How to swiftly restore youthful vigor to your legs and feet, by overcoming varicose veins, flat feet, painful sciatica, and similar ills! (For example, rebuild fallen arches—all by yourself!)

How to relieve painful knees . . . re-shape ugly legs . . . eat your way out of low back pain!

How to control leaking bladder . . . all by yourself! Handle insomnia . . . all by yourself, without drugs! De-congest your sinus . . . all by yourself!

How to find out if you are "leaking" energy, needlessly! And shut off that leak . . . all by yourself!

How to help sagging upper-arm flesh . . . pull in a fallen stomach or protruding abdomen, naturally . . . feel a delightful pickup of a prolapsed uterus in only 10 days . . . treat hemorrhoids and constipation in the most painless and effective way possible . . . even help nature "sew-together" the tear in our belly floor that doctors call a hernia!

MY FILES ARE FILLED WITH CASES THAT READ LIKE MIRACLES . . . TO GIVE JUST A FEW!

RELIEF FROM EMPHYSEMA—Mr. Patrick J. had a severe and long-standing case of emphysema. One day, he coughed so uncontrollably hard that his dentures came loose and almost choked him. I showed him 3 simple MIRACLE Secrets—and the results were immediate and magnificent. Suddenly, he could breathe more freely and easily. He said he even felt like hiking again—an urge he hadn't felt for years!

SERIOUS HEART AILMENT RELIEVED—Mr. Whitney S. was a man with a serious heart ailment, truly a cardiac cripple. He could hardly walk without wheezing and puffing. The first thing I did was to take all his medicines and flush them down the drain. Then I gave him the special heart-healing secrets of THE MIRACLE BODY TUNE-UP . . . to relieve pinched nerves to the heart so that they were free to transmit functional power. "Say, I enjoy this," Mr. S. enthused. "I don't have to wheeze . . . I'm breathing easier." Eventually, he felt so good he was able to do push-ups!

"I'm mad as hops!" he exploded. "After all that money I spent on doctors! This is like a miracle."

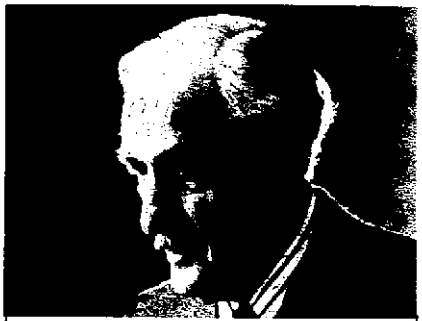

EXCRUCIATING LEG PAIN RELIEVED—Dr. R., a university professor, had a truly violent case of sciatica. The pain was so great that beads of perspiration dripped from his forehead as he attempted to stand, much less walk. He was groggy from drugs that doctors had given him. I showed him how to relieve the pressure of his sciatic nerve—which was rubbing against bone—and he experienced immediate relief. "This does it!" he exclaimed. "I've got no pain at all—for the first time!"

ASTHMA AND VARICOSE VEINS RELIEVED—Helen B. was a stout lady in her 40's with chronic bronchial asthma and legs bulging with varicose veins. I quickly showed her two MIRACLE secrets that brought her blessed relief from her leg problem. Her asthma was even simpler to relieve—perhaps the simplest of all. Just as she was having an attack, I showed her another MIRACLE secret which relieved it at once, to her great sigh of relief!

A MIRACLE THAT CAN WORK FOR YOU!!!

To me it's all quite common. I see it every day. To others, it's a miracle. But the miracle is not mine. I do not claim my methods heal—no physician can claim that. The body itself does the healing. All you do is let it take over . . . the way I show you!

As with all methods of self-treatment, if the guidance suggested in Dr. Morrison's new book does not bring you the relief you desire after a reasonable period of time, we suggest that you then consult your doctor.

WHAT CHIROPRACTORS SAY ABOUT MARSH MORRISON, D.C., Ph.C., F.I.C.C.

"To say your work is marvelous is really an understatement. I have been in practice 20 years and wish this knowledge had been available sooner." —Dr. H. J. Bates, Enid, Oklahoma

"In forty-seven years as a chiropractor I have invested much money and time for techniques and consider Dr. Morrison's the most practical and more effective than all others combined."
—Dr. Elmer B. Shipley, Terre Haute, Indiana

"The quintessence of Chiropractic knowledge. For years I've searched for more ways of helping more sick people get well faster. This weekend my dream and desire has become an actuality." —Frederick Doughty—Beck, D.C., New Orleans, La.

"I, myself, received immediate relief of chronic symptoms."
—Dr. Jeanne Gale, D.C., Phoenix, Arizona

"Have had 20 years in Physical Medicine . . . 15 years in chiropractic. Have taken every course. But this is absolutely the greatest." —V. J. Panrica, D.C., Vancouver, Wash.

"After having used Dr. Morrison's technique for over 6 months, I can, and do, strongly recommend it to every doctor in our profession." —Dr. Arnold C. Sikes, Concord, N.C.

"The techniques are very simple, but effective . . . nothing short of magic, Dr. Morrison, you truly are one of the 'Chiropractic Greats'." —Dr. Kern Chester, Paragould, Ark.

"Your techniques are immediately effective, almost like magic, and can be learned right away. I am a far better chiropractor than before . . ." —Dr. John Herman, Chicago, Ill.

Yes, Your System Wants To Be Well! And You Can Make It That Way . . . All By Yourself! Let Me Prove This To You—Without Your Risking A Penny!

So, stop wasting your hard-earned cash on needless and ineffective drugs . . . patent medicines . . . even doctor visits . . . when you can banish all these maladies, and unblock the Healing Life Force in your own body quickly and effectively in the privacy of your own home. Don't waste another minute; return the coupon—TODAY!

Let me say this bluntly—

YOU CAN MANAGE ALMOST ALL BUT THE MOST GRIEVOUS ILLNESSES ENTIRELY BY YOURSELF

Without drugs . . . without cost . . . without painful apparatus . . . and (except in rare instances) entirely without the services of a doctor!

says Marsh Morrison, Doctor of Chiropractic

How? Primarily By Learning How To STOP INTERFERING WITH THE FLOW OF LIFE FORCES THROUGHOUT YOUR BODY—As Effortlessly As This:

Yes, Dear Friend—

I say again bluntly, based on FORTY YEARS as a healing practitioner: The human system wants to be well!

Men and women become sick because their bodies suffer from certain mechanical breakdowns—primarily blocked or pinched nerves in their spinal cords, that prevent healing life forces from being transmitted to one or more of their vital organs!

If these mechanical breakdowns—if these nerve blocks persist—these illnesses will go on for years! And if these people turn, in their agony, to drug-dispensing doctors—who try to treat these mechanical ailments by such chemical means—the results will be, in case after case, exactly what I have seen over the past forty years! These people will continue to remain sick!

But If You Are Suffering From Any Of The Racking Diseases Listed Below, I SAY THIS HONESTLY TO YOU:

You can unblock these pinched nerve pathways YOURSELF!

Once you are shown how, you, in your own home, without medical help at all, can free hitherto blocked nerve lines! And therefore allow them to transmit again the healing life force, and the proper "get-back-to-work" power to those sick organs!

Yes, the renewed-health answers to all these agonizing diseases are ridiculously simple . . . almost effortless . . . natural and effective . . . and (I must say it again and again) by-pass the doctor except in the most extreme cases!

For example:

I say that better nerve supply is so powerful in cases of baldness that I have treated, that (to give just one instance) it turned a bald band-leader into a man who actually looked as hairy as a hippie! And I give you full details of this proof on page 24 of my new book!

I say that better nerve supply is a nearly foolproof aid to shoulder and upper arm neuritis and bursitis. And I give you full proof—plus instant instructions—on page 34 of my book!

I say that better nerve supply—gained in your own home by one simple mechanical adjustment that I show you—allows full Life Force to come through once again to that most vital organ of your entire body . . . your heart! That it is the first, almost effortless step, in a "New Heart Program," that ends up by actually building you extra arteries to take the load off those that have already been narrowed or even blocked completely!

Yes, I say that better nerve supply—the simple techniques of easily, safely, painlessly unblocking pinched nerves all over your body—is the Gold Key to getting rid of lumbago and sciatica, sacroiliac and backaches, curvatures, disc problems and swaybacks (see page 49) . . . to revitalizing the digestive system in as little as 20 short days, and therefore keeping waste products from breaking out in ugly skin problems, or agonizing, waste-caused arthritis (see page 79 on) . . . to instantly treat even such conditions as tortuous trifacial neuralgia, loss of hearing, facial rash, drooping eyelids, eye and cheek tics, and especially headaches of almost any kind, including migraines not ammenable to any other treatment!

But Freeing Blocked Nerves Is Only The First Great Step To Rejuvenating Your Health! There Are 4 More—All Just As Easy—All Just As Powerful—All Making The Most At Last OF YOUR BODY'S NATURAL HEALING POWERS!

They include such ridiculously simple "wonder-workers" as pulling the poisons out of your blood stream . . . using natural food-medicines to duplicate the effects of dangerous drugs, without the side effects of these drugs, and therefore conquer many painful ailments, simply by enjoying your meals . . . even a special way to walk, for a few minutes a day, that reverses at last the gravitational down-pull that, right now, is making you old years before your time!

Using these simple, natural, mechanical ways to treat illness—without cost, without drugs, and without doctors—I have produced the following immediate results! And so can you!

Permit slipped disc to work its way back into place, naturally, without pain!

Provide remarkable help for fuzzy hearing—simply by lying in an ingenious way on your own bed!

Correct visual defects—such as astigmatism and myopia—so much that your glasses may actually become too much for you!

A surprisingly simple technique for ridding yourself of sinus pain!

An ingenious little way to strengthen throat muscles, so they have the power and resistance from that moment on to ward off sore throats!

How to cope successfully with emphysema! Strengthen the muscles of breathing! Improve the lungs remaining capacity for breathing!

How To Increase Your Body's Oxygenating Capacity! Burn Up Toxins In The System! Affect All Sub-Oxydation Conditions—Such As Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchial Congestion, And Wheezing!

Why asthma is easy to help—once you know these facts! Several simple rules must be followed, then you are free of enslavement to adrenalin and other bronchial antispasmodics and drugs!

(I remember vividly one patient heaving a hugg sigh of relief, as she got rid of breath that was trapped and couldn't get out before! Then, only moments later, I made her breathe as easily as a baby! See page 167 for step-by-easy-step details.)

How to de-compress the "intervertebral discs" of your back, and avoid getting shorter as you get older!

How to let one quarter-hour of complete rest—my way—equal several hours of delicious sleep as far as the energy it gives you!

Why I have never yet seen a skin ailment in a person with a free and uninterupted nerve supply to all his digestive organs. And how you can treat your skin through your nerves—this easy way.

How To Regain The Full Potential Of Your Liver, Kidneys, Pancreas And Gall Bladder—For That "Totally Alive" Feeling!

Yes, we now know how to correct most, if not all liver and kidney and gall bladder ailments. And how to do it naturally—not with expensive doctoring methods, but with sensible and effective adjustments that you can apply at home!

In fact, we even have ways to avoid surgery in most cases of common bile duct congestion and even outright obstruction! See page 92 for full details!

How an ordinary, common, inexpensive food—eaten in the correct way—is often enough to eliminate the need for insulin in my diabetic patients!

How the sun can increase your sexual vigor! How to soften a hardened prostate gland at home, in minutes, without even touching it! Or, if it is inflamed and very enlarged, how to reduce it in just 15 minutes to a size where urination is easy again!

How to swiftly restore youthful vigor to your legs and feet, by overcoming varicose veins, flat feet, painful sciatica, and similar ills! (For example, rebuild fallen arches—all by yourself!)

How to relieve painful knees . . . re-shape ugly legs . . . eat your way out of low back pain!

How to control leaking bladder . . . all by yourself! Handle insomnia . . . all by yourself, without drugs! De-congest your sinus . . . all by yourself!

How to find out if you are "leaking" energy, needlessly! And shut off that leak . . . all by yourself!

How to help sagging upper-arm flesh . . . pull in a fallen stomach or protruding abdomen, naturally . . . feel a delightful pickup of a prolapsed uterus in only 10 days . . . treat hemorrohoids and constipation in the most painless and effective way possible . . . even help nature "sew-together" the tear in our belly floor that doctors call a hernia!

MY FILES ARE FILLED WITH CASES THAT READ LIKE MIRACLES . . . TO GIVE JUST A FEW!

RELIEF FROM EMPHYSEMA—Mr. Patrick J. had a severe and long-standing case of emphysema. One day, he coughed so uncontrollably hard that his dentures came loose and almost choked him. I showed him 3 simple MIRACLE Secrets—and the results were immediate and magnificent. Suddenly, he could breathe more freely and easily. He said he even felt like hiking again—an urge he hadn't felt for years!

SERIOUS HEART AILMENT RELIEVED—Mr. Whitney S. was a man with a serious heart ailment, truly a cardiac cripple. He could hardly walk without wheezing and puffing. The first thing I did was to take all his medicines and flush them down the drain. Then I gave him the special heart-healing secrets of THE MIRACLE BODY TUNE-UP . . . to relieve pinched nerves to the heart so that they were free to transmit functional power. "Say, I enjoy this," Mr. S. enthused, "I don't have to wheeze . . . I'm breathing easier." Eventually, he felt so good he was able to do push-ups!

"I'm mad as hops!" he exploded. "After all that money I spent on doctors! This is like a miracle."

EXCRUCIATING LEG PAIN RELIEVED—Dr. R., a university professor, had a truly violent seige of sciatica. The pain was so great that beads of perpiration dripped from his forehead as he attempted to stand, much less walk. He was groggy from drugs that doctors had given him. I showed him how to relieve the pressure of his sciatic nerve—which was rubbing against bone—and he experienced immediate relief. "This does it!" he exclaimed, "I've got no pain at all—for the first time!"

ASTHMA AND VARICOSE VEINS RELIEVED—Helen B. was a stout lady in her 40's with chronic bronchial asthma and legs bulging with varicose veins. I quickly showed her two MIRACLE secrets that brought her blessed relief from her leg problem. Her asthma was even simpler to relieve—perhaps the simplest of all. Just as she was having an attack, I showed her another MIRACLE secret which relieved it at once, to her great sigh of relief!

A MIRACLE THAT CAN WORK FOR YOU!!!

To me it's all quite common. I see it every day. To others, it's a miracle. But the miracle is not mine. I do not claim my methods heal—no physician can claim that. The body itself does the healing. All you do is let it take over . . . the way I show you!

As with all methods of self-treatment, if the guidance suggested in Dr. Morrison's new book does not bring you the relief you desire after a reasonable period of time, we suggest that you then consult your doctor.

WHAT CHIROPRACTORS SAY ABOUT MARSH MORRISON, D.C., Ph.C., F.I.C.C.

"To say your work is marvelous is really an understatement. I have been in practice 20 years and wish this knowledge had been available sooner." —Dr. H. J. Bates, Enid, Oklahoma

"In forty-seven years as a chiropractor I have invested much money and time for techniques and consider Dr. Morrison's the most practical and more effective than all others combined."
—Dr. Elmer B. Shipley, Terre Haute, Indiana

"The quintessence of Chiropractic knowledge. For years I've searched for more ways of helping more sick people get well faster. This weekend my dream and desire has become an actuality." —Frederick Doughty—Beck, D.C., New Orleans, La.

"I, myself, received immediate relief of chronic symptoms."
—Dr. Jeanne Gale, D.C., Phoenix, Arizona

"Have had 20 years in Physical Medicine . . . 15 years in chiropractic. Have taken every course. But this is absolutely the greatest." —V. J. Puariea, D.C., Vancouver, Wash.

"After having used Dr. Morrison's technique for over 6 months, I can, and do, strongly recommend it to every doctor in our profession." —Dr. Arnold C. Sikes, Concord, N.C.

"The techniques are very simple, but effective . . . nothing short of magic. Dr. Morrison, you truly are one of the 'Chiropractic Greats.'" —Dr. Kern Chester, Paragould, Ark.

"Your techniques are immediately effective, almost like magic, and can be learned right away. I am a far better chiropractor than before . . ." —Dr. John Herman, Chicago, Ill.

Yes, Your System Wants To Be Well! And You Can Make It That Way . . . All By Yourself! Let Me Prove This To You—Without Your Risking A Penny!

So, stop wasting your hard-earned cash on needless and ineffective drugs . . . patent medicines . . . even doctor visits . . . when you can banish all these maladies, and unblock the Healing Life Force in your own body quickly and effectively in the privacy of your own home. Don't waste another minute; return the coupon—TODAY!

THE BASICS OF ACHES AND PAINS

From backache to earache to headache to sore throat...here's how they happen—with some practical advice on how to get rid of them fast.

By Neal Ashby

Sore throat, backache, stomachache, stiff neck—just a few of the aches and pains we all get at one time or another. But why do we get them? What's the fastest, safest way to get rid of them?

To get some answers, we talked with two experts—Dr. Arthur E. Lindner, Associate Dean, New York University School of Medicine, and Dr. Richard M. Stark, director of orthopedic surgery at North Shore University Hospital in Manhasset, N.Y. But remember—although these aches and pains usually will respond to the treatments described below, if they last more than two or three days, they could be symptoms of a more serious problem. In that case, see your doctor as soon as possible.

Backache. The standard one can be caused by a tightening of lower back muscles from lack of stretching, by inactivity (after prolonged sitting or driving) or by strenuous, unaccustomed use (starting an exercise program, for instance). "Moist heat will make a backache feel better, but more important is rest, with knees and waist bent, to relieve pressure on disks, vertebrae, ligaments and muscles of the back," Dr. Stark says.

Constipation. The trigger for this is usually postponing bowel movements for convenience's sake or failing to eat a balanced diet. As a result, waste gets blocked in the intestines, while the liquids needed to help it along may pass through on their own or become absorbed. The waste then grows hard. The objective of any remedy is to get the elimination system working again. "I prefer adding bulk to the diet, rather than the taking of a laxative," says Dr. Lindner. "Eat whole-grain cereals, raw fruits and vegetables—foods that are not easily digested and thus create pressure to be eliminated." Consumption of water, milk, juices and salad oils to help keep the intestines lubricated is also a good idea.

Diarrhea. This is a form of cramps or involuntary contraction of the intestines that robs us of full bowel control. An invasion of bacteria, which disturbs and speeds up normal functioning and irritates nerves, is a frequent cause. Diarrhea often strikes when we visit distant places having different strains of bacteria against which our bodies have no defenses. Away or at home, a nonprescription medicine containing kaolin-pectin generally will put a stop to it.

Earache. Most commonly due to infection and to the scratching of the delicate ear canal while cleaning out accumulated wax. Either way, swelling follows, and the accompanying pressure irritates nerves. For relief: aspirin or a heating pad.

Headache. When the muscles that encircle the outside of the skull tighten, you've got a common headache. Doctors know tension and fatigue can cause this tightening, but they nevertheless have a long way to go before understanding the process fully. So the best advice still seems to be rest and, of course, aspirin and other compounds that help reduce pain.

Heartburn. This pain near the center of the chest is created by a backup of acid from the stomach into the esophagus, where the caustic acid irritates mucous membrane. Antacids still are the quickest way to neutralize the offending acid and to make the esophagus feel better.

Muscle Pain. When one or more muscles is fatigued from overuse or cramped from being pinned down under body weight for several hours during sleep, muscle fiber swells, which irritates nerve endings. Rest or relief from pressure takes care of the problem; an icepack speeds up the reduction of swelling.

Sore Throat. Most are caused by bacterial or viral infections that irritate nerve fibers—tiny cords of sensitive tissue—in the mucous membrane of the throat. The simplest and best treatment is to gargle with soothing warm water containing crushed aspirin. This acts as a mild anesthetic.

Stiff Neck. This often occurs because of "a jarring, bumping or stretching of the neck that we may not particularly notice at the time it happens," says Dr. Stark. "A ligament may be slightly torn, and nerve fibers are telling us they don't like it. In addition, as we grow older, neck pain can be caused by a calcium spur on one of the vertebrae poking into a nerve and causing internal swelling and discomfort." Rest promotes healing, and aspirin reduces pain. Hot, wet soaks also will make a stiff neck feel better.

Stomachache. Basically, it is caused by a swelling and stretching of the intestines following the accumulation of gas. The gas is the result of swallowing too much air while eating. Moreover, some vegetables containing cellulose (such as beans) tend to produce abnormal amounts of gas. Normally, the body will eliminate excess gas. When it doesn't, old-fashioned bicarbonate of soda in water should do the trick.

12 stereo records OR 8-track cartridges OR tape cassettes OR 7" reel-to-reel tapes

* Selections marked with a star are not available in reel tapes

†Available on records and 8-track tapes only

‡Available on records only

Yes, it's true!—If you join now, you may have any 8 of these records or tapes for only $1.00, plus shipping and handling. And just look at the wide range of recorded entertainment you have to choose from—not only the best and latest from the huge Columbia catalog . . . but also new releases and old favorites from A&M, Arista, Capitol, Epic, London, Mercury, MCA, Motown, MGM, Polydor, 20th Century, United Artists, and many, many other outstanding labels!

To order your 8 records or tapes just mail the application in an envelope, together with your check or money order for $1.29 as payment (that's $1.00 for your first 8 selections, plus 29¢ for shipping and handling). In exchange, you agree to buy 6 more selections (at regular Club prices) in the coming three years . . . and you may cancel your membership at any time after doing so.

How the Club operates: every four weeks (13 times a year) you'll receive the Club's magazine, which describes the Selection of the Month for each musical interest . . . plus hundreds of alternates from every field of music. In addition, up to six times a year you may receive offers of Special Selections, usually at a discount off regular prices.

If you wish to receive the Selection of the Month or the Special Selection, you need do nothing—it will be shipped automatically. If you prefer an alternate selection, or none at all, simply fill in the response card always provided and mail it by the date specified.

You will always have at least 10 days in which to make your decision. If you ever receive any Selection without having had at least 10 days in which to decide, you may return it at our expense, for full credit.

Your own charge account will be opened . . . the selections you order will be mailed and billed at regular Club prices, which currently are: 8-track tapes and cassettes, $6.98 or $7.98; reel tapes, $7.98; records, $5.98 or $6.98—plus shipping and handling. (Multiple unit sets and Double Selections may be somewhat higher.)

After completing your enrollment agreement (by buying 6 selections within 3 years), you may cancel membership at any time. If you decide to continue, you'll be eligible for our generous money-saving bonus plan. So don't delay—act now!

Special Short-Term Membership Plan. Offer: you may also choose your first selection right now—and we'll give it to you at 50% off regular Club prices (only $3.49 for a record, $3.99 for a tape). Purchase agreement: you tell us you'll receive 6 more 8-promotional selections. This half-price purchase reduces your membership obligation accordingly: you'll then be required to buy just 5 more (instead of 6) in the next three years. Just check box in application, and fill in number.

JOBMANSHIP

Why You May Not Get the Praise You Deserve

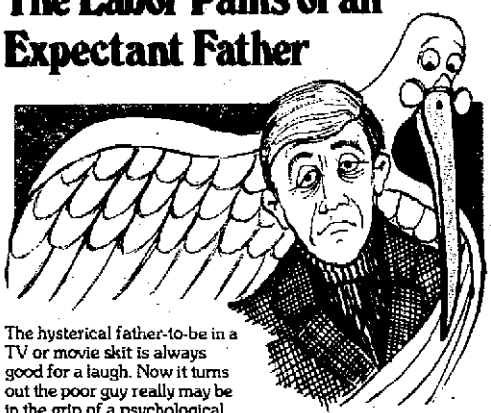

"My boss never compliments me no matter how well I do my work," is one of an employee's most common complaints. Some bosses believe paying a salary signifies sufficient approval, but they're bucking human nature. Industrial psychologists have repeatedly proved people need recognition and praise. Bosses who ignore this fact cheat themselves of the extra effort and loyalty their kind words would produce. However, the way you react to praise may well affect the amount of it you receive: Are you the type of person who, when you receive a compliment, relaxes and feels you can coast for a while? Your boss may have noticed that praise has this effect on you and may react accordingly. Or, when you're complimented, do you boast to everyone about it? Your supervisor may not like the impression you're creating of being a "favorite." Finally, your expectations of praise are perhaps unreasonable. Do you wait for a rave every time you satisfactorily complete a task? You can't expect your boss to be bowled over daily by the fact you're able to do your job; that's why you have it! If you never seem to receive your fair share of recognition from a boss who does give deserved praise, one of your co-workers may be stealing credit for your accomplishments. If so, see that your supervisor finds out who contributed what.

PEOPLE AND YOU

The Labor Pains of an Expectant Father

The hysterical father-to-be in a TV or movie skit is always good for a laugh. Now it turns out the poor guy really may be in the grip of a psychological crisis. Psychiatrist Silas B. Coley Jr. and psychologist Barbara E. James of the School of Medicine, University of North Carolina, have completed a study which reveals that fathers-to-be may be undergoing "emotional and physical trauma." Almost one out of five prospective fathers may be so upset that he behaves erratically. These fathers fight with family and strangers, and they deliberately make themselves scarce during pregnancy, when they're needed to go to the hospital, and during the first demanding weeks afterwards. Their behavior may even be bizarre enough to include chronic vomiting or diarrhea during the wife's pregnancy. All new fathers, say the researchers, are under some stress because of increased responsibility, rivalry with the baby for the wife's attention, and sometimes feeling the child locks them into an unhappy marriage. An awareness of these feelings may help the prospective father to understand better his own reactions and the new mother (who certainly has enough tensions of her own!) to realize that her husband's anxieties are not unique. You can obtain a Government leaflet, So You're Going To Be A New Father, which discusses physical changes in the mother as well as attitude changes and new worries both parents may have. Quips & Quotes

Sunday-School Teacher: "Lot was warned to take his wife and flee out of the city. Unfortunately, his wife looked back and was turned into a pillar of salt."

Little Girl: "What happened to the flea?"

—Samuel J. Stannard

The pert eight-year-old was being punished and sat in the corner of the dining room at a table set especially for her. The rest of the family paid her little attention during her term of penitence, but they couldn't ignore her prayer before settling down to the meal.

"I thank thee, Lord," she was heard to say, "for preparing a table before me in the presence of mine enemies."

—Conrad Fiorello

A woman didn't quite make it to the delivery room, and her baby girl was born in the hospital lobby. Later, when she asked her husband to suggest a name for her, he replied, "Well, why not name her Vestibula?" —Dorothea Kent

8¼" Long Stainless Steel Blades Cut Like Magic Through Heaviest Fabric

NEW SUPER LOW PRICE!

THE FAMED EUROPEAN DESIGN

SCISSORS MOLDED TO YOUR HAND

ENDS CUTTING FATIGUE FOREVER!

- Satin-smooth cushioned plastic handles with contoured finger grips and cutting tongue!
- So fast, so effortless, you'll think you're using power shears (only lighter!).
- Stainless steel blades with rounded safety "points"!
- Never smudge, never fray, glides through layers from paper patterns to heavy fabrics.

The world's most incredible scissors at an incredible price! The idea originated with the Scandinavians—why not a scissors anatomically designed to fit the human hand instead of fight it . . . why not make it out of a cushion-y plastic that would rest rather than tire the hand? The brilliant result — a breakthrough in scissor design . . . is still selling in some better stores for $8 and more!

An Exciting New Dimension in Scissor Performance

You can whiz through the heaviest of velvets to the most gossamer of silks as fast, or perfectly as a professional dressmaker. You can turn corners, make circles, cut angles, zoom straight-as-an-arrow along a table edge so easily it's like the scissors is cutting all by itself (your fingers are along for the ride!).

And you can see-thru through tricky patterns with incredible ease and precision, and your paper "rip offs" forever — cut coupons and recipes without ruining the rest of the paper! Quality-crafted with the famous Scandinavian features include soft plastic orange handle, and stainless steel blades, 8¼" long. Special safety "points" make it safe for the children's crafts, too! Weighs only 3 ounces. Order now — the sharpest buy of your life at ONLY $1.88

WHAT IN THE WORLD!

You'd better stretch your coffee break: "Let's have another cup of coffee" may be heard less frequently in the coming year. The 1977 coffee crop is estimated to be the smallest in years, says consumer marketing economist Mildred Walker of Kansas State University. The climate of Brazil usually is just right for producing the coffee beans appreciated around the world, but a severe frost in July of this year caused an immediate short supply. And coffee supplies will likely be light for at least another two years, while trees recover from the frost damage and new trees reach production. In the meantime, look for retail prices to continue their climb.

FLYERS' RIGHTS: Delayed flights can drive you up the wall if you don't know your rights. Did you know that on some airlines you may be entitled to a free night in a hotel if your flight is delayed between the hours of 10:00 PM and 6:00 AM? And that if you are delayed four hours or more you are permitted, at the airline's expense, to make a long-distance telephone call anywhere in the continental United States? These and other airline amenities are explained in depth in a booklet put out by the Aviation Consumer Action Project. For information, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: ACAP, P.O. Box 19029, Washington, D.C. 20036.

BUDDY HACKETT
The show-biz bard

Comedian Buddy Hackett is known as the "Poet Laureate of Hollywood." His first collection of poems is called, The Naked Mind of Buddy Hackett. Although his verse has been compared to Rod McKuen's, Hackett insists he has been influenced by no one. "I don't read other poets," he says. "If people read a poet, it's because they need it. My poetry is me." And it comes out just about everywhere, he says. "Sometimes I'll be walkin' along, and I get a brainstorm. Other times, I'm drivin' with my wife and a poem comes to me, and I say, 'Sherry, take this down.' I write my best things on doilies in restaurants when I'm waitin' for a sammich."

HOWARD COSELL WITH SENATORS WEICKER AND KENNEDY
Nothing but the truth

A sportscaster on his success: "I never wanted to be in sports. I was put into sports broadcasting by accident. I tried to get out of sports seven or eight years ago, but I was stigmatized by then. I should have been in news, national and international. Basically my profession does not deal with truth. It's not allowed. Sport is sanctified, at least as far as the great bulk of the sportswriters of America are concerned and also the sports announcers, because in most cases they need the approval of the owners and commissioners to be hired. But that has never applied to me, and in my case I had the luck of timing. There's no question that I came along when the young people of this society were growing up far differently from my generation, and they had a sense of life and what was happening. They had the horrible unending war in Southeast Asia. They had the narcotics addiction problems. They had the racial anguish to deal with. They were circumscribed everywhere by reality, so they weren't disposed to the notion that sport is Camelot. And I told the truth about sport, and I think the timing was right for me, especially in the age of Richard Nixon." From The Success Trip, by Ross Firestone (Playboy Press, $10.95).

Japan's astonishing low crime rate: Japan is an affluent, mobile, congested and technically innovative country. It has all the attributes Americans consider modern. Yet, unlike most other modern cities, those in Japan have a crime rate that is low—and declining. This might be due to the low-key posture of the Japanese police. They believe a lesson in good behavior is of far more value than a fine. Instead of issuing a parking ticket, they will often have the offender send a formal letter of apology to the chief of the local police station. The kobans, small police stations, serve as bases for patrolling officers. When an officer is out on patrol, he makes a special point of talking to people about themselves and their behavior. If the policeman feels more investigation is called for, he is usually quite adept at getting people to agree to come to the koban for further, less public, conversation. National contests give recognition to officers who are best at on-street interrogation. The kobans are all-purpose sources of help. A mother might come in and ask for water for her baby's bottle. Some kobans issue cards which are prized by children. If a child finds a coin someone has dropped and turns it in, kobans give a printed card filled in with the child's name, the date and the particular deed performed.

Ups, downs and gallstones: Overweight people are more subject to gallstones than normal-weight persons, but recent research reported by the National Institutes of Health shows that the overweights who reduce, re-gain and reduce again are the most susceptible of all to gallstone attacks. The reason: gallstones seem to form when the liver secretes bile that is supersaturated with cholesterol. Obese people's bile carries more cholesterol than that of thin people. During weight reduction, the cholesterol content of the bile is also high. When weight is reduced and stabilized, the cholesterol drops. People with a "Yo-Yo" weight pattern may be staying in a gallstone-forming condition a great deal of the time.

AT THE END
Champagne, anyone?

At the end—the very end—of their lives, some famous folk said some mighty peculiar things. And luckily someone was there to write them down: Writer and philosopher Henry David Thoreau, asked if he had made his peace with God, replied that he wasn't aware of having quarreled with Him, and then uttered two, inexplicable last words, "Moose Indian." When François Rabelais, the French writer, slipped away, he said, "I am going to the great perhaps." Writer Oscar Wilde called for champagne: "I am dying, as I have lived, beyond my means." Torlogh O'Carolan, writer, wanted a cup of Irish whisky: "It would be hard if two such friends should part at least without kissing." For the scariest last line, boxer Max Baer holds the trophy: "Oh, God, here I go!"

Old Faithful.

Good Old Faithful. Always got you where you were going. Always did it economically. A whole generation of Americans grew up with Old Faithful. And now, 27 years and 33 million cars later, it's still a symbol of dependability and economy.

Now there's a car that's just as reliable and economical as Old Faithful ever was. It's New Faithful. The 1977 VW Rabbit. With engineering so advanced that automotive experts have hailed it as the kind of car Detroit will be building in the 1980's.

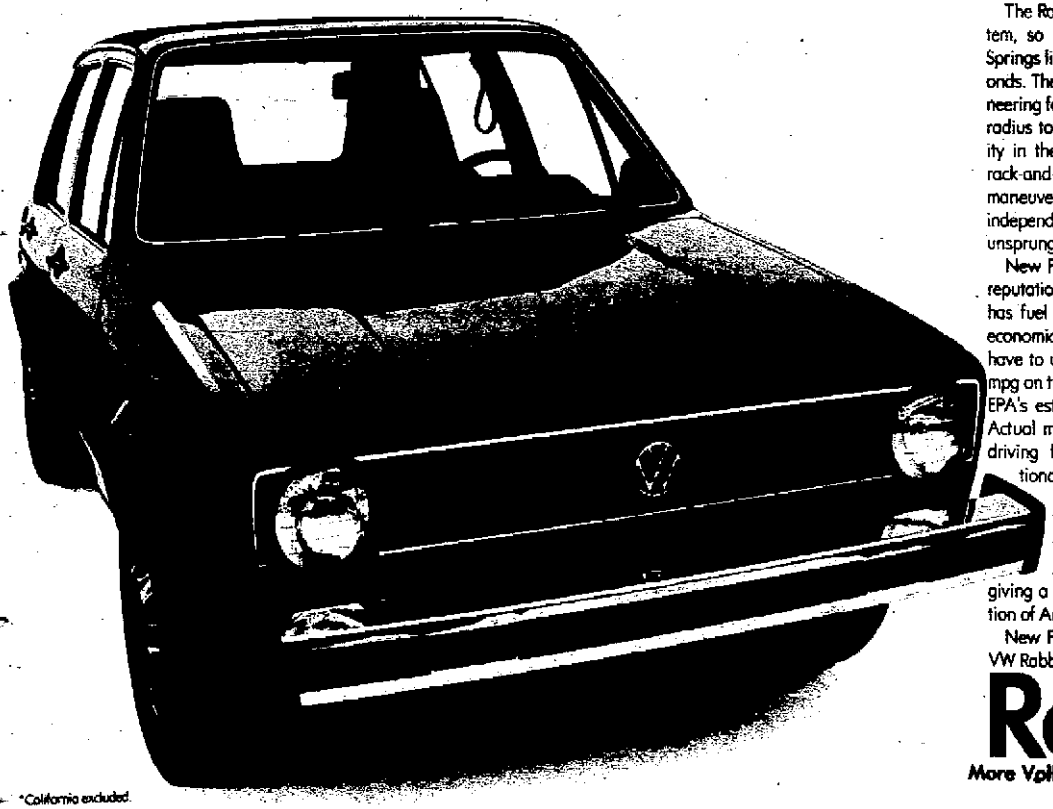

The Rabbit has a new fuel injection system, so it starts up quick as a bunny. Springs like one, too. 0 to 50 in just 7.7 seconds. The Rabbit also has advanced engineering features like negative steering roll radius to help maintain directional stability in the event of a front-tire blowout; rack-and-pinion steering for more direct maneuvering and better road feel; and an independent stabilizer rear axle, low in unsprung weight, for better road holding.

New Faithful lives up to Old Faithful's reputation for economy, too. Because it has fuel injection, you can use the most economical grade of gas.* But you won't have to use it very often. Rabbit gets 37 mpg on the highway, 24 in the city. (That's EPA's estimate for manual transmission. Actual mileage may vary, depending on driving habits, car's condition and optional equipment.)

Dependability and economy. That's what Old Faithful gave a whole generation of Americans. And that's what New Faithful is giving a whole new generation of Americans.
